

COLLEGE HAS NEW CREAMERY PLANT

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, CORVALLIS, Ore., Aug. 22.—To provide for the manufacturing and handling of dairy products on a large scale than ever before, the dairy plant of the Oregon Agricultural College has been greatly improved and enlarged by the addition of new equipment.

It is the intention of the dairy department to operate the plant on lines similar to those of commercial creameries. The three main dairy products, butter, cheese and ice cream, will be manufactured under modern factory conditions.

New Refrigerating Machine
A new refrigerating machine both for making ice and reducing the temperature of the cooling room, has been installed and put into operation. "We have a new building and splendid equipment," said Professor R. R. Graves, the newly appointed head of the dairy department who has just arrived from Washington, D. C. "As now adjusted, the plan is amply supplied with material and equipment for student instruction in the practice of modern dairyming. Research work and extension service will likewise be carried on in the laboratories and offices of the dairy department."

"It is the purpose of the department to build up herds of high grade, registered dairy cattle of the four main dairy breeds—Holstein, Friesian, Jersey, Guernsey and Ayrshire. Our offices will be open to assist farmers and practical dairymen throughout the state in the problems of building up dairy herds thereby increasing total production and profits."

DEDICATE NATIONS' PALACE OF PEACE

THE HAGUE, Aug. 22.—The busy Dutch capital is all astir in anticipation of the great ceremony here next week, when a new building and the $1,500,000 gift of Andrew Carnegie to the nations of the world, is to be formally dedicated as the permanent home of the international court of arbitration.

The event will bring together representatives of all the civilized nations. In addition to the special envoys the attendance will include the delegates to the World's Peace congress, which has been holding its sessions here this week and many of the delegates to the approaching meeting of the Interparliamentary Union.

Notable Take Part.
The notable participants in the dedication ceremonies will include Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie. The many judges of the international arbitration court, the foreign diplomats resident in The Hague and all the prominent officials of the government of the Netherlands will take part. The president of the Carnegie Foundation, M. von Karnbeck, will make a speech in French formally transferring the palace to the international court, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs will make a brief speech of acceptance. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the hundreds of guests will make a tour of inspection of the building and its grounds.

Those who have already been privileged to inspect the palace pronounce it an edifice of unusual beauty and magnificence. It occupies a commanding site on the broad avenue connecting The Hague with the popular seaside resort of Scheveningen. The grounds comprise sixteen acres, which once were the garden of the palace belonging to the late Princess Ann Paulowna, the grandmother of Queen Wilhelmina.

Frenchman Draws Plans
The plans for the palace were drawn by M. E. M. Cordonnier, a celebrated French architect. The design of the exterior is pure Dutch. The building is 260 feet square and is constructed of brick and stone. In front is a broad terrace and in the rear is a magnificent grove of trees. The main entrance is approached by an inclined plane instead of a flight of steps. At one corner of the building is an imposing tower clock 260 feet high.

The main floor is to be given over entirely to courtrooms and consultation rooms. The great court, in which the meetings of the international permanent court of arbitration and similar conferences are to be held, is a splendid apartment of a monumental character. It is reached through a wide corridor lined with Greek and Italian marble. On one side of the chamber is a platform and bench for the tribunal. For a space of thirty feet in front of it, protected by a balustrade of carved mahogany, are tables for lawyers, and back of them, the remainder of the room and the several galleries may be occupied by delegates or visitors.

Melville E. Stone's 65th Birthday

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Many congratulatory messages were received at 195 Broadway today to remind Melville E. Stone of his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. Mr. Stone, who has been the active head of the Associated Press for the past twenty years, is a product of the West, having been born in the town of Hudson, Ill. His boyhood was spent in Chicago and in that city he started his career as a newspaper reporter in 1864. After rising to the editor's desk Mr. Stone helped to found the Chicago Daily News in 1875. He disposed of his interests in 1888 and after a three years' vacation in Europe he returned to join the forces of the Associated Press.

It is estimated that the unprecedented number of 50,000 persons are out of employment in Berlin.

BUFFALO BILL HAS GIVEN UP HIS SHOW

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 22.—Col. William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") announces that he has definitely retired from public life. Today, by order of the United States district court, the property of the Buffalo Bill Wild West and Far East shows was disposed of at public sale in this city to satisfy the claims of creditors. The sale marks the end of Col. Cody's career as a showman. So far as public exhibitions are concerned, he has shot the ashes from the last cigar and chased the last Indian.

Col. Cody has turned his seventieth year. During more than half his life he has been a prominent figure in the public eye. Mule driver, pony express rider, stage driver, scout, soldier, hunter, showman—are a few of the occupations which made his career probably the most picturesque of living men.

From the day that his father was killed in a fight that gave "bloody Kansas" its name, William F. Cody was never idle. At the age of 15, already a man in size and strength, he had been herder, messenger and express driver and had won a name as a dead shot and a horseman with few equals.

Under Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson he saw his first Indian fighting. The civil war found him a private in the 7th Kansas Cavalry, an active "Jayhawker" regiment, and for more than 10 years after the close of the war he saw service, first as scout and later as chief of scouts, in the Indian wars. His commanders included Gen. Sherman, Sheridan Miles, Custer, Crook, Ord and Fry—all the famous Indian fighters of the period. It was when he was chief of scouts under Gen. Crook that he won fame by killing in single combat the Indian chief, Yellow Hand, knife against tomahawk.

In 1867 he won his title of Buffalo Bill. It was then that a gang of 1500 men were laying the tracks of the Kansas-Pacific across the plains and were famishing for fresh meat. Cody volunteered to furnish the meat and in 18 months, with his horse Brigham and his favorite breach-loader, "Loretta Borgia," he killed 4280 bison.

Simplifying Court Procedure

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 22.—At the end of this month Alabama will put into effect an important reform in court procedure. On and after September 1 no case can be reversed by the supreme court or any other court in the state on a mere technicality, unless it is shown that the whole cause of the appellant is prejudiced. This change is expected to reduce the work of the court greatly and will mean the saving of large sums for useless legal procedure.

New Rules for Baling Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 22.—New rules as to baling and marking cotton, which the steamship companies are to put into effect the first of the month, are expected to bring about a decided improvement in the appearance of American cotton shipped abroad. Heretofore American cotton has been baled in a notoriously careless manner, which has resulted in an unfavorable comparison in Europe with cotton shipped from other countries. The new regulations will have the effect of changing the bale from a ragged mass with cotton protruding on all sides, to a neat rectangle of burlap. It is believed that the elimination of the losses of cotton from the old bales will more than repay the owners for the extra trouble necessitated by the new regulations.
