TO HEAR "KICKS" FROM TAXPAYERS

To correct assessments and hear complaints, the county board of equalization will hold its regular meeting under the law on September 8. The assessment rolls of the county are now ready for the examination and changes that may be made by the county court sitting as a board of equalization. It is expected that there will be a large number of complaints this year as usual and that those taxpayers of the county who feel that their assessments have been made too high and are above their estimate of the value of the property will appear in person and file their objections with the board at this time.

Persian Legend About Goats. In Persia there is a legend regarding the goat, which tells us that the goat, without fault of her own, excited the prejudice of mankind until her life was unbearable. The powers then made it possible for her to find sustenance on inaccessible mountain tops where man could not molest her, and she was given the power to find by instinct the leaf of healing, so that she would never become ill. And after centuries of isolation she was to return and live again among the haunts of men, to be a "blessed" animal and to be indispensable to his needs, alone having power to save him from many troubles.—Farm and Fireside.

Do the Classics Help Us? The answer lies in one little word, art. The classics, more than any modern literature, teach us art, and art is the conscious purpose of man to make this world more beautiful. Philip Sidney says that the object of poetry is to make this too much loved world more lovely; I should extend his definition a little further and say that the object of art is to make this world more lovely, more lovable and more loved.—Henry D. Sedgwick in the Atlantic.

Foiled Himself. In Kansas City a woman was suing the city for damages because she had tripped over a step in the sidewalk. The attorney who represented the city said all through the trial that the step was no higher than the step to the witness chair in front of the jury, and "you know, gentlemen of the jury," he said scornfully, "no person would be likely to trip over that step there." A moment later the attorney started to pass the witness chair, stumbled over that very step and fell sprawling. He arose, red with shame and anger, and the roar of laughter from the jury and spectators convinced him that he had lost his case.

ROOM FOR GOOD DEEDS. We often hear of persons of means and leisure who are bored and tired of life. Oh, what a criminal loss of opportunity to make themselves and the world happier. Unhappy indeed is he who desires to die so long as there remains to him one sacrifice to make, one joy to create, troubles to prevent, tears to dry, misery to alleviate.

CHANCE GAMES TO BE BARRED

COUNTY FAIR WILL ALLOW NO GAMBLING ON ITS GROUNDS DURING FOUR DAYS

ALL SHADY DEALS ARE BANNED

Knife Racks, Ring Devices, and Other Schemes of the Kind Will Not be Permitted This Year

There will be no gambling or games of chance at the Clackamas County fair, to be held this year at Canby on September 24, 25, 26 and 27. Judge Grant B. Dimick, chairman of the board of directors, has issued strict orders that no concessions shall be let for any "paddle wheel," "knife rack," "ring game" or other device of chance, and there will be a competent police force on duty at the fair grounds at all times to see that no "three card monte men" or "shell games" make their appearance.

There will be no debarment of amusements at the fair, however, for already many concessions have been granted to legitimate amusement enterprises of the first class. A section of the exhibit field has been set aside for these attractions, and while they will be a part of the regular county fair offerings, they will not in any way detract from or interfere with the regular county fair features.

French actress, pantomimist and author, has completed a three-act play, "La Cordelette" dealing with the period of the French revolution, which is to be produced shortly.

The American Music Hall in Chicago is to be operated this season on lines similar to the New York Winter Garden. Lew Fields in "All Aboard" will be one of the early attractions. Reginald De Koven, Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf have written a comic opera, "Her Little Highness," which is to be given its first hearing within another week or two at the Tremont theatre, Boston.

"COLUMBUS." S. STEPHEN'S celebrated hall was in learning's pomp that day, For there a robed and stately crowd Pressed on in long array. A mariner with simple chat, Confronts that concave high. While strong ambition stirs his heart, And burning thoughts of wonder part From lip and sparkling eye. What hath he said? With frowning face, In whispered tones they speak And lines upon their tablets trace. Which flash each ashed cheek. The inquisition's mystic doom Sits on their brows severe; And, bursting forth in visioned gloom, Sad heresy from burning tomb Groans on the starting ear. Courage, thou Genoese! Old Time Thy splendid dream shall crown. Yon western hemisphere sublime, Where unshorn forests frown, The awful Andes' cloud wrap brow, The Indian hunter's bow, Bold streams untempered by helm or prow And rock of gold and diamonds thou To thankless Spain shalt show. Courage, world finder! Thou hast need, In Fate's unfolding scroll Dark woes and ingrate wrongs I read, That rack the noble soul. On, on! Creation's secret probe, Then drink thy cup of scorn And, wrapped in fallen Caesar's robe, Sleep like that master of the globe, All glorious—yet forlorn. —Lydia Huntley Sigourney.

HER CHICKEN PIE. "JACK, dear," she thoughtfully began, "It was a tender hearted man Who killed this bird that you and I Are eating in my chicken pie." "Yes," she went on, "it must be so. Dreading to deal the fatal blow, I think, from all that now appears, He hesitated years and years. —Lippincott's Magazine.

NO SUCH THING. THERE'S no such thing as "down an' out." Folks don't know what they're talkin' 'bout When they throw up their hands an' say, "There's no more luck to come my way." As long as you have hand to toil There's food to gather from the soil. As long as you have ears to hear There's somethin' worth your learnin' near. While you possess a voice to speak, There's some one who your words will seek; There's disappointment an' there's doubt, But no such thing as "down an' out." —Washington Star.

IN MEMORIAM. SOMEWHERE along the endless miles Of blue green ice and dove white snow The dull sun smiles o'er feathered isles Where men lie dead below. ANTARCTIC winds your keen ears heard Their last faint cry. What did they say? Was it of home, the faltered word, As they knelt down to pray? DID their brave eyes fight creeping sleep That sweetly numbs the freezing blood And did they see beyond the deep The vision of their God?

COULD, cold their beds, but who shall say Their memories shall not live and grow? Their names shall know no yesterday. Their deeds no sunset glow. —Percy Shaw.

THE YOUNG GIRLS' CLOTHES ARE DISTINCTIVE IN STYLE WHILE SIMPLE IN LINE

Fashions have always arranged themselves, and what is fashionable always becomes agreeable to the eye in time. There is really charming originality about the new garments.

Perhaps it is due to the fact that at last there is no longer the painful attempt to flatten out every one of nature's curves nor to compress the waistline into a smaller circumference. Everything is left very much as nature intended it to be. The peculiar manner of draping many of the gowns is one of the important details which is of much consequence.

One of the most attractive models featured for the season is brought out in the figure No. 7843. This lovely gown is adaptable for charmeuse or crepe de chine in one of the new midnight blues. It is suitable for a young woman who is in search of an informal costume of this character.

It closes at the back, and has a tucked yoke or bosom front which is quite smart. The three-quarter length sleeves are designed in one with the bodice.

A frill at neck and on sleeves is up-to-date in every particular. The skirt has a tuck above the hem which gives it added charm, and the draped sash of contrasting silk or satin adds to its attractiveness.

To wear with the separate coat there is not a prettier skirt than the one shown in No. 7701. You can make this up in serge or some fancy worsted fabric. Plaited cheviot is very good and is excellent style this year. The pattern is cut in three sizes, 14, 16 and 18 years. It has a hip yoke that is becoming to the girlish figure. For size 16, use 3 yards 36-inch material.—15 cents.

YOU MAY HAVE STYLE BUT Have You the Stay? Which is the real foundation of a Corset? If Not, Try a Nu Bone

Those thousands of women throughout United States who have worn this remarkable fashionable garment say: "It is the first and only perfect corset," not only because of its many correctly stylish models, but more important because of the correct construction of the Nu Bone corset, particularly the boning.

No more permanent bends at the waist line, no cutting through cloth at top of corset, and an official guarantee with every corset. DO NOT CONFUSE NU BONE WITH 1-wire stay garments; it's different and the most corpulent get perfect support. It's a Pleasure to show you.

Martin H. Glynn, Acting Governor Of New York Due to Impeachment

Photo copyright, 1913, by American Press Association. Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York became acting governor of that state after the impeachment of Governor William Sulzer for alleged private use of campaign checks. Mr. Glynn, who is regarded as friendly to Tammany, which brought about the Sulzer impeachment, did not take up his duties as acting governor, however, without a fight on the part of the accused executive. Governor Sulzer held that he was governor until the court of impeachment had found him guilty. Mr. Glynn, however, acted under the provision of the state constitution which provides that in case of the impeachment of the governor the lieutenant governor becomes acting governor until the result of the trial is known. If the governor is found guilty the lieutenant governor then becomes actual executive. The acting governor is shown seated at his desk.

He Collapsed.

"How's your husband, Mandy?" "He's 'po'ly, miss, very 'po'ly. He ain't able to do nuffin' at all." "What's the trouble?" "Why, jes' a few weeks ago I axed him if he couldn't carry four washin' to your home, ma'am, an' de idee give him such a stitch in de side dat he jest 'bout sick all de time."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Crushing the Golfer.

"I'm sorry to trouble you, madam, but you are directly on the line of our drive. Will you kindly move one way or the other?" "Certainly not. I heard you shout very rudely, but I've no intention of moving. I should have thought that a gentleman, when he saw me here, would play the other way."—London Punch.

An Unmentioned Ancestor.

Mr. B. is very proud of his ancient lineage and never lets slip an opportunity to boast of it. At a dinner where he had been unusually rampant on this subject a fellow guest quieted him by remarking: "If you climb much farther up your family tree you will come face to face with the monkey."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Very Irritating.

"All ointments are soothing, aren't they?" "Not all—disapp—ointment aren't."—Boston Transcript.

WARNING

Since its introduction into the United States, the sales of Parisian Sage have been phenomenal. This success has led to many imitations. Look out for them, get the genuine. See that the girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. Parisian Sage is the quickest acting and most efficient hair tonic in the world. It is made to conform to Dr. Sangrebon's (of Paris) proven theory that dandruff, falling hair, baldness and scalp itch are caused by germs. Parisian Sage kills these dandruff germs and removes all trace of dandruff in two weeks, or money back; it stops falling hair and itching scalp and prevents baldness. And remember that baldness is caused by dandruff germs, those little hard working, persistent devils that day and night do nothing but dig in to the roots of the hair and destroy its vitality. Parisian Sage is a daintily perfumed hair dressing; not sticky or greasy, and any woman who desires luxuriant and bewitching hair can get it in two weeks by using Parisian Sage. 50 cents a bottle at Huntley Bros. Co., and druggists everywhere. HUNTLEY BROS., Druggists

TALK AND FIREWORKS TO WELCOME ROAD

Not Tender All Over. A beggar had been for a long time besieging an old, gouty, limping gentleman, who refused his mite with great irritability, upon which the mendicant said: "Ah, please your honor's honor, I wish Providence had made your heart half as tender as your feet!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Fable of the Vegetable Lamb. When cotton first came to Europe to make its principal centre in Lancashire it was the subject of the quaint and wonderful fable of the "Vegetable Lamb." The fluffy white fibers of the bursting cotton pod so resembled sheep's wool that travelers reported that in Tartary there grew a shrub the fruit or boll of which contained "withinnne a lyttle Beaste in Flesche, in Bone and Bloode, as though it were a lyttle lambe with outer wool." After the lamb had been eaten the wool was made into cloth, continued this story, which is the earliest European account of the manufacture of cotton.—London Standard.

Many Oregon City people are planning to go to Molalla September 19 and 20, when the recently incorporated city will celebrate the completion of the Molalla-Canby branch of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern railroad. Members of the Clackamas County Automobile club will make the run in a body and farmers from the surrounding country will be on hand to enjoy the festivities. The program, as arranged, includes concerts by four bands, daylight fireworks, speeches by President Robert Strahorn of the new line, and others; a reception at the Molalla Commercial club, and a special demonstration when the first train over the new line pulls into town. The Portland, Eugene & Eastern will not only put Molalla into direct rail communication with the rest of the state, but will also open up a wide sweep of agricultural country and provide modern facilities for its shipping needs. Marked development is expected to follow the advent of the road.

GLADSTONE TO HAVE NEW LIGHT SYSTEM

The Gladstone Commercial club has endorsed a plan of street lighting for that city and has submitted its recommendations to the city council for action at the next regular meeting on Tuesday night. Thursday night the club held an important meeting at its hall in Gladstone and talked of several improvements that are planned there. General improvement in the lighting system was discussed and a final recommendation made to the council in favor of bracket lamps for the main streets.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff. The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp, and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. HUNTLEY BROS. CO.
