A QUESTION OF LEGALITY

Eighteen assorted delegates from a handful of precincts met in Oregon City Monday as a "steering committee" to nominate candidates for the recall election which may, or may not, be called in this county. Those backing the attempt to drag down from office County Judge Beattie and County Commissioner Blair have gotten together a few men, not united in any way in the campaign before them and have seen to it that they nominated a man for county judge who is practically unknown in this district; and a man for county commissioner, who, when he ran once before for the office, some five years ago, could not muster enough votes to get the place at the hands of the people. That this man should be nominated by the disgruntled ones is not particularly surprising, as from the first peep of this recall fiasco it has been common gossip that he was in the movement solely because he believed his vanity would be tickled by the nomination. As to his running mate on the (fortiori) hope ticket, perhaps it is sufficient to say that the recall boosters desired to have him nominated because he is believed to have some few simoleons that he will put at the disposal of those who will conduct the campaign.

HOW TIMES

Fifty-six years ago today DO CHANGE day the first cable news from the Old World was received by the St. Johns route. Today there are half a dozen cables stretching under the Atlantic, and wireless communication over sea has been accomplished. But it is not of such wonders that the world today thinks, it is of the refinement of sending cable news. In 1857 cable news was really cable news and was laboriously pounded out at great expense by operators on either side of the ocean. What is called cable news today is a far more wonderful thing. Recent investigations show that a certain New York daily, which is famed for its "cable news," received exactly 13 words of bona fide cable in one year, and that the balance of the information still warm from Europe came by what is known as the Right and Left Hands.

As regards the moral significance of the right and left hands, a highland friend who is something of a Gaelic scholar gives me the interesting information that in Gaelic the right and left hands become respectively the "south" and the "north" hand. The moral aspect of it comes out in the Gaelic idea of the south as rich, well favored and fortunate and the north as the reverse. In the "south" hand are carried riches and honor. The north handed man is unlucky. And now we know why it is so many Scotsmen go southward!—London Chronicle.

Such are the wonders of modern times.

The cable is used only in case of emergency as a medium of shipping from one side of the world to the other items of news. When earthquake or sudden death occurs, then the cable earns its salt—the rest of the time it is only a safeguard utilized to prevent the publication of "grapevine" in regard to scheduled events that have been postponed at the last minute. Newspaper history is still ripe with stories of "cable" news that actually beat out the happenings themselves—such as the announcement in New York, through a lucky thump of the death of Queen Victoria actually seven minutes before it had occurred. When the error was corrected late majesty had already died, so the correction was not needed.

People talk of the wonders of the submarine cable.

It is truly wonderful. But it is not half as wonderful as the transmission of thought which is practiced in most "cable news offices," whereby the happenings of a whole year may be recounted at the total expenditure of 13 words of real cable news. That is an achievement that puts the actual cable far in the rear as one of the seven marvels of the world—in fact it is nothing short of a miracle.

"THIS IS MY 5TH BIRTHDAY"

Infante Don Jaime, second son of the King and Queen of Spain, was born at La Granja Palace, near Madrid, July 22, 1908. From his birth the little prince has been deaf and dumb. For a long time no one outside the palace knew of the child's infirmity, and there it was scarcely mentioned except in whispers. The late premier Senor Canalejas, announced two years ago that the little prince had a form of tuberculosis which prevented him from hearing or talking. Spanish specialists advised him to undergo the care of Valencian nuns, whose mission in life is to educate the deaf and dumb. According to report he is making gratifying progress in his studies.

Congratulations to:

Bishop John C. Kilgo of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, 52 years old today.
Joseph L. Bristow, United States senator from Kansas, 52 years old today.
Adolphus Frederick the reigning grand duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, 65 years old today.
Duke of Somerset, who is president of the English Olympic Games Association, 67 years old today.
