Extra Program Today and Tomorrow

For the benefit of the large number of shoppers using The Morning Enterprise as a medium in which to find exceptional purchasing opportunities, this paper offers the following inducement to its readers and friends to carefully read the advertisements of the progressive stores on this page.

A grand prize of $50.00 in cash will be given to the individual or any form of organization or institution turning in the greatest amount of money shown on the cash checks or receipts and monthly bills secured at any of the stores on this page.

To the candidate securing the next largest amount, $15.00 in cash.

To the third, $10.00 in cash.

EXPLANATION.

To secure votes in The Morning Enterprise's Refund Bargain Contest make your purchases at the stores advertising on this page, and call for a sales check for every purchase made.

Turn these checks into The Enterprise's office, where votes will be given for the amount shown on each check. Five votes will be given for each five cents shown on the cash check, receipt or monthly bill. This vote is to be deposited in the voting box at this office. Sales checks must represent cash purchases. All cash checks and monthly bills must be turned into this office within ten days of the purchase date.

BEEF MARKET FIRM DURING PAST WEEK

Receipts for the past week have been: Cattle 675, calves 90, hogs 5905, sheep 8885, horses 27.
 Cattle market steady to a shade firmer for choice beef. Good steers sold during the week at $7.50 to $7.75 and two loads went at $8.00. Receipts have been very light which has benefited the market. The trade is unable to handle a larger number of cattle at the present time, but good steers and cows are in fair demand.
 The hog market dropped ten to twenty cents since Monday. Liquidation has been very liberal and packers are temporarily over supplied. $3.20 is an extreme top for prime light swine and good ones are selling around 8c. Until outlet channels are opened the demand for swine will show slight improvement.
 An unevenly lower market in the sheep house. A light demand exists for fat mutton and lambs but the bulk of arrivals have been medium and poor grade stock. Prime yearlings are selling at $5.25, two years olds at $5.00 and ewes $4.50 and $4.75. Lamb trade has been a shade easier; best Mt. Adams stock failed to elicit better than $6.75 bid, bulk of best stuff sold at $6.50 and $6.75. Liquidation enormous.

STRAWBERRY PRICE IS VARYING WIDELY

Strawberries still continue to be one of the chief items of interest in the market world. As often happens with country staples, there is a sharp difference in price between Oregon City and Portland quotations. Berries here are selling at a dollar a crate, all kinds of fruit going at this price. In Portland quotations vary from 85 cents to $1.10, with Clark Seedlings listed at $1.15 and $1.25 per crate. Ability to get the price and desire of middlemen to take an extra profit is responsible, it is said, for the city prices on berries.
 Cherries are improving in quality and quantity, some very fair fruit now being offered. Retail prices are from 10 to 15 cents a pound.
 Eggs are strengthening a little in Portland markets, though not much difference is to be noted locally. Portland dealers are getting from 22 cents a dozen down for best grade. Poultry growers are selling eggs direct here for 20 cents and down.
 Willamette valley wool is being bid at as high as 17 cents, but not much is doing, as buyers and growers are both preferring to wait developments. Vegetables are showing little change in prices. Green peas are scarce, and lettuce is cheaper.

TROOPS GUARD ITS GOLD.

Every Night the Bank of England Has a Military Display.
 For 130 years a company of guardsmen in charge of an officer marched every evening from the Chelsea or the Wellington barracks to the Bank of England. For the last few years, owing to the great increase of street traffic, the soldiers have gone by the underground railway, and nowadays the nightly guard is drawn from the troops stationed in the Tower of London.
 If the visitor to London waits by the bank an evening at half past 6 o'clock he will see about thirty men in the charge of a lieutenant and two sergeants marched up in parade dress with fixed bayonets and loaded ammunition belts. These are the only troops that may march through the city of London with fixed bayonets.
 The men themselves like this duty. When they march back to quarters, about 7 o'clock in the morning, they may do as they please for the rest of the day, and they receive an extra shilling a day from the bank managers. Each man also has a pair of fine blankets wherein to wrap himself while he waits for his turn to go on guard, and in winter big fires are lighted for them. They have generous refreshments provided for them, and the officer in command has a dinner for himself and two friends.

In the daytime another curious survival of the past is to be observed. Although detectives guard all the doors, the old uniformed headles are also paid for the service. From the standpoint of efficiency, these officials are very much in the way, but as long as the Bank of England has been in existence the headles have policed it. Consequently the headles are allowed to remain.

The custom of providing a little garison for the bank dates back to 1780, when an attack was made upon the bank by a mob during the Gordon riots, picturesquely described in "Baron Rotherham." It is said that in the fight that ensued between the rioters and the clerks of the bank the latter melted their metal bullets for ammunition after their supply of bullets had given out.—Youth's Companion.
