WON'T RELEASE HER HUSBAND OTHER WOMAN GOES TOO

TWO WOMEN HAVE FIGHT OVER MAN

WIFE WINS AFTER HUSBAND ASKS TO BE FORGIVEN AND MAKES PROMISES

FORGETS AND DROPS HER CASE

Refuses to Prosecute When He says That He Wants to Come Back— Agrees to Leave Other Women Alone

"I'll let him stay there in jail for ever before I'll lift one finger to get that woman out too."

With that answer, Mrs. Charles Nolen refused to get her husband out of jail when she learned that Justice John Seivers would not release him unless a bond was filed for the woman, Jane Curry, at the same time.

Though she had kept the constables of two counties and the police of several cities busy for a number of days until they found her husband, she took him back with open arms and dropped the case that she had brought against him when he was arrested again and taken to her in Portland by the officials here.

After her refusal to get her husband out if she had, at the same time, to release the woman who had caused her all of the trouble, the justice released both of them on their own recognizance and the officers promptly rearrested the man on the charge of desertion and took him back to Portland to stand trial.

When he arrived there, he made iron clad promises to his wife that no woman would ever entice him away from her again and she welcomed him back and immediately declared that she would refuse to prosecute him under the complaint she had brought.

For 20 minutes in the justice court the two women eyed each other with all of the hatred of their sex as they listened to the proceedings in the court. Neither said a word to the other since the trial began and neither would recognize the other in the room.

"Doesn't she look the limit?" asked Mrs. Nolen after she had eyed her enemy for several seconds. "My, what a hard lot she must be."

The battle for the possession of the husband came to a close Saturday when the wife took him back and dropped the proceedings that she had brought against him. Though the police, the sheriff's offices, and the constables of two counties have been hard at work on the case for several days the matter was dropped when the contrite husband begged his wife to take him back and promised that no woman on earth could ever again entice him away from her or out of the place in the family that belongs to him.

Jane Curry lost the fight Saturday and was released after the battle was over. For several days the officers have had the case before the court.

HILL INTERESTED IN DEEPER CHANNEL

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 6.—Profoundly impressed by the importance to all commerce of the movement to deepen the channel over the Columbia river bar, James J. Hill has written to the chairman of the ports of Columbia committee, Dr. Alfred Kinney, saying within a few weeks he will make a special trip to the mouth of the Columbia.

Thus he will be enabled to determine what he can do to cooperate with the campaign and add strength to the organization which is already the largest west of the Mississippi river, drawing membership from the entire district drained by the Columbia, and including five states.

The mouth of the Columbia is now the ocean terminus of the Hill lines. The Hill interests expect to operate ships out of the port of the Columbia along the coast, and have also been preparing for the commerce of the Panama canal, which will be transhipped from ocean vessels to the western inland.

CHURCH TO LAUNCH CLUB FOR BOYS

An enterprise that bids to become very popular among the boys of this city is launched by Rev. George Nelson Edwards, pastor of the Congregational church, in the shape of a boys' club.

Although the details of the plan have not been worked out as yet and a name has not been adopted, the principal features are settled. A large and modern gymnasium will be fitted up in the basement of the church and an instructor will come once each week from Portland to work with the boys.

Such a movement will do much good, it is said, not only in developing the boys but also in bringing them into closer touch with another, even though Oregon City now has a Boy Scout company.

It is possible that this new society debating or literary work but these may branch out in other lines such as sports are far from settled.

MUNICIPAL ROAD MAKES NICE PROFIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Returns of the municipal railroad, the first in the United States owned and operated by the public, showed that August receipts—and profits—eclipsed those of any month since the road was first put in operation.

In all the city road took in $50,570.00 in August, an increase of $3,733.10 over July, when the receipts were $46,836.90. And July's receipts were the biggest up to that time.

Fire Chiefs From Many Parts of the World Attend Big Convention In New York and See Auto Wonders.

Over 1,000 delegates—1,200, to be exact—made arrangements to attend the forty-first annual convention and exhibition of the International Association of Fire Engineers in New York city during the week of Sept. 1-4. They represented not only this country, but Europe, Africa and Australia. For the exposition were gathered many types of modern fire fighting apparatus, including the latest in auto fire engines, trucks and hose wagons. Fire Chief John Kenon of New York had arranged to show the latest auto machines of his department to the visitors. According to the program, two features were considered especially interesting. One was the parade of 1,500 regular firemen and 2,000 volunteers, and the other was the unveiling of the Firemen's monument, erected at a cost of $100,000. Pictures of an auto truck and an auto fire engine used in the New York department are here shown, with a portrait of Chief Kenon.

Wants to Marry and Buys Several Kinds of County Licenses

When Dr. Clyde Mount secured his marriage license Saturday from County Clerk Mulvey, he bought, at the same time, almost every kind of a license that the county has for sale.

Among the list were hunting and fishing licenses, together with the one that allowed the minister to perform the ceremony. The license was issued in the name of Clyde Mount and Myrtle Parker.

The clerk also issued other licenses to Edwin G. Roberts of the Williamette Pulp & Paper company to Miss Margaret Gertrude Fairclough; Thomas Henry Kirbyson and Miss Minnie Mae Clark; John Edward Sinclair and Miss Eva Hart.

Justice John Seivers performed the ceremony after the license was issued to Mr. Sinclair and Miss Hart.

OTHER CITIES WANT BULL-RUN WATER SUPPLY

Should Oregon City decide to tap the Mount Tabor reservoir and get water from the Bull Run supply, the other cities along the line would put in their applications to fill their city mains from the same source.

Milwaukie has already jumped into the lead in the demand for water from the Portland reservoir and plans to help Oregon City pay for the expense of bringing the supply down from its mountain source to the people.

With the other towns on the main line from Mount Tabor it is estimated that the cost of supplying the city with the water from the new source would be materially reduced.

Rev. Mr. J. R. Lanborough, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has returned with his family from a month's vacation at Olympia, Wash.

As so many of my friends have asked for my recipe for canning corn I have concluded to send it to the papers, so others may try it, as it beats the old way of cooking in the ears, also saves work.

To Can Corn
Nine cups corn, 2 cups water, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup salt. Boil ten minutes after mixture begins to boil. Seal boiling hot in Mason jars (use new rubbers), and set away in a dark cool place on their tops. Keep in that position.

When wanted for use pour out contents of jar in large dish, pour on cold water, stir a few times, drain off a couple of times, pare as fresh corn, cook in granulated ware and fill jars to overflow.

I have used the above recipe four years without losing a jar. Do not be alarmed if you see the salt gather around the edge of lid; if it is not leaking it is all right.

METHODIST PREACHER PLANS TO MAKE CHURCH HOMELIKE

Dr. T. B. Ford, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, has returned from what he considers one of his most pleasant vacations and is forming plans to make his church even more popular in the future than it has been in the past year.

Dr. Ford said yesterday that it was his ambition to make every one feel at home in his church and carry out the slogan "The Church of Cordial Welcome" to the letter. Dr. Ford invites all strangers and non-church goers to attend his services.

Dr. George Nelson Edwards will preach in the church's duty in solving industrial questions when he occupies his pulpit at the 7:30 o'clock service tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Too many eggs and not enough other kinds of edibles won Earl Power a divorce here today. Power told Judge Graham that while he was employed in the Mechanic's fair library in San Diego, and later in the La Jolla Biological survey station, his wife, Francis, never gave him any lunch and nothing at his other meals but eggs, hastily scrambled. He also complained that she annoyed him by flirting. A decree was granted.

Legal Battle Finally Settled

A long legal controversy came to an end on August 28 in the Clackamas County court in Oregon City, when Judge Eakin awarded the custody of Gilbert R. Hamilton to his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, of 1031 East Twenty-second street, North, this city. The case has been in court for the past two years.

HUSBAND BEATS AND STABS HER

WIFE ASKS FOR DIVORCE ON GROUNDS OF CRUELTY AND BAD TREATMENT

WANTS HEAVY ALIMONY ORDER

Requests Court to Give Her Fund and Temporary Relief—Other Cases are Filed in Office of County Clerk

Because he had unmercifully beaten her and had stabbed her with a knife, Helen Peters asked a divorce decree from Alphonse Peters Saturday in the circuit court.

She asked in the decree $500 permanent alimony and $75 temporary alimony to cover the costs of the suit. They were married at Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 27, 1901, and have four children as the result of the marriage, Jeanette, 10 years, Eleanor nine years, John, aged seven years and Rose, aged five years.

The complaint recites several instances of cruelty and inhuman treatment with which the wife charges the husband and asks for a decree on the grounds that the life had become so unbearable that she could no longer live with him.

Margaret Haralampous filed a complaint against Anastasios, her husband, on the grounds of cruelty. They were married at Portland, February 5, 1913, and she asks her maiden name of Margaret E. Farrell.

ENGINEER ASKS MAYOR FOR JOB

LOSE NO TIME IN FILING THEIR APPLICATION FOR PLACE IF CITY BUILDS LINE

WANT TO SUPERINTEND WORK

Present Recommendations From Other Employers as to Ability in Handling Large Construction Gangs

Several Portland engineers have been pestering Mayor Linl E. Jones since the city council of Portland decided that Oregon City could have the Bull Run water supply.

The engineers have been applicants for the position of consulting engineer on the work that will have to be done during the construction of the pipe line and they have all filed with the mayor their recommendations for the place.

It is generally understood that the construction of such a line with the engineering feats that it would involve will require the presence of a consulting engineer. The Portland men have wasted no time in the matter and have their applications with the mayor for the place if the city decides to go ahead with the work.

Do You? Yes We Mean YOU

Do you ride on a local train when you can get a fast express? Do you write when the telephone is at hand? Do you walk when a fast street car is available? Do you light your house with candles when you can use electricity? Certainly not.

Do you know that the so called news of the day, the social events, the sports, the disasters are only one side of it? Do you realize that often the things of most immediate and personal interest to you are told in the advertising?
