These same two went to the same place last Sunday and experienced a most unusual series of accidents, which finally compelled them to walk home. When you're ailing and don't know just what's the matter with you, the safest thing to take is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, both because it's the greatest all-round systemic regulator, and because it cannot work in injury in any case, being purely vegetable. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets, Jones Drug Co.

HUNTERS SCRAMBLE FOR THEIR LICENSES

Hunting licenses have been issued almost as rapidly as the deputies in the office of County Clerk W. L. Mulvey could make them out the last few days, in anticipation of the opening of the season. Sixty-one of them were issued Monday by the clerks and 53 on Saturday before. From time to time through the season, the clerks will issue others in accordance with the applications on file in the office, but the banner day was Monday before the opening on October 1.

THE SLIDES AT CULEBRA

Sufficient to Cause Alarm, but Had Been Anticipated, so Engineers Were Fully Prepared

By Willis J. Abbot, Author of "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." If the Capitol Park at Washington, with the National Capitol cresting it, should suddenly begin to move down into Pennsylvania Avenue at a rate of about three feet a day, the authorities of the city would naturally feel some degree of annoyance. And if the smooth and level asphalt of that historic thoroughfare should overnight rise up in the air 18 feet in spots, those responsible for traffic might reasonably be somewhat worried. Such a phenomenon would be not so startling in mere magnitude as the "slides" which have added so greatly to the work of the engineers on the canal and have made tourists, visiting with the ripe fruits of five days' observation, wag their heads knowingly when Colonel Goethals calmly repeats his assertions that the water will soon be turned in. If these slides were an entirely new and unexpected phenomenon for which no allowance had been made in the estimate of the canal builders, they would justify the apprehensions which have awakened in the non-professional mind. But the slides were in fact anticipated. Even during the preliminary scratching of the Isthmian backbone by the French they occurred, and the American engineers knew precisely what to expect. The first slide occurred during the work on the isthmus in 1905; the others have only been bigger because the canal basin dug deeper has weakened the bases of hills along its banks. All the same, the proportions of the slides are terrifying, and the chief geologist declares that they will not cease until the angle of the canal bank becomes so gentle that gravity will not pull the crest down. The slides are of two sorts. The simpler is a mere swift rush of all the loose surface dirt, sand, gravel and stone down the surface of the bank. These gravity slides, though terrible, some present no new problems. To stop them it is necessary only to carry the crest of the bank further back so that the angle will be less steep. But the great, troublesome slides are those caused by the pressure of the hill-top on its undermind and weakened. Once started, the whole mass, acres in extent, moves slowly toward the cavity of the canal, three feet a day being its swiftest record progress. At Culebra the slides compelled the moving of a large part of the town pleted, asked for further testimony on the ground that it had not been shown that an emergency actually existed or that it was great enough to require the council's creation of a new office and the selection of another man. The declaration from Holman came over the statement of Dimick that he believed the council had held a secret caucus and had conspired to defeat all nominations for police chief that he had made and that he could not have secured a confirmation of an appointment under any circumstances. Holman declared that there had been no meeting but those held in the open and no understanding reached against the mayor or his nominees. The case will probably be determined today. Arthur Devlin, the former New York Boston Infielder, has joined the Rochester team of the International League. Shortstop Jack Barry, of the Athletics, has been engaged to manage the Meriden, Conn. roller polo team next winter. "Tempus fugit" becomes true as one grows old. The cost of living isn't worrying the hop growers. It begins to look as if there were to be no more panics in this country. Trying to plant a religion where it isn't wanted makes lots of trouble. There is something wrong with the sort of religion that makes people a good deal crazier than the average citizen is.

PART OF FRANK RICH'S CAST.

At The Oregon City Theatres

Plays and Films to be Shown This Week

Just as the circus makes all the world alive in summer time, so will the perfectly made films, presenting the excellent pictures of the popular Hagenbeck Wallace show, again attract and charm the whole world in the winter's season. Animals and children are always pleasing subjects in the picture, because they invariably appear and act natural in the Hagenbeck Wallace picture. The only animal that acts as if it knew it were posing for a picture was the kangaroo. All of the other beasts acted natural, even the lion when having the battle with its keeper, did not allow the nearness of the camera man to cause him to forget his purpose to disobey his trainer. The Hagenbeck Wallace circus picture will be considered by most patrons of the picture show as the greatest feature yet shown in this popular form of entertainment. These pictures, not only present the feature acts of one of the greatest shows in the world, but they exhibit the details of the handling and moving of the circus. They take us behind the scenes as it were, and make the subject of the circus more interesting than heretofore. From the unloading of the cars to the preparation of the ground for exhibition, through the menagerie themes to the r'ver for both with the elephants, and back to the circus performances. All in all constitutes the truly realistic, entertaining and amusing feature picture, for above the ordinary picture attraction. The four reels of this picture will be exhibited at Grand Theatre today. No company that has ever visited this city has given better satisfaction or been more popular than the Frank Rich organizations, and the announcement that the original company will make their appearance here at the Star Theatre for four days starting Wednesday, October 1, is welcome news. All the old favorites are still with the company and the chorus always the best, is just as good as ever, while the plays, scenery and wardrobe are new and will compare with the best of any high priced show. A RELIABLE TONIC Many of the people around here know a good deal about this splendid remedy; to those who do not, we wish to say that Meritol Tonic Digestive is the greatest strength renewer, flesh builder and nerve tonic we have ever seen. For people in poor health, weak run down and played out, those not as strong and vigorous as they should be, we recommend this tonic. Jones Drug Co., sole agents.

WILLAMETTE

Merritt Willson, Agent

The extensive repairs on the Tualatin bridge below Willamette, is nearing completion. The bridge has been given entirely new planking, braces, and has been completely overhauled and will probably be open to traffic in a few days. The work has been under way for several weeks under the direction of Daniel Colson. A number of the citizens of Willamette have been forced to await the completion of the repairs to bring their winter's supply of wood. August Kollenmeier with his wife and daughter, have moved to Willamette from Hubbard. Mr. Kollenmeier was formerly a farmer in that district but his sold his farm and retired. Miss Agnes Pollock, of Portland, is visiting friends in Willamette. John Logsdon, of this town, is at present working in the country. Church was held in the schoolhouse Sunday with a large attendance.

Meritol Rheumatism Powder's The unusually large sale of this remedy is the best evidence we could offer you to prove its merit. It is made of effective ingredients and is guaranteed to give permanent relief for rheumatism. We will gladly show you the formula and explain its merit to you. Jones Drug Co., local agents.

A basket social was held at McLaughlin hall by the choir of the St. John's Catholic church Monday evening, the object being to secure funds to purchase hymn books.

TRESPASSER SHOWS WITH NOVEL PLEA

On testimony that a real estate agent had shown him the Burch lots in Gladstone as the ones that were in the trade, Harry Wilson was acquitted of the trespass charge that had been brought against him in the justice court Monday. It was introduced, during the trial, that Wilson had made a trade with a real estate agent and that the dealer had shown him the lots that it afterwards developed belonged to another man. Believing that they were his own, the defendant had rented the land and had allowed another to cut the clover from it. As soon as the work started, the real owner appeared on the scene and filed complaint against Wilson for trespass.
