SHOTS WARN NIGHT PROWLERS

Admits Firing Pistol in City and Fined
For Breaking Laws—Women
Corroborate His Story of Affair

Charged with discharging a firearm inside of the corporate limits of the city, Adam W. Wilkinson was fined $5 in the municipal court Monday morning as the sequel to his hunt for "Peeping Toms" in the neighborhood on the hill.

He was arrested midnight Saturday by Fire Chief Mike Long, Charles Surtus, and J. Wyman and the complaint filed against him, though he was immediately released on his own promise to appear in court Monday and meet the charges.

His Story
Wilkinson's story, as told to Chief of Police Ed Shaw, and corroborated by the women of the neighborhood, is that he volunteered to watch about the house of Mrs. January in the Kansas City addition for "Peeping Toms" who were suspected of prowling in that locality. Wilkinson is a friend of the January family and he stayed on the job until a late hour, when he drew his revolver, fired two shots in the air to warn night visitors and started home.

He walked straight into the arms of Long, Surtus and Wyman, who were also looking for "Peeping Tom" and who heard the shots. Wilkinson admitted firing the revolver and was arrested, but was released on his own recognizance by Chief of Police Shaw until Monday morning.

Chief Investigates
The chief investigated the story and talked to the women in the neighborhood who corroborated what Wilkinson had said. The neighborhood has been infested with peepers for the last few weeks and the officers had made an effort to find the men. Wilkinson had started on a little detective work of his own and planned to get the man without knowing that the chief had placed officers on the lookout in the district.

In the last few nights, the officers have heard little in the way of complaint from the peepers, but they have been on the lookout for their presence in the neighborhood.

Canadian Druggists Meet

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 25.—Representatives of the retail drug trade throughout Canada have assembled in Toronto for the annual convention of the Dominion Druggists' association. Two leading questions to be taken up by the convention are the standardization of the preliminary education for druggists and chemists, and the advisability of securing a federal act under which a graduate of any college of pharmacy in Canada shall be permitted to prepare prescriptions and dispense remedies in any of the provinces.

BOY HELD UP IN HEART OF CITY

TAKES ADVANTAGE OF DARK STEPS—TAKE MONEY FROM
OFFICER'S BROTHER

DESCRIPTION OF ROBBER MEAGER

Bandit Orders Victim to Run and Not
Look Back as He Goes Home—
Wants Only Cash and Leaves Watch

Bradley Woodward, 19 years old, was held up and robbed of $3 as he was going home by way of the Fourth street steps at midnight Sunday. Just as he reached the first base of the steps, a man stepped out in front of him, commanded him to throw up his hands and went through his pockets in short order.

Though the boy had a valuable gold watch in his hip pocket, the robber evidently cared for nothing but actual cash and left the valuables that he carried. After he had satisfied himself that the boy had no more money with him, he turned and ordered him up the steps and told him not to look back while he "beat it."

Officer's Brother
The boy is a brother of Night Officer Woodward and he immediately notified the policeman of the affair. The younger brother was so badly shaken by his experience that he furnished the police but a slight clue of the man's appearance and the officers had not been able to locate him up to a late hour last night. It is presumed that the man had come in on a late car from Portland and that he caught the next train out before the officers could be notified of the trouble. The place where the hold-up occurred was on the first base of the steps in the shade of the trees from the bluff and where the boy could see but a few feet in front of him.

Accustomed, however, to make his way home by these steps, he was not alarmed by the possibilities of any trouble and not until it was all over did he have the chance to realize what a beautiful place it is for the highway robber. The only description that he could give to his brother was that the man was short and wore a light suit and a light crushed hat.

The officers believe, however, that the man managed to get away one one of the trains immediately following the hold-up and that he was out of the city before they could be warned of the trouble.

Opening of Toronto Exhibition
TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 25.—With everything in readiness for the public and prospects for a successful season, the Canadian National Exhibition opened its gates today. A wide variety of entertainment has been provided for the ensuing two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Salisbury have gone to Toledo, where they will spend a few weeks. They have made the journey overland with a team.

Taking the Twist Out of "Corkscrew" as Accomplished By Champion Broncho Buster.

Hoopla! There he goes! Bully for you! Stick to it! Yes, that's what the ranchers and cowboys yell, with many a whoopee sandwiched in, when Charles Farra, claimant to the broncho busting championship of the world, performs. This shows just how this darink Oklahoma cowpuncher looks when he's in action. He is riding a vicious pony called Corkscrew. He took the twist out of him at a recent contest in broncho busting in Oklahoma. Perhaps you have seen an imitation broncho busting exhibition at one of the wild west shows, but the real thing is a much different proposition. The life of the rider is constantly in danger, for the ponies try their best not only to unseat their tamer, but to injure or kill him as well.

SCOTS HARK BACK TO DAYS OF FATHERS ON SABBATH LAWS

To keep the Sabbath as their fathers kept it and as it has been made famous by the poems of "Babbie" Burns is the program of the Oregon City Robert Burns society, hereafter.

No more Sunday baseball, no whistling or singing of rag-time, no dances, no amusement that smirks of the wickedness of the world is to be tolerated if the Scots follow out their program and if the faith of the fathers is kept in the way that the fathers kept it. All of the Sunday amusements are to be tabooed in the future and Sunday picnics are, among many other things that "break" the Sabbath, to be placed severely under the ban.

In the judgment of the old Scots, anything that tended toward Sunday amusement was a violation of the Sabbath day. To them, whistling on the Sabbath was criminal and the playing of rag-time music or any other than the church hymns or psalms was looked upon with disfavor. Many of the Scotch here remember their early homes in the country of Bobby Burns and they looked back last night upon the incidents that have happened in their own families in the days when they lived on the Scottish heath.

The ban upon Sunday amusements came when Kennedy and William McLarty gave an address to the members of the society upon the way that the Scots of the old country kept the Sabbath. The change that came over the immigrants when they arrived in the West and their altered attitude on Sunday amusements was discussed at length by the brothers who went into the subject thoroughly and brought to mind incidents in the lives of many of the members of the organization.

Through it all, the poems of Bobby Burns that have made the history of the people of Scotland famous over the English speaking world was thrown into the discussion and the stories that he tells in the lives of the people of that historic land.

Are Enthused
So enthused were the members of the society over the story told of the days when they were back on their native heath, that some of them suggested a return to the stringent Sabbath laws of their fathers and as keen an observance of the day as they held when they lived under a parental roof. To keep the day as their fathers kept it, the Scots will have to taboo all Sunday amusements of every kind. No Sunday baseball, no rag-time music, no picnics, no whistling or singing of anything but the most sacred of the church hymns will be tolerated under the new regime.

A beautiful duet was sung by Misses Isa and Martha McLarty, and "I Love a Lassie" by Miss Minnie Patterson. Besides the McLarty brothers, John Lowry and Major Noble made addresses.

ABSCESS TAKES LIFE OF YOUNG WOMAN

Mrs. Cassie Lawrence, wife of Geo. Lawrence, died early Sunday morning at the Oregon City hospital. Death was due to tubercular abscess. In the judgment of her physicians, she was too weak to stand an operation.

Mrs. Lawrence was the daughter of Frank Wilcox, of Redland, where she is well known and where she has lived for a number of years. She was about 30 years of age at the time of her death and leaves no children. The funeral services will be conducted at the Redland cemetery at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Iowa State Fair Opens

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 25.—With every department well filled with high-class exhibits the Iowa State Fair opened today for a week's engagement. The display of live stock and the various products of the farm and orchard is declared to be the best ever seen here. A trotting meeting of the Great Western Circuit is numbered among the leading attractions of the week.

MASHER IS GIVEN HEAVY SENTENCE

Clifford Anderson, the man who followed Miss Seele several blocks on Main street until she had to run into the ice house for protection, was given 50 days in the city jail Monday morning.

Before the city sentence was given him, he was taken before Judge H. S. Anderson of the county court and examined as to his sanity. The court found, however, that he was not insane and that no state charge could be brought against him. He was then returned to the custody of the chief of police who brought him into court on the original charge.

Sentence will be suspended upon him Tuesday if he agrees to leave town at once and will be immediately imposed if he ever returns.

GIRLS IN LOVE WITH LOCAL OUTING SPOTS

An ideal spot for an outing is on Falls View, Oregon City. At least it was pronounced so in unmistakable terms by Miss Alberta F. Cory, physical director at the Portland Y. W. C. A. and a party of a dozen girls Sunday morning after having spent the night rolled in blankets on the ground.

Miss Cory is admirably fitted to judge of outing sites, as she is the organizer of the "Camp Fire Girls" in Oregon, a movement very similar for girls to what the Boy Scouts is for boys, and which is creating a very wide interest.

When Miss Cory came here from New York five years ago, the Y. W. C. A. was occupying two floors of the Beck Bldg. corner of 6th and Oak Sts. with a membership of 1600. Now they occupy the whole building corner of Broadway and Taylor streets with a membership of 5400.

Not a little of this remarkable increase is due to the inducements offered through the gymnasium and swimming pool where equipment and instruction are of the best, at ridiculously low rates.

Miss Mollie Rose, a member of the gymnasium class had a bonfire prepared for the arrival of the party Saturday night and furnished breakfast Sunday morning, after which several of the party visited the local Presbyterian church.

Republicans to Caucus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—The first step looking to the republican congressional campaign of next year will be taken tomorrow, when the Republican members of the senate and house will caucus to elect a new National republican congress committee. The new committee will meet soon afterward and choose a chairman and other officers.

FRIENDS LEARN OF COUPLE'S MARRIAGE

Word has just been received in the city of the marriage of Elton Hedges Long and Miss Myrtle Adelle Frost, of Oregon City at Vancouver.

Both were well known here and the announcement of their marriage in the Washington city came as a surprise to their friends. Apparently few friends knew of the plan for the information Monday night was news to most of them.

Mr. Long has been an owner of a saw mill in the timber near Oregon City, and is a nephew of Joseph E. Hedges, the attorney.

ST. JOHN'S HAS PICNIC

The ladies sewing circle of St. John's church gave a picnic at Canemah park Sunday. Games, races and other athletic contests were held, for which prizes were given. Excellent music was one of the main features of the day. The committee in charge was Mrs. Frank Chapman as chairman and Miss J. R. Hanney assistant.

Miss Queens Adams, a grade teacher in the Eastman school of Oregon City for the last two years, has resigned her position to take a similar place in the Portland schools.
