And when noise of this sort is not desired, as in communities where the "safe and sane" idea holds forth, there is oratorical thuader and loud acclaim about the little boy who ran out of Independence Hail and shouted: "Ring, grandfather, ring," when the Declarations of Independ ence was signed. (Only searching hisorians say that the little boy didn't run out on July 4th, and that the document was signed on an altogether dif. ists to rebel and throw off the yoke ferent date.)

By JOSEPH T. TALBERT, Vice President of the National City Bank of New York

NE of the evils which have been responsible for the money strain both here and abroad is the ever GROWING EX-TRAVAGANCE AND WASTEFULNESS of the American people. As an instance of this look at the use of pleasure automobiles by so many thousands of persons who CANNOT AF-FORD SUCH LUXURY.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT EIGHTY-EIGHT OUT OF EVERY HUN-DRED MEN OVER SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OF AGE ARE DEPENDENT ON CHILDREN OR CHARITY.

This is convincing proof of NATIONAL PROFLIGACY in this land of plenty where opportunity exists for every man to gain at least a competency.

We have INHERITED THIS VICE in the same way and for much the same reasons that we have inherited our characteristic optimism. So persistent and buoyant is this habit of ours of LOOK-TNG ALWAYS ON THE ROSY SIDE that we blind ourselves often to real dangers and decline not only to PROFIT BY LES-SONS OF THE PAST, but refuse either to heed these lessons or to remember their bitterness.

at the American citizen standing there in his enraged dignity-aud then the officer got up and picked up the American's hat and apologized. Why did he do it? Because he knew he was in the wrong, for one reason: and also because he recognized in the American the presence of human liberty, which is something the old world nations have found is best not to tamper with.

That is the secret of American progress and triumph. It is the instfable spirit of human freedom, native to this soil, and absorbed by all peoples who may come here. It was th' same spirit that led the early celonof the old world, it was the same
