not know enough about county affairs to debate them. "This admission," said the judge, "means that he will be guided in office by the premier of his cabinet, Ed Olds."

PROMINENT PIONEER DIES AT PILOT ROCK

For 17 years a resident of Clackamas county, and known to all residents of Oregon City as a man who held the position of postmaster at Carus for 13 years, R. M. Cooper died Thursday night at Pilot Rock, Umatilla county, whither he had gone to visit his son. The news of Mr. Cooper's death was received here, and came as a great shock to his many friends.

Mr. Cooper was 78 years of age, and was born at Lewistown, Pa. He lived there until the outbreak of the Civil War, when he enlisted in the 123rd Pennsylvania Volunteers with whom he served valiantly throughout the terrific struggle between the North and the South being wounded twice in the course of engagements. Following the close of the war he moved to Kansas where he took a keen interest in public affairs, and where he served as justice of the peace.

JACK LONDON NOT FARM EXPERT, YET

Secretary Freytag, of the Oregon City Commercial club, says Jack London is a faker. In a serial novel running in one of the popular magazines, London has his heroine discover that California fruit trees are inter-grafted, so that they will be able to resist the winds and the weight of abundant crops; and Mr. Freytag says that this is only practiced in the Mediterranean countries. That the idea would be a good one to adopt on the Pacific coast the Oregon City booster admits, but he says that he thinks the novelist is drawing on his imagination to a considerable extent.

In the same installment of the novel, the heroine also makes the discovery that one of the minor characters hatches out her chickens at different seasons of the year, so that there will always be some fowls that are laying eggs, and Mr. Freytag declares that this is further proof that Jack London doesn't know what he is talking about.

"It is true that chickens can be made to lay in the usual moulting season," says Mr. Freytag, "but that isn't done by hatching them out at any particular time. Chickens moult in the fall of the year, usually, and they do it because of climatic conditions, no matter how old they may be. By cutting off their feed in the early summer, however, for a month or so, and then feeding them up in September, they can be made to moult earlier, and will lay while other chickens are not paying much attention to this sort of business."

According to the local publicity man Jack London is a good writer of adventure and fiction, but as a novelist expert he is several laps behind other writers.

GEORGE IS GIVEN CHANCE

Hugh George, who has recently come to police notice owing to his tendency to imblite too much of the stuff that cheers, was given a 30-day sentence by City Recorder Stipp Friday morning, and upon his promise to leave "red-eye" alone hereafter, sentence was suspended. Chief of Police Shaw has instructed all local saloon men not to permit George to have any liquor in their places, and believes that the man will straighten up.

JUDGE DIMICK TO SPEAK

Judge Grant B. Dimick will speak at a meeting of Red Men in Portland Saturday, and will be one of those who will welcome the "Great Invention" of the lodge to the Pacific slope. The highest officer of the order is making a trip over the country, and before he returns to his home in Boston will have visited practically all the local lodges in the United States.

DIVORCE PAPERS FILED WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Ten years to a day from the time she married Ovid Coulombe, Mrs. May Coulombe has asked the circuit court to grant her a divorce from her husband, and to restore her maiden name of May Eckert. The couple were married August 15, 1903, at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; and according to Mrs. Coulombe's complaint her husband deserted her in March, of last year. There were no children born of the marriage. Mrs. Coulombe has lived in Oregon for the past year or so, and decided to celebrate her wedding anniversary by filing her divorce complaint.

Ready for Flight

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 15.—This city is filled with visitors from all parts of the United Kingdom and many foreigners who have come here to witness the start tomorrow of the great waterplane flight around Great Britain, in which a number of the best craft of this type in Great Britain will compete for the $25,000 prize offered by the proprietors of the Daily Mail to the aircraft which first completes the prescribed circuit within a period not exceeding seventy-two hours.

Mr. Raymond Harney, of Portland, spent Friday evening on a visit to friends in the county seat.

A Big Manufacturer's Business Tonic

Discussing advertising a manufacturer of one of the best known soaps in the country said: "We plan to run all the time to the limit of our factories. We have the entire country blocked out on sales charts, and know what the sales of our soap should be in each section every day in the year. "If our sales lag in any spot, we immediately begin advertising in the daily newspapers, and soon our sales go on swimmingly again. "There is no doubt but we could double or treble our present sales by a newspaper campaign all over the United States. "But we have established our soap. We have all the business we want—all we need is to hold what we have. "We find daily newspaper advertising on the lines I have indicated the best tonic we can apply when a tonic is needed."

This manufacturer uses mediums of all sorts, but when he wants actual demand to bring immediate sales he uses the daily newspapers. Merchants and manufacturers interested in local advertising for nationally distributed articles are invited to write to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York City.

Los Angeles Celebrates

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 15.—Los Angeles reached her 132nd birthday anniversary today, and in honor of the occasion flags were displayed on all public and many private buildings. The history of the city dates from August 15, 1781, when Felipe de Neve, governor of Alta California, came from the San Gabriel mission to the Indian village of Yang-na, and gave to the settlement the name of Town of Our Lady, the Queen of the Angels, with imposing title was later abbreviated to Los Angeles.

Itching Scalp

Easy to Get Rid of by Using Parisian Sage, the Guaranteed Hair Invigorator

Just as long as you have dandruff your head will itch. It's the little microbes that are gnawing down into the hair roots. It may take a long time for these persistent pests to get down to the vital part, but when they do, they will destroy the life of the hair in a very short time. If you want to stop itching scalp and drive away dandruff, you must first kill the dandruff germs or microbes.

Parisian Sage will do this. Just get a 50c bottle today; relief will come immediately, and if at the end of two weeks your itching scalp and dandruff have not disappeared, you can have your money back. Parisian Sage is also a delightful hair tonic, and is used by refined women who desire fascinating, lustrous and luxuriant hair. A large bottle only costs 50 cents at Huntley Bros. Co. and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.
