Barclay at Beautifully Appointed Affair-Party Returns From East

(By Meta Finley Thayer) No social news has aroused so much interest recently as the approaching marriage of Miss Mary S. Barlow to Mr. Henry Jasper Wilkins, of Portland.

Miss Barlow is the daughter of the late William Barlow, and granddaughter of Samuel K. Barlow, builder of Hood. The history of the Oregon Territory, and of this section in particular, is closely interwoven with the fortunes of this pioneer family. Miss Mary Barlow is known as one of Oregon's prominent educators, and has a wide circle of friends who are planning many entertainments for her pleasure. The wedding, which will be an event of the near future, will be followed by an extended tour through Japan.

Miss Barclay was hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon Thursday, complimenting Miss Mary Barlow. Miss Barclay was assisted by Mrs. William E. Pratt, Mrs. J. Nelson Wisner and Mrs. Forbes Pratt.

The guests, who were all classmates at the Oregon City seminary included: Miss Mary S. Barlow, Mrs. Emma Mil-ler Cochran, Mrs. Clara Caufield Morey, Mrs. Kate Hunsaker Nicholas, Mrs. Jennie Barlow Harding, Mrs. Hattie Barclay Pratt, and Miss Kate

DIVIDES FUNDS FOR

Nearly $50,000 is being apportioned by County Superintendent Gary among the hundred or more school districts of the county. Of this amount $20,702.29 comes from the state and $27, 084.17 from the school funds of the

The Oregon City school district will receive from these funds $5254.45 to assist the district in the support of its public school system. The apportionment is figured on a per capita basis, though each district receives $100 regardless of the number of its students and $5 for each teacher who attends the institute each year. The remainder is given on the per capita basis of $1.14 from the county and

$1.83 from the state. On April 1, an additional apportion-ment will be made by the county superintendent, making a total of about $5.50 per capita for the year.

Never more let it be said that a corporation has no gratitude. Especially never let such a thing be hinted a continent and that will unite two about the Portland Railway, Light & of the world's oceans and shorten the Power company, for this week President Franklin T. Griffith, head of tic and the Pacific coasts; and that concern, sent to three Oregon City girls substantial rewards for their heroism last July.

The letter harks back to the heroism of the Misses Mary Green, Hilda Ford and Orena May, who on July 24, while walking to Canemah, discovered a blaze eating away the ties that support the interurban line along the bank of the river to the south of this city. The girls had nothing with them with which to quench the fire, but realizing the danger should the blaze weaken the structure, climbed ests; and down a ladder to the river, ten feet below, and soaking a newspaper in the water, carried it up to the trestlework and wrung it over the games. Repeated exertions of this nature their part finally enabled them to see the fire die out just before an out-bound interurban train dashed over the weakened right-of-way.

The matter was duly reported to the & Power company, and local officials of the line expressed their gratitude matter was brought to the attention of President Griffith, and this week he sent to each of the three local hereines the following letter:

"During last summer the promt action of yourself and companions probably saved us some loss on our Canemah roadway. The matter was inhope it is not too late for you to accept the enclosed small expression of our appreciation.

"Yours very truly, "FRANKLIN T. GRIFFITH,

Early enthusiasts asserted that with the aeroplane floating overhead, loaded with bombs, it would be an easy matter to destroy an entire fleet. During recent warfare a few bombs have been dropped and the navy has had considerable experience with the air-devils, but it is evident that the warship is not destined to immediate oblivion.
