RECALL BATTLE STARTS MONDAY

PRECINCT DELEGATES TO MEET
HERE AS STEERING COM-MITTEE FOR FIGHT

PETITIONS ON FILE WEDNESDAY

Dr. Strickland Mentioned As Possible
Candidate for County Judge,
Though Support is Not Unanimous

There will be an assembly in Oregon City of delegates from the different precincts on Monday to select candidates to run against County Judge R. B. Beatie and County Commissioner N. Blair, in a recall election for which petitions will be filed with the county clerk on Wednesday of next week. Saturday evening meetings were held in a number of precincts where the desire for the recall is said to be extensive, and delegates to the Oregon City meeting were named.

There is considerable doubt as to the two men who will be brought out as candidates in the recall election. The two will be selected Monday, and petitions for their nomination will then be circulated. The law requires, however, that when the first meeting for nomination is held, the date of the filing of the recall petitions must be fixed. Hence the announcement that the recall petitions will be filed Wednesday.

Just where Monday night's meeting will be held has not yet been determined. If there are a sufficient number of delegates, they will probably meet in W. O. W. hall, where the mass meetings leading up to the attempt at recall were held. If, on the other hand, only a few delegates appear, they will probably get together in some private office to select their ticket.

Those interested in the recall, which is backed by W. H. Hageman, state that Monday's meeting will merely be in the guise of a steering committee, and that no regular convention will be held. Nomination, officially, will be made upon petition.

There is some talk of naming Dr. Strickland, of Oregon City, as candidate for county judge, if he will accept. There are those who feel, however, that it would be better to nominate a man not so closely identified with city life, and the steering committee will determine this. As to who shall be nominated for county commissioner, there seems to be a considerable difference of opinion. It is not believed that any of the leaders in the recall movement will come out for office.

RICH MAN FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 19.—Highly sensational stories concerning the alleged systematic pursuit of young girls by men of wealth and social prominence are promised at the trial of George H. Bixby here next week. Bixby, a millionaire banker residing with his family in a palatial home at Long Beach, is to be tried on an indictment charging him with aiding the delinquency of two minor girls.

Bixby's arrest came as a sequel to a police raid on "The Jonquil" apartment house which the police declare was a resort of the worst character, despite its outward respectable appearance and the luxury of its interior furnishings. The place was run by Mrs. Josie Rosenberg, against whom two indictments were returned on charges of pandering.

The raid on "The Jonquil" and the arrest of Mrs. Rosenberg led to a week's inquiry by the grand jury into allegations that wealthy men had an organized system of ensnaring young women and girls for immoral purposes. The indictment of millionaire Bixby was the direct result of this inquiry. The evidence on which the indictments were based was furnished chiefly by Kitty Phillips, a youthful motion picture actress, and Marie Brown-Levy, a young woman still in her teens.

COUNTY OFFICIALS SPEAK AT MOLALLA

County Judge Beatie, County Commissioner Blair and J. E. Hodges, of Oregon City, were speakers at a meeting at Molalla Saturday night, at which citizens of that community invited the trio to talk upon county affairs and the pending recall movement. There was a good attendance, and all the speakers were enthusiastically received and given careful attention.

Judge Beatie reviewed the increase in taxes, and showed the causes, pointing out how a large percentage of the increase was made mandatory by the action of the legislature, and showing by figures that the people, by voting special levies, had also been largely responsible for the increase.

Mr. Blair spoke of the work of the county commissioners, and Mr. Hodges based his address upon the trend of the times to make the government more paternal than ever, and arguing for a return to simpler and more democratic principles.

There were about 75 or 80 voters present at the meeting, and all seemed to take a deep interest in the talks given. No questions were asked the speakers, it being apparent that they had covered the ground to the satisfaction of those present.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 19.—All roads lead toward Gladstone Park Sunday. The gates swing open early in the morning for the last day of the 20th annual assembly. Indications point to a record-breaking Sunday crowd from Portland and Oregon City and Secretary Cross has doubled the ground marshal force to look after the Sunday patrons, who will probably reach 7,000. An extra space of approximately two acres is roped off for the convenience of Portland autos which will be on the grounds. To avoid confusion all Portland motorists, coming by way of the Clackamas road, should enter the first gate. Vehicles should come in the gate on the lower grounds or Oregon City side. Arrangements have also been made late this afternoon for an extra supply of trailers on the P. R. L. & P. and trains are to be run each half hour from early morning, with each Oregon City car, and all patrons will be carried from First and Alder directly into the gates of the park. Cars will return every half hour until 10:30 p. m.

As the big auditorium seats only 5,000, hundreds of benches will be placed directly outside of the large open-air structure, so that the features of the day may be enjoyed by all.

Saturday was a great day at Chautauqua and about 3,000 people heard W. H. Hodges' "Evolution of Wit and Humor." The droll Southerner convulsed his audience to an uncomfortable extent, for the day was warm, and the fusillade of anecdotes and quips of humor came fast. His lecture was not as deep as his original "Horse Race" talk, but it met a popular chord, as he traced the development of wit and humor through the various periods of evolution. Holcomb sees a humorous side to the lower animals, and without a great amount of effort, makes his audience see the funny side of the lower creatures, too. His talk was a treat.

Prof. Baumgardt, the scientists lecturer and globe-trotter, made good with the Chautauqua patrons last night, and tonight gives the final lecture of his series at 8:00 on "A Night Among the Stars." He has traveled in every nook and corner of the world, and his experience is first-hand. He shows a collection of rare pictures. Baumgardt's talks are a great intellectual feature of the present session.

The fire-works tonight attracted thousands, and were beautiful in the extreme.

Saturday program at the W. C. T. U. hour from 4 to 5, was presented by the Arista Union. The W. C. T. U. work has been a feature all through the assembly. Yesterday the winners of the medals, Mesdames Snyder and Jones, won additional honors in the speaking line. Mesdames Arnold and Harford sang "The Shadows of Home" in a pleasing manner. Never before in Chautauqua's history have W. C. T. U. affairs been more efficiently handled, and seldom has their work attracted more attention.

BOY SHOOTS SELF WHEN OUT HUNTING

Glen Bird, 15 years of age, the son of Wm. H. Bird, of this city, was shot while hunting Saturday afternoon in the woods near the Abernathy Creek. Bird was gunning with a 22 calibre rifle, and when going through the brush with the gun ready for instant use, tripped and fell. The rifle went off and the bullet lodged in young Bird's leg. Dr. Mount was summoned and after extracting the bullet and dressing the wound prophesied an early recovery.

SUFFRAGETTE DEMONSTRATION AFTER RAID ON DOWNING ST., LONDON

(Copyright by International News Service, supplied by New Process Electro Corporation, N. Y.)
A party of militant suffragettes in a demonstration at Trafalgar Square, London, after a raid on Downing street, where are situated the official residence of the ministers. The attack was led by Miss Sylvia Pankhurst.

Besides carrying the usual banners with the "No Vote, No Tax" mottoes, the militants introduced an innovation and carried with them revolutionary caps on poles, which may be seen in the accompanying photograph. In the Downing street riots, dock workers joined the women and rioted with them. It was only after considerable display of force that the police were able to disperse the mob. Broken up in Downing street, the suffragettes and their allies adjourned to Trafalgar Square and later speeches were made from the Nelson Column.

NEW YORK REACHES OUT ITS SUBWAYS

NEW YORK, July 19.—New York now has under way its subway system construction work to the value of $1,000,000. Twenty-seven miles of this underground railway are under construction, and as nearly all of it will have four tracks, this means that about 10 miles of single track is being built. The work is being done by fourteen different contracting firms, who are employing on the average daily about 6,000 men.

Here are some more figures concerning the big city. Last year New York paved a little more than 244 miles of street. In addition to the actual paving of the roadways on a permanent basis the municipal engineers have had to consider the problems connected with regulating, grading and laying the sidewalks and curbs on areas in the newly developed sections of the city. Thus in Brooklyn alone forty miles of street were improved in this way last year. Within the city limits there are now 1,600 miles of paved thoroughfares.

Roger A. Pryor is 85

NEW YORK, July 19.—Judge Roger A. Pryor, former justice of the supreme court of New York and one of the few surviving generals of the Confederate States army, attained his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary today. Judge Pryor is a native of Virginia and in early life was a congressional representative from that state. At the beginning of the civil war he was elected a member of the first Confederate states congress. Later he entered the Southern army as a colonel and rose to the rank of brigadier-general.

Cook-Kelley Wedding

YORK HARBOR, Me., July 19.—The wedding of Miss Natalie Jerrold Kelley, daughter of Commander J. D. Herold Kelley, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Kelley, and Thomas McKeown Cook, Jr., of Pittsburgh, took place in Trinity church here this afternoon in the presence of a notable assemblage. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Stansbury Brady of Baltimore, and the bridegroom had his cousin, James Scully, Jr., of Pittsburgh, as best man.

A Double Barreled Guarantee

The readers of THE ENTERPRISE are asked to consider the two-fold responsibility behind the many products of nationwide repute advertised locally in the newspapers and offered for sale by the leading merchants of this city.

First and foremost, our readers must know that advertising has arrived at such a sound basis that it is a rare thing nowadays that an advertised article does not measure up to the standard established by its advertising.

"War" Again in Shenandoah

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The famous Shenandoah Valley, where "Bill" Sheridan made his historic ride fifty years ago, is about to hear again the song of bugle, the galloping of horses, the click of carbines and the boom of cannon. Several regiments of cavalry from Fort Allen, Va., and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and a squadron of field artillery from Fort Myer, Va., and Fort Reilly, Kas., have arrived in the valley preparatory to beginning the maneuvers decided upon some time ago by the war department.

CHAMPIONS LAID LOW BY CLUBMEN

It used up five pitchers to decide the championship game of the Chautauqua series Saturday at Gladstone park, when the Clackamas players met the Oregon City Commercial Club White Sox. Up to that game Clackamas had not been beaten, but the White Sox proved too much for them, and put them down and out to the tune of 15 to 12. The game was tied up to the seventh inning, though through the earlier innings victory perched first on one side and then on the other.

Burdon, Scott and Hargraves twirled for Clackamas in an effort to stem the tide of defeat, and Long and Telford pitched for the White Sox. In all, the five pitchers allowed 30 hits; but many hot ones that would ordinarily have meant runs for the Clackamas players were stopped by Smith, who played center for the clubmen. Smith was everywhere whenever there was any batting on, and was the one bright and shining star of the day.

Baptist Congress Opens

STOCKHOLM, July 19.—The second quinquennial European Baptist Congress was opened in Stockholm today and will be continued until next Thursday. Baptists are stronger in Sweden than in any other European country, except in Great Britain. The reports show there are nearly 700 Baptist churches in Sweden, with a total membership of 53,083, and with nearly 65,000 children in the Sunday schools.

MOLALLA RIVER CLAIMS YOUTH

ROBERT GRAY DROWNED UNDER
RAFT OF LOGS IN SWIFT
PART OF STREAM

TIMBERMEN MAKE EFFORT TO SAVE

Body of Victim Recovered After Long
Search by Flight Employees
—Lad Fights Hard for His Life

Slipping from some logs being driven down the Molalla river, Robert Gray, 18 years of age, who lives near Nathan's Mills, in the Deep Creek country, was drowned Saturday afternoon despite the efforts of other loggers and men on the shore to save his life. The body was recovered late in the day and taken to an undertaking shop in Molalla.

Gray was well out in the stream, poing logs through some rough water, when he lost his balance and fell into the stream. For a moment he struggled to regain his footing, but on-rushing logs broke his hold upon the one he was endeavoring to climb upon, and he was sucked under by the current in a mass of timber.

River mates made every effort to save him, many of the men risking their lives in an attempt to reach him in time. After it was seen that he was doomed, the men worked just as hard to recover his body, which was finally found a considerable distance down stream from the point where he went under.

Gray is survived by a father and mother, and there are a number of other children in the family.

BIG LAND SUIT IS OF INTEREST

CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS TO BE WATCHED BY AS-SESSOR'S OFFICE

P. E. & E. SEEKING RIGHT-OF-WAY

Much Territory in Neighborhood of Oswego is Involved in Dispute
Over Realty Values—
Papers Are Filed

What promises to be an interesting court proceeding is the condemnation suit filed Saturday by the Portland, Eugene & Eastern railroad against the Oregon Iron & Steel company, for a right-of-way through certain land owned by the latter concern in Oswego. In its complaint the railroad company, through Ralph Moody and John P. Reilly, states that the land is needed for the construction of the railroad line proposed, and that the total damages, when the benefits accruing the defendants are considered, will not exceed $2,000.

The P. E. & E. seeks right-of-way through a part of the Joshua Franklin and wife donation land claim number 43, in sections 2 and 3, township 2, south, range 1 east, through the donation land claim of A. A. Durham and wife, in section three, through a part of section ten, through lot 14, block 7, of Oswego, through a portion of blocks 13 and 6, and through lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 10, 11, 12 and 13 of block 1, Oswego. This land, it is claimed, is needed for tracks, sidings, depot grounds, and such other purposes as the railroad company is rightfully empowered to use.

The Interurban line has been negotiating for some time with the Oregon Iron & Steel company for the property, but has been unable to reach a bargain, and so the condemnation proceedings have been filed.

It is said that the assessor's office has had similar difficulty in reaching an agreement as to the value of the property included in the proceedings, and it is expected that the testimony adduced at the hearing of the suit will be closely followed by the county officials, and may possibly be made the basis of some further dealings between the county and the holding company. Attorneys familiar with the prospects of the case say that there will undoubtedly be some startling testimony brought out as to the value of the land in question.

BATHER'S WATCH SOON RECOVERED

If Karl Gostavranich wants his watch, his chain, his knife and the two bits that were stolen from his clothes Friday while he was swimming in the river, he can have the same by applying to Constable Jack Frost, either at his home 612 Monroe street, or at his official hang-out, in Justice Sievers' courtroom. Clever detective work on the part of the constable and Chief Ed Shaw, of the police department, recovered the stolen property Saturday evening, in just about 24 hours after it had been "hid."

With practically nothing to work upon, the officers sleuthed around until they picked up a slender clue, and then followed that unerringly to a group of boys, who more in mischief than anything else, had appropriated the swimmer's belonging. When confronted with proof of their crime, and told of the actual seriousness of their act, the boys willingly gave up the bather's property, and pleaded that they were not prosecuted.

The lads concerned come of good families, and as their parents have agreed to see that they are duly punished for their attempt at being real bandits, the officers have agreed to drop the case. So Karl can now get his stuff.
