PASTORS BALK ABOUT CIRCUS

LOCAL MINISTERS WANT SHERIFF TO STOP COMING PERFORMANCE SUNDAY

MATTER UP FOR LEGAL OPINION

Deputy District Attorney Stipp Now Wrestling With Law, and Will Give Interpretation in Near Future

Is a circus a "place for amusement" and if it is does it come under the provisions of section 2125 of Lord's Oregon Laws, which prohibits "any store, shop, grocery, bowling alley, billiard room or tipping house" being open "for purposes of labor or traffic" on Sunday, and which also prohibits any "place of amusement" being open on Sunday. The only exceptions are "that this does not apply to theaters, keepers of drug stores, doctor shops, undertakers, livery stable keepers, butchers and bakers."

The question is now puzzling Sheriff E. T. Mass and Deputy District Attorney Livy Stipp, who have and the matter has attracted attention by the Rev. Drs. Ford, Milliken and Landsborough, all of this city, who Saturday called upon the sheriff and informed him that a circus was billed to show just to the north of the city limits on a coming Sunday in the near future, and upon him to stop it. Sheriff Mass replied to the ministers that he would put the matter up to Deputy District Attorney Stipp, and would abide by his opinion.

The circus is dated up to show on the marshlands north of the city, near the spot that the special pure water committee of the council has had two test wells sunk in search of a supply of drinking water. The ministers object to the circus offering its attractions upon the Lord's Day, and think that Sheriff Mass ought to stop it. Sheriff Mass replied to the ministers that he would put the matter up to Deputy District Attorney Stipp, and would abide by his opinion.

Other attorneys, well versed in the law, and whose opinion has often been asked by public officers, say that they presume that a strict interpretation of the law will bar circus performances on Sunday. They add that as theatres are the only exceptions set forth, the law could probably also be invoked against The Oaks, an amusement resort near Portland, which does its greatest business on Sunday. However, as to the right of the sheriff to prevent such a performance, they differ widely.

One attorney, when discussing the matter, gave the following opinion: "As I understand it," he said, "the sheriff can make an arrest if he sees a crime committed. I doubt, however, whether he can, in an official capacity, warn a circus not to perform on Sunday, any more than he would be acting within his powers if he was to go out and warn a burglar not to break in, and steal. If the sheriff has authority to believe that a circus performance on Sunday is a violation of the law, and if he is present when the violation is committed, he can arrest those who violate the law. But as to stopping a circus from performing, I do not think he can do it except by arresting the performers as they attempt to go through with their various acts."

REGISTRATION IS VERY HEAVY

SUPPORTERS OF COUNTY COURT DESIRE TO EXPRESS CONFIDENCE AT POLLS

RECALLERS EXCITED BY ODD RUMORS

Report That Chief Candidate is Going to Quit Fight Stirs Leaders of Movement — Women Show Interest

So great is the rush of citizens to register for the forthcoming election, to be held on August 16, that County Clerk Mulvey's office is swamped, and in spite of the services of an extra deputy, the clerical force is having difficulty in keeping up with the press of business. It is apparent from the rush of people to get their names enrolled upon the voters' poll that there is a general desire to express an opinion as to whether or not guilty of the charges preferred against them by Ed Oids, W. H. Hagemann, M. J. Brown, and other leaders in the recall movement.

Many of those who register declare that they are doing so in order to vote for the retention in office of the officials against whom the recall is aimed. While there may be some who are intending to vote for H. S. Anderson and J. W. Smith, the candidates put forth by the recallers, they are not making their intentions known when they register. That the vote will be decisive, however, is indicated by the very general interest shown in the coming balloting.

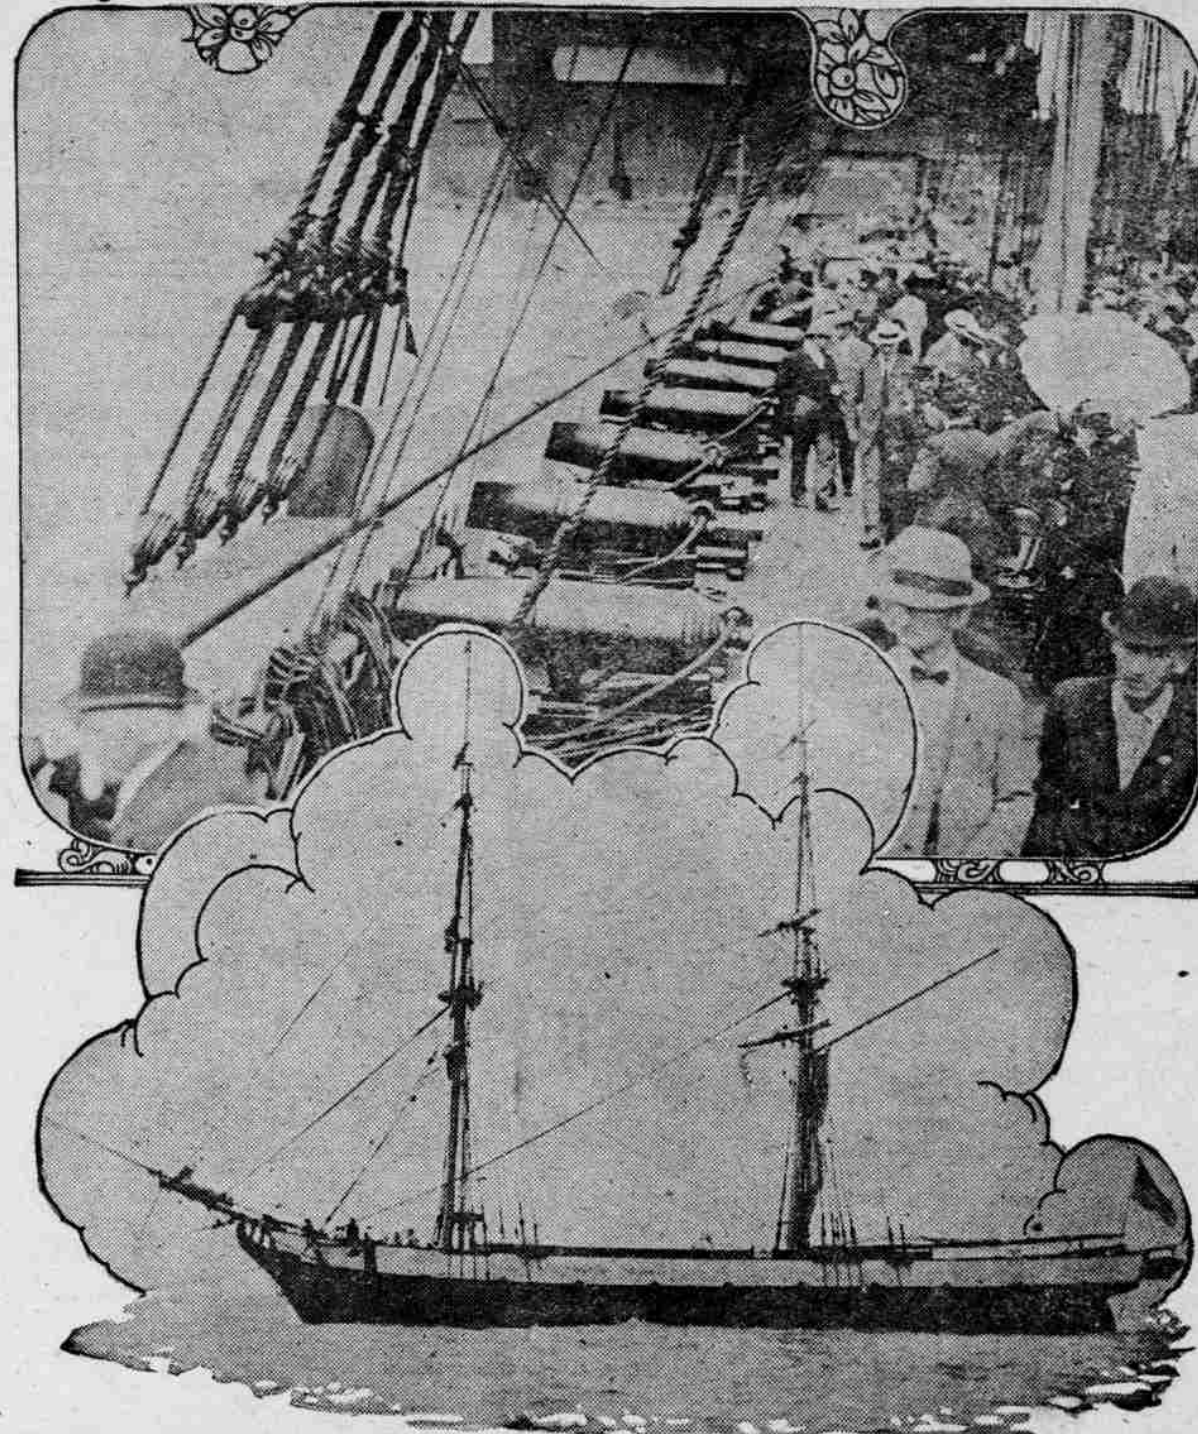

A very large proportion of those registering are women, the "new citizens" evidently being eager to exercise their right of suffrage, and to go to the polls and vote as their convictions dictate. The fact that many women's clubs have invited Judge Beattie to speak before them and to reply to the charges made against the county court demonstrates that the women of the county are deeply interested in the movement. Practically everywhere the judge has appeared he has been greeted with hearty applause when his remarks were ended, and this is taken as an indication that the women generally have not been much impressed by the charges preferred.

Leaders of the recall movement were busy as bees in a broken hive Saturday, following the extensive circulation on the streets of the report that H. S. Anderson, recall candidate for county judge, was going to be pulled out of the race by his employers. Every effort was made by the leaders of the movement to run down the report and ascertain whether or not it was authentic. Saturday night the secretary of the concern for which Mr. Anderson is sales agent said to The Enterprise that he had no interest whatever in the political fight, and that as far as the company was concerned, it made no difference to them whether Anderson went into politics or not. Anderson is employed by the Clear Creek Creamery company.

The general interest in the recall, and the large registration that is being made, show that people in general are aware of the brief time yet remaining for this work, and that they are taking the advice of not delaying in the matter. All those who have not registered should remember that the books close at five in the evening on August 1, and that the time to register is NOW.

Guns of Perry's Remodeled Niagara, Visitors On Board and General View of the Famous Ship.

Raised from a watery grave after almost a century and restored to the nearest possible semblance of her pristine self, the historic brig Niagara, refuge of Commander Oliver Hazard Perry at the battle of Lake Erie Sept. 10, 1813, is sailing the waters of her youth, a veritable ghost of the seas. She is the big attraction of the Perry centennial. It was to the Niagara that Perry fled when his shot battered flagship, the Lawrence, was sinking at a critical moment in the memorable conflict with the British which resulted in an American victory when defeat seemed certain. Man's ingenuity has achieved a wonderful triumph in remodeling the distinguished centenarian, whose visitors at the various lake ports to which she is being towed marvel at the reproduction, faithful to minute details. Even the old guns are again in place.

THOMAS, HIMSELF, VISITS OUR CITY

Tom Kay, himself, otherwise known to fame as a special investigator and state policeman serving directly under the orders of Gov. Oswald West, honored Oregon City with a visit Saturday, and spent much of the time walking about the streets in earnest conversation with a local pastor. Just what was worrying Thomas did not develop, but it was rumored that he was hearing a report of moral conditions and exchanging confidences along the same line.

In the course of his visit Thomas asked Justice Sievers to set a date for the arraignment of Almonde Salence and Jeanie duPain, two women arrested with four alleged parsons in the recent raid at Milwaukie. The women were released from jail the night of the raid upon $50 bail each, and have not since been seen by Thomas and Portland officers, who are industriously looking for them. Thomas confided to Justice Sievers that he didn't expect them to appear for trial, but thought that their bail could be forfeited. Justice Sievers has set Tuesday at two in the afternoon as the time for their hearing.

The women, if they appear, will be charged with a form of vagrancy, Tom swearing to the complaint Saturday.

STAR-GAZING PARTIES POPULAR HEREABOUTS

Interest in astronomy has developed at a remarkable rate in this section recently, perhaps due to the early appearance this year of the vanguard of the August meteoric shower. Almost any night these days parties gather for the observation of the skies, and in many instances prizes are offered for those who see the greatest number of celestial fireworks. Aside from the more formal gatherings called to study the stellar marvels, there are also the usual number of summer "star-gazers" who follow the ancient custom of keeping count of the meteorites by osculatory joys.

VICTIM OF TRAGIC MOVE MAY DIE

Inspector Hit in Back While Fleeing From Guard That is Leading Him to Usual Place of Execution

EL PASO, Tex., July 26.—Charles B. Dixon, of San Diego, United States Immigration Inspector, was shot in the back by Mexican federal soldiers at Juarez today. The soldiers are said to have invoked the notorious "ley fuga," or fugitive law. Dixon was seriously wounded and is likely to die.

Dixon was in Juarez on official business, investigating a white slave case, when he was arrested by a band of federal soldiers, who started to march him away from the city in the direction of the foothills, where many executions have taken place. Dixon started to run, and, after a block away, was fired on.

Dixon made a statement to American officials that he was satisfied the Mexicans were marching him out to shoot him when he ran. Portland 8, Sacramento 2, Venice 6, Oakland 3, Los Angeles 7, San Francisco 0.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

ACCIDENT UPON SUSPENSION BRIDGE KNOCKS YOUTH UNCONSCIOUS

LAD'S TEMPLE IS CUT BY FENDER

Gerald Warner, Driving Car, Has Second Disaster of Similar Nature, Having Hit Man in Portland

An automobile, said by the driver to have been going at about ten miles an hour, an alleged by spectators to have been traveling at anywhere from eight to 20 miles an hour, struck the young son of Paul Schrader Saturday afternoon as the lad was crossing the suspension bridge, and knocked him unconscious against the railing of the span. The car was in charge of Gerald Warner, and riding with him was Miss Isabel Wallace.

The car was going west over the suspension bridge, and when about two-thirds of the way across, struck the boy, who had attempted to cross the driveway in front of it. The lad was knocked down, his temple slightly abraded by the fender, and his body hurled against the railing, where he lay unconscious. Warner stopped within a few feet and hastened with the youngster to the office of Dr. Mount, where the boy revived. His wound was dressed, and an examination showed that he had sustained no serious injuries.

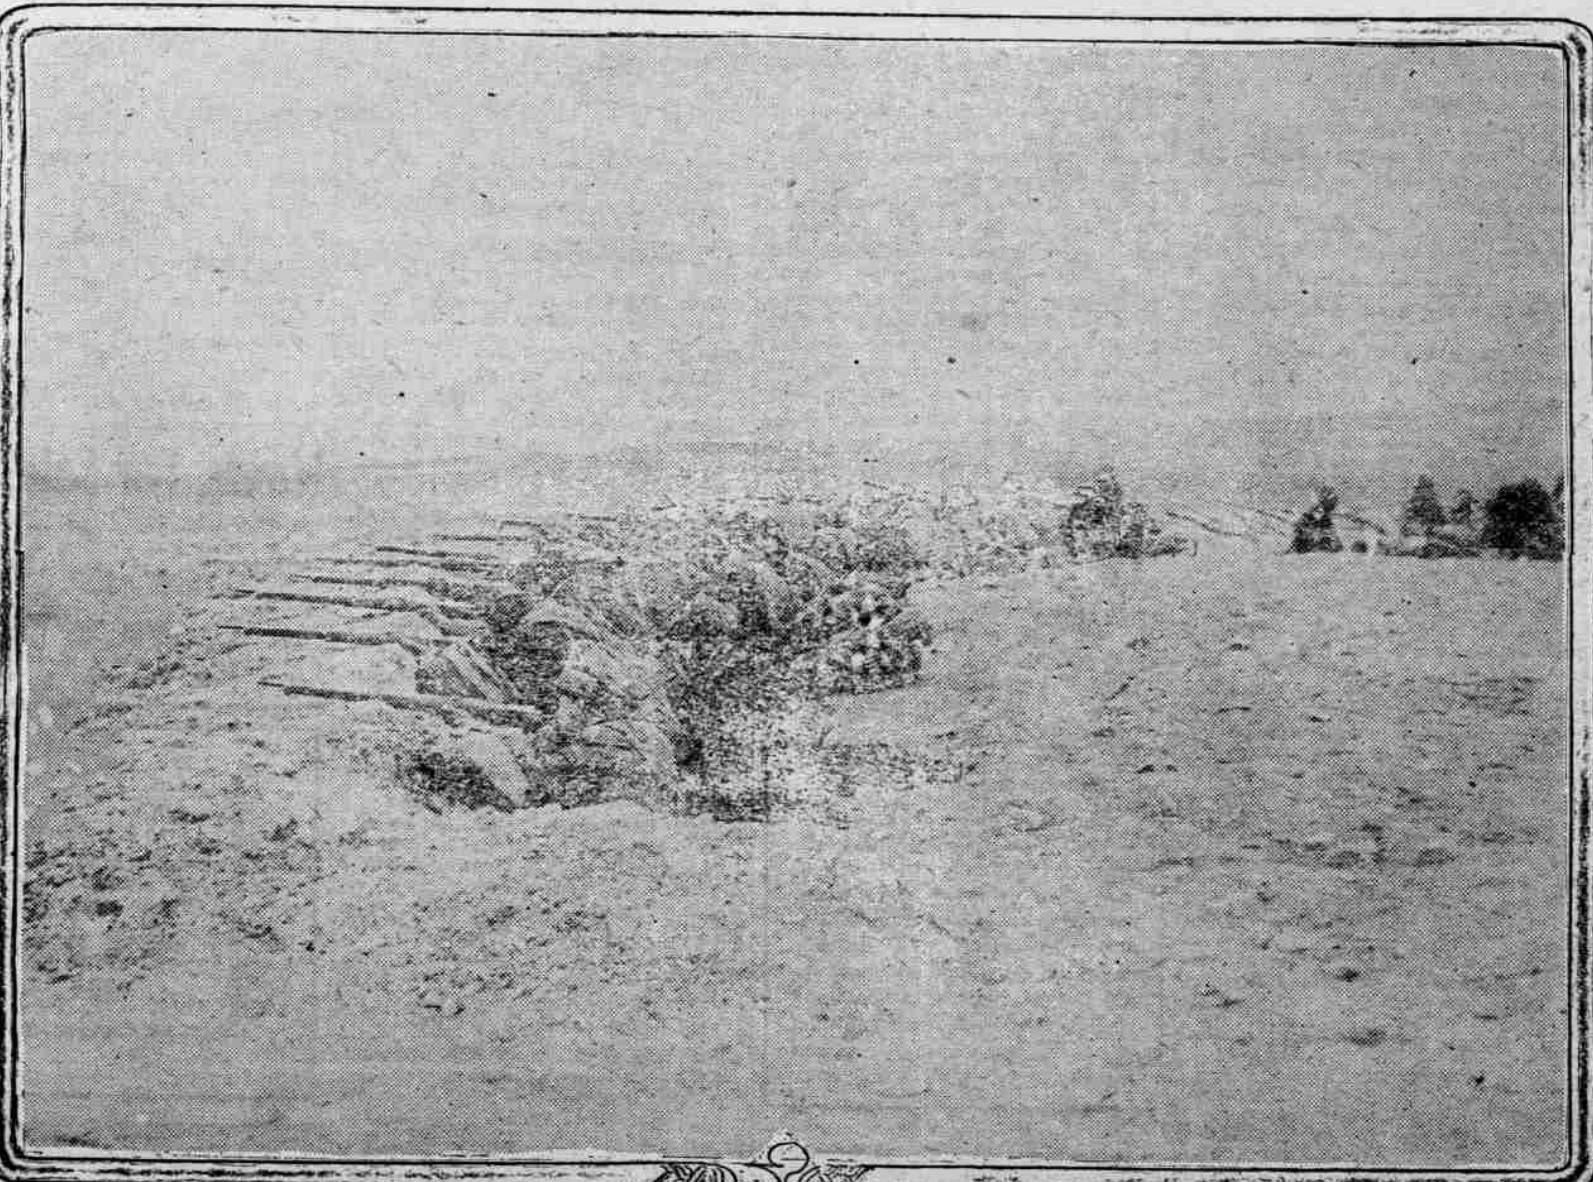

Chief of Police Shaw was notified of the accident, and secured the names of several witnesses, and later went to Dr. Mount's office, where he talked with the injured boy and the driver of the car, getting a thorough report of the accident. The boy was sent to his home later in the afternoon, the accident occurring about two o'clock.

This is the second time Warner, who is a young man, has run down a pedestrian while driving an automobile. The other accident was in Portland, where he struck and slightly injured a man who was crossing one of the streets. People who are familiar with Warner say that he is inclined to enjoy speeding, and he is not regarded as a particularly cautious driver.

WARFARE IN TURKISH TRENCHES

(Copyright by International News Service)

According to vague reports the Bulgarians, who only had a small defending force. This picture, taken during the Bulgarian march on Adrianople, shows one of the many trenches that the Turks remained in for many days, and were almost starved out before the combined allied dash, while defending the now recaptured city.
