PIONEERS MEET AT WRIGHT SPRINGS

Inclement Weather Does Not Deter
County Founders From Having Celebration in Park
Near Mulino

Columbus was hailed as the man who brought the pioneer spirit to America at the big Pioneer Picnic at Wright's Springs park, just beyond Mulino, Saturday afternoon; and to prove his point that this was so the Hon. George C. Brownell told of the march of American progress and development steadily westward, ever since the days of 1492, when bold spirits faced the unknown terrors of an unknown ocean to discover the great and new world that lay to the west. Mr. Brownell was the orator of the day, and his remarks, starting with Columbus, and sweeping his audience down to the very immediate present, closed with a striking tribute to one of his former political rivals, County Judge Robert Beatie. Enthusiastic applause followed Mr. Brownell's remarks, and before he left the park many of those present pressed forward to congratulate him and to shake his hand.

Lowering skies and occasional showers, some of which were more like cloudbursts, did not deter the pioneers and their friends and families from attending the picnic, and there were more people present than could find seats in the large dancing pavilion when the formal exercises of the day commenced. They crowded into the doorways, however, and while Mr. Brownell was speaking, paid him the closest attention. The orator of the day opened his remarks by praising the local band that was

Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, Who Celebrates the Silver Jubilee Of His Reign, and His Family, Who Rejoice With Him In Big Event

BERLIN, June 14.—All the details have now been arranged for the commemoration of the Kaiser's jubilee. The Germans are determined that the celebration of his 25th year of reign shall be one of the greatest festive events since the creation of the empire. The celebration proper, which will take place the week of June 15, will be preceded by numerous festivities and public functions. The celebration will reach its climax on Monday, June 16. On that day all Berlin will celebrate the jubilee with monster processions to the royal palace, and the Kaiser, surrounded by his entire family, will show himself on the balcony, or possibly in the historical corner window, to his loyal Berliners. This will probably be the only occasion during the week of the jubilee when the public at large will have an unrestricted opportunity to see the Kaiser and to show their appreciation of the man, who during the quarter of a century that has been on the throne, has placed the nation in the front rank of the industrial, commercial and naval, as well as the military powers of the world. In anticipation of the celebration Berlin is filled with visitors from abroad and from the various parts of the empire. The pageantry features of the week will attract nearly 1,000,000 visitors. It is estimated that Special envoys, in addition to the regular ambassadors, will be sent by most of the rulers of the world, to on hand to furnish music, mentioned his pleasure in the earlier part of the program, greeted the pioneers as one of their number himself, and then plunged into the meat of his discourse. In part he said: "We all of us ought to try to be more like the old pioneers, who with their ideal of true citizenship fixed firmly in their hearts, brushed mis-

the celebration. The twenty-five rulers of German states, including the Kings of Saxony, Bavaria and Wurttemberg, will come to Berlin personally to congratulate the ruler of the empire. The decorations for the jubilee surpass anything of the kind ever seen in the German capital. It is estimated that not less than $500,000 has been expended on the decoration of the streets and public buildings. The Kaiser himself has designed the color scheme used for the embellishment of Unter den Linden, Pariser Platz, Koenigsstrasse, Friedrichsstrasse and other of the principal thoroughfares and public squares of the city. The expense of the decorations will be shared by Berlin and the eighty largest cities in Germany. The Kaiser will signalize his jubilee by commencing the sentences of many prisoners and pardoning others. He will also grant titles of nobility and will probably record a number of orders and decorations. The general harmony of the celebrations may be disturbed by the discordant note of the Socialists, who are said to be planning to hold immense mass meetings during jubilee week to protest against the increased military and naval expenditures. To offset the effect of these demonstrations the loyalist press is laying great stress on the fact that the Kaiser during his reign of twenty-five years has been one of the strongest peace factors in Europe.

Children's Day will be observed today at the Congregational church, of which the Rev. George Nelson Edwards is pastor. There will be special and appropriate services in the morning, together with a program of offering for Sunday school missions. At five o'clock in the afternoon there will be a children's concert, this taking the place of the usual evening services. There will be special music and recitations, and Gustave Fletcher, the well-known musician, will play several selections. Dr. Edwards will preach in the morning upon "The Children of Today and the Church of Tomorrow," and will present some interesting conclusions for consideration of the members of his church. His theme will deal with the demand that exists for a church, the principles and attractions of which will make an appeal to the growing generation. While not exactly one of the sermons that Dr. Edwards announced last week upon the problems of everyday life, the message nevertheless will carry thought that may well be included in the field of discussion opened up by this series of sermons. Every person attending morning worship will be presented with a rose.

ELKS PAY TRIBUTE TO NATION'S FLAG

Oregon City Elks and members of Meade Post, G. A. R., honored the birthday of the American flag Saturday night in joint exercises at the Elks' home. The ceremonies were open to the public, and over 200 people took advantage of the occasion, and joined in a patriotic meeting to show their fealty to the national emblem. The impressive and beautiful ritual of the Elks was a part of the exercises, while the balance of the program was made up by tuneful singing and stirring addresses. Mrs. Theodore Osmund opened the program by singing The Star Spangled Banner, everyone rising as her clear tones rang out in the stirring measures of the national air. The formal introduction, by the Exalted Ruler and officers of the lodge followed, after which prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Oscar Woodfin, then sang Columbia the Gem of the Ocean. "The History of the Flag" was given by Brother Charles Hugh Wilson, and proved a revelation to many who attended. The impressive altar service of the ritual followed, the Esquimaux and lodge officers taking part. Auld Lang Syne was then sung by the officers and members of the lodge. Next came the Elks' Tribute to the Flag, given by Brother Clarence L. Eaton. "Old Black Joe" was given as a pleasing duet by Mrs. Osmund and Mr. Woodfin, their voices blending beautifully, and making the song doubly appealing. Following this patriotic address were delivered by T. M. Kellogg and Captain Shaw, of the Grand Army post, and by Gilbert L. Hedges. The latter was more in the line of an oration, and rang with patriotic fervor. The exercises were brought to a close by the singing of America by all present. One of the most interesting features of the evening was the playing of the Veterans Fife & Drum corps. Their rendering of Dixie fairly brought the audience to its feet and the popularity of this one-time "rebel" melody was again attested. The fife and drum corps also led the veterans in their march to the Elks' home. Following the exercises Mrs. Osmund was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the lodge, as an appreciation of the gratitude of the members for her co-operation in making the celebration of Flag day the great success that it was.

Daggett, a wife of John Daggett, and an accomplished and refined young woman. Miss Daggett is the first woman forest guard within the history of the service.
