MANY EVENTS ARE ON SCHEDULE OF WEEK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Numerous events of more or less interest and importance are on the calendar for the coming week, and will share public attention with the Shaw case, the developments in the Mexican situation and the proceedings of congress.

The annual meeting of the American Bar association which will begin at three days' session Monday in Montreal, will attract more than ordinary attention because of the unusual prominence of some of the participants. Among those who will take part are Viscount Haldane, Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, former President William H. Taft, Justice Whitely of the Supreme Court of the United States, Senator Elihu Root of New York, and Maitre Labori, one of the eminent leaders of the French bar.

Battle Anniversary
A centennial of interest will be the one hundredth anniversary of the victory of the United States' ship Enterprise over the British cruiser Boxer. The engagement was fought off the Maine coast Sept. 5, 1813, and attained a mournful celebrity by reason of the fact that both the American and British associations which will begin at three days' session Monday in Montreal, will attract more than ordinary attention because of the unusual prominence of some of the participants.

Bryan to Stump.
If his other engagements permit, Secretary of State Bryan will go to Maine during the week and spend two days stumping the Third congressional district of that State, where a special election is to be held soon to choose a successor to the late Congressman Goodwin. William R. Patterson, the democratic candidate, is conducting his campaign largely on national issues, and in consequence the national administration is taking a lively interest in the contest.

Harmony between the great families of Germany will be further shown at the marriage of Princess Augustina Victoria of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen to ex-King Manuel of Portugal, which will take place Thursday at Sigmaringen, with the civil ceremony the day previous. Eighty princes and princesses will attend, including the Prince of Wales, representing King George, and four princesses as bridesmaids.

Hollanders to Celebrate.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 30.—A committee having headquarters in this city has completed all arrangements for the celebration of a new form of "Orange Day" by all Hollanders in the United States. The celebration will begin tomorrow, when all the large Dutch settlements in this country are expected to send cable messages congratulating Queen Wilhelmina on her birthday anniversary and honoring the house of Orange for its century of existence and what it has done for history and the Dutch people all over the world.

Eastern Canada Exhibition.
Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 30.—Canada's Great Eastern exhibition was opened to the public for its twenty-ninth annual engagement today and will be continued through the coming week. In many respects the exhibition this year surpasses its predecessors. Several new buildings and exhibition pavilions have been constructed during the last year and many improvements made in the grounds. The display of live stock, poultry and agricultural products is the best ever seen here.

Great Fall Meeting in Montana.
Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 30.—A fourteen-day race meeting was inaugurated here today under conditions that promise two weeks of excellent sport. The meeting is conducted under the auspices of the Northern Montana Racing association. Many of the best horses seen recently at Butte and Anaconda will be here.

OVERLAND CAP MAKES LONG TRIP

Mr. Graham and Family Tour Over Oregon and California.

Leaving Oregon City on April 18th, in a new 1913 Overland car, Mr. Graham traveled over Oregon and California, 5890 miles. He shipped to the Dalles from Portland on from there went South through Central Oregon and over the Hatcher mountains, to Redding, Cal. He says this is one of the worst pieces of road that he encountered during the whole trip. He found four inches of snow in some places and his was the second car to go over the mountains this year.

Making a complete figure eight of California, he took in all boulevards, irrigated and non-irrigated lands, all principal cities and points of interest; returning from California he took the Coast road to Crater Lake.

This Overland car was the first 1913 car sold by Miller-Parker company.

Mr. Graham stated that he did not have any car trouble on the whole trip. His engine worked perfectly all the way and is in as good condition now as when he left. He ran 5100 miles without a puncture and had to change but three tires on the entire trip.

Mr. Graham says that the Overland car is the best car made to take such a trip as its upkeep is small, the running expenses low and the first cost is moderate. He says he knows of no other car which would stand the trip as well as his 1913 Overland.

Baldheaded Row

Early Piety Not Always the Cause of Baldness

Inasmuch as it is an accepted fact that baldness, falling hair and dandruff are caused by a germ, doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to prevent such calamities is to kill the germs?

And doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to kill these germs is to use Parisian Sage, which Huntley Bros. Co. has so much faith in that they guarantee it to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back?

Parisian Sage is a delightful hair tonic pleasant to use. It is not sticky or greasy, and contains only those ingredients that will surely benefit.

It is now sold by druggists all over America, and by Huntley Bros. Co. for 50 cents a large bottle. It is used extensively by women who desire luxuriant hair with a radiant luster. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

HUNTLEY BROS., Druggists come names.
Goose, Gosling and Joselyn as surnames are corruptions of a word which originally denoted the "Goths." The first Mr. Gander was an individual called "the wolf," while the original Mr. Duck was a "doughy" man.

STRANGE TO SAY, FASHION SMILES ON LITTLE ECONOMICS THIS SEASON, SUCH AS THE BLOUSE AND SKIRT OF CONTRASTING COLOR OF MATERIAL.

It is really easy to look well-dressed this summer for even if you haven't a white skirt left over from last year, and and of the pretty matealaze fabrics the brocaded sponges and ratins will make the prettiest sort of a blouse repeating the skirt material, if it is not too heavy, in the collar, with perhaps a frill edging if of plain net.

Both the models illustrated can be used in this way, 7887 for ladies, and 7894 for misses, 7887 closes at the side-front, the blouse is slightly diagonal effect, and a lap is allowed for in the pattern of the skirt, that may be stitched down, making a foundation for the buttons or snap fasteners.

Only a plain narrow belt is provided, but a yard of bias silk will make a charming girde, and you can arrange it to suit yourself, taking care to stand in front of a mirror while you do it, so that you can set it just right.

Sometimes an inch more or less in the width of the girde, or in the size of knot or bow makes all the difference in the world, but you scarcely realize this until you work out the effect before a mirror. You can have

MADE A GOOD GUESS.

He Had No Thermometer to Tell Him the Temperature.

It often happens on sledge journeys among the arctic ice that the thermometers are broken. In that case the party finds itself without any means of determining the temperature. But Ronald Amundsen, the discoverer of the south pole, says that if the explorer accustoms himself to guess the temperature it is possible to estimate the mean temperature for a month with a fair degree of accuracy. This fact he proved by means of a guessing competition during the winter that his party spent in camp on the great ice barrier.

As each man came in in the morning he gave his opinion of the temperature outside, and each guess was entered in a book. At the end of the month I went over the figures, and the man who had guessed correctly the greatest number of times won the prize—a few cigars. Besides giving practice in estimating degrees of cold, it was a very good diversion with which to begin the day. When one day is almost exactly like another the first hour of the morning is likely to be a little sour. The competition engaged every one's attention pleasantly. Each man's accuracy was awaited with excitement, and one man was not permitted to make his guess in the hearing of the man who followed him. Therefore they had to speak as they came in, one by one.

"Now, Stubberud," I would say, "what's the temperature today?"

Stubberud had his own way of calculating, which I never succeeded in understanding. One day, for instance, he looked about him and studied the various faces. "It isn't warm today," he said at last, with a great deal of conviction. I could immediately encourage him with the assurance that he had guessed correctly. It was —69 degrees F.

The monthly results were very interesting. So far as I can remember, the best performance in any month was eight approximately correct guesses. A man might keep remarkably close to the actual temperature for a long time and then suddenly one day make an error of 25 degrees.

The winner's mean temperature agreed within a few tenths of a degree with the actual mean temperature of the month, and the mean of all the competitors' mean temperature gave a result that was almost exactly correct. So if we had been so unshy as to lose all our thermometers we should not have been entirely at a loss.

ARRIVAL OF AMERICAN ENVOY IN MEXICO.

(Copyright by International News Service).

This photograph shows President Wilson's special representative to Mexico, John Lind, and his wife as they stepped from the train in Mexico City.

Between the Linds is shown W. Bayard Hale, John Lind went to Mexico as President Wilson's special envoy in the interest of peace and says he has reasons to believe something will happen to clear the atmosphere and lessen the strain between Huerta and diplomatic circles at Washington.

United States Senator Elihu Root declares, "I do not believe intervention would solve the problem. The troubles down there were due to Mexico being an idealist and theorist. His dreams were beyond Mexico, and a more practical man was needed."

Great Britain, France and Japan have exerted their influence upon the Huerta administration in Mexico, in support of the efforts of the United States to bring a peaceful settlement of the revolution.
