

PRETTY WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

Mr. E. A. Schulz, of Portland, and Miss Helen Engelbrecht, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Engelbrecht, this city, were united in marriage at 8 p. m. August 26, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Engelbrecht, by Reverend W. R. Kraxberger, pastor of the Lutheran church.

The witnesses were Henry Boguslawsky and Frank A. Schulz, brother of the groom, both of Portland.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Henry Brandt.

After the wedding ceremony dinner was served to the guests present, numbering forty.

Mrs. Schulz was becomingly dressed in white crepe net, trimmed with point lace and wore a veil held in place with a wreath of lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Schulz left for a short trip to Mt. Hood, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Schriver, returning to this city Wednesday. They will make their home at 545 Malden Avenue, Portland, where the groom has a nicely furnished house in readiness.

GIRLS MAKE QUICK TRAMP TO PORTLAND

In two hours and 25 minutes, four Oregon City girls, armed with their lunch baskets and kodaks, tramped the 15 miles to Portland Wednesday and fell that they have broken the record for the feat.

They left Oregon City at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and started for Central Park in Portland as their destination. They spent the afternoon in the city and caught an evening car home. The girls were Misses Esther and Alice Downer, Evelyn Williams and Mabel Ely.

EXPERTS PROVE ONE MORE WELL IS PURE

W. A. White, an Oregon City architect and builder, has just received from the state board of health, a report on a sample of water from the well on his property on Madison street and while the analysis shows 66 organisms per cubic centimeter, there was a total absence of colon bacilli.

This the second time within a week, that a favorable report has been received from a sample of well water in Oregon City, the other being from the well on the residence property of Geo. A. Hardins.

The neighbors of Mr. White, who use water from the well, as well as Mr. White's own family, are exceedingly pleased to learn that the water is not contaminated and that there is no danger of typhoid resulting from its use.

AN EXPENSIVE ROAD.

Highway Through Mountains of Norway 3,715 Feet Above Sea Level.

In some parts of the United States the geographical conditions make the building and maintenance of good roads almost an impossibility. To construct a good highway through certain sections of the mountains is a stupendous task. But in many sections even short stretches of roads have been built at an enormous outlay of money.

One of the most difficult roads to build—one that perhaps cost as much as any other in the world—was constructed through the deep July snow

Margaret Anglin Prepares to Star in Shakespearean Plays

MARGARET ANGLIN has won a foremost place on the American stage as a gifted and versatile artist. Among the more notable theatrical enterprises that will invite attention the coming season will be Miss Anglin's revivals of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Twelfth Night" and "Antony and Cleopatra." On Sept. 5, preparatory to the beginning of her regular touring season in San Francisco, Miss Anglin will play the "Electra" of Sophocles in the Greek theater at the University of California, where two years ago she presented the "Antigone" which attracted country wide favorable critical comment and placed Miss Anglin in the very forefront of America's emotional actresses of classic roles.

SOUTH TO ENTERTAIN OLD UNION SOLDIERS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 27.—When the Grand Army of the Republic meets here on September 15 for its forty-seventh national encampment, it will be the first time in history that such an encampment is held in the real south. It is true, one national encampment was held in Louisville, but that city was really too far north and too far removed from the actual seat of the war to be considered as part of the real south. It is different with Chattanooga, the immediate vicinity of which was the scene of some of the bloodiest battles of the civil war, including Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain, Orchard Knob and Missionary Ridge.

Old Feeling Dies

Undoubtedly there was a time when the selection of Chattanooga as the place of gathering would have been fatal to the success of a Grand Army encampment. During the first fifteen or more years after the close of the war there was still enough of the intense popular feeling against the North left among the impoverished people of the South to make the selection of a real southern city as the place for holding a Grand Army encampment a matter of doubtful judgment.

GROWERS ARE READY TO HARVEST CROP

Hopgrowers of the Willamette Valley are now waiting to see what will be the attitude of the I. W. W. when the gathering of the hop season begins next week, but for the time there seems to be little or no fear of the agitators resorting here to the tactics employed in some of the California yards a few weeks ago. In that state there was trouble at the outset, and for a few days it looked as if the troublemakers might seriously interfere with the gathering of the California crop. But the disturbance, as a consequence of prompt action on the part of the peace officers, was brief, and since then the picking of the crop in that state has proceeded without interruption.

Army of Pickers

For the gathering of the Oregon hop crop an army of several thousand pickers has already been engaged, and for the most part the force is made up of families who every year go from Portland and other cities and towns of the hopgrowing districts for an outing as well as for the money attraction offered in the hopfields. In California a very considerable portion of the hop crop every year is gathered by transient laborers, who naturally are more susceptible to the influence of agitators than men and women with families.

PRACTICAL MAN GETS NEW JOB AT COLLEGE

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, CORVALLIS, Ore., Aug. 27.—The faculty of the department of commerce, Oregon Agricultural College, has been strengthened by the addition of Mr. Clyde I. Blanchard as assistant professor of stenography.

Professor Blanchard, after graduation from the Kansas City high school, studied at Swarthmore College for one year, and finished his undergraduate work at Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas, receiving a bachelor of arts degree.

His commercial training was acquired in a year's work at Spalding's Business College, Kansas City, a year's work in shorthand at Baker University, and graduate work in the College of Commerce at Chicago University, three years' work in commercial branches, specializing in stenography.

Instructor at Y. M. C. A.

During part of this time he was instructor of commercial subjects in the Kansas City Y. M. C. A., from which institution he received high commendation. Last year he was head of the commercial department of the Ottumwa, Iowa, high school, which position he resigns to come here.

Considerable office experience has accompanied Professor Blanchard's training. For nine months he was secretary to the auditor of the Kansas City Street Railway company, and his resignation from this position called forth expressions of regret both by the auditor and the president of the company.

In addition to his instructional duties Professor Blanchard will be chairman of a stenographers' association for the improvement of stenography and office management throughout the institution.

ROAD ON DYESKAARD PASS, NORWAY.

drifts upon Dyeskaard pass, in Norway. This road is 3,715 feet above the level of the sea, and the workmen were compelled to dig through snow, soil and rock in order to make it passable.

In certain sections of the United States roads have been built through the mountains, but in most instances they are poor and impassable, especially in severe weather.

The roads in the mountains of North Carolina are perhaps the poorest, but are being improved. This section is sparsely populated, and the inhabitants are no longer willing to put up with the poor roads and live shut up in the great mountains, frequently having every approach to the nearest town cut off by absolutely impassable roads.

INDIANA IN THE LEAD.

Hoosier State Has More Miles of Improved Roads Than Any Other.

Rhode Island may have fewer square miles than any of her sister states; but, according to the Good Roads Year Book, she is the only state in the Union whose improved roads amount to half of her total roads. Delaware, her closest rival for smallness, has only 6 per cent of her roads improved. Massachusetts presses her tiny neighbor in this respect by making a showing of 49 per cent of her roads improved. Naturally other states try to discount this primacy of Rhode Island. An Indiana journal accounts for it on the ground that the state is in reality nothing but Providence and Newport and their suburbs.

It then disposes of Massachusetts by the remark that, except for some hills through which only state roads run, that commonwealth is practically one big town. This process of elimination leaves Indiana at the top in the percentage of improved roads. But the Hoosier State already has honor enough in the fact that it possesses more miles of improved roads than any other state, although its 25,000 miles exceed Ohio's supply of improved highways by only a few hundred miles. These two states are far ahead of the rest. Next to them come New York, with 15,000 miles; Washington, with 12,000; Wisconsin and Kentucky, with 10,000 each.—New York Evening Post.

EIGHT-HOUR BILL TO BE VOTED ON IN 1914

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 27.—Petitions asking for the initiation of an eight-hour law for women at the next general election were filed with the secretary of state yesterday afternoon by Mrs. I. B. Garriott a member of the executive committee of the Women's Eight-hour League, of Portland.

The petitions are the same as those which Dr. Marie Equi attempted to file for the special election to be held in November this year. The secretary of state refused to file them for this year's election, and when mandamus proceedings were instituted to compel him to file them he won in the courts.

BUSY DAYS IN STORE FOR COLLEGE BOYS

O. A. C., CORVALLIS, Ore., Aug. 27.—To teach the applied arts in the department of the applied arts in the Oregon Agricultural College, Miss E. M. Florida has been added to the faculty under Professor F. D. McLouth, head of the department.

Following her graduation from the Michigan State Normal College, Miss Florida for a few years engaged in teaching. She then entered Teachers' College, of New York City, where she specialized in the applied arts under the instruction of the celebrated Professor Dow, and received her art degree.

Since then she has been employed as teacher of her specialties. More recently she was director of art instruction in the Summer School of the Michigan State Normal College. Her work in the Oregon College will be instruction in the applied arts—design, color harmony and some clay modeling—as related most closely to the domestic arts.

Squad at Work

The training squad of the O. A. C. football players will be practicing at the Newport beach the eighth of September.

Dr. Stewart and his football stars, past, present and future, leave for Yakima Bay on the seventh, and as arrangements for housing and training have been completed, no time will be lost in beginning work.

A corps of trainers and assistant coaches will accompany the players, who are expected to round into form by the time school opens.

Machine Tested

The refrigerating machine and cold storage plant of the dairy department, Oregon Agricultural college, has been tested and found to be satisfactory. The capacity of the machine is two and one-half tons of ice per day.

CENTENARY OF BATTLE

MORRISBURG, Ont., Aug. 27.—One hundred years ago this autumn occurred the battle of Chrysler's Farm, one of the notable engagements of the last war between Great Britain and the United States. Today the centenary was celebrated with a grand rally of school children of eastern Ontario and a military display furnished by troops drawn from the same section. Tomorrow the celebration will conclude with a program of addresses by men prominent in Canadian public life.

The battle of Chrysler's Farm was fought Nov. 11, 1813, on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence, below Ogdensburg. Sixteen hundred Americans under Gen. Boyd, and 1500 British troops under Col. Morrison, were engaged in the conflict. The Americans were repulsed with a loss of 102 killed and 236 wounded.

THAW WINS TWICE IN CANADIAN COURT

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 27.—Henry K. Thaw won three victories over the New York state authorities today and was locked tonight in the Sherbrooke jail, immune for the time being from the Dominion immigration authorities, after having received an ovation from the townspeople of Sherbrooke that would have done honor to a prince of royal blood.

So demonstrative was the scene in the Superior court when, at the morning session, Judge Arthur Globensky refused to allow counsel representing New York state to be party to the proceedings, that the court subsequently warned spectators that repetition of the cheering, chair climbing, handkerchief waving and general hysteria would mean jail sentences for the demonstrators.
