COUNTY'S AFFAIRS IN BEST OF SHAPE

E. C. Hackett, an expert empolyed to go over the county books, has sub mitted his report, and finds that affairs under the present administration are in very satisfactory shape. He shows that the county officers have properly accounted for the public funds in their hands, and incidentally brings out the fact that the county wes the county recorder two dol

In a detailed summary of county business for last year, as compared with other years, the report shows that in 1910 the county was $41,690.45 in debt at the end of March, while in 1912, under the present administration, there was a cash balance on and of $57,846.37. He Advertises That He Doesn't Advertise

A manufacturer of a nationally disributed 'product encloses in each package that leaves his factory a printed slip bearing the following:

"Our competitors spend $8,-000,000 annually to advertise their products. We put quality in to our instead, thus giving our patrons the benefit of the money we save by not advertising."

The remarkable part about the above is the fact that here's a firm that ADVERTISES THAT IT DOES NOT ADVERTISE. If this manufacturer is sincere he will wake up some day and tell the public about the excellence of his own product in some legitimate, "reason why" advertising. Then, if his goods are all he says they are he will do a lot more business and make more real money than ever he dreamed of

A nice and brand new railroad from Oregon City to Portland has been incorporated, and copies of the papers of incorporation have been filed with County Clerk Mulvey. The new line is to be known as the Portland & Oregon City Raiway company, and is incorporated for $200,000 by T. C. Fletcher, B. E. Fletcher and Frances

Vandermeer. According to its articles the line will use electricity or gasoline for motive power, and will haul freight and passengers from some point with-in the city limits of Portland to a point within the city limits of Oregon

The papers were left with Mr. Mulvey by Stephen Carver, who has lately applied for a franchise for an interurban road in Milwaukie and in line thus represented is the one for which the incorporation papers hava been taken out.

The Stuff Successful Men Are Made of

The International Correspondence Schools are NOT summer. All of our truly ambitious students those who think more about the increased salaries their studies will qualify them to earn, than of the imaginary discomforts of summer study-devote a part of each week to their studies all summer.

A student who will only study in cold weather punishes himself. Why? Because he takes two or three times as long, in preparing him-self to earn more money, as the student who studies from a half hour to an hour per day all the year round. We have enough letters on file to make several very large books, the general purport of which is: "Oh, if I had only taken up that Course when I first wrote you about it! I have just missed a fine position, at largely increased wages, because I wasn't prepared to fill it. I lacked just the special knowledge I could have had from the Course." The writers of these letters never have to be coaxed to study in summer NOW. They knew what delay costs. Why not profit by THEIR experience, instead of taking the same bitter medicine yourself?

Persons that suffer most from the heat are those that have nothing else to occupy their thoughts. A man who is interested in his studies doesn't know how hot it is. He has no time to fret about the weather. He is looking ahead a few months to the time when he can demand advancement in position and salary, because his special education will have made his services of more value to his employer. It is no harder to read an Instruction Paper in summer than to read a newspaper. How many summer days are hot enough to prevent you from reading the daily news?

The man who promises himself that he will enroll next fall is only trying to deceive his conscience. He may not know it, but he is weakening his will-power, and it is will-power-power to do what one knows he must do to succeed-that makes the man. A man of weak will-one who will study some day, but not now-will always be down in the world; always in "hard luck," frequently out of work, and when employed, it will always be at low wages. He knows that a knowledge of certain subjects will fit him to earn more; yet he stills his conscience by promising to start later. Such a man isn't truly ambitious. He is one of the kind that always does the hard, menial work, and draws small pay all his life. Are YOU one of that kind. Are YOU truly ambitious to earn more and make something of yourself? If you wont study in summer you are NOT. If you prefer to fret about how weather, rather than forget it by studying, you are NOT.

The dangerous habit of "putting off" has ruined the lives of more promising young men than drunkenness. It is so easy to say "yes, it's what I need; I'll start tomorrow-next week-some other time." The difference between the man that makes a failure of life and the man that succeeds is simply this: The failure is going to begin "tomorrow;" the success begins today.

The men who "get there" are those that study for self-improvement in summer, or whenever they have time. They don't let the weather keep them in inferior positions, at small wages. They don't make excuses to themselves when they ought to be up and doing. They don't work for wages barely enough to keep soul and body to-

PERILS OF BLASTING CAPS.

These Dangerous and Sensitive "Playtoys," Often Picked Up Around Quarries, Are Responsible For Hundreds of Crippled Youngsters.

Over 600 children have been hurt or perhaps crippled for life in the last five years from playing with blasting caps. to a If this had happened at one time what a howl would have gone up all over the world! But because the accidents are spread all over the country and happen at the rate of only about ten a month nothing is done by the authorities. In-Portland, and it is believed that the | deed, nothing can be done except to educate the whole population to realize how dangerous these exceedingly useful things are when they are out of their proper place. And what a dreadful thing it is going through life crippled or blinded for want of a little care and knowledge.

Boys often play in and around quarries on Sundays and sometimes pick up stray caps and start to investigate them. It is the rarest thing that they ever do this without getting hurt. They perhaps know they are danger ous and that a spark or a blow will explode them, but they do not realize how sensitive they are, how violent the explosion or how the pieces of copper fly. Even the name is misleading in this respect. The word "caps" suggests the paper caps used with toy pistols, and because the blasting caps are called by this name it is natural to think that the two articles belong to the same family. They may, but they bear about the same resemblance to each other that a hungry man eating tiger does to the gentle pussy cat. There are lots of ways of getting crippled by exploding blasting caps be sides hitting them with a hammer and putting them in the fire. Extracting the contents with a pin distributes untold fingers; holding a lighted match under them or thrusting the flaming end into the cap gets immediate action. In the mines and quarries even, where the men who have to use blasting caps every day ought to know better, there are plenty of mangled hands and punctured hides as the result of crimping caps on fuse with a jackknife, pointed nail or any tool that's handy.

Many a miner has blown a hole through his face in biting the cap on the fuse, and others have filled themselves with copper or have been killed outright by the sparks from their hat lamps or pipes dropping in an open box of caps. Lots of blasters continue to bite the caps on the fuse and think that because they have never exploded them they never will, but some day they will bite the business end and lose something besides teeth. It is much easier and lots safer to use the crimper, a tool made for the purpose. Accidentally stepping on a cap will often spoil a perfectly good foot trouble or delay in making his rounds. Sparks, flame, heat, blows, frictionthey are applied.

A blasting cap is a copper shell about a quarter of an inch in diameter and an inch or two long, half full of fulminate of mercury. This fulminate is the most sensitive and about the most impulsive explosive in common use Blasting caps contain anywhere from fifteen to twenty grains of it. Primers for firearms cartridges usually contain not more than one grain. That's what the hammer or firing pin of a gun or pistol hits to ignite the powder in the shell. A blasting cap is meant to work the other way. The powder from the fuse ignites the fulminate in the blasting cap, and it explodes with terrific force and detonates the dynamite. The explosion of the fulminate is so exceedingly quick that the flying particles of copper will imbed themselves in iron a foot away. They will blow a hole clean through a steel plate onesixteenth of an inch thick. A box of caps will blow a beautiful square hole right through a two inch oak plank. One cap will blow a child's hand off with the utmost certainty and dispatch. Lings, one of the Chicago anarchiste, committed suicide by biting a blas ng cap between his teeth. The joint to be remembered is that when I blasting cap goes off it does great damage locally. There is no escaping its effects. Among all the 600 or more acidents reported from playing with blasting caps there are only two or three in which somebody was not

Electric blasting caps are just as strong as ordinary blasting caps, but as the capsule or shell is sealed up with a sulphur plug through which the wires are carried down to the fulminate, not so many accidents occur in playing with them. They are generally dipped in dark colored wax and are not such attractive playthings as the bright copper blasting caps, but "they get there just the same." Amateur electricians are earnestly advised to bury the electrie cap a foot or two in the earth before trying to pass electric currents through the wires, and they had better not do it then. Don't open it up to see what's in it! Explosive manufacturers are not given to imparting trade secrets promisenously, but they will gladly tell what's in the caps and how they are made rather than have you blow your hands off trying to find out for your-
