TYPHOID SOURCE BELIEVED FOUND

STATE HEALTH OFFICER ORDERS STAR DAIRY PUT UNDER QUARANTINE

WELL FOUND TO BE CONTAMINATED

Filtered Water of City's Supply Shows Free of Chemical or Organic Danger—No New Cases Reported

Dr. Calvin S. White, of the state board of health, ordered the Star Dairy closed today, and forbade the further sale of milk from the establishment until permission was given by the state board. The act followed an investigation made of the dairy at the request of Supt. W. H. Howell, of the board of city water commissioners and City Health Officer Norris, both of whom had ascertained that all typhoid cases recently discovered in this city were in families taking milk or cream from the condemned establishment.

Eight cases of typhoid made it appear recently that there was danger of a further epidemic. Rigid investigation was made, and it was found that six out of the eight sufferers had been drinking water other than from the city filtration plant. It was at first thought that infection had thus been obtained.

When it was ascertained that all eight cases had been drinking Star Dairy milk, however, the investigation was switched to the dairy, and not only was the well at the establishment found to be contaminated and unfit for drinking purposes; but three additional cases of the fever were found among those employed or living at the establishment.

Bacteriological and chemical tests of the city water, drawn from faucets in the homes where the typhoid cases were located, showed the water supply to be more than ordinarily pure. The state university, state agricultural college, state board of health and Dr. Hampton, of Portland, have all reported Oregon City's filtered water absolutely pure.

In view of this, and the discoveries at the dairy, it is believed that all the present cases are to be traced directly to the Star Dairy milk. Cans at the dairy have been washed in water from the contaminated well, and this is regarded by the officials as the source of infection.

SHERIFF, THINNER, RETURNING ALONE

Sheriff E. T. Mass, who went to Dallas, Texas, to extradite "Blackie" lies, alleged ringleader of the rioters at Oswego, is on his way back to Oregon City without his prisoner. The sheriff left the Texas city Saturday afternoon, following the filing of an appeal in the lies extradition fight to the criminal court of appeals. There will be no hearing on the case until October or November, at which time the sheriff will return to make another try for the fugitive. In the district court, to which "Blackie" lies appealed after his first setback, the sheriff won his contention.

Lies is one of the striking telephone linemen who took part in the labor trouble at Oswego on May 19 last, and who subsequently jumped bail and fled the state. It is alleged by his fellow strikers that his action at the plant of the Home Telephone company brought on the riot in which J. C. Ainsberry, parole breaker and escaped convict employed by the Home Phone people as a strikebreaker, shot and crippled for life Fred Ream, of Willamette. Ream is now suing the Home Telephone company for $50,000 damages as the result of his injuries.

Three months after fleeing from this city lies was arrested on circular description by the Dallas police, and Sheriff Mass at once went after him armed with extradition papers. Attorneys, said to have been employed by the Electrical Workers' union, have been conducting a suborned fight against his extradition from the Lone Star state.

In private advices to Mrs. Mass, the sheriff reports that it has been so hot in Texas that he has lost 16 pounds in weight, most of it through perspiring.

WATER REPORT TO BE READY SOON

COMMITTEE OF THE COUNCIL HARD AT WORK ON IMPORTANT PROBLEM

HAVE CONFERRED WITH PORTLAND

Recommendations May be Made at Next Meeting and Action on New Supply Will be Taken Soon

Within the next few days, the water committee of the city council, through its chairman Professor Tooze, expects to have its report ready on the possibility of securing water for Oregon City from the Bull Run supply.

The committee has had the matter up with the commissioners of the city of Portland and has gone over the entire question thoroughly. It has been in conference with Commissioner Will H. Daly of the Portland city commission and is putting forth every effort to get the subject in concrete form for its submission to the city council here.

The subject of pure water has been before the city council sometimes and the committee has planned to get the supply from the same source that furnishes the city of Portland. A pipeline extending eight miles into the hills would probably have to be built to form the connection and bring the water to the plant.

With the report will probably be the committee's recommendations to the city council and its advice as to the action that the city fathers should take in furnishing the supply. The chairman believes that he will be able to make this report in the next three or four days.

A report will also be submitted to the council in the next few days on the rock crusher problem that has been under consideration for a number of weeks. This matter has also been under investigation by the committee and the report with its recommendations will be submitted, probably at the next council meeting.

ROBBER BREAKS INTO COMMANDER'S HOME

Ransacked from cellar to garret as though it had been struck by a Kansas cyclone, the home of C. A. Williams, adjutant general and commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in this district, was robbed Saturday night at Gladstone and an uncertain amount of valuables taken.

A light burning in the home at 9:30 o'clock last night led Mr. and Mrs. Henry Salisbury to investigate. Just as they opened the door, they heard the robber steal out the back entrance and saw him make his way across the fields and disappear into the darkness beyond.

The carpets on the floor were pulled up, the bed overturned, and a box containing valuable papers and a small amount of money was opened with a "jimmy" and rifled, although the contents were left strewn about on the floor. A little cash that lay in the box and a valuable gold watch.

No clue to the identity of the robber had been discovered last night for the manager to get away before the Salis-

Cupid Has His Eye on These Two Fair Daughters Of the Czar of Russia, Olga, 17, and Tatiana, 16.

This is the latest and most interesting picture of Grand Duchess Olga, eldest daughter of the czar of Russia, and her next younger sister, Tatiana. It was recently rumored that Grand Duchess Olga was engaged to Prince Charles, eldest son of the crown prince of Roumania. Over two years ago it was reported that the grand duchess would marry her cousin, the Grand Duke Dmitri. She is said to have been deeply in love with him and later to have refused to marry Prince Boris of Bulgaria on Dmitri's account. Grand Duchess Olga, at the left in the above picture, is not yet quite eighteen. She was born Nov. 3, 1895. Her next younger sister, the Grand Duchess Tatiana, is only seventeen months younger, having been born May 29, 1897, and the two girls appear very nearly the same age. In spite of their simplicity and girliness the two royal maidens have a queenly bearing and much dignity of manner. In fact, they seem to reflect much of the seriousness of their mother, the czarina. Both the youthful grand duchesses hold military offices. Olga is chief of the Third regiment of hussars of Elizabethgrad, and Tatiana is chief of the Eighth regiment of hussars of Vostnessensk.

burgs could see him. The knowledge that General Williams had gone out of the city on his summer vacation led them to investigate the strange appearance of the light in the house Saturday night.

Officials of the county have been notified of the robbery and began an investigation at once. The lack of any definite clue to the identity of the robber will prove a stumbling block in the way of the officers in their efforts to get their man.

International Peace Congress.
THE HAGUE, Aug. 16.—Delegates from many nations have arrived here in anticipation of the opening of the twentieth meeting of the International Peace Congress. The congress proper will open next Wednesday, following two days of preliminary committee meetings. The most notable feature of the gathering will be the dedication of the Palace of Peace, which is now practically completed.

MOLALLA BECOMES INCORPORATED CITY

Molla Friday decided to become an incorporated city under the laws of the state of Oregon. By a vote of 77 for to 20 against the proposition, the people placed their city upon the map of the state.

Within the next few days, the county court will meet and canvass the vote cast at Friday's election and will then declare it as incorporated city. A month later the people will elect their first municipal officers. The new town is a wide awake little city and has a commercial club of the most active boosters in its section. The club has several important plans in mind for the general improvement of the city and county surrounding it and has decided to work them out as soon as the legal formalities are met.

TERRIFIC HEAT PARALYSES EAST

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Four deaths and numerous prostrations from heat were recorded in Chicago today. A sudden shift in the wind at noon brought in the lake breeze, lowering the temperature five degrees within an hour and cutting down the mortality list.

With temperatures ranging as high as 110 all over the southwest, the Minnesota points reaching the hundred mark, Chicago seemed in for a fearful baking today. It was a haggard and restless population that dragged itself out on the streets today worn out by an intensely hot night in which there was no rest.

Racing Begins at Windsor
WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 16.—The second of the summer race meetings of the Windsor Jockey club was opened at the local track today and will be continued until next Saturday. Five stakes, with an aggregate value of $8,500, will be decided during the meeting.

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 16.—Preparations have been completed for the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, which is to be held in this city next week. The session will be attended by about 200 delegates from the principal mining centers of the United States and Canada.

GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK STATE, WHO FACES IMPEACHMENT CHARGES

(Copyright by International News Service.)
New Yorkers live on excitement and all the state is a stage upon which is enacted sufficient comedy and tragedy to keep the nerves of the most temperamental atingle. A police official has been sentenced to death for "going up" for demanding money for public service and now the governor of the state is charged with gambling campaign funds. Judging from letters published here may also have to defend a suit as a result of charges made by a woman, who, it is claimed received affairs. Conditions look very serious, but Governor Sulzer, it is said, will not submit to impeachment by the legislature. He is defiant and insists that he will remain in office and continue to exercise his authority if he has to eat and sleep in the executive office in order to retain possession.

OLDEST CHURCH BECOMES MODERN

EASTERN BISHOP TO DELIVER DEDICATION SERMON AT ST. JOHN'S TODAY

UNIQUE EDIFICE KNEW PIONEERS

Bell and Timbers Brought by the Horn for Early Settlers—Its Original Shape is Kept Through All Changes

With especial services and a sermon by Bishop J. J. Lawler of St. Paul, the St. John's Catholic church of Oregon City will be dedicated at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

The oldest Catholic church on the Pacific coast north of California, the building is now the religious home of 1200 worshippers and has rapidly grown from an original membership in 1845 of but 10 families to the position of one of the strongest bodies in the state. Part of the lumber that was used in the construction of the building came from the cities of Montreal and Quebec in the days when the material had to come around the Horn in sailing vessels, and the bell that now rings for the services every Sunday dates back to the time when its silver notes were heard by the Indians and early pioneers of the state.

Originally built in the form of a cross, the various alterations and enlargements that have been made to accommodate the ever increasing membership has left its shape today as it was when the early Catholics began the construction of their first church.

Never since it was planted in the wilderness for the pioneers in this section of the state has the church ever been without a priest and 40

VOTERS CHANGE COUNTY CHIEFS

H. S. ANDERSON ELECTED BY APPROXIMATELY 400 VOTES IN LIGHT BALLOTING

J. W. SMITH RUNS CLOSE BEHIND

About 40 Percent of Registration Shows at Polls—Former County Judge Beattie Thanks Supporters

Voters of Clackamas county recalled County Judge R. B. Beattie and County Commissioner Blair Saturday by approximately 400 votes, and elected in their places H. S. Smith, salesman for the Clear Creek Creamery company, and J. W. Smith, of Mackaburg. Returns received at the Enterprise office up to an early hour this morning gave the total vote in 39 out of the 44 precincts, and in these Judge Beattie was defeated by 331 votes, and County Commissioner Blair lost by 464 votes.

The election was featured by a very light attendance at the polls, only about 40 per cent of the registered voters turning out to cast ballots. In the morning less than half the total vote was cast, and the heaviest balloting in all precincts occurred between two and five in the afternoon. Ore-majority, as did Milwaukie, Canemah, majority, as did Milwaukie, Canemah, Sandy and Molalla. This advantage was not enough to offset the majority for Anderson that was piled up in some of the other precincts, however.

There was no disorder at the polls reported, though in some of the voting places in districts where recall sentiment was strong there was
