LAW'S TIGHT GRIP STILL HOLDS CLARK

SHERIFF WON'T LET UP HOLD

ADMITS MAN IS ILLEGALLY HELD, BUT INSISTS HE HAS ALL RIGHTS

HUNT FOR EVIDENCE TAKES TIME

Is Too Busy to File Complaint in Court Against Prisoner Now in Jail—Writ Might Be Used

Harry Clark, held on suspicion in connection with the murder of Indian Henry Yelkis at Molalla a few days ago is being restrained of his liberty by E. T. Mass, sheriff of Clackamas county illegally, according to some authorities, and the sheriff admits it.

Frankly, the sheriff confesses that he has no right to hold Clark in the county jail for longer than 48 hours on mere suspicion, but he claims the man can have the benefit of counsel at any time and can be taken from him by a writ of habeas corpus at a moment's notice.

For nearly a week, the man has been in the county jail without a hearing or a preliminary arraignment. Not a single paper has ever been filed against him. No evidence has been produced to show his connection with the affair nor has the slightest testimony of any sort been offered.

Sheriff Mass admits all this. He makes no odds of it. He frankly states that his authority does not include the holding of the prisoner, but he thinks that he ought to keep his man until somebody takes him away from the sheriff's control.

Is Too Busy. Because of the time that he has had to devote to the scurry for evidence, the sheriff has not been in the office a greater part of the day and has not had the opportunity to file the complaint against his man himself. He was prevented from doing so Monday because of the time that Lily Stipp, prosecuting attorney, had to spend on the stand in the case of Grant B. Dimick against the city and other things have arisen from time to time to prevent the action being taken.

The sheriff thinks that as long as he must hold his man at all costs until after the evidence is gathered, at least, it makes no particular difference just when the complaint is filed and he believes that he may file it at any time. If Clark's attorney does not like the procedure, he may take the man out of custody on a writ in a few hours, the sheriff says.

Clark has been in jail, both in the city and county many times on various charges, it is said. No further evidence has been gathered in the last few days that would throw material light on the way in which Indian Henry met his death although the sheriff has been hard at work on the case since the arrest was first made.

LIVE WIRES TO BUZZ AT LUNCHEON TODAY

The Live Wires will sizzle at the Commercial club today in their second luncheon since the summer vacation. "Things will be doing" and several matters are scheduled to come up for discussion.

Besides a big feed, the organization has several matters that it plans to digest before the season's work begins. Among them is the question of an athletic field for the students of the various city schools. Under the present arrangement, the members of the city teams have to go to Canemah or to Gladstone for practice as there is now no place in the city where they can be put through their grind before the match games.

The scheme now brewing in the minds of the members of the organization includes the foreclosure on the option held on the Englebrecht tract where the city started its well drilling in the hunt for another water supply. Other questions of like importance are scheduled for the luncheon today.

RESOURCE SHOW IS POPULAR

NUMBER OF PAID ADMISSIONS TAKEN AS PROOF BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

CROWDS BREAK ALL RECORDS

Throngs Pass Through Gates to See Displays of Products That Are Raised in County—Premium List

CANBY, Or., Sept. 29.—(Special to The Enterprise).—Approximately $3,000 was taken in from admissions alone at seventh annual Clackamas County fair, held here last week. Tabulation of gate tickets made today shows that $2,750.50 was paid at the two entrances during the four days of the exhibition, and about $250 more was paid before the fair opened for season tickets. Concession fees and admissions make up the balance of the total sum.

The $2,750.50 taken in at the gates eclipses anything in local fair history and is taken by the directors as a proof of the popularity of the annual showing of the county's resources. Much of the money will go to pay the heavy premium lists, warrants for all of which were mailed out today.

The complete list of awards follows, with the exception of the baby show winners, which were printed in Sunday's Enterprise:

Quart Bottle Finds Way Into Records of County

Trees have been landmarks, old stumps have divided corners, rocks have separated section lines, but Clackamas county holds the record in dividing off its acreage by a quart bottle and making that bottle one of the official corner stones and testimonials of the county.

In a deed filed in the office of County Recorder Dedman Monday, the description of the land is given in detail. From one corner of the section to the other, the line is traced until it finally winds up against that old quart bottle. Throughout the description of the land that bottle is firmly interwoven with the story of the transfer and it is banded down from one owner to the other as the line of the section and the land mark of the acreages that it divides.

DANCING CLUB OPENS ITS SEASON AT MEETING

The Fol do Rol dancing club opened its season Monday night with a rousing meeting at which their first dance was planned. The club was organized last fall and met with instant success although all last season it only gave two dances.

Their first affair this season will be held something in the next two weeks in Busch's hall and will be the first of a series of five or six. Two committees were appointed: the invitation committee, consisting of Gilbert Morris, Allie E. Levitt and Kent Moody; and the decorating committee, Ernest Mass, Jr., Dellas Armstrong, Arthur Farr, "Pug Moore," "Tub" Gault and Charles Beatie.

PROHIS MEET TO LAY PLANS FOR SIEGE

The first step in the active prohibition campaign, planned for this winter in this city, was made Monday evening at a meeting of the local ministers and temperance workers held in the Presbyterian church.

Plans were discussed and some adopted, although as yet nothing definite has been decided upon, beyond the fact that the most vigorous campaign possible will be carried on. Other meetings will be held later when the details will be settled.

The local fight will be but one of a connected chain of campaigns in a score of other Oregon towns. The state antisaloon league will be at the head of all campaigns and will have general charge of all work, while the local organization will take care of the details.

Speakers will probably be brought to the city and a city-wide campaign will be carried on through all the churches. The ministers plan to use every bit of their influence to win their fight and are confident of success.

Mrs. Earl C. Latourette will be hostess on Thursday at a dancing party at which she will honor her house guest, Miss Harding, of New York. The function will be held at the Oregon City home of Mrs. Latourette, and will be attended by a large number of guests.

PANAMA BOOKS ARE NOW GOING FAST

Now that the Enterprise distribution of "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose" is fairly under way it is gratifying to note the pleasure with which this beautiful big volume is received. "It's ten times better than I thought it would be," said a young man who came in to get a copy and took another one to send to a friend. "It is the biggest value for the money I ever saw," said a level headed man of business. "O, what gorgeous colorings!" exclaimed a lady whose comments later developed the fact that she was fully competent to judge. All day long callers continued to praise the beautiful book and commend The Enterprise for offering such a rare opportunity.

Readers are urged to tell their friends about it. Let them know that this is no ordinary offer; that the book is actually worth $4 under the usual trade conditions, but that it is printed in enormous quantities and distributed only through newspapers at the mere expense of distribution; planned and printed wholly for the purpose of more firmly establishing the bonds of friendship that should obtain between the newspaper and its readers. Everyone of these books will make new friends for us; otherwise we could not think of distributing them on the terms explained in the Panama certificate printed daily in these columns.

Clip and present six certificates as soon as possible and come into immediate possession of the complete story of Panama and the canal.

MANY NAMES ARE ON SALOON BLACKLIST

Thirty-nine names are on the black list at the saloons in the city. Chief of Police Ed Shaw has sent out a list of all of those against whom protests have either been filed or to whom in the judgment of the officers, the saloons should not be allowed to sell drinks.

The action is taken periodically by the city police and is done either at the instance of some members of the family of the persons named in the list or on the initiative of the police department.

LOCKS SOON TO CHANGE HANDS

HYDRAULIC ENGINEER EXPECTS TO GIVE OVER RIGHTS TO THE GOVERNMENT

PRELIMINARIES DELAY TRANSFER

Routine Matters to be Determined Before Property May Pass From Company—Two Weeks at Latest

"The Oregon City locks will be turned over to the United States government at some time in the near future, probably within the next two weeks."

This was the statement of T. W. Sullivan, hydraulic engineer of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, Monday. "As soon as the necessary negotiations are completed at the capitol, the government will take active charge of the locks," continued Mr. Sullivan, "and I expect that to take place any minute now. It is hard to tell the exact time, but will probably be within the next two weeks."

The locks were purchased in the spring of this year by the government from the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for a consideration of $325,000. Extensive improvements are planned that will probably extend over a period of two years.

THREE HUNTERS OFF FOR PLEASANT TRIP

Ben Wolf, Albert Hoffman and Henry Hoffman, three Oregon City young men, started Tuesday morning for a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip of the banks of the Molalla river.

They plan to pack their blankets and outfits all the way to Molalla in one day. They have secured a vacant farm house with almost "all the luxuries of a modern home," where they will make their headquarters. Various side trips are planned into the surrounding country and the boys are looking forward to an enjoyable trip.

Signor Perugini (Jack Chatterton) is appearing in the Chinese play "The Yellow Jacket". Little has been heard of Perugini in late years, though 29 years ago he was one of the most widely known figures on the American stage. He was then a light opera tenor. He was at one time the husband of Lillian Russell. Fifty years ago he made his first appearance as the Prince in "Cinderella". Mr. Strahorn is right; agriculturists and transportation men should pull together. Their interests are bound up together.

FIGHT GROWS HOT; LIE IS PASSED

Good Samaritan * Gets Out of Trouble in Justice Court

Because he was a Good Samaritan and bound the wounds of the injured and healed the sick without cost, a jury in the court of John N. Saivers, justice of the peace, refused Monday to convict Joseph S. Rickard on the charge of practicing without a license.

The evidence that was introduced showed that he had practiced in other states and that he had retired from active work. Testimony showed that he often cared for those who came to him and that he had never charged the fees for the services. In the case that was before the court, he had charged a man $1.50 for the bandages and other supplies that he had used in binding up an injury, but that the fees that a regular physician charges were never asked.

The case occupied the attention of the justice court most of the day.

PASTOR SENT BACK TO HIS FLOCK HERE

Rev. T. B. Ford will be retained as pastor of the Oregon City Methodist church for another year. The pastor returned from the conference at Eugene Monday evening and reports that this has been one of the most successful conferences ever held in this state.

"Reports from all sections of the country show that wonderful progress has been made in the past year and plans are being made for still greater advancement in the future," said Dr. Ford to an Enterprise representative Monday. "I believe that the coming twelve months will prove to be one of the greatest years for the advancement of the church in the last decade."

Rev. Ford, who has been pastor of the Methodist church for nearly two years, left for the conference last Wednesday. He will vacate the Brownhall street on Eleventh and John Adams streets and move into the house of Mr. Sullivan, just back of Larson & company's store. The house has undergone extensive repairs and will be modern in every respect.

FUN STARTS IN WARRANT CASE

HOLMAN DENIES CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY TO DEFEAT MAYOR'S MEN

TESTIMONY IS HEARD ALL DAY

Court Asks for More Evidence as to Extent of Emergency to Which City Refers—Will Be Through Today

"Judge Grant B. Dimick falsified on this stand and he knew that he was falsifying while he was telling what he did."

With that shot, R. L. Holman, member of the city council, started in on his testimony in the suit for injunction brought by Grant B. Dimick against the city, the city treasurer and E. L. Shaw asking the circuit court to restrain those officers from paying and the chief for receiving $100 in warrants for his services during the Dimick administration as mayor. All day long Judge Eakin heard the testimony in the suit. The case was hard fought by both sides. The plaintiff contended that Shaw had been appointed chief of police by the council when the charter provided such an appointment can come alone from the mayor, by and with the council's consent.

The defense, on the other hand, held that the chief was "keeper of the city jail" and that he never was chief of police. It declared that the council had created a new office and that it had the right to create the position and to select the man to fill it. The plaintiff answered that by contending that the creation of the office was a subterfuge and that Shaw performed all of the duties of police chief.

The court, after both sides had com-
