A SINGULAR DUEL By GEORGE ATWATER

I was attending a vaudeville show one evening in a small town in Nevada wherein a part of the performance was knife throwing. Dan Weatherill threw the knives at a board against which his wife stood, sending a knife about two inches from her body till they marked her outline. The performers were a young couple, and Mrs. Weatherill was very pretty.

I now saw was a cylinder, and almost instantly there followed a cry from the audience. Turning my eyes upon Weatherill I saw him give a momentary glance up at the box where I had seen the light, then run forward to his wife, for every eye except mine was at the time of the flash fixed intently on what was going on on the stage. To me all was at once plain. The man in the box had flashed an electric light in Weatherill's eyes at the moment he was throwing a knife with intent to cause him to injure his wife. The curtain was lowered, and when it was raised again the next piece on the program was produced.

I asked Weatherill if I could be of service to him as a witness, and after considerable thought he said that very likely I could. The next evening curiosity led me to attend the show again. I wondered if the Weatherills would have the hardihood to repeat their performance and if the man who had flashed the light would be there. Both of these occurred, though the light flasher this time occupied a box facing the wife instead of the husband. I did not see him till the knife throwing commenced, and then he drew aside the curtains only sufficiently to show his face. Weatherill had about half planned in his wife and was about to throw the next knife when suddenly he turned and sent the knife at the box where his enemy sat. Of course there was a commotion in the audience. Thought will sometimes act with lightning rapidity. It was so at this time for me. I saw that Weatherill would be tried for murder and could only get free by producing evidence that his enemy had tried to destroy his aim the night before with a view to cause him to kill his wife. I sprang to the box and, pushing my way through others to the injured man, searched him and found in his pocket an electric lamp. The audience and I had witnessed a duel, fought in two successive evenings.

names and addresses of those who had seen me remove it from the wounded man's pocket. He was carried to his hotel, but died on the way. Weatherill, leaving the theater, walked to a police station and gave himself up. He was taken to jail, and I went to see him to inform him that I had taken an electric lamp from his enemy's pocket and had the names of several who had seen me do so. He grasped my hand with a fervent pressure, realizing the favor I had done him, for my having seen the flash the night before which caused his knife to go amiss and the fact that his enemy had the lamp ready for use when he was killed would be sufficient evidence for an acquittal by any unbiased court. The man who had been killed was a leader of a rough element who threatened to take Weatherill out and lynch him, but the sheriff prepared for them, and, feeling sure of a conviction of the prisoner, they finally concluded to let the law take its course. But they did not know of the testimony I was to give. Indeed, if I had not happened to be looking away from the stage and in a certain direction on the evening the lamp was flashed I fear nothing could have saved Weatherill. As it was, my story was corroborated by the finding of the lamp in the pocket of the man who was killed. Weatherill and his wife could not do enough to show their gratitude for us in the matter, and we became warm friends. But there was no more knife throwing for I took Weatherill into my employ. Catarrh Germs Must be Conquered or Health Will be Destroyed If you have Catarrh you must vanquish an army of persistent, destructive microbes before you can be healthy. You might as well choose your weapons, declare war and destroy this army of Catarrh germs right now. Booth's HYOMEI, a pleasant germ destroying air breathed over the entire membrane will kill Catarrh germs. Booth's HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mee) is guaranteed by Huntley Bros. to end Catarrh or money back. It surely is fine for coughs and croup. If you own a little HYOMEI hard rubber pocket inhaler get a separate bottle of HYOMEI for only 50 cents. If you haven't an inhaler secure a complete outfit for only $1.90.
