PLANS BREW IN BOTH CAMPS

FACTIONS ARE QUIETLY AT WORK THOUGH LITTLE NOISE IS MADE

FORCES ARE NOW FULLY ORGANIZED

More Secret Meetings to be Held and Details of Campaign to be Laid Out During Weeks Before Election

In spite of the fact that a thirsty public has asked both the wets and dries to quench its desire for news as to plans for the coming campaign, not even a wet will grant the request. The approaching campaign appears to be one of secrecy. The factions have lined their forces and have prepared for the conflict that will come within the next few weeks. The dries have held meetings but they refused to let one single idea leak out as to their plans for the fight that is coming.

The wets are in the same boat. Though an organization has been perfected by those opposed to prohibition and plans will be brewed at meetings to be held in the future, none of the committeemen have let it out as to just what these plans are to be.

The attitude of both factions seems to be that a personal work campaign by friends among friends. The wets seem to have that idea and appear to be planning a campaign in which every member of the organization will do what he can to influence his personal friends to vote for the conditions as they now stand.

Though the dries have indicated that they would bring speakers into the city and would have a regular program for their campaign, none of the work

BOURNE TO TALK TO LIVE WIRES

EX-SENATOR TO DISCUSS THE QUESTION OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

BOOSTERS DRINK BULL RUN WATER

Are So Refreshed That Argument is Started Over Various Clauses in By-Laws—Officers Are Elected

Bull Run water was furnished at the weekly luncheon of the Live Wires Tuesday and the beverage so refreshed the Wires that one of the liveliest meetings held in months took place. Not much business was transacted either, but a discussion arose over clauses of the proposed by-laws, which were finally adopted. Under their provisions any members of the Commercial club may become a member of the Live Wires by merely signing the by-laws of the electrical organization.

E. Kenneth Stanton was elected transmission wire, succeeding Dr. Clyde Mount, resigned, and Leo S. Burdon was appointed Feed Wire to succeed W. S. U'Ren, whose term of office expired.

Next week there will be no Tuesday luncheon, but on Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, there will be a dinner, at which ex-United States Senator Jonathan Bourne will be the guest of honor. Following the dinner Mr. Bourne will deliver his talk on the federal aid plan for highways. This is a matter that has created no little interest throughout the country. Mr. Bourne is chairman of the committee having the matter in hand and has given the subject deep study, and has worked out a comprehensive plan, providing for maintenance, as well as construction of highways through federal aid.

Uncle Sam's Biggest Battleship, the Arkansas, In Dry Dock After Scoring New World's Record.

Photo copyright, 1913, by American Press Association. The Arkansas, the largest of Uncle Sam's battleships, which recently made a new world's target record by scoring six hits in six shots in 57 seconds, is here shown in the Brooklyn navy yard dry dock. She went there shortly after she had made the record on the southern drill seas off the Virginia capes. The picture gives a striking idea of what the greatest war vessel in the United States navy looks like when it is out of water. The ship underwent minor repairs, together with the Florida, Wyoming, Utah and Delaware, and then proceeded to southern waters for drill on Oct. 3.

FOL DE ROLS PLAN DANCE

UNIQUE DECORATIONS ARE TO ATTRACT ATTENTION AT NEXT AFFAIR

CHURCH CLUBS ELECT OFFICERS

King's Daughters Take in One New Member While Saturday Club Selects President and Devises Plans

(By Meta Finley Thayer)
The Fol de Rol club has issued invitations for its first dance of the season, to be held October 17. The club has made a special feature of unique decorating which has added much to the pleasure of its parties in the past and those attending this hop may expect a surprise along this line. Mrs. C. H. Melssner, Mrs. Clyde Mount and Mrs. Earl C. Latourette have been chosen patronesses. The club membership consists of Joseph C. Hodges, Allie E. Levitt, Arthur Farr, Kent Moody, Orin Moore, Dallas Armstrong, Lorraine Ostrom, Raymond Caulfield, Ernest Mass, Lyle Gault, Angus Matheson and Lloyd Harding.

The King's Daughters of the Episcopal church held a special business meeting yesterday afternoon. Miss Helen Dannen was elected a member of the society. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Arthur Warner at Mt. Pleasant, a week from next Friday, when fine needle work will occupy the afternoon.

Local Nimrods have been out in force since the hunting season opened and many informal "China Pheasant dinners" have been given.

The Gypsies will be entertained Saturday evening at dinner by Mrs. Thos. A. Keith of Portland. Mrs. Keith was formerly Miss Edith Cheney.

The Saturday club of the Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Latourette Monday evening. Mrs. John Lowery was elected president, and plans for the season's work discussed. The club will hold a market November 25, and Oregon City housewives look forward to these events.

MUMPOWER IS NOT GUILTY

JURY DELIBERATES FOR HOURS AND RELEASES DEPUTY HELD FOR SHOOTING

COURT'S INSTRUCTIONS EXPLICIT

Judge Campbell Goes Into Phases of Case and Talks of Powers Given to Peace Officers Under State Laws

After hours of deliberation, the jury that held the liberty of William E. Mumpower in its hands brought in a verdict of not guilty at 12:05 o'clock Tuesday night.

Mumpower was a deputy under Sheriff E. T. Mass and was indicted by the recent grand jury following his wounding Earl C. McNaughton during an attempt that he made to arrest the boy. The testimony showed that several shots had been fired by the deputy and that two of them had taken effect. The defense introduced evidence to show that the officer had tried to hit the tire of the motorcycle on which the boy was said to have made his effort to escape and that he had not intention of wounding McNaughton.

The court, however, instructed the jury that the officer must be held accountable for the results of his act and that his intention must be judged from what happened as a result of its exercise. He also emphasized the law that enables an officer to kill a man if it is necessary in making or maintaining an arrest and that the law empowers the officer to use whatever force is necessary to effect that arrest and no more. The defense also introduced testimony to show that a farmer had notified Mumpower that McNaughton had killed his dog, which the court instructed the jury was a felony if committed maliciously and wantonly and with intent to injure the owner of the property. The case then resolved itself into the question as to whether the officer had reasonable grounds to believe that McNaughton had committed a felony and whether he had used more force than was necessary.

CHURCH RETAINS PRESENT MINISTER

Rev. R. L. Dunn, pastor of the Church of Christ at Gladstone, has been retained in his position for another year by the unanimous vote of his church. The decision was taken at a recent conference of the church members and the work that the pastor has done since he has been in charge of affairs was heartily commended.

As a result, the pastor and Mrs. Dunn will remain in Gladstone during the coming fiscal year and the plans and program of the organization will be continued under the supervision of the minister as they have been during the last 12 months. The pastor has several plans for his congregation that he expects to put into operation through the year.

CRAZE TO KILL HOLDS NEGRO IN ITS POWER

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 7.—Confessing to two murders and to several other crimes, Burr Harris, a Los Angeles negro arrested here Sunday on a charge of having murdered Mrs. Rebecca P. Gay in a Los Angeles building 10 days ago, made a clean breast of all his crimes to Captain of Detectives Meyers and two Los Angeles detectives here today.

"I never knew Mrs. Gay and did not go to the Hellman building to find her," Harris said. "I just wanted to kill some woman. I took the gas pipe from my back yard and went to the building and up on the fifth floor I saw her name on the door. I knocked and when she opened it I asked if a Mrs. Wallace was there. I did not know any Mrs. Wallace, and just asked the question to gain admittance."

If there is any temptation within a mile of him a man will find it. Even a lazy man will hustle when he sees a chance to work an easy mark.

HYGENIC SOCIETY HAS ACTIVE YEAR

With the largest delegation of any city outside of Portland, Oregon City was present in force at a meeting of the Oregon State Hygienic society in the Portland hotel Tuesday night.

After the banquet, speeches were made by several of the delegates from every section of the state, gathered together in the second annual conference of the society. Among the speakers were Rev. Boyd, of Portland, and President Foster of Reed College. Plans were made to conduct the work of the society, along the same line next year and reports from the several committees showed the progress that had been made during the last twelve months.

Following are those who represented this city at the conference: E. H. Cooper, Dr. L. A. Morris, F. A. Olmsted, M. D. Latourette, Dr. J. A. Van Brakle, Dr. G. F. Anderson, John W. Loder, Lily Sipp, Chris Schuebel, W. S. U'Ren, R. C. Cox, G. C. Howard, of Everett; A. C. Howland, H. E. Cross and B. T. McBan.

COUNTY TO JOIN IN DISPLAY OF VALLEY

Will Clackamas county be represented in the great all-Willamette valley exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915, or will the county attempt to make its own individual display?

This, the question that will be threshed out at the meeting of the publicity committee of the Commercial club tonight, when one of the most important sessions of that committee will be held.

At present it is thought by those in close touch with the members, that the Oregon City Commercial club will adopt the scheme and that the other similar bodies throughout the county will soon fall in line.

It is considered by many as the only logical and reasonable way to show the wonderful fertility and prosperity of the Willamette valley. Instead of a number of unconnected and rival displays, there would be one connected and harmonizing showing.

The plan is to unite the eight counties of the Willamette valley in one great display at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915. The movement was started Wednesday of last week when representatives of the Commercial bodies of Linn, Marion, Lane and Benton counties met and made preliminary arrangements for joining the different booster clubs. A meeting was arranged for October 30, to which all the commercial clubs of the valley will be invited to send delegates.

STAGE LURE STRIKES HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Within the next two weeks the students of the Oregon City high school will put on the first amateur dramatic performance seen here this fall. Final arrangements are being completed, and support is being worked up in the school for the event.

The offering will not take the nature of a regular drama but will bring to the ability of the students along a number of different lines.

The principal attraction will be a 35-minute sketch, "The Undergraduate," while the bill is filled out with selections by the Girls' Chorus and a school quartet.

Life's as brief as love at sight; some joy, some grief, and then—good night. No man who is a poor provider should expect his wife to be a good cook. Too many young couples never think seriously about marriage until after it happens. A man may boast that he is complete master of himself and not have much to boast of at that. Many a man's idea of a happy home is one in which his wife poses as a dressmaker, cook and maid of all work. When a young man takes a girl for a buggy joy ride and she insists upon taking the reins, he ought to be able to guess what she is driving at.

WHO WANTS TO BE A CAMEL

We weren't very hungry, but we had an awful thirst. So called for a glass of water and a plate of wiener-wurst.

But the waiter answered sadly, "Sir, the water's full of bugs, and 'tis said they're much more deadly than a regiment of thugs."

"If the typhoid bug can't get you, five other kinds are there."

"With diseases you don't want, sir, some common and some rare."

"Bring a glass of milk, then, Gaston," but the waiter shook his head.

"The milk round here's condemned, sir—you must hanker to be dead!"

"Well, then, bring a pot of coffee." The request made Gaston start.

"Have you never heard that coffee is a bad thing for your heart?"

So I pulled the waiter to me, and I whispered in his ear, "Though I know it's fearful wicked, suppose you bring a stein of beer."

"Sorry, sir," poor Gaston answered—"I am sure I heard him sigh."

"But they're signing of petitions for to make this town go dry."

"Doesn't some one in this city ever think he wants a drink?"

"Gaston, will you please to hurry—bring me back a pint of ink."

As you see, I was quite desperate, but 'twas long ere he returned.

Then came to me empty-handed while my temper blazed and burned.

"Sorry I can't get the ink, sir," (though I'd surely have a fit)

"But an M. D. and a Reverend say that they are using it."
