

ACTUAL WORK STARTS ON OPENING DAY

The pupils of the West Linn schools will receive the list of books that will be needed for the session when they assemble in their class rooms at 9 o'clock Friday morning, September 19.

School will open on September 22 and the lessons will be assigned on the Friday before, the actual work of the year beginning on the opening day. The teachers in the school are C. F. Anderson, Hattie Nichols, Lola Cooley, Pearl Bailey, Rhea Benson, Ethyl Tripp, Anna S. Hayes.

RHODENHEISER IS STILL LOST IN MOUNTAINS OF STATE

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Sept. 16.—Word was received in Hood River today that the man recently identified in Albany as W. H. Rhodenheiser, who left his home near Parkdale in the upper Hood River valley last week for a camping trip to Lost Lake and who was last seen near Parkdale, Rhodenheiser, M. O. Ayers, who lives near the Rhodenheiser place, refuted the reported identification and said:

"I think Mr. Rhodenheiser will be found dead in the mountains. He may have accidentally shot himself while hunting in the woods, or he may have wounded a bear or cougar and fallen victim to the wounded animal. When he left home he took about 25 pounds of flour and other foodstuffs in proportion to last him while on the trip."

"We are going to place an additional 100 men in the mountains and make a most thorough search, and it is possible that we may get bloodhounds to assist in locating the missing man. He was in good spirits when he left home, and his friends do not think that he has committed suicide. Those who are best informed do not believe that his financial condition was such as to cause him worry."

FARMERS MAY MAKE OWN DENATURED ALCOHOL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—During the last days of the consideration of the tariff bill in the senate, an amendment was adopted, on motion of Senator Simmons, who was in charge of the bill, removing restrictions on the manufacture of denatured alcohol by farmers. This was in line with the bill introduced by Senator Lane, and was done to meet the question he raised, that the restrictions surrounding the manufacture of alcohol were of such a nature as to defeat the very purpose of the law.

"The provision incorporated into the tariff bill affecting the manufacture of denatured alcohol," he said, "is in effect a modification of my bill, and it is satisfactory to me. It was adopted after consultation with the department of agriculture and the treasury department. As far as I can see now, this provision meets the difficulties that resulted from the restrictions in the old law. By having it incorporated in the tariff bill, we secured quicker action than if we had wanted to get my bill considered and passed as a separate measure."

KAY HUNTS FACTS ON WAY SHERIFF CONDUCTS OFFICE

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 16.—Tom Kay, the special vice crusade detective, has been stirring things up a little over in Wheeler county, and he was here yesterday afternoon making a personal report to the governor. He reported a number of things against the manner in which Sheriff Oscar Kelsey, who was in the limelight a few months ago when it was alleged that he brought a boy to the reform school in an intoxicated condition, conducts his office, and it is probable that Governor West will make further investigations of such office. District Attorney Starr of that county also was given unfavorable mention by the detective.

While at Mitchell, Detective Kay caused the arrest of F. L. Christensen, owner of a drug store, for selling liquor without a license. He pleaded guilty and was fined $200. Robert Johnson, who conducts a barber shop, was arrested for bootlegging and gambling, and was bound over to the grand jury. W. C. Vaughan was arrested for giving liquor to minors, and he was also bound over to the grand jury. T. Enslay, who runs a livery stable, was arrested for maintaining a nuisance. This charge was made against his place as it was alleged to be a gathering place for boys to drink and carouse. He was let off when he signed a bond to abate the nuisance.

At Fossil Detective Kay caused the arrest of Mr. Lamb, drug store proprietor, for selling liquor without a license. He arrested City Marshal Henry Roos for allowing minors in his pool hall. Reed pleaded guilty. Charles Gilliland was arrested for selling cigarettes to boys; he pleaded guilty.

SULZER BELIEVES HE HAS A CINCH AT IMPEACHMENT

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Of his triumphant exultation at his impeachment trial, scheduled to begin here Thursday, Governor Sulzer expressed the utmost confidence today. Both the governor and his friends appeared of excellent cheer following the executive's return from his New York trip, the result of which, it was intimated, will prove a surprise to Tammany.

Sulzer's supporters insist that the house managers of the impeachment case must stick to and prove their original charges without dragging in new matter. The governor's opponents in the house, on the other hand, declare they are entitled to bring in as many new accusations as they please.

The trial is expected to open with a fight over this issue.

HUERTA'S MESSAGE TO BE MILITANT IN ITS TONE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—That a pronounced streak of militancy will run through the whole of the message Provisional President Huerta will send to the Mexican congress tonight, was freely admitted in official circles today.

"Mexico is in difficulties with the American government, but fortunately not with the American people," is the translation of one significant line included in the message, among numerous other references to America and Americans.

The communication strongly urges an increase in the size of the Mexican army, saying the provisional government has borrowed enough money to pay off its floating obligations and to provide 100,000 troops, 40 more batteries, 250,000 rifles and many armored automobiles.

Attention is called to the fact that the government's permission to foreign warships to remain for six months in Mexican waters will expire October 25, and it is hinted that it will not be renewed.

When congress convened today there was every evidence of realization among the members of the tenacity of the international situation.

In honor of the Mexican independence day, all sorts of festivities were in progress today, not only in Mexico City but throughout the country. A monster parade will be the feature of the celebration.

CATTLEMEN AND SHEEP RAISERS TANGLE AGAIN

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Sept. 16.—Another mixup is on between the cattlemen and sheepmen over disputed range in the Troutdale country. Coke Jennings, packer, and Nick Hartz and William Thompson, herders, in charge of a band of 2100 mutton sheep belonging to Fritz Smith, a sheepman living near Grand Dalles in Klickitat county, were arrested Saturday while crossing the range between Troutdale and the Ice Caves leased by Jack Perry and Ulrich Zubenbuehler, cattlemen. The men were taken before J. M. Filloon, justice of the peace at Troutdale, where they all entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of trespassing.

Hartz and Thompson were released on their own recognizance and allowed to proceed with the sheep to Glenwood, where they were taking them for delivery to mutton buyers.

Jenkins was brought to Goldendale by the sheriff, where he is being held awaiting the appearance of his employer to give bonds for him.

PLAIDS WITH PLAIN MATERIAL A FAVORED FASHION

Dark silk and woolen plaid materials and gayer ones for those who admire them are, one of the newest lines at the dress goods counters. With combination ideas leading, here is one that has many distinctive style features. The sketch on the right shows how a dark plaid woolen has been made up with a navy blue velveteen coat in Russian blouse effect. The crossed front and the moderate length of the coat, only thirty inches in the back, bespeak the latest details. The skirt is cut with four gores, draped only at the sides for the prevailing peg top fullness, which is confined in an inverted plait. The woman who is handy with her needle and a pattern will find this model will repay her effort many times in its style and comparatively small cost. Two and seven-eighths yards of 54 inch material will make the skirt and trim the jacket, for which 3/4 yards of 39 inch material will be needed. Patterns 7937-7945. Fifteen cents each.

Soft silk and wool materials such as eolienne and crinkled crepes lend themselves to admirable afternoon dresses that are beginning to have some fullness in the blouses. A new model (7911-7961) has been sketched to suggest a way for the home sewer to make a dress that will combine style and utility. The skirt is cut in three pieces and easily draped in the front, where two buttons hold the fullness. The pointed trimming pieces take the place of a belt at the slightly raised waist line. Five and one-half yards of 42 inch material will make the entire dress. Patterns may be had in five sizes. Five cents each.
