The doors of the exhibition will be thrown open to the public at the close of the big parade, which starts at half past one.

The parade, which will move from Fifteenth and Main streets, will be divided into two divisions, the first consisting of the officers of the day and of the pedestrian and float entries, while the second division will be devoted entirely to motor driven vehicles.

In the first division will be Miss Risley, the queen of the rose show, who will be attended by her maids of honor, as well as the marshal and his aides, officers of the Rose society, civic and county officials and prominent leaders in the city and county.

At four in the afternoon there will be a water parade of motorboats and visiting craft, belonging to the Portland Motorboat club, and following this will be the motorboat races, including the great speed contest, between the Vamoose and the Oregon Wolf II, the two speediest motor craft on the Pacific slope. Pictures for the Pathé weekly will be taken of all the features of the day's celebration. Prizes for the motorboat races are on exhibit in the windows of the Burmeister & Andersen store.

CLACKAMAS CARS MAY WIN PRIZES

PORTLAND AUTO CLUB URGES LOCAL OWNERS TO ENTER FESTIVAL PAGEANT

THREE HANDSOME CUPS OFFERED

Oregon City Autoists to be Invited to Join Special Division After Saturday's Parade Held Here

Clackamas county automobilists have been invited to enter decorated cars in the great automobile parade of the Portland Rose Festival to be held Wednesday, June 11. The arrangements for the Portland pageant have been placed in the hands of the Portland Automobile club, and this organization has extended a formal invitation to the Clackamas County Automobile club to aid the larger organization in making the parade a greater success than ever before.

The committee in charge of the automobile parade to be held Saturday in connection with the local rose show, will take the matter up with entrants in this pageant, and will endeavor to get as many of them as possible to enter their cars in the Portland parade.

The invitation from the Portland club to the local organization is as follows: "For the first time since its inception, the automobile parade of the Rose Festival, scheduled for Wednesday, June 11, has been put into the hands of the Portland Automobile club. For this reason, it is naturally expected that it will be the most elaborate in the history of Portland's famous summer carnival. Three beautiful solid silver cups have been purchased for first, second and third prizes in each division.

"We are asking your help to make the Clubs and organizations part of the parade a stupendous success. We need all the cars we can get. It is certain that this division will be a great deal larger than in previous years. The cups and the honor are worthy of your best efforts.

"Under the new rules, no officer of either the Automobile club or the Rose Festival association, or their relatives, members of the parade committee or its officials, are eligible to a prize. This eliminates any favoritism.

"This division's scope is wide. Entered will be cars representing the most prominent civic, social and commercial organizations of the city. We ask your co-operation; won't you contribute to its success? You can signify your intention of entering by communication with the secretary of the Automobile Club, Main 694."

PORTLAND POLICE PLANS LEAK HERE

A forecast of coming police department history in Portland was given Thursday night by Captain Enoch A. Slover, acting chief of the Portland force, who was in this city visiting friends. Captain Slover said that he was going to resign the office he has held throughout the greater part of Mayor Rushlight's rule, and that his resignation would take effect between June 25 and June 30. The captain will return to his former relief, the "second night," and Captain Joseph Keller, now in charge of that which will be called to make way for him.

It is understood that Acting Captain Riley, who is now in command of the "first night" relief, will be made acting chief in Capt. Slover's place, and will retain this office under Mayor Albee when he assumes charge of the city affairs in July.

Friends of Captain Riley are said to have urged his appointment by Mayor Rushlight, and while Riley himself has not sought any favors from Mayor-elect Albee, it is said to be positively established that he will continue at the head of the force under the new administration. Presumably Captain Keller will take the place left vacant by Riley, as Captain Moore, the senior officer of the department, prefers to hold his present position at the head of the "day relief."

Riley's elevation to the chieftainship is declared to be not only a mark of merit for him, but is said to be a proof of the intention of the incoming mayor to place in charge of various city departments men who have stood high in civil service rank in the past. At the last examination for captaincies Riley failed of appointment, it is said, because but one vacancy was to be filled, and Mayor Rushlight, through a political debt, was forced to appoint Keller to the place. No question, however, has ever been raised as to Keller's efficiency. He is known as one of the most active men in the department, and during the time he has had charge of the "second night relief" he has not only raised the efficiency of his men, but has made a number of important arrests himself.

Photographic Sidelights on Colonel Roosevelt's Label Suit Against Editor George A. Newett.

The pretty Michigan city of Marquette found itself temporarily the most interesting spot in the nation, as far as Colonel Roosevelt's admirers are concerned, at any rate, when the former president's libel suit against George A. Newett, publisher of the Ishpeming Iron Ore, was called there for trial. Colonel Roosevelt in his petition asked for $10,000 damages because in an article in Iron Ore last fall it was asserted "Colonel Roosevelt is frequently drunk, and all his intimates know it." In this illustration are photographs of the Marquette county courthouse, the exterior of the Iron Ore office and W. B. Belden, chief counsel for the defense.

Roll call was followed by quotations, and then an afternoon tea was served to the dozen of the 14 members who were present.

INSPECTION RULES EXTREMELY STRICT

Orders have been issued to Portland inspectors in the Federal steamboat service to use the greatest care in seeing that the capacity of river steamers is not exceeded upon excursions this summer, and this order will make it necessary for two government officers to check the number of people going on the Commercial club's chartered vessels that will join in welcoming Rex Oregonus to his realm next Monday.

Under the ruling laid down by Supervising Inspector General Uhier, of the department of commerce, babies in arms will be included in all counts made as individual passengers, and will be tallied the same as grown people. Members of the Commercial club who are planning to take their families on Monday's trip are therefore urged to see that they have sufficient tickets to provide for any babies or children that may be in their parties, so that there will be no confusion at the dock from which the two vessels will depart.

Pioneer of Clackamas County is Mourned by Eight Children All of Whom Have Made Oregon Their Home

Joseph J. Spangle, a valiant soldier throughout the Civil War, and a resident of Clackamas county for the past 42 years, died at his home at Needy Monday last at the age of 75 years, and was buried in Rock Creek cemetery Wednesday. Few men in the Northwest have made as enviable a record in the course of their lives, and his passing is mourned by a large circle of friends, as well as by the members of his family.

Mr. Spangle was born in Wirtzburg, Germany, in 1838, and came to America when but a boy of 15, landing in New York in 1853, and proceeding immediately to Ohio, where he first settled. He enlisted in a company, Second U. S. Artillery in April, 1859, and rose from private to ranking non-commissioned officer in his company. He served throughout the Civil War, participating in 26 engagements during his enlistment. In 1870 he was honorably discharged from the army, and a year later married Miss Martha Warner in New Castle, Pa.

In 1871 he moved to Oregon, settling in Clackamas county, where he has resided ever since. He is survived by his widow, eight children, one nephew and five grandchildren, all of whom reside in the state of Oregon. Those who remain of his family are Mrs. Martha Spangle, his widow; Albert J. Charles F. Lewis P. Frank J. and Julius C. Spangle, his sons and Miss Mary M. Spangle, Mrs. Kathryn P. Barrett and Mrs. Flora R. Richter, his daughters.

In the course of the war he participated in the battles of Bull Run, July 21, 1861; Yorktown, April 1862; Williamsburg, May 5; McCansville, May 25; Gains Mill Junction, June 27; Malvern Hill, June 30; Westover, July 3; Boonsbow, Sept. 15; Antietam, September 16 and 17; Shepherdstown, September 20; Piedmont, November 33; Markhorn, November 4; Ainsville, November 10; Fredericksburg, December 13; Rapidan, April 30, 1863; Upperville, June 26; Gettysburg, July 1; Williamsport, July 5; Boonesboro, July 8, 9; Funkstown, July 10; Culpeper, September 13; Bocconford, September 15; Robinsonville, September 23; Coal Harbor, May 30, 1864; Trevillian Station, September 11; St. Mary's Church, September 21. During these engagements he was many times in the hottest part of the fray, and was several times more or less seriously wounded. Throughout the entire war he was regarded as a valiant soldier, and was several times mentioned for special bravery.

Second Detachment of Settlers to Arrive Early in 1914 if Plans Now Formulated Are Carried Out

SEATTLE, Wash., June 5.—How Japan is colonizing Brazil was given in detail here this morning with the arrival of the Japanese steamship Sanuki Maru.

Fifteen hundred Japanese emigrants were landed at Santos, Brazil, May 15. They are the vanguard of a great population to be sent to South America to become a part of the first permanent Japanese colony in Brazil under the San Paulo colonization agreement recently entered into between Japan and Brazil.

The first award of territory comprises approximately 150,000 acres of agricultural land. Another Brazilian colonization enterprise has been completed and passengers of the Sanuki say that the two governments have arranged for the concession of a considerable area of fertile country which will be settled by Japanese. Settlers for this colony will leave Japan about the end of the present year.

RECORD BREAKING 'AD' APPEARS TODAY

The Oregon City Enterprise today prints the largest advertisement ever carried by newspaper in this city. Three and a half pages are taken up by the announcement of Bannan & Company, who through this medium are telling the people of Clackamas county of one of the most remarkable sales in local business history. That Mr. Bannan has selected The Enterprise as the means of reaching the people shows his realization of this paper's circulation, and his confidence in newspaper advertising to bring results.

The advertisement was set entirely in the Enterprise office and is being handled by the presses without any change in the regular operation of the plant. While it establishes a local record for size, it is conclusive proof that the modern merchant is relying more and more upon the newspaper of his home city as the best advertising medium; knowing that through its columns a greater proportion of the buying public can be reached than in any other way.
