

EGG QUOTATIONS ARE REPORTED HIGHER

EGG prices are climbing higher, continuing the tendency that they have shown for the last few days.

On the other hand, the tomato market has been weak and gives no sign that conditions will be materially improved by the heavy shipments that are arriving from day to day.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. HAMMOND

Mrs. Susan Frances Hammond, wife of R. H. Hammond and mother of Mrs. D. Thompson Meldrum, died Thursday at 1 o'clock a. m. at the home of her mother, Mrs. M. O. Moore, at 1808 East Tenth street, Portland.

Mrs. Hammond was, before her marriage, Miss Susan Frances Moore. She was born in Marion county, Oregon, April 7, 1861, married Nov. 15, 1882 to R. H. Hammond. Her home was in Klamath Falls, where she lived two years with the exception of the one month she has spent in Portland taking treatments for valvular heart trouble, which was the ultimate cause of her death.

She is survived by her husband, R. H. Hammond, two daughters, Miss Bessie Hammond, of Portland, and Mrs. D. Thompson Meldrum, wife of the county surveyor of this city, her mother, Mrs. M. O. Moore, Portland. Her father, Wm. S. Moore, died 15 years ago. Two brothers also survive her, Rufus S. Moore, who is at present in Europe and was the only one present at the funeral; Chas. F. Moore, of Klamath Falls; three sisters, Mrs. L. L. Bellinger, of St. Johns, Miss Bertha Moore an English teacher in Portland high school, and Miss Henerita Moore, a teacher in the University of Idaho at Moscow.

The funeral services were held from her mother's residence in Portland, Dr. Boyd of the First Presbyterian church of Portland officiating. Burial was made in Mt. View cemetery. Rev. W. T. Milliken had charge of services at the grave. The pall-bearers were, Tom Fairflower, of Portland; Don Meldrum, Henry Meldrum, this city; Gordon Bellinger and Louis L. Bellinger, of St. Johns. The floral offerings were beautiful.

REGRET. Not with the aid of countless year Can I erase from memory The thought of what you were to me, And yet Methinks my grief would lose its sting, If you'd return that diamond ring. (N. B.—It is not paid for yet.) —L. B. Coley.

MABEL'S CHITCHAT

Scraggy Necks Avoided if Little Trouble Is Taken.

A CURE FOR "SALT CELLARS."

Love of the Picturesque Makes Mediocrity Collars Both Popular and Scarce in the Shops—They Are Easy to Fashion at Home.

Dear Elsa—Ever since every woman has been displaying her throat swan like and otherwise, I have been swathed in high collars unfashionable and uncomfortable, particularly during the hot weather. I couldn't tempt the funny man who loves to discard pictorially upon feminine "salt cellars" to have one more insane joke at my expense—hence my martyrdom in the just and good cause of appearances.

Well, my dear, I'm happy now and throat free. Now don't misinterpret this remark as Dick did, and look for my head on the couch, but be sensible and listen to what I've got to say on the subject.

To start out in real advertising fashion, "Nobody need have a scraggy neck if they will take the trouble." What I say is, that I have subdued my salt cellars and my scraggy neck is a thing of the past. You know that I am nothing, but "a rag and a bone and a bank of hair," and never could wear a decollete frock with any degree of becomingness.

Now all my friends in sight envy my full, firm throat; I've no loose skin under my chin and not a single sign of a salt cellar.

And the remedies I used were so simple. An acquaintance who has studied physical culture in Sweden taught me three head and neck exercises which have had such good results that I feel it would be the height of selfishness not to share with you who are of the lean kind too.

When doing the exercises the neck should be quite bare. The best place is to do them in one's kimono, night and morning, and to undo one's blouse at the throat during the day.

Now for the exercises: First, stand erect, look straight in front of you, then, keeping the body quite still, let the chin sink slowly till it reaches the chest. Raise the chin and move the head backward as far as it will go without strain. Repeat these movements from five to ten times. The great thing to remember is that all head and neck exercises must be done slowly and evenly. Quick, jerky movements are useless and dangerous.

Second, raise the chin, hold your head rather in the position of a hen drinking and then turn the head, first to the right as far as it will go, then to the left. Do this five or ten times.

Third, hold the head quite straight and take a series of short, quick breaths, puffing out the base of the throat with each breath. In addition to these exercises you can if you like massage the neck thoroughly with benzenated lard every night; it makes the skin smooth and white. I have found.

While I'm prating of myself I know, Elsa, honey, that you are just dying to learn why I have not sent you parcel post the Mediocrity collars you wanted. Well, here's the reason: they're tremendously hard to find, for you must know that these picturesque neck addenda are having a wonderful popularity this season and it's almost impossible to get a Mediocrity at a reasonable price at this late day. The dressmakers are therefore reaping a harvest, for a well shaped Mediocrity collar of fine lace or embroidered batiste has become the stamp of an exclusive costume turned out by a private dressmaker.

Yet they are so easy to make that you, Elsa, could turn one out in an hour or so. All they require is skilful wiring, for the effect must be soft and the flare just right.

Plaited frills and shaped lingerie materials can be bought as cheaply as 25 cents a yard. They are to be basted inside a coat collar or a dressy blouse waist. Such a finish is dainty and becoming particularly on a coat, as it keeps the unbecoming collar from close contact with the skin.

Until you hear from your very negligent friend use one of these frilly expedients and bless yours devotedly, MABEL.

For Those Who Entertain. What has been served at company luncheons and dinners is so soon forgotten by the hostess that she may unconsciously repeat her bill of fare for some of the young matrons in a fast growing suburb, where the young married folk entertain one another a good deal, keeps a book which is proving of great value to her.

In it she records the names of the guests invited to a luncheon, tea or dinner, and on the same page the bill of fare for the meal, with a memorandum, about the decorations for the table. Her book not only prevents her from repeating the same bill of fare for the same persons, but also offers her many suggestions of reasonable dishes.

New Recipes. A cooling dessert is Lalla Rookh, which is nothing more than a sherbet glass filled with any kind of water ice that has a large spoonful scooped from the center, which is filled just before serving with creme de menthe cordial, brandy or rum. Pineapple or orange ice is especially good with this combination.

All in the Game. "Harold, you mustn't eat all the peanuts, even if you are pretending to be a monkey. You must give sister some."

"But, mother, I'm pretending she's some kind of animal wot doesn't eat peanuts."—Life.

OLD GRAVE REVEALS ANTIQUE TRINKETS

A very interesting old Indian grave was found about a mile and a half above the suspension bridge by a party of graders, the later part of last week.

The graves were probably above seventy-five or a hundred years old, as the blankets were completely decomposed and the brass trinkets which Indians bury with their dead were green with age.

There has been much conjecture on the part of those interested as to the place where the Indians secured the jewelry, some claiming that it came from the Hudson Bay company, while others say that the very earliest missionaries gave it to the natives.

The grave contained several bracelets, a ring, some round metal disks, and other pieces of discolored jewelry. The ring is the most interesting with its little gem of green glass and its thin, well-worn brass band.

This is not the only grave uncovered in this locality as last March seven were found by a party of workmen.

COUNCIL'S POSITION IS DELICATE ONE

The Milwaukee city council is embarrassed over the demand of some of the residents for the rescinding of the license that was granted to Isaac Gratton for the tavern because of the prominent part that he has taken in the growth and development of the city in the last few years.

Out of the $40,000 worth of improvement that is now planned, Gratton will be called upon to pay about $10,000 as he is the largest property owner and holds nearly all of the city's "water front. The industries of the town have been started by him and the city hall itself was erected from money that has been received from his license, not a cent of tax being spent on it.

As the same time, the tavern has attained such a degree of fame that some of the residents are demanding that the license be rescinded and the members of the council may face a recall unless it is done.

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8.—Because the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company declined to grant the government the same percentage of earnings from the telephone booth in the postoffice lobby as are enjoyed by hotels, Postmaster Myers ordered the booth removed from the building. As a result it has been taken out.

"It was a plain case of discrimination," said Mr. Myers in explaining his order. "When the telephone company installed the booths they offered us a percentage of all the moneys taken in by tolls.

"Later we made an investigation and found that we were getting just one fifth as much hotels and allowed for the same service. I took the matter up, and when the company did not see fit to give us the same kind of a deal I simply told them to move the apparatus."

It is said the station was averaging between $60 and $70 per month in tolls.

HEARING ON MOOTED CASE IS AGAIN SET

The state railroad commission will meet Wednesday morning, at ten o'clock in the county court room to hear a complaint in regard to local service given by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, and preferred by a special committee of the city council. The councilmen contend that the phone company is charging $1.25 and $1.50 for identical four-party line service.

The telephone company, in its answer, has admitted this, but says that the standard rate is $1.50 a month, and that only such subscribers as have contracts calling for a lesser rate are being favored. As fast as these contracts expire, the phone company maintains, new contracts at the standard rate are being signed.

Doctor's Services to be High Award for Best Fruit Cake

What is believed to be the most unique prize ever offered at a county fair is the first award for fruit cake at the Clackamas County Fair, to be held at Canby September 24, 25, 26 and 27. The prize in this case will be a certificate entitling the winner to five dollars worth of medical attention from Dr. H. A. Dedman, of Canby.

There is no imputation that fruit cake such as will be exhibited will require medical services as an aftermath to its consumption. Dr. Dedman is interested in the fair, that is all, and wants to give what he can to help make it a success.

GARDEN SAGE DARKENS GRAY HAIR SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL. Restores Its Luster, Prevents Scalp Itching, Dandruff and Falling Hair. What beautiful even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brushing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. While it is a messy, tedious task it well repays those whose hair is turning gray, faded and streaked. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mays the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and straggly just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold. Don't bother to prepare the hair; you can get from any drug store a 1-cent bottle of "Wynth's" Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and luster of your hair, and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody chooses "Wynth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. It certainly helps folks look years younger and twice as attractive, says a well-known downtown druggist. BUNLETT BROS. CO.
