KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS OPEN NATIONAL MEET

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 5.—Preceded by a pontifical high mass celebrated in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, the annual national convention of the Knights of Columbus was opened here today. Hundreds of delegates and visitors from all parts of the United States and Canada were in attendance. The convention entered upon its business session this afternoon. One of the most interesting matters to be taken up by the convention is the question of making a thorough investigation into conflicting claims about the present resting place of the remains of Christopher Columbus. The proposal is to be introduced by delegates from Washington, D. C., acting on the suggestion of Senator Ransdell, of Louisiana, who is of the belief that the remains of Columbus never were removed to Spain, as is the common supposition, but that they still rest in the cathedral at Santo Domingo.

During my vacation from August 1st to Sept. 1st, I will be in my office every Saturday from 9 to 4

Dr. L. A. Morris

Cookery Points

Or suppose we said to some stately, silver haired woman who was annoyed, "I think it childish of you to take offense so easily." And suppose she sat down suddenly on the floor and began to scream for her doll and her skipping rope. We would be at a loss. Words suited to the situation would not easily suggest themselves.

Don't forget to fill up the slack jars with hot sirup as soon as they are taken from the bath; then close them at once, turning each one upside down when the top is tight.

Don't forget when canning vegetables that the same filling up of slack jars is made with boiling water, but that the jar must be at once sealed and boiled again for five or ten minutes.

Don't forget when the jars are cold to examine each one and to see if it is air tight; then, if all is well, wipe the jars off with a clean wet cloth and set them at once in a cold, dry place.

Don't forget that the good grocery stores pay a fancy price for first class homemade products of any sort. The labels must be written out by hand on neatly cut slips of letter paper. This gives the home look, and if the real home taste is inside the jar the grocer will take the batch, however small or big it is.

Fried Summer Squash.

Take three or four small and tender summer squashes—crooknecks are the best. Cut in slices about half an inch thick, take out the seeds and boil them half an hour or until tender in slightly salted water. When done fry them in butter to a delicate brown.

HOME.

Cling to thy home! If there the meanest shed Yield thee a hearth and shelter for thy head. And some poor plot, with vegetables stored. Be all that heaven allots thee for thy board— Unsavory bread and herbs that, scattered, grow Wild on the river brink or mountain brow. Yet 'e'en this cheerless mansion shall provide More heart's repose than all the world beside. —Leonidas.

Happy the man whose wish and care A few paternal acres bound, Content to breathe his native air in his own ground. —Pope.

An exile from home, splendor dazzles in vain. Oh, give me my lowly thatched college again! The birds singing gayly that came at my call— Give me them and the peace of mind dearer than all. —John Howard Payne.

FIGURES OF SPEECH.

Just Suppose For a Moment That They All Turned to Facts. No situation is more difficult to deal with than that in which a figure of speech becomes a fact. I mean that when we have been using a phrase truly, but in its general and metaphorical sense, we are rather embarrassed than otherwise if we find that it is true, even in its strict and literal sense. There does not seem to be anything more to say. Suppose you heard a family remark casually, "It's madness in papa to go to Norway!" And suppose the next instant papa sprang into the room through a smashed window, with straws in his hair and a carving knife and howled aloud: "Ubbubboo!

I. C. S. An Ethical Power

Now, gentlement, just for a moment, I would speak to you, not as an educationalist, but as a preacher of manhood and a lover of his kind. The question of the use of alcohol by the student when studying, has carried me back to the thought. The International Correspondence Schools are not simply educational, they are ethical; they not only make foremen and craftsmen and draftsmen, but they make MEN—in capital letters. For you can never awaken any one to his commercial possibilities without stirring up all other possibilities—social, patriotic, philanthropic, intellectual, moral. The moment you succeed breaking up one area of inertia you set vibration moving through every part of the being and all kinds of dormant and stagnant powers are set into healthy motion. When a man's mind gets engrossed with an intellectual occupation and he finds that he has a grip upon the laws and forces of the universe, the saloon, the vulgar and degrading snow, the curb-stone loafing, and the hours of inane and ribald waste all seem to be unworthy of him and his self-respect clothes him in a protective armor which helps to keep his entire manhood inviolate. A great American preacher used to speak much about "the explosive power of a new affection," and, having "as your life work the duty of both supplying and developing this 'new affection'—the love of the best, by which the unworthy and base will be expelled, perhaps unconsciously but surely, from many and many a man. Success to you in your work!

The Trained Man Never Worries

When the chiefs put their heads together to hire or "fire,"—the trained man doesn't worry. He knows that there is always a place for him. You can look your job and every man in the face if you possess the training so much in demand everywhere today. The International Correspondence Schools will go to you in your spare time, wherever you live, and will train you to become an expert in your chosen line of work. Such a training will forever take you off the "anxious" seat. It costs you nothing to find how the I. C. S. can help you. Mark the coupon opposite the occupation for which you have a natural liking, mail the coupon today, and the I. C. S. will send you facts showing how you can earn more money in the occupation of your own choice.

THE UNITED STATES NAVAL AVIATION MEET

Two thousand pairs of eyes were fixed on the whirling aircoars. Captain Albert Gleaves, commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard was the guest of honor at the meet, which was attended by many army and navy officers and society leaders. Fifty aero planes were on exhibition and flights were made in twelve of them. Some of the aviators rose to a height of 4,000 to 5,000 feet. They made some startling manoeuvres in demonstrating the utility of their aircoars. A society woman who made a flight was dressed in the latest style slit instead of the regulation aviation togs. A battalion of U. S. Marines and a battalion of U. S. soldiers were on the field and gave a drill and parade.

MOTHER-OF-PEARL

Diffraction Grating Causes Its Beautiful Iridescence. The apparent color of mother-of-pearl was for a long time somewhat of a puzzle to scientists. Later it was found that the surface of mother-of-pearl consisted of fine striations or ridges, with, of course, little hollows between. This explained everything. For it was then to the scientists nothing more or less than an ordinary diffraction grating. To prove it still further an impression of the surface was taken in black wax, and the wax itself exhibited the beautiful display of color shown in the original mother-of-pearl surface. The color is not due to pigment, but to the cancellation in part of the light falling on the surface. To understand this better it will be well to explain a diffraction grating. It consists of a piece of plate glass upon which are engraved many parallel lines. Rowland has been able to scratch lines on a glass so that there are 20,000 to the inch and the distances from one to the other do not vary by one-millionth of that distance in the 20,000. As white light, or sunlight, consists of every color known and as light travels in waves, at certain places if light is coming from several different directions very close to one another some of these waves will meet in what are known as opposite phases and will blot one another out, and the only remaining color will be the white. It can be easily seen what is meant by opposing phases from a consideration of waves on the seashore. If the top of a big wave meets a trough of another they cancel, and no wave at all is the result. The same takes place in light phenomena. Light consists of an ether wave, similar to wireless waves, only much shorter, and if its wave is destroyed none of that light can be seen by the eye. Colors of silk are due in the main to the same thing as mother-of-pearl, especially shot silk. It, as with the pearl, can be perfectly reproduced. —New York Tribune.
