MINISTER PLANS HELPFUL ADVICE

Rev. George Nelson Edwards, of the Congregational church, is planning eries of talks upon "Everyday Liv and will inaugurate them night at the evening service when he will speak on "Some Things That it Takes to Make a Home." This series promises to be of much practical valne, and in the course a number of questions of the day will be discussed by the pastor, and considerable light shed upon the misunderstandings that make modern life less pleasant that it might be. It is Dr. Edwards' idea to have these sermons helpful to all, and to point out many ways by which the average man and woman can get nore out of life.

In the morning Dr. Edwards will preach upon "What Jesus Teaches about Giving," the text being taken from a part of the Sermon on the Mount.

GROTESQUE HEADDRESSES.

Mongolian Women Drench Their Hair With Fish Glue and Grease.

The headdress of the Mongolian we nen is a very complicated affair. When the hair is made up in the shape of elephants' ears it indicates matrimony, and when worn in a tail it means that the woman is a spinster. in order to give this shape to the hair the woman makes a parting in the middle of her head, then drenches the hair, each side by turn, with a pleasng mixture of fish glue and grease.

When it is thoroughly soaked she preads the upper part out thinly in such a way that at its broadest it neasures about six inches wide. To keep the bair in this shape she enploys wooden clips, which, when the hair is dry, are replaced, if she can afford it, by silver or golden ones. The lower part of the bair is made into a plait, with a silver or golden ornament at the end to prevent its coming undone

These silver or golden clips and hair ornaments are often set with precious stones, and princesses even have the whole of the plait hidden by means of sliver or golden rings. As the making up of the hair takes a whole day and the Mongol women are very lazy and not particularly cleanly in their habits, it is not surprising to learn that this operation is performed by some once a week, by others once a month and yet others-pretty low down in th social scale-once a year .- Wide World Magazine.

PLAYER RELEASES HIMSELF. Pitcher, Also League President, Takes Action to Conform With Rule. To hand your own release to yourself is an unusual occurrence. Yet this is what took place when Pitcher William E. Essick was released by the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Central league club. He was the only member of the pitching staff not yet in condition, and as it was necessary to reduce the number of players to conform to the league limit Essick was the victim. The release was drawn up by President William E Essick of the Grasd Rapids club with all the customary details. President Essick then placed bimself before a mirror and made a speech, in which he expressed his regret that the league rules made it necessary for him to release his favorite pitcher. The document was tendered by the president's right hand and accepted by his left. Thus President Essick released himself as a pitcher of the team of which he is president and majority
