Dillman & Howland

What a man sows that shall he also reap.

Oregon City is growing, and will grow. She will come to her own. The people of Portland, our near-by neighbor down the river, are just beginning to find out what we are, and what we are to be. We must take no backward step, but look forward, and press toward the goal of full recognition. We should improve every opportunity to show our industrial, educational and religious interests. We are a manufacturing center. We rank high for our educational facilities and efficiency. We are a religious shrine. Here was not only the first Protestant Christian church edifice, but the first three Protestant church edifices erected west of the Rocky mountains in the United States. This in itself is sufficient to feature us in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference in Portland. Distinguished citizens from all parts of the world will be in that conference this week, and we could and ought to make a "big hit" for our town during that meeting. It affords us a better opportunity than the Rose Festival afforded us.

Next Monday is designated as "Oregon City day," and we should do ourselves proud, and do our full share in making the great conference a splendid success.

A NICE THING The Enterprise wants to remember to be a bit personal in these remarks. This newspaper is trying, to the best of its ability, to tell the happenings in Oregon City. It appreciates the items that are brought into the office by its friends, and it appreciates greatly the trouble that some other of its friends take when they telephone in advance notices of coming events. And it tries, always, to make mention of these things in which all or a part of the people of Oregon City are interested. Unfortunately, however, the staff of The Enterprise is not sufficiently large to make it possible for a representative to attend every event in the city. The Enterprise, therefore, would particularly appreciate it if its friends who do attend these affairs would call it up on the telephone and give it a little information as to the chief-features of meetings or parties. Especially is this so in regard to the club affairs of the city. Most of these meetings are confined to members, yet often the matters taken up are of general public interest, and should be set forth for the benefit of newspaper readers.

Probably four or five times a week The Enterprise is informed over the telephone that there will be a meeting of the So-and-So club on a certain date. Every time such information is given this paper, an item is printed to the effect that such a meeting is planned. There is but one club, however, which after its meetings has one of its officers telephone to The Enterprise a brief account of the event. The Enterprise would greatly appreciate it if the other clubs would do likewise, and believe that the people of Oregon City would also appreciate it, and would find the accounts interesting reading. And aside from that, it would be a nice return courtesy for the printing of the meeting notice.

Survivors of Ill Fated Maine; Floral Ship in Honor of Victims

Photos by American Press Association.

SURVIVORS of the old battleship Maine, which was blown up in Havana harbor in 1898, took part in the unveiling of the Maine memorial monument in New York. The picture shows them standing in front of the national memorial shaft, which was erected in their honor as well as in honor of their comrades who went down to death with the ship. Another interesting feature of the unveiling celebration was the setting afloat in the Hudson river of a floral boat. It drifted out to sea as a pretty memorial token on the part of the sailors of the north Atlantic fleet.

Only One Way to END CATARRH

Reach the raw, tender, inflamed membrane infested with Catarrh germs, and destroy them. You can't reach the nooks and crevices with liquid preparations—there is only one way—breathe the germ destroying air of Booth's HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mey) directly over the inflamed and germ infested membrane.

HYOMEI contains no opium, cocaine or other harmful drugs. It is a balsamic air made of Australian eucalyptus, thymol, and some Listerian antiseptics. It is guaranteed to end the misery of Catarrh and Croup or money back. It's fine for bronchitis. Ask Huntley Bros. about Booth's HYOMEI outfit today—it is only $1.00 and they guarantee it. Extra bottles, if later needed, 50 cents. Just breathe it—no stomach dosing.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

AN EXAMPLE OF AMERICAN MANHOOD.

Have you read the story of those business men of Nutley, N. J., who gave patches of their skin to save the life of a child?

Many of the newspapers carried the story. The little son of Mr. E. R. Colwell was so severely burned that the doctors said he would die unless new skin could be grafted over a large part of his body.

The physicians thereupon called for volunteers. The response was so immediate and general as to warm the cockles of one's heart and make him proud of American manhood.

Nutley is made up for the most part of New York business men. The volunteers did not come from the town alone, however. Men from other suburbs and from the big city itself came forward.

The newspapers told how these volunteers chatted and smoked on the porch of the Colwell home as they awaited their turns to go on the operating table.

The sacrifice meant not only inconvenience and pain to them, but the loss of valuable time from their business.

None of these things weighed against saving the life of the child. The best of it all is that the sacrifice was not in vain. The child is recovering.

The incident furnishes a fine example of manhood at its highest, of the American brand of it that in some aspects is a little ahead of anything else on the planet.

There was no posing about it all, nothing spectacular. It was all taken as a matter of course, a part of the day's work.

Yet in its essence it had a touch of the heroic. Better still, it was Christianity put into practice.

It was a modern illustration of the brotherhood of man, of the many for the one.

So in writing down the things that make life worth while don't forget the men of Nutley.

THE PROPER SPIRIT

(By the Rev. T. B. Ford.)

Boost, and we boost with you. Kick, and you kick alone.

This is the spirit that wins for the individual, for movements and for the town.

A booster is public spirited, enterprising and industrious, a desirable citizen, and deserves to win. A kicker is a selfish man, narrow, self-assertive, an "undesirable citizen," and though sometimes useful as a "thorn in the flesh," could easily be spared, and deserves the odium which he brings upon his own head.

Who does not admire the man who boosts for his town, the men, the business, the enterprises, the schools, the churches and other public organizations and institutions, as the library, the Chautauqua, the Commercial club, etc., and pushes every legitimate interest of the community? Who does not look with suspicion, pity and disdain upon the kicker who is going about always swinging one foot in the air kicking at everything that doesn't suit him; and nothing suits him unless he originated it, or is at the head of it?

Oregon City has boosters many and they should be encouraged, and a few kickers, and they will eat the fruit of the tree of their own planting.

Industrial Strife Can Be Overcome

By "MOTHER" JONES, Active Friend of Coal Miners

MY husband died of yellow fever in the south, and the same disease made other widows by the tens of thousands. It is making no more widows because we now have MASTERED IT. The world is suffering today from an INDUSTRIAL YELLOW FEVER, not less fatal, but, I am certain, as PREVENTABLE.

We have applied to the economic disease, which has distressed us, all manner of remedies, all unintelligent. Students have delved widely, but wrongly in the main, in their search for cause. Each has devised his remedy. Most remedies have failed because they DID NOT TOUCH THE CAUSE. Some remedies have succeeded. They got at the cause.

I THOROUGHLY BELIEVE THAT IN THE NOT FAR DISTANT FUTURE AN ERA OF INDUSTRIAL PEACE IS WAITING. WE SHALL OVERTAKE IT. REAL EDUCATION IS ALL WE NEED TO HELP US FIND IT.

I hate the anarchist, be he in the mine breast with his pick against the coal or in the national bank with his hands upon the combination of the vault. There are many in both places, but they are growing fewer.

We cannot be a law unto ourselves in this world. We must think of others, and the others, the majority, will ultimately make all law. The QUALITY, which is the ideal of this country, of course, is nearer now than ever.

I HAVE AS LITTLE PATIENCE WITH THE WORKINGMAN WHO SAYS THAT ALL EMPLOYERS ARE HARD HEARTED WRETCHES AS I HAVE WITH THE EMPLOYER WHO DECLARES ALL WORKINGMEN ARE BRUTES WHO MUST BE MANAGED OR destroyed.
