CROWDS SWARM THROUGH GROUNDS

All Points of Interest Attract the Population of Many Towns of State—Displays Are Large

CANBY, Ore., Sept. 24.—From the home-grown peanuts in the juvenile division, to the mysterious roaring beasts that was the chief feature of the sideshows, the seventh annual Clackamas County fair was ready for visitors Wednesday when the gates of the grounds at Canby were thrown open.

While the early part of the day was utilized by a few of the exhibitors in putting the finishing touches upon their displays, the exhibits for the most part were all in place and arranged before the opening. The only real exception to this was the sawing of the Oregon City Commercial club, for which space had been reserved, and which was represented solely by space.

Big Attendance.
According to Secretary M. J. Lea, of the fair association, who was everywhere about the grounds at once, and who was one of the busiest of the officials, the opening day attendance was beyond expectations, and established a record for the grounds. Late in the evening Mr. Lea estimated that between 1,100 and 1,500 persons had passed through the gates. Aside from these there were probably two score tents in the free camp grounds adjoining the fair acres, and in these tents were many vacationists who will spend the balance of the week increasing the throngs who will swell the total attendance records for the year.

Milk Testing.
Aside from the milk testing demonstration Wednesday morning the opening day of the fair was purposely left devoid of special features by the officials.

MAN IS TRAILED BY FLAKES OF FLOUR

Trailed from the rifled store on Main street by a circuitous route over the hill to Clackamas Heights, Clarence Hauldehoffer was arrested Wednesday by H. W. Streibig, because the latter when he picked out a sack of flour to steal, selected one with a small hole in it.

There has been a series of robberies performed in that district in the past six months, and it is thought that the same man is responsible for all. Monday night this last theft was performed and Constable Frost and H. W. Streibig set out Wednesday morning for the scene of the latest crime.

Hauldehoffer is a young man under 24 years and had a wife and two children. It is thought that he had an accomplice but so far it has been found impossible to secure any statement to this effect from him.

RARE STORIES OF PANAMA AND CANAL

Among the many thousand of people from all over the world who visit the Canal zone none could be better prepared for what is commonly known as "sightseeing" than was Willis J. Abbot, author of "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." In addition to a carefully selected staff of artists and photographers, Mr. Abbot worked with him credentials from government officials at Washington, D. C., where he had long been a special writer on national topics.

Thus equipped, Mr. Abbot made a careful survey of the Canal and its adjacent territory, going into every nook and corner of the zone. Under his direction photographs were taken and sketches were made with a view to illustrating this book fully and completely. The result is a volume which portrays every phase of life on the Isthmus. Around these pictures are drawn intimate stories of the customs and characteristics of these unusual people; how some of them were found to eat lizards and consider them a rare delicacy; how they live in the jungle far removed from civilization; how they have helped to construct the great waterway; in fact, all about the place and the people.

The Enterprise realizes the educational advantages to be derived from this book, and for this reason has arranged for a great distribution to its readers. Every man, woman and child will at once recognize the necessity of

HARRY CLARK MAKES PART OF CONFESSION TO THE PROBING OFFICERS

INSISTS ON HIS ORIGINAL DENIAL

Says He Knows Nothing of How Old Indian Met His Death and Refuses to Give Statement of Any Trouble

Harry Clark, now in the county jail in connection with the death of Indian Henry at Molalla, confessed to the sheriff's office Wednesday that he had dragged the dead chief to the side of the road and that the tracks which the officers had found there were his own.

This much of a confession was obtained by the officers, they said, after they had cross-questioned Clark for several hours in the county jail. He still denies, however, that he had anything to do with the cause of the old leader's death or that he knew how it happened.

The footprints that the officers found in the dusty road exactly fitted, they said, the shoes that Clark wore when he was arrested, and the man admitted to the officials Wednesday that the shoes were his and that he had dragged the chief to the side of the road after he had found him dead.

INDIAN IS BURIED ON HISTORIC SPOT

Beside his wife, on the grounds where his fathers roamed at will only a few years ago, Indian Henry, the last chief of the war-like Molallas and the last of that long list of warriors that headed the forces of that tribe in their expeditions through the state, was buried at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a large number of white friends from the city and surrounding country.

Dickey Prairie was purchased from the Molallas several years ago, but it is still the burying ground of the chiefs of the tribe. Several of Henry's relatives are there and he was placed beside the grave of his wife yesterday. William Moray, of Molalla, conducted the services.

knowing all there is to know about this mighty achievement; all about the natives; about the future of the country; the effects of the Canal on the nations of the entire world; and here is a chance to get all this information almost free.

For a short time The Enterprise will distribute this volume to its readers for six certificates and a small expense fee to cover the cost of distribution. Clip your certificate today and take advantage of the offer as soon as possible.

Dashes Madly Into Burning Building to Save Pet Canary Bird

Rushing up a flight of stairs into a burning building filled with smoke, Mrs. Calvin Hill, a bride of six days, saved the life of her pet canary in a fire that did small damage to a building belonging to Mr. Holman on the east side of Main street between Fourth and Fifth streets about one o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Upon noticing the fire, the first thought of Mrs. Hill was concerning the safety of her bird, and she rushed through the smoke into the room where her pet was and then dashed back to the street.

Although the fire did but small damage to the building, the water completely spoiled the furniture of three of the rooms belonging to Mrs. C. N. Carney, who occupies the upper story, but did no damage to Karl Buisse's saloon, which is below.

SPEAKERS TO TALK ON NEW METHODS

"The Business of the Sunday School" is to be the theme of an interesting meeting to be held at the Congregational church Thursday evening at 7:30. Rev. H. N. Smith is to present some remarkable facts showing the size of the business and Mr. W. S. Hollis, of the Portland Y. M. C. A., will speak on the school and the family.

It is felt that parents should know what the modern Bible school means to do for their children, and how they may co-operate with the teachers. There will be a pleasant social hour following the addresses, at which there will be an opportunity for parents and teachers to become better acquainted.

This school is now particularly well organized and graded. Examinations were given last Sunday at which the pupils showed a gratifying interest and much progress during the past year. All parents are especially invited to be present.

CITY ATTORNEY GIVES COUNCIL LEGAL OPINION AS TO ITS POWERS

BOARD HAS NO CINCH ON PLACE

Lawyer Contends Fathers—Are Always Supreme and Board Has No Right to Curb Their Will

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh it away," is the theory upon which William Stone, city attorney, holds that the city council is supreme in all matters municipal and that the city water board must come to time or expect to be "fired."

In an opinion that was rendered to the city council Wednesday night, the attorney went into the law on the subject and contended, that, as the council had made the appointment, it could remove the members of the board unless they obeyed orders. He believes that the board is in a position under the council and that they are no more city officers than is the chief of police and may be removed as readily.

The matter of the board's refusal occupied the attention of the council all evening. Friday, October 3, has been set for the hearing of the objections to the orders that the council is sued instructing the board to connect a man with the elevator.
