PORTLAND'S Final returns having ELECTION come to hand in Portland's first commission election, it seems apparent that after all the American people know what they want, and that in times of emergency they can be relied upon to get it. The citizens of the metropolis have selected five excellent men to manage their affairs under the new form of government, and have picked these five from a mass of candidates, many of whom were as unfit as they were selfish in the motives that prompted them to run.

Mr. Albee, the next mayor of Portland, appears at this distance to be a man well suited for the position, a person of unusual character, and a citizen who appreciates the responsibilities of his office. In the past he has served the people in various ways and it is not to be recalled that he was at any time guilty of any breach of trust placed in him. He is facing his new work seriously, realizing that he is practically the dictator of a great city; and is already laying sane and safe plans for consulting with his co-officials in regard to the manner in which Portland's new charter shall be put into practice.

SMALL TRACTS 60 acres. Will cut into any six tracts of 5 acres or larger, or will sell the whole tract. 22 acres cleared; 35 acres under fence, balance of land in brush and timber. Best of soil. Land around this is selling for $250.00 to $300.00 per acre. We will sell this for $200.00 per acre on terms of 10 per cent down, 2 per cent per month at 5 per cent interest. 2 miles from Oregon City, most of the way on good macadamized road. Moving Day For London Militants, Messrs. Bobby Directing the Job.

Here is illustrated a somewhat amusing move on the part of the London militants. They didn't take it voluntarily, but with police assistance and insistence. The bobbies finally came to the conclusion that a good way to check the outrages of the arsonettes and dynamiters would be to break up the headquarters where the outrages were planned. So they raided the rooms of the Women's Social and Political Union in London, taking along a van or two to carry away the inflammatory literature and whatever implements and materials of warfare that might be found there.

ly already, and his character is above reproach. The election of Mr. Albee is a great triumph for the Oregonian, as well as for the forces of city betterment. Portland's leading daily fought a hard battle for its chosen candidate during the latter part of the campaign, and that it fought it well is shown by the final result. The Oregonian is to be congratulated upon its choice of candidates, and upon the dignified manner in which it refrained from some of the gutter methods of its contemporaries.

Incidentally the election of the four commissioners must be quite a sad blow to some of the other aspirants. There is Mr. Clyde, for instance, who was quite noticeably hoist by his own petard. Mr. Clyde attained defeat on second and third choice votes, yet his voice was one of the strongest lifted for this. Had the election been based solely on "single shooting," Clyde might have pinched through. However, as has been before remarked, the voters knew what they wanted, and got it. Mr. Baker also owes his defeat to the second and third choice ballots. Mr. Baker made an excellent race of it, his campaign was well conducted and devoid of grand stand methods, and his failure in the last count cannot but be regretted by those to whom he has been a familiar figure in Portland politics for many years.

Saving of Nation's Waste Our Biggest Problem

By BENJAMIN F. YOAKUM, Chairman of the Frisco Railway System

THE PLACE TO LOOK FOR A SAVING IN THE COST OF LIVING IS IN THE SELLING EXPENSE AND LOSS BY WASTE. THE ITEMS AMOUNTING TO SIX AND A HALF BILLION DOLLARS MORE THAN THE PRODUCERS RECEIVE.

We are now squarely up against the plain question of what is to be done. The problem is not as simple as increasing crops or live stock production. It is as COMPLICATED as it is immense in volume and calls for treatment different from what has ever been given in this country.

From other countries we get some good suggestions as to what we should do, but our country is nearly as large as all Europe, and conditions are so different that WE CANNOT GET AS MUCH HELP FROM ACROSS THE SEA in the way of business methods in marketing our crops as we do about soil, breeding and other lessons which we are learning from the older countries.

It is therefore the plain duty of the government to AID IN PIONEERING WORK for better market conditions. PROPER PACKING AND SHIPPING ARE AS NECESSARY AS SUCCESSFUL FARMING.

WEALTH DISTRIBUTION.

In common with all Socialists, I believe that if the proceeds of industry were justly distributed among those participating in wealth production there would be few, if any, fortunes exceeding $100,000 to legislate about. The claims made by many wealthy people so often that their fortunes are the result of their own labors, enterprise, self denial and thrift we Socialists generally disregard as being at variance with easily demonstrable facts. Accumulations of private wealth will cease to require legislative attention in proportion as the sources of wealth and the process of wealth production are safeguarded by the state against unearned profit. J. G. Phelps Stokes.

"THIS IS MY 62ND BIRTHDAY"

Mrs. Frank Leslie I recall the case of one clerk who was killed in a railroad wreck seventeen years ago. I heard a prominent congressman say of him repeatedly that he was "the best mail clerk that ever along a sack." He won a national medal in two competitive examinations. He threw the cards of his entire division, then comprising something like 18,000 offices, with but nineteen mistakes and did it in an incredibly short time. He went through several wrecks, but happened to come out unscathed. Finally he was killed in his car and at his post of duty. His case is but typical of thousands of others, for these servants of Uncle Sam must not only be trained to a point of efficiency superior to that of soldiers, but they must face practically the same chance of being maimed or killed that soldiers face. The railway mail service is the backbone of the postal system. It covers practically every line of road in the land. On its efficiency depends the prompt and accurate delivery of the mails. It requires not only quickness of eye and of hand, but retentive memory and alert intelligence. Yet these railway mail clerks do not receive particularly high pay, and they are practically unknown to the public. They work at a killing speed and frequently for long hours. Letters containing in the aggregate vast sums of money pass through their hands. Yet the cases of dishonesty among them have been surprisingly few.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

THE RAILWAY MAIL CLERK.

Did you ever see one of the fast mail trains on a trunk line railroad? It is an impressive sight even from the outside. It is more impressive if seen from within. Every one of these cars, whirling along at fifty or sixty miles an hour, is a hive of industry. Mail clerks occupy almost every available foot of space. With fingers working with lightning speed they sort the letters, each according to its destination or route, tie them into bundles and put them into their right pouches. Each of these cars is a postoffice on wheels. I recall the case of one clerk who was killed in a railroad wreck seventeen years ago. I heard a prominent congressman say of him repeatedly that he was "the best mail clerk that ever along a sack."
