

Morning Enterprise

WEEKLY ENTERPRISE ESTABLISHED 1866.

VOL. VI.—No. 17.

OREGON CITY, OREGON, TUESDAY, JULY 22, 1913.

PER WEEK, TEN CENTS.

THE WEATHER
OREGON CITY—Tuesday probably showers and cooler; light winds mostly westerly.
Oregon and Washington—Tuesday showers west, showers and thunder storms east portion; cooler except near the coast.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY
PAIR
CANBY, OR.
SEPT. 24, 25, 26, 27.

ANDERSON AND SMITH OFFERED

RECALL CANDIDATES NAMED AT SLIMLY ATTENDED PRECINCT MEETING

BUT 18 DELEGATES COME TO VOTE

Ed Olds, as Chairman, Dislikes to See "Strangers" Present and Adjourns Convention to Clear the Hall

A meeting of delegates from several precincts of the county assembled this afternoon in Woodmen hall to nominate candidates for the recall election, petitions in which will be filed with the county clerk on Wednesday of this week. There were 18 delegates present.

H. S. Anderson, of Harding precinct, sales manager of the Clear Creek creamery company, was nominated as candidate for county judge, to run against County Judge R. B. Beattie; and J. W. Smith, of Mackburg, was nominated as a candidate for commissioner, to run against Commissioner N. Blair. The resolution is directed against County Judge Beattie and Commissioner Blair, it being charged that they have let contracts for the construction of bridges without calling for competitive bids and that they have not properly accounted for county funds entrusted to their care.

Aside from the 18 delegates, there were seven spectators at the meeting, the proceedings of which did not denote an entire harmony of purpose. In considering the nomination of candidates, the name of Dr. Strickland, of Oregon City, was first suggested. Many objected to Dr. Strickland, declaring that no man who was a resident of Oregon City could get the vote of the majority of the farmers. Dr. Strickland's name was therefore dropped from further consideration.

Finally the names of Anderson and William Gressenthwaite were placed in nomination. Anderson received 11 votes and Gressenthwaite 7. Following this the name of J. W. Smith, of Anderson's nomination, was made unanimous, and the motion carried. J. W. Smith was unanimously nominated for candidate for commissioner, a standing ballot being taken.

At the close of the nominations, the delegates named George Lawelle, William Gressenthwaite and H. W. Mage-man as financial committee; and H. S. Anderson, J. W. Smith, A. A. Allen, W. P. Kirchem, George Brown, P. W. Meredith, J. W. Reed and a Mr. Hatnes, of Oswego, as executive committee.

The meeting was not entirely harmonious. Ed Olds presided as chairman, and seemed impressed with the necessity of being unduly dignified. At other times he forgot this, as once when he rose to make a suggestion to the delegates, and ended his remarks by saying: "There, I've said something and now George C. can't say that I haven't said anything." It is presumed that this was an allusion to some remarks once made by Geo. C. Brownell.

When candidates for county judge were being discussed considerable rivalry between different sections of the county appeared. Many of the delegates stated that if one man or another were nominated residents of other parts of the county would not vote for him. This brought still other remarks by saying: "There, I've said something and now George C. can't say that I haven't said anything." It is presumed that this was an allusion to some remarks once made by Geo. C. Brownell.

It was at this juncture that one of the peculiar things of the meeting occurred. Chairman Olds left his place and whispered to W. H. Hagemann that "strangers" were within the convention. These "strangers," apparently, were Justice Slevens, B. N. Hicks, Edwin R. Brown and a reporter from The Enterprise. Mr. Hagemann favored the interlopers with a black look, and then slipped quietly over to J. W. Smith for a whispered consultation. A moment later Mr. Hagemann rose and moved that the gathering adjourn. Mr. Smith seconded the motion.

A delegate not let into the secret bobbed up and asked Mr. Hagemann to revoke his motion, saying that there were other matters to which he thought attention should be given. Chairman Olds looked at Hagemann, and Hagemann promptly withdrew his motion. The nervous delegate then moved that the ticket be named the "Independent ticket." While this motion was being put to a vote, the word of the adjournment was passed around to the delegates who thought there were other things to be done. In the course of the passing of the word the motion hardly carried.

It was then reconsidered, and amended, and upon it being moved that the ticket be dubbed "Citizens' Independent," the motion carried, and the recall movement had an official name. The motion to adjourn was then put before the meeting again. Delegates looked around at the "strangers" and wanted to know how long it would be necessary to adjourn. The chairman looked at the strangers and figured that it would be about 20 minutes. The convention therefore adjourned. Immediately thereafter the "strangers" departed and then the convention reassembled, and selected its financial and executive committees. M. J. Brown acted as secretary of the convention, and after courteously gave out for publication the ticket and names of committeemen.

Idle Week for Fighters
NEW YORK, July 21.—The dulllest week the fight game has seen in years is in prospect. From one end of the country to the other there is not a fight of any consequence carded for the ensuing seven days.

ANTI HOME RULERS ADOPT STRINGENT PREVENTIVE

(Copyright by International News Service; supplied by New Process Electro Corporation, N. Y.)

This picture shows the removal from a stable at Hammersmith, London, of the 4,000 rifles that were seized there by the English customs officials. The day following the seizure, 500 rifles were also seized in Dublin and were received from the same stable. It is thought that the rifles were for the arming of men in Ulster who are opposed to Home Rule.

MRS. HARRIMAN ADDS TO SCIENCE FUNDS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Mrs. E. H. Harriman, widow of the late railroad magnate, as just given an additional endowment of $10,000 to the fund of $50,000 she established in 1911 for the foundation of a bacteriological and pathological research laboratory in connection with the hospital service of the Southern Pacific company. This announcement was made today by Dr. F. K. Ainsworth, chief surgeon of the railroad, in whose hands the disposition of the funds is placed.

The purpose of the endowment is to further the progress of medical research. For the last two years, the work has been going on under the direction of Dr. W. T. Cummings of the Southern Pacific general hospital at San Francisco. Dr. Cummings has devoted his time to study of serums with special relation to typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

This is the second large contribution to the Southern Pacific hospital service within the last two years, the widow of the late Collis P. Huntington having given $25,000 for the construction of a social hall now in use at the San Francisco hospital.

LAND SUIT FILED
Application for initial registration of title to 88,534 acres of land beginning at the northeast corner of section 25, township 4 south, range 1 west, has been filed in the superior court by G. B. Dimick on behalf of Martin J. Olson. In the application Amanda A. Reasoner, trustee; Elmer E. Gleason, trustee; W. A. Dimick, administrator of the estate of John R. Dimick; Martha A. Runge and H. Runge are named as parties in the action. The action is designed to clear title to the area involved, this method being one of several by which legal action on the matter may be secured.

DEAD WOMAN IDENTIFIED
Inquiry on the part of the police has brought to light that the woman known as "Mrs. Susie Mack," who died in furnished rooms at 612 Main street last week, and who was buried at county expense, was known in Portland as Mrs. D. E. Mack. Lewis Smith, who formerly lived at 198 West Park street, says that the woman was also known as Gracie Stella Conway. Smith, who was at one time a Portland policeman, and who later was a guard at Kelley Butte, now lives with his son at Salem.

Leather Men in Session.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 21.—The National Leather and Shoe Finders' association began its annual convention in this city today with an attendance that includes many prominent representatives of the trade throughout the country. A feature of the meeting will be a banquet at the Bellevue-Stratford Thursday night.

Coming Out Into the Open
It was not so many years ago that advertising was considered unethical from a business standpoint. Many of the finest old houses held aloof, saying that they didn't have to advertise. Even today there are some business and professional men so bound by custom and tradition that they have not yet availed themselves of the advantages of advertising.

By so much as these customs still hold, by just so much is the public deprived of knowing all about those professions and businesses.

The most successful way and the only honest way to deal with the public is to "play the game out in the open."

If there are true and interesting reasons why the public should buy something from So & So, then So & So should be glad of a chance to say so over and over again through the medium of reliable newspapers.

TO SAVE COUNTRY CHURCH
MANHATTAN, Kas., July 21.—Many rural pastors, educators and others assembled at the State Agricultural College here today to discuss the important problem of the country church and its future. It is declared there are upwards of 1,000 country churches in Kansas abandoned and deserted because of lack of interest in church work. The problem is one that is common to all of the middle Western states.

The automobile is declared to be chiefly responsible for the decline of worship in town, where he will hear a pipe organ and a better choir, and where the pews are a little more comfortable.

Idle Week for Fighters
NEW YORK, July 21.—The dulllest week the fight game has seen in years is in prospect. From one end of the country to the other there is not a fight of any consequence carded for the ensuing seven days.

AUTO SMASHED ON RIVER ROAD

BIG TOURING CAR SAVED FROM WATER BY HITTING TELEGRAPH POLE

OCCUPANTS ESCAPE SERIOUS HURT

Delivery Wagon Struck by Interurban Car Near Same Place Later in Evening and Driver Thrown

A seven-passenger automobile, carrying three men and two women, came to grief at Island station, half a mile south of Milwaukie, Monday night about nine o'clock, and wrapped itself around a telegraph pole by the side of the road. The telegraph pole was all that saved the car from going into the sloughs, and the occupants from getting wet and possibly getting drowned.

The car was going north, and came down the sharp hill of the river road at a good speed. Just before crossing the tracks of the interurban line it slipped sharply from the road crashing into a telegraph pole and stayed there. The occupants were considerably jarred up, but were not hurt seriously, and made their way to a Milwaukie hotel, from whence they telephoned to Portland for another car. They refused to give their names, or to explain the accident.

Some time later an interurban car struck a delivery wagon near the same place, smashing the vehicle and throwing the driver out. The man was not seriously injured.

The road at this point crosses the interurban tracks at a sharp angle, and is overshadowed by the trestle of the Oswego cut-off of the Southern Pacific, and is therefore a difficult bit of highway to negotiate. A sharp hill leads down to it both from the north and south, and at either side is a slough. Many accidents have occurred at this point.

WILSON DIDN'T, SAYS TUMULTY

WASHINGTON, July 21.—So delicate is the Mexican situation considered in official circles that the White House issued the following statement tonight to clear up misrepresentations:

"On his attention being called to the following statements appearing in certain afternoon newspapers (1) that the president had stated that he would not recognize the Huerta administration and that it would not last a year; (2) that the president had stated that this country would establish a protectorate over all Central American countries to guard the Panama Canal. Secretary Tumulty stated that there was absolutely no foundation in truth for either of the above statements and emphatically denied that the president had expressed any opinion today or at any other time regarding the Huerta administration or its stability or stated any intention as to its recognition."

Texas Lawmakers in Session
AUSTIN, Texas, July 21.—The Texas legislature convened in extra session today to take up a number of matters that were left over from the regular session. Gov. Colquitt has submitted three subjects for the consideration of the lawmakers. One is the making of the biennial appropriations for the maintenance of the state government; another, the enactment of a law putting into effect the amendment to the federal constitution providing for the election of United States senator by direct vote of the people, and the third the passage of an amendment to the law governing the operations of the state penitentiary system.

Leather Men in Session.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 21.—The National Leather and Shoe Finders' association began its annual convention in this city today with an attendance that includes many prominent representatives of the trade throughout the country. A feature of the meeting will be a banquet at the Bellevue-Stratford Thursday night.

"ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY" JUDGE DIMICK'S BATTLE-CRY

GRANT B. DIMICK Who announces himself Republican candidate for governor

STRANGERS RESCUE OSWEGO SWIMMER

Trying to keep cool nearly proved fatal for Frank Estala, of Oswego Sunday. He went swimming in Oswego Lake, was taken with cramps, and sank from sight in full view of some friends of his who stood on shore, but panic-stricken to move, Marcus Cohn, of Portland, and Charles Williams, of Oswego, happened on the scene at that stage of the game, and seeing what the trouble was, set about a rescue.

Williams plunged in to the water, and after some slight search recovered the drowning man and brought him to the surface, holding him aloft until Cohn arrived to assist. The two men then brought the third ashore, and after an hour's work restored him to consciousness.

Throughout the entire time Estala's friends made no effort to assist in the rescue work in any way, and after they saw life beginning to return to his form, quietly went away.

Estala is employed as a gardener at an Oswego convent, and is about 30 years of age.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO SEE TEST WELLS

Pumps at the test wells on the Englebrecht property, to the north of the city limits, will be in operation Tuesday from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., and in the evening from 6 to 8 p. m. Citizens interested in the efforts of the council's special water committee to obtain a pure source of supply for the city are urged to be present and make observations of the wells and the surrounding area.

While the pumps are in action water will be taken and bottled for bacteriological tests. Chairman Tooz, of the council committee, will be on the ground, and will be pleased to talk with citizens about the investigations being made.

It has been planned shortly to have members of the state board of health look over the Englebrecht wells, and pass upon them. Any report that the state board may make will be forwarded to the council, and read at a public meeting.

WALNUT RECORD IS ESTABLISHED

What is believed to be a horticultural record has been established by D. McArthur, of New Era, who reports to Secretary Freytag of the Commercial club that he has some seedling walnut trees, seven years old, that are bearing clusters of four, five and six nuts. The average cluster of walnuts seldom exceeds 2, and seedlings hardly ever bear until they have attained an age of 20 years.

Mr. McArthur promises to send some of the clusters from his trees to the Commercial club, and they will be placed on exhibition as a further example of the fertility of Clackamas county soil. The trees are of the Franquette variety, and have grown rapidly. The nuts that they are now bearing seem to be normal in every way, are of good size, and are developing excellently.

Other growers of walnuts in the county are watching the development of Mr. McArthur's trees with interest, and are trying to learn if there is any special soil formation on his ranch that is conducive to early bearing. Mr. McArthur says that he has taken no extra care of his seedlings, nor did he select the stock with unusual care.

ANTI-ALIEN BILL NOT COMBATED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The Webb anti-alien land law passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Johnson more than two months ago, will become effective August 1, without interference from the electorate of the state through the medium of the referendum. Time for filing referendum petitions against laws passed at the last session expired today, and the voters of the state are against the Webb act that have filed the political atmosphere since May.

At one time two separate movements to defeat the act were being planned, one by the democrats, headed by Theodore A. Bell, ex-candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, and one by the Asiatic Exclusion League, which is affiliated with the State Federation of Labor. The Bell petitions were never prepared, but the Exclusion League was on the point of beginning its campaign when the executive committee rescinded its earlier action and voted to take no steps to prevent the bill's becoming law.

OMAHA, Neb., July 21.—Play in the fourth annual tournament for the clay court tennis championship of the United States began today on the courts of the Omaha Field Club.

Before a gathering of some 2,500 members of the Clackamas County Verein, Grant B. Dimick, of Oregon City, Sunday announced himself as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of the state at the forthcoming election. Mr. Dimick will run upon a platform of general economy, centralization of power now widely scattered in various state commissions, and will oppose single tax. At the last gubernatorial primary Mr. Dimick was a candidate for the nomination, and secured next to the largest number of votes cast. Previous to that he had been elected mayor of Oregon City for five terms, was a presidential elector, casting a vote for Roosevelt in 1904, and in 1900 was elected county judge of Clackamas county.

In his speech at Mackburg, delivered in the afternoon as part of the program of the all-day picnic of the Verein, Judge Dimick, while not definitely stating his platform, spoke upon a variety of subjects of interest to the state, and his auditors took this address as a declaration of his principles. He commended the German people of the county upon their progress, and their persistence in their work of betterment, in spite of the obstacles placed in their way in clearing timber land through high taxation.

This burden of taxation, which all farmers are feeling alike, Judge Dimick laid to the credit of the legislature in creating commissions to handle the various affairs of the community, and to excessive appropriations. The mandatory school tax to raise a sum of $8 per capita for each child of school age also came in for a scolding. Judge Dimick declaring that if the original school lands set apart for the irreducible school fund had been properly guarded and sold for their actual value, there would be from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 in the irreducible state school fund today, instead of the insignificant sum now in that fund, which only returns less than $2 for each child of school age in this state.

Speaking of the multifold commissions to which the business of the state is entrusted, Judge Dimick argued for a city board to handle many of these departments—much as the newly created "department of agriculture" in the commonwealth of Washington has taken the place of 19 former state commissions. Such a board, in the opinion of the speaker, should consist of the governor, the secretary of state, the state treasurer, who would be able to transact all the business now done by these commissions. This would do away with the excessive costs of the many commissions and their staffs, and would materialize a reduction of the annual sum to be raised by taxation.

Enthusiasm for Judge Dimick was high at the meeting, and the speaker was loudly applauded at the close of his address. His announcement of becoming a candidate for governor seemed to make a profound approval and many of those present pressed forward to offer him congratulations and pledges of personal support.

PARCEL POST RULE CHANGED BY ORDER

Postmaster Thomas Randall has notified patrons of the Oregon City post office that by a ruling of the postal authorities parcel post stamps hereafter will be received as letter postage, and that ordinary stamps may be used on parcels sent on the new mail service. In making this change the postal department is desirous of doing away with the confusion of the special issue of parcel post stamps, and when the present supply of these stamps are exhausted, no more will be printed.

The change will also conform to practice in international mail service, which provides that stamps of different denominations must be of different colors. As all the parcel post stamps were of one color, they could not be used on packages sent on the United States, in such cases ordinary stamps being used. The abolition of these special stamps will do away with much confusion, both in domestic and foreign service.

NEW JERSEY VOTE TO BE BAROMETER

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 21.—The campaign in the sixth congressional district of New Jersey closed today, preparatory to tomorrow's election of a successor to the late Representative Lewis J. Martin. The contest is attracting wide attention from the fact that it is regarded as the first real test of public sentiment on the Democratic administration and the tariff measure since President Wilson took office, and the Democrats came into control of both houses of congress last March.

Normally the district is strongly Democratic. The late Representative Martin, Democrat, was elected last November by a popularity of nearly 7,000 votes over his Republican and Progressive opponents. He received 15,216 votes, which was almost equal to the votes cast for both of the other candidates.

The candidates who will be voted for tomorrow are: Archibald C. Hart, Democrat; Steven W. McClary, Republican; Herbert N. Bally, Progressive; and Henry M. Duff, Prohibitionist.

BILOXI, Miss., July 21.—The annual encampment of the Mississippi national guard was opened here today, with Adjutant General Fridge in charge.

COUNTING OUT BIGGEST BREACH OF PROMISE BALM

Copyright by International News Service; supplied by New Process Electro Corporation, N. Y.)

Rarely are photographers allowed within the sacred portals of the Bank of England. The accompanying photograph, however, shows a clerk at work in the famous banking institution counting out in gold the $250,000 which Miss Daisy Markham, the English actress, recovered from the youthful, but flighty, Marquis of Northampton. A quarter of a million dollars is said to be the largest sum ever paid in England in settlement of a suit for breach of promise to marry.