Because the Portland company had not signed the crossing agreement in spite of the fact that it is said to have had it for several months, the officials started on the Webster Acre tracts, of the Clackamas Southern refused to near Milwaukie, and the graders, about fifty in number have been workallow them to make the crossing at ing each way. If the pace is kept up, Liberal and ordered the work stop-ped until the agreement was signed. In the pace is kept up, it is thought that within 60 days the grade will have been completed as far grade will have been completed as far F. M. Swift, general manager of the this way as the Clackamas river. James Roots of Boring, was in Ore Southern, was notified Friday afternoon that the agreement had, at least, been signed by the Portland line and he instructed him men to allow the other company to put in the crossing in accordance with the terms of the understanding. According to F. M. Swift, the oppocharge of the grading work at sition road has an agreement to enter Molalla on September 19 and that it sees it is an impossible feat to make the connections by that time. He bemeans business lieves that the road, as an excuse wanted to declare that the Southern had been the cause of the delay and had not allowed its lines to cross at the Liberal junction.

Mr. Swift also says that he has offered no opposition to the other line and has made no effort to prevent its getting into Molalla on time but that he did insist that the company should sign the crossing agreement before an inch of track was laid at the junction point,

The difficulty between the roads came yesterday as did also the settlement of the difference of opinion that has existed.

MAY ARREST WOMAN WHEN SHE LANDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 .- That Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, the militant En-glish suffragette leader now on her way to this country, may be denied the right to land, on the ground that she is a fugitive from justice, was intimated today by immigration officials. Superintendent Baker of the Ellis Island immigration station said it had not been decided definitely how o treat the expected visitor.

Mrs, Pankhurst was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for instigating outbreaks of suffragette militancy, be gan a hunger strike, was released lest she die for lack of food, rearrested as soon as she had partly recovered, again released and rearrested over and over again, until finally, while out on leave, and with part of her sentence still hanging over her, she went to France.
