DESCRIPTION OF THE 1914 OVERLANDS

The 1914 Overland cars are not radically different from those of the season just past, although they show differences in a number of points, most of the changes being in the matter of dimensions and added equipment, rather than in other respects.

A brief review of the details shows that the motor is very similar in construction to that of the Model 69, of which 40,000 were built during the 1912-1913 season.

The motor is somewhat larger, 4 1/8 by 4 1/2 inches, and have been improved by the adoption of a constant level splash lubricating system. The push rods can be removed without disturbing the camshaft, being held in place by drop forced claws. The operation of the push rods is made almost noiseless by the use of bronze caps fitted over the push rod tops.

In order to compensate for the lower volatility of present day gasoline, the intake manifold has been redesigned and given a smaller diameter. The universal joint is larger than last year to compensate for the increased power.

The three-quarter floating Overland rear axle remains the same as before, as also does the braking equipment.

A roomy cowd dash touring body seating five passengers and finished in dark green with light green stripings and nickel and aluminum trimmings is mounted on a wheel base of 114 inches; its doors are U-shaped, very wide, and hinged at the front on disappearing hinges, so that the sides of the body remain without projections.

At the rear of the front seats, where the passengers' feet occasionally come in contact with the finished body surfaces, a protector strip is provided. The steering wheel is 18 inches in diameter and the steering post carries a carburetor adjusting lever within easy reach of the driver's hand.

The roadster body is of attractive design, also of the cowd dash type, with a 32-gallon gasoline tank at the rear. Back of the tank is a large steel tool compartment rectangular in shape, and large enough to carry regular touring necessities. Both touring car and roadster have verticle tire-carriers in rear, accomodating two spare casings. All spring ends have bronze bushings.

The radiator of the new Overland cars is of an improved type, with large water spaces.

The touring car and the roadster are electrically lighted, current being furnished from a Willard storage battery carried at the right side of the running board and the dash light which illuminates the instruments, such as speedometer, ammeter, etc., is connected with this tall light in series, so that the proper working of the tall light is indicated by the dash light.

The tops are hooked to the bracket of the headlights, which leaves the front of the car unobscured and certainly adds to the sightliness of the covering when the top is up. Touring car and roadster, equipped with electric horn, Stewart speedometer, clear vision ventilating windshield, mohair top, side curtains and boot, tools, jack, pump and electric lights and storage battery included, sell for $950.00 when equipped with Gray & Davis electric engine starter and generator, the price is $1075.00.

The Overland coupe comes equipped with electric lights and with Gray & Davis electric starter and generator. Seating accommodations for four passengers and all seats face forward. Upholstery is of Bedford's cloth and the upper portions of the body interior are in natural wood finish. For the storing of goggles, veils and other articles, there is covered compartment behind the driver's seat which is slightly in advance of the regular seat.

The Overland coupe body is made rather attractive by the fact that the plate glass sides, right and left of the windshield, are round and without the usual unsightly sash, instead of square and encased in wood, so that they give an unobstructed view of the road ahead. The coupe is listed at $1550.00.

BIG POWERS SEEK TO SWAY HUERTA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Great Britain, France and Japan are among the countries who have interposed their influence upon the Huerta administration in Mexico in support of the efforts of the United States to bring about a peaceful settlement of the revolution.

While administration officials were silent today regarding this phase of the situation there was a lively interest manifest in diplomatic circles here as to the probable effect of foreign pressure on the Huerta government.

Mexicans Hope for Delay It was learned that the Mexican authorities hoped President Wilson would not read his message to congress next Tuesday as he had planned and showed a disposition to prolong the negotiations.

Unless some tangible overture, however, is received within 48 hours from the Huerta officials indicating a desire to accept the fundamental proposals of the United States, the president will proclaim to congress and to the world the attitude of this government toward the southern republic.

The fact that diplomats from some of the very countries which not only have formally recognized Huerta, but whose bankers hitherto have floated loans for him, are using their influence on the Mexican administration in calculated to produce something definite shortly.

PERT PARAGRAPHS OF WORLD'S SHOPS

According to the latest reports Russia has 25,513 co-operative societies (mostly agricultural), with a total membership of 6,564,1194.

The puddlers in the employ of the Reading Iron company, Reading, Pa., 3,000 in number, have secured an increase in pay from $4.75 to $5 per ton.

The first serious agitation for less hours of labor, better wages, and protection of operatives in American factories was begun in 1825.

The strike of the granite cutters of Greater New York, which began May 1, has ended, the strikers returning to work with a wage increase of 50 cents per day.

The present year marks the thirtieth anniversary of the first strike of American telegraphers. The strike lasted thirty days and involved 67,000 men.

Oscar F. Nelson, president of the International Federation of Postoffice Clerks, and vice-president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, has been appointed inspector of Illinois.

The International Typographical union is distinguished among American trades unions as being the only one which demands equal hours wages and conditions of work for men and women. The organization now has branches throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba, Hawaii, the Philippines and Porto Rico.

Benefit schemes, emigration and international reciprocity, and the amalgamation of all international building workers' unions are among the subjects that will receive attention at the annual meeting of the International Stone Workers' Congress, which is to be held in Brussels during the second week of October.

CLEVER WOMAN GIVES DISTINCTION TO HER OWN AND HER CHILDREN'S CLOTHES BY A CAREFULLY CHOSEN, AND CLEVERLY DISPOSED NOTE OF CONTRAST

Are you one of the women who think it is impossible to get any individuality into the plain every-day frock? Then you must change that attitude of thought right away. There are women, lots of them, upon whose very limited purse there are so many demands that they cannot afford to clothe themselves any but the plainest of clothes. Yet no one would think of describing their things as commonplace or ordinary. Sometimes it is just a bit of hard work, a little cross-stitch embroidery in black silk on a plain white linen dress. Or again as in 7866, a well-chosen trimming band of contrasting material, with an attractive girdle. Plan Before Buying It is a good idea to plan out your dress before buying the material, and take a sample of the material with you to match up in buying the trimming. But it is in the girdles that the woman who wants to achieve individuality sees her greatest opportunity and she haunts the mark-down

Capture of Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 23.—It will be ninety-nine years tomorrow since a British army, under the command of Gen. Ross, entered Washington, having defeated 600 American soldiers on their way. Plans for an appropriate observance of the centennial anniversary next year are now being discussed.

Promote Hygienic Work

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Local arrangements are complete for the International Congress on School Hygiene, which is to meet in this city Monday for a session of five days. The congress will bring together several hundred notable educators, scientists, health officers and civic welfare workers from the leading nations of the world.

PRUNE MARKET NOW IS MUCH STRONGER

In the prune market now there is a generally stronger feeling than usually prevails at this time of the year, and reasons for this are found in the estimates on the 1913 output for the world as compared with the average of recent years that have been given out by the best known trade authorities. The latest calculations of the experts indicate that the world's production for 1913 will be little if at all above 220,000,000 pounds, though some of the authorities still are counting on an output of approximately 230,000,000 pounds. But even if the latter figure is reached, the world's product will still be materially short of that of last year, which totaled about 285,000,000 pounds. Another fact of interest in this connection is that in addition to the big total shown in last year's crop there was a very considerable carry-over from the crop of the previous year then on hand. This year, with a crop far short of that of 1912, the carry-over is said to be so small as to almost be negligible. Livestock, Meats. BEEF—(Live weight) steers 7 and 8c; cows 6 and 7c; bulls 4 to 6c. Dangerous Dandruff

Will Make America a Baldheaded Nation if Not Checked M. Pasteur, the great French Physician of Paris, once said: "I believe we shall one day rid the world of all diseases caused by germs." Dandruff is caused by germs, a fact accepted by all physicians. Dandruff is the roof of all hair evils. If it were not for the little destructive germs working with a persistency worthy of a better cause, there would be no baldness. Parisian Sage will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks or money back. Huntley Bros. Co. guarantees it. It will stop itching scalp, falling hair and make the hair grow thick and abundant. It puts life and lustre into the hair and prevents it from turning gray. It is the hair dressing par excellence daintly perfumed and free from greasiness and stickiness. It is the favorite with women of taste and culture who know the social value of fascinating hair. A large bottle costs only 50 cents at leading druggists everywhere, and by Huntley Bros. Co. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. HUNTLEY BROS., Druggists

In equipment and furnishing it is declared to be one of the finest in the country.

I. C. S. An Ethical Power Now, gentlemen, just for a moment, I would speak to you, not as an educationalist, but as a preacher of manhood and a lover of his kind. The question of the use of alcohol by the student when studying, has carried me back to the thought. The International Correspondence Schools are not simply educational, they are ethical; they not only make foremen and craftsmen and draftsmen, but they make MEN—in capital letters. For you can never awaken any one to his commercial possibilities without striking up all other possibilities—social, patriotic, philanthropic, intellectual, moral. The moment you succeed breaking up one area of inertia you set vibration moving through every part of the being and all kinds of dormant and stagnant powers are set into healthy motion. When a man's mind gets engrossed with an intellectual occupation and he finds that he has a grip upon the laws and forces of the universe; the saloon, the vulgar and degrading show, the curb-stone loafing, and the hours of insane and fitful waste all seem to be unworthy of him and his self-respect clothes him in a protective armor which helps to keep his entire manhood inviolate. A great American preacher used to speak much about "the explosive power of a new affection," and, having as your life work the duty of both supplying and developing this "new affection"—the love of the best, by which the unworthy and base will be expelled, perhaps unconsciously but surely, from many and many a man. Success to you in your work!

The Trained Man Never Worries When the chiefs put their heads together to hire or "fire,"—the trained man doesn't worry. He knows that there is always a place for him. You can look your job and every man in the face if you possess the training so much in demand everywhere today. The International Correspondence Schools will go to you in your spare time, wherever you live, and will train you to become an expert in your chosen line of work. Such a training will forever take you off the "anxious" seat. It costs you nothing to find how the I. C. S. can help you. Mark the coupon opposite the occupation for which you have a natural liking, mail the coupon today, and the I. C. S. will send you facts showing how you can earn more money in the occupation of your own choice.
