THE LATEST FASHION NOTE

Says: "It is a wise precaution against getting holes in delicate hosiery to powder the shoes before putting them on." Many people apply the famous antiseptic powder, Allen's Foot-Powder, into the shoes, and find that it saves its cost ten times over in keeping holes from hosiery as well as lessening friction and consequent chafing and aching of the feet.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY SPIRITUALISTS

Annual election of officers of the Spiritualists' association, which has been holding camp-meeting at New Era, was held there Saturday the following being chosen for the several positions:

President, Mr. Ruesow, of Portland; vice-president, Mr. Wood, of Portland; secretary, Mrs. L. L. Irwin; Barlow; treasurer, John Burgoyne, of New Era.

Thursday the ladies' aid of the association selected the following officers: Mrs. M. A. Cogdon, Portland, president; Mrs. Kirbyson, Oregon City, vice-president; Mrs. L. L. Irwin, Barlow, secretary; Mrs. Collins, Portland, treasurer.

The present camp-meeting has been one of the most successful ever held at New Era by the organization. The formal exercises were completed Sunday, but many of these attending will remain on the grounds for some time longer.

Revenue Cutters Celebrate

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—Abroad all craft in the revenue cutter section have been ordered to the north side of the Maine coast, the officers and crews today formally celebrate the 123rd anniversary of the establishment of the service. The character of the celebration is substantially the same on all vessels.

As rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the system, the only sensible, rational treatment is one that removes this poison. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea does. That's why it cures for good. Jones Drug Co.

REMODEL COMFORT STATION

To better conditions at the city comfort station, under the suspension bridge, Chief of Police Ed Shaw is having a number of radical alterations made. The entrance to the women's section has been moved to the north side of the span, so as to more readily of access, and the men's entrance has been shifted to the south side. The interior fittings are being completely overhauled, new plumbing is being installed, and when the work is completed the place will be plated and sanded; the latter move being taken to discourage disfigurement of the walls. The remodeling will not be completed until the latter part of the week.

H. E. KLOCK ARRESTED

Constable Jack Frost on Monday arrested Harper E. Klock, of Boring, upon a warrant charging non-support. The complaint was sworn to by Mrs. Klock, who declares that her husband spends altogether too much time and money in the county seat. When apprehended Klock was enjoying life in Oregon City.

TEN-FOOT CORN STALKS ARE ADDED TO DISPLAY

The race to see who can show the tallest corn in Clackamas county seems now to be on in earnest. Following the announcement that a Oregon City man had corn that was 11 feet high and still growing, Alex McRae of Clackamas Heights, Monday brought to the exhibit rooms of the Commercial club a couple of stalks that are 10 feet three inches tall, and which are well supplied with ears. Mr. McRae did not wish to discredit the 11-foot corn story, but said that he wanted his corn to go on record as the tallest yet turned in to the Commercial club.

CHIC AND CHARMING.

Delightful Confection In Black and White.

FRENCH MODEL OF CHIFFON AND SATIN

Black and white were never more popular in the costume world than they are this summer. And the slouchy fashionable silhouette of the pictured black and white gown is beautifully preserved.

The materials used are satin—in black for the slit underskirt and bloused bodice and white chiffon for the crossed over skirt and the tulle. The Balkan sash is of black chiffon with ends of white satin and ornaments of braid in both tones.

SONG TO MISS WILSON.

Miss Nevin, Aunt of Mr. Sayre, Writes Verses to Prospective Bride.

Miss Blanche Nevin, the sculptor, has composed a song of welcome to Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of the president, who is to become the bride of Miss Nevin's nephew, Francis Boves Sayre, which was recently given out for publication. It is as follows:

Fling the door open; swing the gate wide. Welcome the entering feet of the bride. Eager the groom to greet the bride, Holding his arms and his outstretched hands. Blessed are you who true love win. Jessie, come in, come in!

In heat of summer, in winter's cold, This roof shall shelter young or old. Blue with the luminous hue of the skies, Palm to palm and side by side Into the house of your true love's kin, Jessie, come in, come in!

Sweet pink clover bloom over the grass. Welcome the lover here with his lass. Pride of the golden hair and eyes Blue with the luminous hue of the skies. Blessed are you who true love win. Jessie, come in, come in!

It was at Miss Nevin's home that Miss Jessie Wilson met Mr. Sayre, and following a recent visit there of the pair the engagement was announced.

Thought It Tame.

Father (who had taken daughter to the play)—I'm sorry I brought you now, Mabel. This is hardly a play for the young person. Daughter—Oh, I don't mind it, dad. It'll probably liven up a bit before the end.—Judge.

I. C. S. An Ethical Power

Now, gentlemen, just for a moment, I would speak to you, not as an educationalist, but as a preacher of manhood and a lover of his kind. The question of the use of alcohol by the student when studying, has carried me back to the thought. The International Correspondence Schools are not simply educational, they are ethical; they not only make foremen and craftsmen and draftsmen, but they make MEN—in capital letters. For you can never awaken any one to his commercial possibilities without stirring up all other possibilities—social, patriotic, philanthropic, intellectual, moral. The moment you succeed breaking up one area of inertia you set vibration moving through every part of the being and all kinds of dormant and stagnant powers are set into healthy motion. When a man's mind gets engrossed with an intellectual occupation and he finds that he has a grip upon the laws and forces of the universe, the saloon, the vulgar and degrading show, the curb-stone loafing, and the hours of insane and ribald waste all seem to be unworthy of him and his self-respect clothes him in a protective armor which helps to keep his entire manhood inviolate. A great American preacher used to speak much about "the expulsive power of a new affection," and, having as your life work the duty of both supplying and developing this "new affection"—the love of the best, by which the unworthy and base will be expelled, perhaps unconsciously but surely, from many and many a man. Success to you in your work!

The Trained Man Never Worries

When the chiefs put their heads together to hire or "fire"—the trained man doesn't worry. He knows that there is always a place for him.

You can look your job and every man in the face if you possess the training so much in demand everywhere today. The International Correspondence Schools will go to you in your spare time, wherever you live, and will train you to become an expert in your chosen line of work. Such a training will forever take you off the "anxious" seat.

It costs you nothing to find how the I. C. S. can help you. Mark the coupon opposite the occupation for which you have a natural liking, mail the coupon today, and the I. C. S. will send you facts showing how you can earn more money in the occupation of your own choice.

OSTENTATIOUS CHARITY.

In truth, there are few of those coarse and open hypocrites which publish on the housetops the merit of their holy deeds. The pride is more adroit and never immediately unmasked.

Charity, my brethren, is that sweet odor of Jesus, Christ which evaporates and is lost the moment it is uncovered. It does not cause to abstain from the public duties of benevolence. We owe to our brethren edification and example. It is a good thing for men to see our works, but we should not see them ourselves, and our left hand ought not to know the gifts our right distributes. The achievements even which duty renders the most brilliant ought always to be secret in the preparations of the heart. We ought to entertain a kind of jealousy for them against others' gaze and not think their innocence sure, but when they are under the eyes of God alone.—Massillon.

Tennis Championships.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 4.—Some of the foremost tennis experts of the country are entered in the annual tournament for the championship of the Northwest which opened today on the courts of the Minnetonka Yacht club at Deephaven. The tournament will continue through the week and will embrace play for the titles in men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles and mixed doubles.

EAGLES FLOCK TO BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 4.—Two thousand delegates and many times that number of visitors are in Baltimore for the annual convention of the Grand Aerie, fraternal Order of Eagles. The city is profusely decorated in honor of the visitors, who come from all parts of the United States and Canada. The business sessions will continue through the greater part of the week and will be interspersed with a great street parade, a Mardi Gras pageant, an excursion down Chesapeake Bay and a variety of other entertainment.

Virginia State Primaries

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 4.—Following a rather dull campaign in which the only interest has centered in the contests between the candidates for lieutenant governor and attorney-general, Democrats of Virginia will go to the polls tomorrow to express their preferences for state and county officers to be voted for at the fall election. Henry C. Stuart, of Russell county, will be nominated for governor without opposition.

REMOVAL OF MUTINOUS SING SING CONVICTS TO AUBURN, NEW YORK

(Copyright by International News Service).

Terrible as it may seem political strife in New York state has affected the administration of affairs in the state prison to such an extent that through outside influences the convicts were worked up to express their disapproval of administration changes by open rebellion which has resulted in the mutinous prisoners being removed to Auburn Prison, a fate almost as terrible as being sent to Siberia.

In this line were men convicted and sentenced for crimes unspeakable, yet they felt the felon's shame, and as shown in the photograph, tried desperately to hide their faces from the camera. Not even a convict need be devoid of finer feeling. These men were not. Perhaps some of them had friends in the great outside world who did not know of their degradation. Possibly some of them sought to protect their families from still further shame—the shame of having their convict faces and gray garbed forms flaunted before the world.

POTATOES BEGIN TO MOVE UPWARD

The potato market is still a sad sort of an affair, though with a $1.25 quotation there is some effort being made by dealers to look hopeful after the heavy slump earlier in the summer. No effort is being made to speculate upon the potato market at this time. Local stock is not sufficiently matured as yet to take care of any of the Alaska demand, and practically all of the orders are being filled from San Francisco at this time.

All doubt as to the smaller output of early potatoes at Pacific northwest points has vanished. The late planting will be somewhat above the average, but of course not up to the production of a year ago either as to extent of acreage or average yield.

Butter is said to be slated for another rise, though how much of a rise is not stated. The same excuse as for the last advance is being given in connection with the forecast—that cream is in demand for other purposes, mainly for ice cream.

Cantaloupes, after appearing to be getting reasonable in price, have jumped up 25 cents a crate again. This is believed to forecast the approach of the end of their season.
