

RED MEN HAVE GOOD TIME AT THE DALLES

Delegates from Wacheno Tribe No. 13 of Oregon City have returned from attendance at the 23rd session of the great council of Improved Order of Red Men, which has just been concluded at The Dalles. There were 50 representatives attending from 25 tribes, and the session was very successful and enjoyable.

Past Great Sachems W. L. Little and J. H. Howard. Representatives L. A. Nobel, J. A. Muench, William Rall and Chris Hartman represented Oregon City. One of the features of the session was the taking over of the care of the orphans in the jurisdiction. This fund was formerly administered by the great council of the United States.

The following officers of the great council were elected at The Dalles to serve until August, 1914, when the council will hold its annual session at Portland: P. G. McNeill, Roseburg, great sachem; Henry Cue, The Dalles, great senior sagamore; William Angle, Scappoose, great junior sagamore; Bert West, Clatskanie, prophet; L. Hamie, Portland, great chief of orphans; L. A. Nobel, Oregon City, great keeper of wampum.

MILLIONS OF BALES OF COTTON IN SOUTH

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 21.—While the range of prediction as to this year's cotton crop is from twelve to sixteen million bales the predominance of figures around the 13,000,000 bale mark is accepted as proof that the crop will be in about that quantity unless decided improvement or deterioration should set in. If a 13,000,000-bale crop is made there will be no complaining in the south.

While this will be the million and a half bales under the crop of last year and three million bales under the crop of 1911, still it is regarded as an abundant yield. With the almost unprecedented occurrence of having three big crop years in succession the financial prospects of the South are brighter than ever before. Even the prosperous years just preceding the civil war are not expected.

The prospects in Louisiana are overshadowed somewhat by the threatened ruin of its sugar industry. Had other crops yielded poorly this year widespread damage would have resulted.

SISTER ASKS COURT TO VOID MARRIAGE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 21.—The story of the marriage of Miss Mary A. Burke to Augustus B. F. Orr, 15 years her junior, at Oregon City, December 11, 1911, and the subsequent death of the former in this city July 12, 1912, has a sequel in the filing of a suit by Mrs. Margaret Humason of Spokane, Wash., a sister of Mrs. Orr, in the circuit court of Multnomah county, praying that the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Burke-Orr be declared null and void and that the estate of Mrs. Burke-Orr, estimated to be worth $85,000, be given to her as the only living direct heir.

Miss Mary A. Burke was a well known resident of Portland and lived with her brother, Henry Burke, for many years at the corner of Salmon street and Broadway. Her marriage to Orr was a subject of much gossip, as was the marriage of her brother, Henry, to Miss Bertha Palzer a short time afterward.

In her complaint Mrs. Humason alleges that Orr caused her sister's death prematurely by inducing her to use intoxicating liquors and drugs.

The divorce of Orr from a former wife that paved the way for his marriage with Miss Burke is alleged to be absolutely void and of no effect for the reason that the circuit court of Clackamas county, in which it was obtained, had no jurisdiction because Hannah M. Orr, the former wife, had not for more than one year prior to filing suit been a resident of Oregon. It is further alleged that the divorce was not asked for by Hannah M. Orr in good faith, but in collusion with Orr, and that it was understood and agreed between them that Orr would after the divorce intermarry with Mary A. Burke and upon her death remarry Hannah M. Orr.

Misses Mary and Elizabeth Marshall and Miss Daisy and Ada Coax spent Sunday with Misses Esther and Edith Stout.

Miss Mary Bottemiller spent Sunday with Miss Dora and Elda Marquardt.

Dannie Smith is working for Mrs. Lee during harvest.

BARLOW.

While hauling hay Friday Robert Ogle was thrown over with a load of hay sustaining a broken rib. Dr. Dedman was called Sunday, dressing the wound and suffering with it. Mr. Ogle's wife whose home is in Portland, came up Sunday, also a niece and family are with him.

Death has at last relieved Clayton Wolgamot of his suffering. He died Saturday night at the home of Mrs. King, who has cared for him for the last three years. He had been an invalid since infancy and a great sufferer. He was about 42 years old.

He is survived by one brother, Dr. Frank Wolgamot, who is a dentist in Portland. His parents having died some years ago. Services were held in the Methodist church of Canby, that being his former home. Interment was in Zion cemetery. Clayton leaves many friends here and in Canby, who have sympathized with him for many years. Miss M. S. Barlow attended the funeral of Clayton Wolgamot Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes and Mr. Jess went to Portland Friday.

Paul Rodby, of Portland, was visiting Elmer Irwin Saturday and Sunday.

GLAD TIDINGS.

Making a trip to Mt. Angel Monday, we noticed a number of farmers have threshed at least a portion of their grain.

Clover hulling, nothing doing until weather conditions are more favorable. The railroad leading from Mt. Angel to Monitor and perhaps farther on later, is evidenced by the grading now being done, leading north from the city of Mt. Angel and in the direction of Monitor.

Expecting suitable material from Portland Monday evening for finishing pavement on Main streets, Mt. Angel will soon be classed as one of the model towns of the Willamette valley, in point of substantial structures, and progressive and lasting improvements.

Alsyke thus far as to yield, is falling short of last season.

The yield of grain so far threshed, average up with previous harvests.

Mrs. Jewel Knight and husband are visiting now with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Marquam, residents of Marquam.

E. A. Shaver and Geo. Dougherty are through their clover hulling.

Alfred Olson and family have moved into and rented Mrs. Stockwell's house opposite the black smith shop in Marquam.

Pode Jones, besides cutting his own grain has cut many acres for neighbors.

C. Thomas threshed Sunday. Geo. Bentley, Sr., is home again.

C. H. B. Thomas, along with his mother and his son Rowland, were Scott's Mills visitors Sunday.

Ed Albright with his crew of pickers are busy now gathering in his Early Fregle hops. They are making a good yield.

REDLAND.

The buzz and whir of the threshers are heard on every hand. The grain is turning out well.

We are all pleased to see our mail carrier Mr. Whiteman back again.

after a week's sickness. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Brock and daughter, Mabel, are camping at Viola.

Frank Sprague was called to Baker City last week to attend the funeral of his sister.

Mrs. Cassie Lawrence is again on the sick list. The many friends of Melford Hinkle gave him a very pleasant surprise Tuesday evening. After a delightful evening spent, the young folks took their departure wishing the host many years of prosperity.

Mrs. Payne, of Oregon City, spent a few days with her son, Albert, at Mrs. T. Catho's.

Herman Fisher has a carpenter engaged building an addition to his house. He expects to build soon.

Mrs. R. Kerr has a bad attack of rheumatism.

GREENWOOD.

Mr. Clark, of Mount Pleasant, spent a few days visiting with Mrs. Knowles and Mrs. W. H. Jones last week.

Mr. Green has moved his family to Oregon City.

Miss Nellie Knowles is visiting with Miss May Clark, of Mount Pleasant.

Mrs. Boardman, of Portland, spent a few days with her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman.

Our old neighbor, Victor Erickson, of Waldrum, was calling on Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Jones.

W. Tussey and his son, Norman, from Dewitt, Nebraska, are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Hugh Jones. Mrs. Braiker is improving slowly.

Threshing is over in our vicinity and everyone reports a very good crop of oats and wheat and barley turning out 60 bushels per acre.

MACKSBURG.

The fine harvest weather continues. A slight rain, not enough to damage the grain, has made the roads perfect for travel and brought new life into the pasture.

The grain is proving more than satisfactory. Mr. Wiener's oats have turned out 79 and Jess Hepler's 72 bushels to the acre. Geo. Scramlin's are far ahead of either of these in appearance, and promise a phenomenal yield.

J. W. Smith has a corn field that is full refutation of the pessimistic prophecy that Oregon can not grow corn.

The thresher whistle is heard at intervals through all the daylight hours. It is hard to tell which is the most welcome sound, these, or the work signals on the ever nearing P. E. & E. Railroad, telling us that we are to have near market for our farm produce, as well as ready transportation to and from the outside world very soon.

Through all of the busy hum and stir, however, a note of sadness has come to us. We record with sincere grief, the death of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gobel, which took place on Saturday, the 18th, under circumstances of peculiar distress.

The little girl, aged three years, was playing in a barrel of water and must have lost her balance and fallen into the water in such a way as to render it impossible for her to make herself heard. When discovered it was too late to do anything to save her. We wish to extend heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Gobel in this trouble.

Ed Morris, his son, Glenn and A. A. Baldwin, left town on Tuesday morning for a fishing trip to the mountains.

Miss Esther Gardner, of Portland, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. A. Baldwin, returned to her home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burgess, of Friend, Oregon, have taken a hop ranch near Aurora, and intend to set up their home at that place the coming fall.

Mrs. Burgess, with her children, is staying for the present with her mother, Mrs. J. Gibson.

Nelson Bowers has just returned from a huckleberrying trip to the mountains.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Roth, who died last year, is offered for sale. The homestead is, for the present, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Roth with their two small children.

Chris Nofziger has moved his house back from the road to make room for the new residence he is preparing to build the coming fall.

We are happy to say that Glenn Morris has about recovered from the serious accident mentioned in last week's Enterprise and that all danger of permanent disfigurement from it has disappeared.

WILSONVILLE.

Mrs. Marion Young attended the Juvenile fair at Oswego Saturday.

Mrs. J. W. Thornton was the first woman to cast a ballot in our precinct, Saturday.

Anna Ridder visited her brother, Charlie, in Newberg, Friday.

Mrs. Mallory visited her sister, Mrs. Jake Peters, last week.

Rev. and Mrs. May are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Wood.

Mr. Rand is clerking for Mr. Aden, since Mr. Wall's departure.

Mrs. Chas. Epler, of Cornelius, visited her parents Saturday and Sunday, and attended the "Harvest Home," at the German Reform Church, at Frog Pond.

Morris Cronin has been ill for about two weeks, but is now somewhat improved.

Miss Helen Murray was clerk at the election Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Graham and Mrs. Howard left for a vacation at Pacific City, on Monday, where they will join Prof. Graham and family and upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Graham will make their home in Portland, instead of Hood River, as formerly.

Clyde Baker visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Baker, on Saturday.

Grain is being threshed and is turning out wonderfully well here.

Mrs. Rhede and two daughters, Edith and Hazel, of Portland, and Mrs. Wilson and son, motored from the Rose City on Thursday, and spent the day with Mrs. Robde's sister, Mrs. R. W. Graham.

last Thursday and expects to visit her daughter Mrs. M. S. Howard for a few weeks. She was accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Vesta Mulligan, of Salem.

Bert Wallace has a new barn, about thirty of his neighbors gathered at his place on August 10th and raised the barn, enclosed it, put on the sheeting, and partly shingled it for him on that day. Another has been added to Mullino's population, a baby daughter arrived at the home of Charley Daniels, Aug. 11th.

Mrs. E. M. Douglass, of Salem, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Churchill, of this place.

There was a surprise party at the home of R. H. Snodgrass last Friday night in honor of Mrs. Snodgrass's birthday. About forty guests were present.

The school board met Tuesday night and elected E. R. Jones to teach the fall term of school.

Mrs. Lyons, of Linn County, who has been visiting her niece, Mrs. George Crook, returned to her home Wednesday.

Mrs. Berdine and Mrs. Graves returned Friday from their outing at the coast.

STAFFORD.

The weather has cleared off beautifully and the threshers are heard in the land, two being hard at work in this neighborhood, viz: Sharp's and Moser's.

Mrs. Moser, Sr., who was taken to a Portland Sanitarium ten days ago, suffering from a complication of diseases, ending in dropsy, died there at seven o'clock Tuesday evening. She has been a great sufferer for the past two months or more. The funeral was held at the Baptist church, of which she was a member for many years, on Thursday, at 2 P. M.

Fred Moser's little son, Harold, was injured in the head by a horse on Monday, making a bad scalp wound. They took him to Dr. Mount for treatment.

The women turned out in force on Saturday last, to vote on the recall, most of them taxpayers who realize that the money for such foolishness comes out of their pockets, and prefer to bear the ills they have, than to rush to those they know not of.

Therefore we hear the majority of the new voters went strong for Beatie and Blair, but it had been very uncertain weather for the harvest, and a great many men who had grain needing them in the field, were obliged to stay at home and secure their harvest, otherwise we are confident the result of the election would have been reversed.

Lonissa Odenstadt, who is spending her vacation with her mother, invited the young people to the home on Thursday evening, to give a surprise to her brother, and celebrate his birthday. All report a very pleasant gathering.

Susie Schatz has returned to town, after spending some months at home. John Schatz and wife came home for a few days, and proved very handy as helpers when they threshed on Wednesday.

MARQUAM.

The late rain Saturday night stopped clover hulling and threshing. There was three clover hullers running here last week, when the weather permitted and two threshing machines.

Ed Albright commenced to pick his hops last Friday. He has the Early Husal Hops.

Hop picking will generally commence about the first of September.

Miss Bell Gray came home last week from Oregon City where she has been visiting for several weeks.

Miss Myrtle Larkins of Meadowbrook came up Saturday after her sister Hazel, who has been visiting relatives and friends here the last week.

Mrs. J. C. Marquam has the honor of being the first woman to vote on the recall election held in Marquam.

Roy Knight and wife are spending their vacation in Marquam.
