When the Big Guns Roared In War Game Near New York

Photos by American Press Association.

THE war game as recently played at the eastern entrance of Long Island sound showed that New York city was safe from the attacks of the mock enemy. The coast artillerymen stationed at Forts Wright, Terry and Michie succeeded in keeping the north Atlantic fleet from entering the sound. In the theoretical war the guns of the forts sank most of the battleships. These pictures show how the gunners worked on the big mortars at Fort Wright. The fire of the mortars proved most effectual.

Hop pickers to a limited extent are already passing, headed for the large yards further up the valley, and by next week all yards will be in active operation. Hop pickers appear plentiful.

Roy Morley has a year containing 90 acres on the Butte Creek bottom, one mile south of Marquam, that is surely a sight beautiful to look upon, it is the largest yard in this part of the country.

Jim Jones has been measuring hops for Ed Albring, Early Fugles. His measures for 35 pickers, and as he can't race around enough to work up the required appetite, after 6 o'clock he assists in work about the hop house. James, there is no wonder you are showing age.

Pode Jones, after cutting his own grain, has cut many acres for the neighbors.

A man, resident of Marquam, had the misfortune to lose $120.00 between Mt. Angel and home. He has searched diligently for it, but at last reports had failed to find it.

Neil Jackson will measure during hop picking for Bentley and Hatter. Ole Rue and Dock Logan will act in the same capacity in the 28-acre yard belonging to E. J. Seaman.

Mrs. Usher would like to hire a boy to milk 3 cows each evening during hop picking. Remuneration 25c per m.m.ing, and a good substantial supper.

Joe Vanclève of near Mt. Angel, visited with E. A. Shaver Sunday.

MACKSBURG.

Never has there been a season of more perfect harvest weather than is the one we are enjoying now. The temperature is almost constantly at a degree favorable for work in the harvest field. While the desired humidity from rain continues. Sufficient moisture for the growth of corn and other fall crops is furnished by the heavy night dews. Indeed, the warm, moist atmosphere of the night is bringing the corn forward and fill in out the ears to a most gratifying degree. The O.W. R. & N. Co., we are sure, must receive a satisfactory report from their agent who is to inspect the corn grown from the seed they so generously furnished the ranchmen of this region.

Out of door sleepers, as well as all others who have chance to observe the sky at night must have noticed the great brilliancy of those wonderful planets, Jupiter and Venus. The former shining in the evening, and the latter appearing after two o'clock in the morning. The unclouded state of the sky, for the past month has made these observations an unusual delight.

One of the chief topics of interest in Macksburg at present is the progress of the Willamette Valley Railway. Everyone is elated over the prospect of the completion of the road prior to the scheduled time. Our place will in all probability be well represented at Molalla in September at the railroad celebration, and at the Grange Fair, to be held at the same time.

Dan Roth, with his engine, is employed by the Willamette Valley Railway Co. and is working at Molalla.

Mrs. Ed Burgess of Friend, Ore., and her sister, Mrs. Nettie Vogel, of Hammond, Ore., daughter of Mrs. J. Gibson were, with their little children, guests of Mrs. A. B. Baldwin last Thursday.

Mr. Ed Morris, with his party, returned from the mountains last Friday, having caught over two hundred mountain trout. Mr. Morris reports a trout sixteen inches in length.

Frank Hilton and Jess Hepler started on Friday for a trip to the mountains.

Sol Strubbar and Will Roth are both cutting their oats. Both crops promise a heavy yield at the threshing.

The Directors of the Macksburg school have engaged a gentleman from Kansas as principal for the coming year. Mr. Huston, the principal elected is, with his family, staying at Canby at present.

Miss Egge, of Willamette, has been engaged for the primary department.

Mrs. Glade, with her daughter, Miss Lizzie Glade, is preparing to leave for her farm in Iowa. Their place here is offered for sale, but is to be occupied by a relative, Mr. Jess Hepler and his family until the sale takes place.

Fire Chiefs To Organize

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 20.—Fire chiefs from the leading cities of Ontario gathered here today for the annual convention of their provincial association. The convention will be in session three days. Before final adjournment it is expected that preliminary steps will be taken for the organization of a Dominion association of fire chiefs.

EGGS TAKE ANOTHER JUMP IN PRICE

A further gain of a cent a dozen was made today in the market price for eggs. Receipts of eggs were rather small, while demand, as usual at this period of the season is increasing. Prices of f. o. b. buyers are being advanced even faster than the wholesale market, indicating even higher prices within the immediate future. This should not be taken as a hint to hold back for a probable advance because to bring the extreme price supplies must be first class and held eggs are never in that class at all.

Sales of ranch eggs were made as high as 29c a dozen in the trade during the last 24 hours. There were reports that some creameries were getting more than this, but as they were delivering, this extra charge was probably cartage. Delivery costs money, and someone is paying for it, no matter whether a separate charge is made or not.

One feature of the present situation is the fact that manipulators are not in it. They have become frightened over threatened prosecution for substituting storage eggs for the fresh article, and less sharp practice of this character is shown in the trade today than for many weeks. Some dealers, however, are still alleged to be using the practice to fool buyers. Food officials are now on their track.
