CITY OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER

LIVE WIRE PROGRAM At noon today, the livest bunch of boosters OF THE LIVE WIRES this city has and one that stands right up to any other organization of the kind in the state will have the first meeting in the rooms of the Commercial club after a vacation of more than two months.

Things will be "doing" at that luncheon today. The boosters have all sorts of schemes and plans that they are going to spring at that meeting and the result will be a positive, definite campaign of some sort of the city's benefit.

In the development of the city and the addition of those things that make for progress, the Live Wires have always had the lead and have been an important factor in everything that has been undertaken. The meeting today will be the first in the campaign that they will inaugurate for the betterment of the city and the plans that will be formulated at this time will be along lines of municipal improvement and general civic welfare.

STREET USE OF PRISONERS The movement to keep the city prisoners busy at some definite form of work during the time for which they are sentenced in the city jail is one that will tend toward the solution of many municipal problems that appear from time to time in the administration of the city's police affairs.

Other cities have found that idle prisoners are but a charge against the municipalities for which no return is given, that the sentence of a certain number of days in the prison does not work the beneficial results that might be expected, either for the city or for the man himself. Idleness, whether inside the jail walls or in the world outside, does not tend to solve any of the problems that confront any form of government, whether it be city, county, or state.

The best answer to the question so often asked by prison-keepers as to the most useful form of sentence for a man who has violated government laws, has been found in those governmental units that have adopted some form of the work system, that have a definite plan for the employment of the prisoners during the time that they are in the custody of that unit and under the control of its peace officers.

Even in Oregon City where the forms of work to which they may be put are few, and where other problems arise in connection with a plan for making them useful, there can be found something that they can do that will, at least in part, return to the city the cost of their care and that will, at the same time, have a more potent effect upon the prisoner himself.

Contract labor by convicts in the penitentiaries of the country has brought that method into disrepute. So many crimes have been committed under that system; so many abuses allowed to creep in, that the people are disgusted with that sort of a plan and have dropped it in most of the states where it was formerly in vogue.

Still, at the same time, there are forms of work to which a prisoner may be assigned under the supervision of the peace officers of the city, county or state that will make him produce something definitely of value to the community and that will, aside from the commercial interest, be more effective in teaching the regard for law than a sentence of time in idleness can ever produce.

How much impression does five days in the city jail with plenty to eat and a warm bed at night make upon the average vagrant who is taken from the box cars in the yards by the officers of the city now on night duty?

No better scheme can probably be devised than the use of these men, who, garnered from all parts of the earth, find a bed in the city jail at night than their employment on the streets in connection with the work of the street cleaning department. It means much to the city and it means fully as much to them men themselves. The oftener that the city follows this method of using its prisoners, always under the supervision of a city officer, the better will it solve the problems in police administration that face it as they do every other city in the country from day to day.

GRAY FADED HAIR OR BEAUTIFUL, DARK, ATTRACTIVE---CHOOSE, MADAM!

Says Sage Tea Mixed With Sulphur Restores Natural Color and Lustre

Grad, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur; but what's the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," at drug stores here for about 50 cents. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops. This is the age of youth; gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with the sage and sulphur tonight, and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. An inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur," and the folks using it are enthusiastic. HUNTLEY BROS. CO.

GAINING BY GOOD ROADS.

The Farmer, Not the Motorist, is Benefited Most. It is not unusual that a wrong impression prevails as to the class of people who will be most benefited by good roads. The enthusiasm of automobile owners for good roads and the large number of cars seen in all parts of the country have given the impression that the automobilists will be the largest gainers. This is, however, an erroneous idea, as a "road census" taken would show that the motorcar owners are in the minority, and the people deriving the greatest benefit are the farmers. While the motorcars may assist in the work of creating public sentiment in favor of road improvement, the real benefit to the country is in the saving to the farmers in transportation and in the enhanced farm production which better marketing facilities engender. Many a farmer will take to market over good roads a load of early potatoes for which he can get $1.50 a bushel, while with bad roads it would not have occurred to him to plant them. The difference to him is shown a quick trip to town early in the morning over an improved road or a slow, laborious trip, taking practically an entire day over bad roads. It is everywhere admitted that with the improvement of our roads, farm lands will greatly enhance in value. All of these arguments in favor of a strong agitation for better roads should receive the earnest attention of every farmer. Our faithful servants, the horses and mules, should also be considered in this matter, as it is nothing less than cowardly to let these patient, dumb servants be lashed through mud and ruts, straining every nerve to serve—Farm Press.

Lincoln on Road Building. The pretense that it would overwhelm the treasury to engage in the building of roads is no more true in congress than in the state legislatures. If one will overwhelm the national treasury, so the other will overwhelm the state treasury. Go where we will, the difficulty is the same.—A. Lincoln.

Civilization Promotes Its Own Destruction.

Segregation of Unfit a Duty

By Dr. CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Emeritus of Harvard University

THE progressive civilization of the last one hundred years has worked terribly against the health and perpetuity of the whole race. This is seen in the REDUCED VITALITY of the multitudes that inhabit closely built cities, in the DIMINISHING SIZE OF FAMILIES, in the incapacity of many women for bearing and nursing children and in the disproportionate increase in the number of the insane, the defective and the criminally inclined.

SUCH CITIES AS PARIS, LONDON, BERLIN, NEW YORK AND CHICAGO BEAR WITNESS TO THE FACT THAT MODERN CIVILIZATION IS ALL THE TIME PREPARING AND PROMOTING ITS OWN DESTRUCTION.

It is a plain duty of the state to provide SEGREGATION of the DEFECTIVE, the INSANE and the HABITUAL CRIMINAL in order to prevent the breeding of human beings from such stock. It is not yet clear how good breeding can be promoted among free men and women, but it is clear how BAD BREEDING CAN AND SHOULD BE PREVENTED.

Society should be enlightened concerning the means of defending civilization against ITS OWN TENDENCIES OF DECAY AND DISSOLUTION and the strengthening of the social resolution to put into execution all the measures which Christian ethics and the medical arts and sciences recommend.

Among defensive measures against the evils which crowded cities and the factory system have brought on mankind the subject of school hygiene is of FIRST IMPORTANCE. The evils which result from bad housing, overcrowding and unwholesome excitement in cities and from the factory system which prevails in many important industries have their WORST EFFECT ON CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE. It is to the rising generation, therefore, that PREVENTIVE AND REMEDIAL MEASURES may be most hopefully applied.
