Gain per year ..... $ 259.00
The number of holes furnished lodging in our city jail during the year is very large, as high as 285 having been housed at night and then turned out to beg food from citizens in the morning in a single month. This is a problem that requires solution; and while many of these men are victims of conditions that ought to be remedied and would be willing to earn their bread by labor, there are those who require lodgings habitually desiring to beg or demand food and clothing rather than work for it, who if given a sentence to break rock would either work for subsistence or give Oregon City a wide berth.

There are also persons sentenced for such crimes as refusal to support or for cruelty to family. They would be benefitted with many other violators of the law by honest toil while the municipality looks after the wants of those dependent upon them.

For the purpose of security and economy of supervision, a rockade should be built for such operations.

Nothing in this plan should be permitted, however, to substitute for the labor of free citizens, who would offer to operate the crusher.

We believe that financially the employment mentioned, extended to cleaning of street gutters, etc., would result in only a small net gain; but as the solution for a civic and social problem it should be tried.

The necessity of, in the near future, constructing a reservoir for the extension and betterment of the city's water service has already been expressed by the board of water commissioners. When this shall be done it is obvious that the rock-crushing operations on the present site may be seriously interfered with. In fact, the commission now reports that there should be very little if any, more rock taken from the present quarry bed. This will then necessitate soon the locating of a different quarry bed or the removal of the plant to another site.

Summarizing:
(1) We believe the city should control a rock crusher plant; should operate the same in connection with street improvement and maintenance and that for this purpose the city should own team, dump wagon and street sweeper; that the city should work its prisoners on the crusher and streets.

The committee believes the city should exercise the same prudence in this matter of purchase as should CRUSHER—THREE ..... characterize the actions of an individual and it must consider the wisdom of purchasing this plant at this time with little or no assurance of its permanency of rock crushing. The rights of the lessee we are informed are only reserved rights, and can operate no longer than permitted by the commission. The city can exercise no direct control over the acts or orders of the present commissioners. Its recourse lies only in the legal right to remove them and appoint others whom it believes would assist in its desire in this matter. The lessee, however, maintains he has prior rights.

The committee recommends in view of the foregoing considerations that the city instruct the city attorney to ascertain at once the legal rights of both lessor and lessee and report the same to this council at a special meeting to be called by the mayor next Monday night at which time the committee will recommend definitely.

No meeting called for Monday, the 11th.
Wednesday, August 13, 1913. We your committee, having been advised by the city attorney that the water commissioners have the right to at any time re-locate the site for the said crusher on the land purchased by them for reservoir purposes, as having taken all other conditions known to it into consideration, do recommend that in view of the preceding and in view of several other projects affecting the finance and progress of the city an effort be at once made to lease a crusher—terms to be obtained to report same promptly to the council.

TWO SAMPLES SHOW WATER TO BE PURE

Two samples of Oregon City water, one from the well of George A. Harding and the other from the hydrant in his yard, have been examined by the state board of health and have been found pure.

In the water taken from the well were found 300 organisms to the cubic centimeter while in that from the hydrant the board found but five organisms to the same amount of water. The life that was found in the water was not dangerous and did not show signs of a single disease-conveying germ. In all water organisms are to be found, according to the doctors, but the difference between the number in the two samples is accounted for by the fact that the city water passes through a fine filter and that most of them are taken out before they reach the hydrant of the consumer.

Did you ever try to guess whose nose belonged to who? It is very funny, and this is the way to do it: Hang a cloth in front of a doorway and place one-half of the boys and girls in each room, only one of which is lighted. Cut a V shaped hole in the cloth and let those in the dark room place their noses through it, one by one, while those in the light room guess whose nose it is. When a right guess is made the owner of the nose must join the guessers, but should the guess be wrong the one making it must join the players. The game ends when all are in one room.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 20.—Since the tragic death of John Jacob Astor when he died a martyr by going down with many of the other male passengers on the ill-fated Titanic, Vincent Astor, his son, having inherited his father's vast estate is one of America's greatest landlords, and is sought after by the young women in his social sphere.

This picture shows young Astor standing beside Miss Margaret Andrews, one of the most popular of last season's debutantes. Last summer Miss Andrews was reported engaged to Vincent Astor. This picture was taken while she was in company with the young millionaire at one of the summer racing meets.

Now comes the report that the affections of Miss Andrews have been transferred to another wealthy young man, Morgan Belmont, son of August Belmont, and society is expecting the announcement of the engagement to be made by the end of this month.

M'DONALD ONCE WITH M'GRAW

Boston's Heavy Hitting Third Baseman Recommended by Giants' Pilot.

Charley McDonald, the Boston Braves' third baseman, who is just now leading the National league in hitting, is in a way a protegee of John J. McGraw. The Giant chief recommended the slugging youngster to Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati Reds, who bought him from the Dallas club of the Texas league and carried him along last year and part of this season. Then George Stallings took the boy at the waiver price on a tip from the newspaper men following the Giants while the New York club was in Boston a short time ago.

McGraw first saw McDonald a couple of years ago at Marlin, the training ground of the Giants, when the third baseman and another member of the Dallas team named Thebo joined the Giants to get into physical condition for the Texas league season. McGraw had three ball clubs playing exhibition games in Texas that season, and he used McDonald and Thebo on one team. He had no permanent place for McDonald himself, but his strong recommendation of the youngster to Herrmann indicated that McDonald had made a good impression on him.

McDonald seems to be another Helme Zimmerman in point of hitting. In 1911, with the Dallas club, he hit 324 in 144 games, although he displayed no unusual slugging ability with Cincinnati last season.
