EARNING must not be closed to ninety per cent of our children when they are barely fourteen years of age, just at the time when they most need guidance and instruction, JUST AT THE TIME WHEN CHARACTER BUILDING REALLY BEGINS and just when they should be objects of special attention in our educational plans ..

Whether the youth appreciates the need of further education or not is not the question. Society must appreciate it and provide for it EXTENDING THE COMPULSORY PERIOD OF EDU-CATION to cover the years of development between fourteen and eighteen even for those compelled to devote most of their time and energy to bread winning.

ONE OF THE BLUNDERS OF CIVILIZED COUNTRIES. A BLUNDER THAT HAS LED TO AN ENORMOUS INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF YOUTHFUL VAGABONDS AND CRIMINALS, HAS BEEN TO NEG-LECT THE CHILD AND TO ACT AS THOUGH THERE WERE A SHARPLY DEFINED LINE SEPARATING THE CHILD FROM THE MAN, AS THOUGH IT WERE A WISE EDUCATIONAL POLICY TO CARE FOR HIM SYSTEMATICALLY UP TO FOURTEEN AND THEN LEAVE HIM ABRUPTLY AND ABSOLUTELY TO THE TENDER MERCIES OF THE FACTORY AND STREET.

The problem of legislation is therefore to provide a system of schools which shall give opportunity to all our youth during the years of development between fourteen and eighteen, DURING THE YEARS OF ADOLESCENCE.

Our problem is to extend the opportunities for vocational education TO ALL during this adolescent period, a problem which we cannot longer defer if we hope TO CONSERVE OUR HUMAN RESOURCES and to hold our place in the ven of civilized nations.

The boy cause swimming builds up the whole body, and secondly because the ability to swim gives self-confidence, and makes boating accidents mere incon-

SELF HELP.

I once knew a boy whose hobby was mathematics. He had practically finished higher arithmetic when he was eleven and higher algebra when he was thirteen. One of his peculiarities OREGON CITY WOOD & FUEL CO .was that he would permit no one to help him work a problem. He would not listen to a suggestion. He would fight or leave the room before he would permit a word to be said that would throw any light on the solution of his "sums." Perhaps he had not he regarded the opportunity to work a problem as a privilege of which he was very jealous and with which no one might interfere.

That boy is now a successful man. I have followed his career with some interest and have seen him make his mark in every community in which he ever lived. He became known practically the nation over. He has kept the same traits, although expressed in different ways, that he manifested in his boyhood. He still insists in working out his own problems and thinking his own thoughts

The boy who asks another to help him with his lessons is cheating himself. He is robbing himself of that much training and mental discipline. He is weakening his own faculties. He is handleapping himself for the problems that life itself will present when he has to make his own way and can get no one to help him in their solution.

It is as though a man were training for a race and would ask another to do his road work for him or as though one training for a boxing bout depended on another to exercise with
