CHARLTON NEARING VOYAGE TO PRISON

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

ESTACADA BRIDGE AGAIN
Editor, The Enterprise: I see a notice in The Courier stating that the Estacada bridge across the Clackamas river is all right, and that The Enterprise sometime ago published an article about it which The Courier says is wrong. I want to say, in favor of The Enterprise, that its statements were true. Mr. Hayden, Mr. Hayner and I tightened up the bolts and rods in the bridge, and found one bolt only part way through the chord. I took out the rod and put in a new one instead. I also found some truss braces short. I had to put wedges in to tighten them.

I know what good framing on bridge work is, and I count this framing a poor job. I do not blame the county officers for the poor work done on the bridge, as their business is to attend to county affairs as best they can.

I. N. PARK, Springwater, Oregon.

More on That "Promise"

MOLALLA, Ore., Aug. 11th.—(Editor, The Enterprise)—In The Courier of last week its is stated that if the county court wins in the recall fight, Molalla precinct is to "come in for favors, a new bridge across the Molalla near Schafer's mill, at a cost of one thousand dollars," insinuating that this bridge has been promised as a bribe to this district to support the present court.

The people who have been most active in urging the necessity of the bridge resent this. The facts are that the bridge at this point had been urged long before the present court were elected.

The whole community both of the Colton and Molalla sections have urged the building of this bridge. Citizens have subscribed over a thousand dollars to gravel and open roads on the bridge if built. The court has made no promises on condition of support or in any way has used this as a leverage to get support.

Anyone wishing any further information in regard to this matter, I would gladly refer them to L. W. Robbins, J. H. Vernon or Albert Eagle, each of whom have been very active in urging the immediate need of this bridge. There is no evidence that if the bridge is built it will cost ten thousand dollars.

Fraternally yours,
W. W. Everhart.

JURIST IS PRAISED FOR FEARLESS ACT

Editor, The Enterprise: An article in the local press by a reputable member of the bar of this city reflecting upon the conduct of Judge Eakin, should not be allowed to pass unchallenged.

The undersigned has had a few equity cases before Judge Eakin since he has been sitting upon the circuit bench of this district and perhaps has had quite a good opportunity to take notice and make estimate of the character and attainments of Judge Eakin, and while differing widely in politics, it affords me pleasure to commend Judge Eakin as an able, impartial sincere and pains-taking jurist—a gentleman of high breeding and of a far and away above the school of offices as taught by the writer of that unjust, if not scurrilous criticism.

It is doubtful whether there is any Circuit Judge of the state who has greater respect from the members of the bar, in such a way as to back up his views, than Judge Eakin. It is too much license of free speech.

As a matter of law, a writ of injunction is very often applied to prevent an unwarranted criminal prosecution where property rights are involved or legitimate business is threatened to be interfered with by police authorities. This jurisdiction is very often exercised and in this particular case the better opinion is that Judge Eakin was right in his decision, but whether he was right or wrong in such decision, it illy becomes a devotee of advanced thought and progressive views to so far forget himself in the matter of common propriety as to jump on an upright and righteous judge of a court of general jurisdiction. It might not be altogether to exercise the supreme.

"Retall" on the author of such ill advised charges.
C. D. LATOURETTE.

W. C. T. U. BALKS AT POSTER LEGS

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 12.—The Portland Woman's Christian Temperance union is up in arms against the Portland poster that is being sent broadcast over the country to advertise the festival to be held in San Francisco in October. Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, state president of the organization, has sent to Senator Ladd a protest against objectionable poster. She contends that the picture depicting a woman's form, with the legs partially bare and the woman in dancing pose, is an insult to Oregon womanhood and should not be allowed to represent any festivity given on the Pacific coast.

The California branch of the prosperous order now numbers about 17,000 members distributed in 150 tribes.

ATHENIAN DEMOCRACY.

Our form of government does not enter into rivalry with the institutions of others. We do not copy our neighbors, but are an example to them. It is true that we are called a democracy, for the administration is in the hands of the many and not of the few. But, while the law secures equal justice to all alike in their private disputes, the claim of excellence is also recognized, and when a citizen is in any way distinguished he is preferred to the public service, not as a matter of privilege, but as the reward of merit. Neither is poverty a bar, but a man may benefit his country whatever be the obscurity of his condition.—Thucydides

FRIENDLY PICNIC SOCIETY HAS FINE TIME AT ISLAND

The Friendly Picnic society, of Peets Mountain, held its third annual gathering at Rock Island Sunday, members being taken to the park by A. Moshnik and Al. Bernert in their launches. Following refreshments at noontime, games and singing made up the major part of the afternoon's entertainment.

The success of the affair was largely due to the work of the committee of arrangements, composed of the Misses Elsie Hellberg, Olivia Perlot, Hilda Kaiser, Francis Kelmhofer and Messrs. Albert Bernert, John Hillberg, Carl Bernert and Adolph Volpp.

Woman's World

Miss Jessie Wilson to Be White House Bride.

Photo of Mr. Sayre © 1913, by American Press Association.

MISS JESSIE WOODROW WILSON AND FRANCIS ROWES SAYRE.

"Who'll be the thirteenth White House bride?" This is a question that was asked in the spring, when the three attractive daughters of President Wilson became occupants of the executive mansion.

Twelve weddings have taken place in this historic mansion, and now Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, the president's second daughter and the beauty of the trio, has thrown superstition to the winds and announces her intention of becoming the thirteenth bride of the White House.

Miss Wilson's fiance is Francis Rowes Sayre, scion of the old and wealthy Sayre family of eastern Pennsylvania, which built and partly owns the Lehigh Valley railroad.

Miss Jessie Wilson was born at Gainesville, Ga., where the family used to visit relatives of Mrs. Wilson during Professor Wilson's vacations while he was a member of the faculty of Bryn Mawr college. Her early education was at home under a German governess. After finishing her studies at the Baltimore Woman's college she went into settlement work. She is the youngest member of the national board of the Young Women's Christian association, and she composed a number of the prayers read at the Y. M. C. A. convention at Richmond, Va.

Although Miss Jessie's eloquence and serious mindedness have led her into the field of social betterment, she is quite as alive to the pleasures of sport. She plays tennis, rides horseback, swims and dances. She is a blond, like her mother, with a Greek profile, a delicate rose pink complexion and large blue eyes.

Mr. Sayre is a graduate of Williams college and of the Harvard law school. For the past year he has been connected with the district attorney's office at New York in a clerical capacity.

Miss Wilson's fiance is also interested in social settlement work. He spent the winter of 1909-10 in Alabama coal mines and out west. He put in two summers with Dr. Grenfels, the Labrador missionary, and devoted several summers to travel in Alaska and northern Siberia.

Mr. Sayre's mother, daughter of John Williamson Nevin, president of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa., is a descendant of Hugh Williamson of North Carolina, one of the framers of the United States constitution. She is a sister of the late Robert J. Nevin, head of the American church of Rome. One of her sons is now a minister in China.

Our lives will be no higher than our aims.
