never be placed in an unventilated room or compartment, an exterior window that can be opened will be considered sufficient.

Section 27. Waste water from fixtures in houses where public sewer is not available may be conveyed to cess-pool. Such cess-pool shall not be located within twenty feet of any dwelling or factory.

Section 28. No steam or exhaust, blow-off or drip pipe shall connect directly with the sewer, house drain soil, waste or vent pipe, or with any drain water conductor.

Section 29. Where special fixtures are required for which there are no provisions in these rules and regulations, or when conditions arise that demand the discretion of the inspector of plumbing, upon examination the said inspector may recommend, in writing, to the city council, such deviation from these rules and regulations as in his judgment, the conditions demand; thereupon he may, in his discretion, issue a permit in duplicate for such work, through which all stops of a grassy nature shall be drained; said grease trap shall be constructed of sheet lead, cast iron or vitrified clay or cement, and shall be of a capacity of not less than seven gallons, and if of sheet lead shall have a screw top of sufficient size to allow the removal of grease; if of cast iron the top shall be bolted down, and shall in all cases be sealed so as to prevent the escape of sewer gas into the building, and shall be distant not less than one foot from any building.

Section 30. In all cases where a building is used as a hotel, tenement, boarding house, or restaurant, the owner or occupant shall provide a properly constructed grease trap, through which all stops of a grassy nature shall be drained; said grease trap shall be constructed of sheet lead, cast iron or vitrified clay or cement, and shall be of a capacity of not less than seven gallons, and if of sheet lead shall have a screw top of sufficient size to allow the removal of grease; if of cast iron the top shall be bolted down, and shall in all cases be sealed so as to prevent the escape of sewer gas into the building, and shall be distant not less than one foot from any building.

Section 31. All plumbing in process of construction, alteration or repair shall be under the supervision of the inspector of plumbing who is hereby empowered to stop further work when he shall decide that it is being done contrary to these rules and regulations.

Section 32. All master plumbers shall be held responsible for all acts of their agents or employees.

Section 33. All excavation made in any street or alley shall be protected and guarded by said contractor both day and night, with the proper display of signals and lights, and the said contractor shall be held responsible upon his bond for all accidents caused by negligence in this respect. The street must be opened and the paving and planking and earth deposited in a manner that will occasion the least inconvenience to the public, and to provide for a free passage along the gutters. One half of the street must be kept clear for the passage of vehicles, and bridgework must be provided on sidewalks for foot passengers. As soon as any such sewer or drain is completed and after the inspection, the paving or planking and sidewalk must be restored to as good condition as previous to the excavation, and all rubbish and surplus earth removed. All work within the limits of any street or alley must be prosecuted to completion with due diligence, and if, in the judgment of the inspector of plumbing, any excavation is left open beyond a reasonable time, he shall cause the same to be filled and the street or alley restored forthwith at the cost of the contractor in charge of such work, which cost must be paid before any further permit is issued to such contractor. If any work done in pursuance of the permit granted as heretofore prescribed, be not constructed and completed in accordance with the plan filed, and to the acceptance of the inspector, and the contractor shall refuse to properly construct and complete said work, notice thereof shall be given to the owner of the property for whom said work is being done, and the inspector shall proceed to complete and connect said sewer in a proper manner, and the full cost of the work and any material necessary therefore shall be charged and become a lien against said property and shall be collected accordingly at law.

Section 34. The inspector shall be notified when any work is ready for inspection; all work shall be left uncovered and convenient for examination until inspected and approved. No notice shall be sent for any inspection until the work is ready for inspection.

Section 35. The inspector of plumbing shall examine the work within two working days after receiving notice that it is entirely ready for inspection.

Section 36. Plumbing work shall be tested by the water or pepper mint test in the presence of the inspector of plumbing. Such test shall include all sewers, soil, waste and vent pipes, the lead branches and ferrule joints within the building, weather conditions or construction permitting; the choice of the tests may be made by the plumber, but otherwise the test shall be decided by the inspector of plumbing.

Section 37. When the work is complete a final inspection shall be made by the inspector of plumbing. No plumbing work shall be used until this inspection shall have been made, and a certificate in duplicate that the work has been approved has been issued by the inspector of plumbing, to one of the master plumbers doing the work, and one to be filed with the city recorder.

Section 38. All water pipes used to supply hot or cold water to fixtures must be so placed that they will have a fall of at least one-eighth of an inch to the foot to a stop or waste cock, placed either in the basement or outside the building. If in supplying fixtures with water, it is found impossible to drain the pipes by use of stop and waste cocks, then a pet cock shall be placed at the lowest point in such pipe so that the pipe may be drained to prevent freezing.

Section 39. All stables having wash racks for washing vehicles and having said racks connected with city sewers, shall have catch basins to prevent sand or heavy matter from entering the sewer. The bottom of the catch basin shall be eight inches below the invert of the outlet of the sewer.

Section 40. The main drain of any house or building shall be provided with a main or horizontal trap placed immediately inside the cellar wall or nearest the sewer or outside in the yard, as is most convenient. It placed inside the cellar it must be of iron.

Section 41. There is hereby created the office of plumbing inspector, which office shall be filled by appointment by the mayor, with the consent of the council. It shall be the duty of the plumbing inspector to examine and inspect all the plumbing hereafter done in the city of Oregon City, and see that it conforms to the requirements above set forth. The engineer shall also issue a permit to any one desiring to install any plumbing in any building in the city of Oregon City, and it shall be unlawful for any person to install any such plumbing without first having applied for and received a permit from said engineer. The plumbing inspector shall receive as full compensation for each fixture (25c) cents, the same to be paid from the city treasury as for other municipal services.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff. The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this a while and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. HUNTLEY BROS., Druggists

Section 42. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine in any sum not less than $5.00 nor more than $25.00 and costs of prosecution or by imprisonment in the city jail not to exceed 15 days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 43. This inspector need not be an inhabitant of Oregon City.

Section 44. All master plumbers before doing directly or indirectly any work in Oregon City shall be authorized, approved and licensed by the city council. For each such license there shall be paid to the city recorder the sum of ten dollars, the receipt for which shall be presented to the city engineer before the issuing of the permit to do any work.

Section 45. No person shall be authorized or licensed by the city council to do the work of making connections with any of the public sewers or drains, or their lateral connections, until he has furnished to the council a certificate of qualification, signed by at least two reputable masons, if he be a mason or sewer builder, or two reputable plumbers, if he be a plumber, to the effect that the applicant is known by them to be a person regularly educated to the business and qualified to perform the duties which he undertakes; and previous to being authorized or licensed by said city council the party applying shall file a bond in the office of the city recorder in such sum as may be designated by the said city council, not less however, than one hundred dollars, with two or more sureties to be approved by said city council; conditioned that he will indemnify and save harmless the city of Oregon City from all loss or damage that may be occasioned in anywise by accident or the want of any skill on his part in the prosecution of such work or that may be occasioned by reason of any opening by him made or caused to be made in a street, lane alley or avenue, market place, or public ground in the making of any public or private sewer or drain as aforesaid; and conditioned also that he will promptly at the proper time replace and store the street and pavement over such opening to as good state and condition as he found it previous to opening the same, and that he will conform in all respects to the rules and regulations which may from time to time be established by said city council in relation to putting in junctions and tapping of the sewers and drains.

Section 46. It shall be unlawful for any person, so authorized by the city council to make connections with sewers and drains, to allow his name to be used for the purpose of obtaining said permits, or of doing any work under his authority, under the penalty hereinafter prescribed. It shall be the duty of each and every person so authorized or licensed by said city council, to record his name and that of the firm, in case of partnership, together with the place of business, in a book or record to be kept by the city engineer, and also to immediately notify the engineer of any change of either thereof, by recording the name, firm, and place of business as theretofore in said record.

Section 47. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance be, and the same are hereby repealed.

The Latest How. "What time is it, my lad?" asked a traveler of a small boy who was driving a couple of cows home from the fields. "Almost 12 o'clock, sir," replied the boy. "I thought it was more." "It's never any more here," returned the lad in surprise. "It just begins at 1 again!"—Lustige Blätter.

A Successful Method. Diogenes, at length convinced of the uselessness of his lantern, went on his search without it. He returned triumphant. "Eureka!" he shouted. "I have found honest men by the score!" "How?" questioned his cynic companions. "By direct inquiry," answered the great philosopher.—Judge.

JUDGE EAKIN PRAISED OREGON CITY, Ore., Aug. 13.—(Editor of The Enterprise)—An article in the local press by a reputable member of the bar of this city, reflecting upon the integrity of Judge J. A. Eakin should not be allowed to pass unchallenged. The undersigned has had a few equity cases before Judge Eakin since he has been sitting upon the circuit bench of this district and perhaps has had quite as good an opportunity to take notice and make estimates of the character and attainments of Judge Eakin, and while differing widely in politics, it affords me pleasure to commend Judge Eakin as an able, impartial, sincere and pains-taking judge—a gentleman of high breeding and culture, far and away above the school of politics as taught by the writer of that unjust, if not scurrilous criticism.

It is doubtful whether there is any Circuit Judge of the state of Oregon who has greater respect for the members of the bar for conscientiousness and errorless administration of the law, and such a man wanton attack but proves there is too much license of free speech.

As a matter of law, a writ of injunction is very often applied to prevent an unwarranted criminal prosecution where property rights are involved or legitimate business is threatened to be interfered with by police authorities. This jurisdiction is very often exercised and in this particular case the better opinion is that Judge Eakin was right in his decision, but whether he was right or wrong in such decision, it illy becomes a devotee of advanced thought and progressive views to so far forget himself in the matter of common propriety as to jump on an upright and righteous judge of a court of general jurisdiction. It might not be altogether improper to exercise the supreme "recall" on the author of such ill-advised charges. C. D. LATOURETTE.
