

ELECTION FACES LEGAL TANGLE

foreclosure of prohibition until the supreme court had ruled upon the case, and should the supreme court find the technicality sufficient to disqualify the vote, prohibition would fall to carry, in spite of the popular expression at the polls.
In fact, if the question is raised, the result of the election on any measure on the ballot would be held up. Some attorneys go so far as to say that there is yet time to raise the question before the election, and to get the balloting postponed until the courts have ruled upon the matter. County Clerk Mulvey, of Clackamas county, though admitting the possibility of such action, is going ahead with his election preparations; but says that he would not be surprised if certain interests should raise the legal question that is involved.
Wor's Cross Bridges
"I am not going to cross any bridges until I come to them," said the county clerk, "but it is possible that an attempt will be made to enjoin me. In fact the question has already been raised as to whether or not the prohibition question can be placed on the same ballot as the referendum matters. As I construe the law I believe all the questions should go upon the same ballot, and I am so ordering the printing; but I may be mandamused in the matter."
The fact that this phase of the legality of the election has already been raised indicates that there is an activity against the election, and there are many who expect to see a pretty legal fight grow out of the result, the fight to be based entirely upon the conflict of laws brought about by the act of the last session of the legislature.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE TO HAVE ANOTHER MEETING

The meeting of the publicity committee of the Commercial club, which was to be held Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing the plan of co-operating with the seven other counties in the valley for a great exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, was postponed to a later date so that all members could be present.
The matter is considered of utmost importance to Clackamas county in general and to Oregon City in particular. When the meeting was called there was a quorum present but Chairman Sullivan postponed the meeting until sometime later in the month.

WOODMEN OFFICIATE AT BATDORF FUNERAL

Edmond Lawrence Batdorf, who died at his home Monday from a sudden stroke of apoplexy, was buried Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Mountain View cemetery. The church services were conducted in the First Baptist church by the Rev. W. T. Milliken while the Woodmen of the World had charge of the services at the grave.
Mr. Batdorf was a resident of West Lynn for 25 years and was one of the best known citizens of this section. He was born 86 years ago in Ohio and came to Oregon when 28 years old, where he has lived ever since.

He leaves a widow and six children, all residents of this county. They are: Beryl Batdorf, Mrs. Arthur Williams, Glen Batdorf, Inez Batdorf and Leonard Batdorf.
The pallbearers were: E. H. Cooper, I. D. Taylor, W. F. Schooley, W. L. Snidow, C. F. Charles and John W. Loder.

At the Portland Theaters

Last Car Leaves for Oregon City At Midnight.

Preparations to give hundreds of fans the chance to see the world's series as it is played have been made at the Hellig in Portland, where a Western Union operator has been stationed with his loop tapping the wire connecting direct with the field where the final contest for the world's championship is being waged.
Fans from Portland and all of the surrounding towns have taken advantage of this chance to see every move that is made and every play that is executed as the battle between the giants of two leagues goes on in the arena of the greatest game. Plenty of hot things to eat will be served during the lulls in the game and the fans will be supplied with enough to keep them interested when the contest is not going on before their eyes.
The doors of the Hellig will open at 10 o'clock this morning. Reports will be read at once, covering the appearance of the men, the size of the crowd and other information as to the game.

SULZER CLOSING HIS CASE IN COURT

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The defense in the Sulzer impeachment case rested this afternoon without calling the governor to the stand.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Governor Sulzer showed signs of extreme nervousness today and his friends were worried by fears of a complete breakdown. His lawyers were trying to persuade him not to take the stand in his own behalf at the impeachment trial, but the governor stuck obstinately to his determination to tell his story in person from the stand.
Under cross-examination today, Louis Sarecky, Sulzer's campaign manager and stenographer, was forced to further somewhat damaging admissions. He was still a good witness for the defense to the extent of sticking to his story that he, and not the governor, should be blamed for any carelessness or misconduct in the handling of Sulzer's campaign money, but it was generally considered doubtful if the court would accept as true his assertion that his employer knew nothing of any of the remarkable things the witness acknowledged.

TRANSPARENT SLEEVES DISTINGUISH MANY OF THE NEW BLOUSES

Great is the vogue of the blouse this season. In chiffon, net and delicately patterned laces they are worn with skirts of moire, silk poplin, duvetyne and the numerous other supple drapery stuffs so smart at the moment.
Simple in line and design many of the blouses depend more or less for effect upon odd frills, quaint collars, vest effects and decorative materials. One distinguished little model (7913) has an overblouse with slightly low shoulder that would be most attractive in flowered chiffon. The underblouse, which has a full length sleeve, could be in one of the finely figured laces that are used so much just now. These laces are often dipped and tinted slightly to harmonize with the skirt or suit for which they are intended. A narrow frill finishes the neck prettily.
A most becoming neck to wear the low cut blouse is a narrow band of satin or velvet ribbon not wider than a quarter of an inch, tied around the throat very high in the back.
7913 may be copied in size 36 with 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.
Another blouse in peasant design is perfectly plain without tuck or plait. The V shaped neck is finished with a softly folded ruche. Embroidered net or figured crepe is suitable for this model. Size 36 will require 2 yards of 36 inch material.
Loose and comfy to a degree are the blouses that slip on over the head, without opening front or back. No. 7912 is an attractive design in this style, the pointed yoke is a new fashion detail this season. This design requires for size 36, 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. Each pattern 15 cents.

GRAY HAIR TURNS ITS NATURAL COLOR AFTER APPLYING SAGE TEA

Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Beautifully and Takes Off Dandruff.
Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome, which is why it is so seldom used.
Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug-store for the ready-to-use product - called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" - you will secure a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.
Folks, like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.

JURY FINDS MAN IS GUILTY OF PERJURY

C. W. Carothers was found guilty of perjury by a jury in the circuit court Wednesday night. The sentence will be given by Judge J. U. Campbell within the next two or three days. The jury, at the same time, recommended the man to the mercy of the court and asked that the sentence imposed be as light as possible. The case grew out of an alleged gambling affair in which Clarence Miller is said to have figured. Miller entered a plea of guilty at that time and received a fine of $25. It is said that Carothers, as a witness before the grand jury, denied that he had ever known of any gambling in which Miller was involved and that he had never been in a game where Miller was interested.
From the conclusions of the jury, his testimony was apparently false in this particular. The grand jury returned an indictment against Carothers on the testimony that he gave before it and the case Wednesday was the result of that indictment.
Livy Stipp appeared as prosecuting attorney with Brownell & Stone for the defense.
F. S. Baker, of Gladstone, will leave for an extended visit in eastern Canada in a few days. He will visit relatives in Quebec, the first time in 14 years.

The American Adding Machine

The Latest Adder Costs But $35
See our exhibit-ask for 10 days trial

Here is a new price on a competent Adder. On a machine that is rapid, full-sized and infallible.
The very latest machine, built by men who know, in one of the largest metal-working shops.
It is an individual Adder, to be placed on one's desk, close to one's books and papers. To take the place of the central machine requiring skilled operators.
It is also intended for offices and stores where costly machines are a luxury.
The price is due to utter simplicity, and to our enormous output. Seven keys do all the work.
Each copied number is shown up for checking before the addition is made.
The machine will add, subtract and multiply. With very slight practice anyone can compute a hundred figures a minute. And the machine never makes mistakes.
Countless offices, large and small are getting from these machines the highest class of service.
