MUSICAL COMEDY FOR LOCAL TALENT

Under the direction of Anna Sara Bock, the King's Daughters of St. Paul's Episcopal church will present on June 17 and 18 a musical comedy entitled "The Clackamas County Fair." The play will reproduce the old-fashioned county fair with all its merriment and features, and between 150 and 200 people will take part in the production. Incidental to the action of the comedy over 100 children will participate in choruses and drills, while a group of 50 young women and men will form the regular chorus. Elaborate stage settings will be provided, and though none but home taken will appear, it is expected that the sparkling show will compare favorably with professional productions. There will be about 25 leading characters in the play, and as the subject and plot of the comedy afford many opportunities for striking character roles, but the distinction of much local humor, it is generally felt that the performances will be successful in every way. There will be a maze of beautiful costumes used in the several dances and chorus numbers, and a thoroughly enjoyable evening's entertainment is promised. Rehearsals commenced Wednesday.

MINISTER FACING GIRL'S COMPLAINT

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 5.—Rev. Willis S. MacRorie, formerly pastor of a Methodist church at Mt. Horeb, was arraigned in court today for trial on an indictment recently returned against him on charges made by a young woman who was a member of his congregation. Rev. Mr. MacRorie was first arrested on November 22, of last year as a result of a complaint made by Mrs. Amelia Mason, mother of nineteen-year-old Gertrude Mason, a singer in the Mt. Horeb church. The pastor admitted at that time that he had taken the young woman on numerous automobile rides, but blamed his arrest to the influence of liquor dealers against whom he had been active. The grand jury at that time failed case reported to the conference that charges made by two other ministers became a matter for consideration at the Newark conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Newark last March by a special committee. Mr. MacRorie has resigned his pastorate in the meantime. The conference committee that probed the case reported to the conference that the charges were not sustained. Notwithstanding the finding of the committee the grand jury again took the matter up with the result that the former minister was indicted and must stand trial on the serious charges made by the young woman in the case.

BERRY QUOTATIONS DROP OFF SHARPLY

Strawberries are selling at wholesale from $1 a crate to $2.25 per crate—pay your money and take your choice. Naturally good berries are not to be had for a dollar, offerings at this price being mostly Californians or frost-bitten fruit. Good berries, however, are much cheaper than formerly, and will be cheaper yet before the end of the week. Portland commission men are still trying to convince the growers that there is no market, but local ranchers, who have good fruit, are having no difficulty in getting fair prices. Cherries are making their appearance in local and Portland markets, and are ranging around $1.75 per 10-pound box. The fruit is yet a bit tart, but is in good shape. Local cherries are to be had in small quantities, but have not fully ripened. High water is keeping salmon scarce and at top prices. Green vegetables are declining slightly in price, and are finding a ready market. New potatoes are selling well, ranging from 4 cents a pound up at wholesale. Asparagus is still holding at between 60 cents and a dollar per dozen bunches. Lettuce is more plentiful.

MISS IRENE MOORE NOW BRIDE OF ELLIS POULTERER

With about 75 friends and relatives in attendance the marriage of Miss Irene Moore and Ellis Poulterer was solemnized Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. L. L. Pickens, in West Oregon City. Miss Moore is a niece of Mrs. Pickens, and is one of the most popular and attractive members of the younger set. The Rev. Father Hillebrand, of St. John's Roman Catholic church, officiated at the ceremony, and Miss Mary Pickens and Miss Alice Moore acted as bridesmaid, while the best man was Earl E. Grant, of Portland. The home was beautifully decorated for the ceremony, and many beautiful and valuable presents were bestowed upon the happy pair, who will later on make their home in Portland. Before settling down the bride and groom will take an extended wedding trip.

CONCERT IS PLANNED

A Wagnerian concert will be given next Wednesday evening in the Congregational church. Gustav Fletcher and Mrs. C. O. Young, of Portland, will be among those on the program. The proceeds will be devoted to Sunday school work.

WANTED—AUTOIST WHO BROKE LAWS

City Attorney William Stone and Chief of Police Shaw are putting their heads together these days, endeavoring to discover some means by which they can corral and bring before the bar of justice one Paul Wessinger, of Portland, manager of the Weinhard Brewery, and automobilist of considerable fame. Last week Mr. Wessinger paid Oregon City a flying visit—in fact he flew through the business section of the city at a rate of speed said to be greatly in excess of that provided by law. Owing to the fact that Mr. Wessinger is said not to have violated the state speed law, the limit of which is 25 miles an hour, local officials cannot have him arrested on a state warrant. A city warrant is not good in Portland, and then there is some difficulty in obtaining a complaint and the auto began to skid. Mrs. Huntley did her best to get the car in control, but the steering gear crumpled, and the heavy machine crashed into the sidewalk, climbed over the curb, and butted into the Noble building. Mrs. Huntley was considerably jarred, but was unhurt, and the show no serious effects of its adventure. GLADSTONE WILL OIL ITS OWN HIGHWAYS The city of Gladstone has determined to erect and maintain a road-oiling plant of its own, and will shortly purchase oil and water sprinklers, which will be used upon its streets and roadways. It is believed that in this way the thoroughfares of the town can be kept in better shape than if annual contracts for the work are let, and that the oiling can be done more economically. LAW GIVES NO TROUBLE No difficulty has been experienced at the county clerk's office over the provisions of the new marriage license law, which provides that the groom must present a certificate of health sworn to by a physician. A number of licenses have been issued since the law went into effect, and all applicants have presented the certificates as required. Maritime Show in Holland AMSTERDAM, June 5.—The National Maritime Exhibition, for which preparations have been making for more than a year, was formally opened today and will be continued until the end of September. The chief attraction of the exhibition is a great collection of historical documents, old prints, pictures, models of boats and relics of famous Dutch voyages of exploration and colonization.

SALOON IS LURE TO THIRSTY AUTO

A bucking automobile cavorted merrily over the sidewalk on Main street Thursday afternoon, tore a brick or two out of the Noble block as it dived of getting into Louis Noble's refreshment oasis to quench its thirst, and then subsided alongside the building without materially injuring itself or its occupants. While on its rampage, however, the machine created considerable excitement. Mrs. C. G. Huntley was driving the car, taking lessons in managing the vehicle, at the time. She had done so well earlier in the day that the experienced chauffeur who was with her decided that she could safely navigate the traffic maze on Main street, and gave her the wheel. Just before the machine started to "cut up" a stretch of wet pavement was reached and the auto began to skid. Mrs. Huntley did her best to get the car in control, but the steering gear crumpled, and the heavy machine crashed into the sidewalk, climbed over the curb, and butted into the Noble building. Mrs. Huntley was considerably jarred, but was unhurt, and the show no serious effects of its adventure. OREGON CITY BABE STOLEN BY TRAMP

MARSHFIELD, Or., June 5.—The 15-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, formerly of Oregon City, was found early this morning in the woods about a mile and a half distant from the home. "The child was unharmed. It is believed the child was carried into the woods and left there by a half-witted tramp named Bill Miller, who is now in custody. Miller had been refused food by Mrs. Smith. He denies his guilt, but is recognized as the man who visited the Smith home. Nearly 300 men had been engaged in the search. D. L. Stanley, neighbor, who found the baby, says he was guided to the spot by a falling star. The child was lost since yesterday afternoon.

BANQUET IS PLANNED

A banquet will be served in Woodmen's hall June 10, at which delegates from the various brotherhoods of Clackamas county and Oregon City churches will be present. The main object of the gathering is to formulate plans for promoting local interest in the World's Second Christian Citizenship conference to be held in Portland June 29 to July 6. The Rev. J. S. McGau, field secretary of the conference, will deliver the main address at the banquet. Tickets may be obtained from Dr. Ford, J. L. Swafford or Charles Hagemann.
