PARENTS TRUDGE LONG, WEARY WAY FOR WORK

BABY'S LIFE PRICE LONG EXPOSURE

LONG MARCH ENDS AT GRAVE OF FOUR-MONTHS-OLD CHILD—PARENTS HUNT WORK

CAMP BY SIDE OF TRACK AT NIGHT

Starved, Cold, and Wet, They Press on Toward Logging Camp in Hope That Job Will be Given at Trip's End

Chilled by the cold winter rains and starving for the lack of food, a father and mother with a baby of but four months, trudged the long and weary way along the tracks of the Southern Pacific railroad company from Portland to Canby in the search of work. Exposed to the winter's cold and the drenching rains, and fading by degrees from the blasts of the wind and the lack of food, the child finally died when the parents completed the long march to the logging camps of Canby in spite of the efforts of the kindly neighbors, the roaring fires, and the abundance of food that were furnished.

Storms Strike. Along the track for miles in the teeth of the raging storms that have attacked the county in the past few days, carrying the tiny bundle of humanity wrapped in all of the clothing that they could find for it, the parents hopelessly trudged on in the search of work.

Without even the price of a room for the night, with nothing to feed to his starving family, with the cold winter blasts to face and the chilling rains to meet, the young husband was forced to watch his only child fade away by degrees and his fragile wife suffer the hardships and pains beside him on the long and fruitless search for work. Bearing up bravely under the difficulties that they faced, and bracing her shoulders to the wind with as much courage as did he, the little woman met the storms of misfortune and the anger of the elements with as much fortitude as did her husband during those chilly days when their only home was the side of the track for the night and their only food what they could find by the way.

Journey Long. Day after day, they trudged the long journey from Portland to Canby, taking it in as easy stages as possible, but still meeting the storms and tempests and the blasts of the wind and rain.

On their way, they stopped over in Oregon City hoping to find employment in the mills or some place around the town. After several hours of fruitless search, they again began the march to the Canby logging camps and started down the track of the Southern Pacific to find, at the other end of the rainbow, the work for which the husband hoped.

Get There To Late. Nearly dead from the lack of food and the exposure to the elements, the young father and mother finally

BOOM LAUNCHED FOR JONES FOR MAYOR

Petitions are being circulated through the city nominating Linn E. Jones for another term of office as mayor. Within a few hours, numbers of the business and professional men had signed the papers and the signatures ran up into the dozens before the circulators had started their work.

Mayor Jones has served a year of successful administration of the city's affairs and it is thought probable that there will be no opposition to his candidacy for the place. He has made many friends in that time and has secured in business here long enough for every voter to know him well.

As the term of office in Oregon City is but one year, his friends believe that he is entitled to another one at the head of the city affairs and think that the opposition to his race for the place will be small and ineffectual.

Miss Edna Stone, formerly teacher of history in the Butte high school, is spending the winter with Miss Price, and privately studying preparatory to taking post graduate work in history at Berkeley, where she expects to take her master's degree. Miss Stone was guardian of the Sacajawea Campfire Girls of Butte, and took the lead in organizing the Loovitt Campfire here. She is a graduate of the state university of Iowa. Both Miss Stone and Mrs. Dower are delighted with Oregon scenery and especially with the Oregon City Campfire Girls.

Members of the Methodist Episcopal church and congregation gave a delightful reception Tuesday evening in honor of the return of their pastor, Rev. T. B. Forl. After an address of welcome by J. L. Swafford and a response by Doctor Forl, the following program was given:

CONTEST IS HUMMING WITH EXCITEMENT

The first day of the Enterprise Carriers' Live Wire Contest has passed and from the way things have been started, it will probably be true to its name.

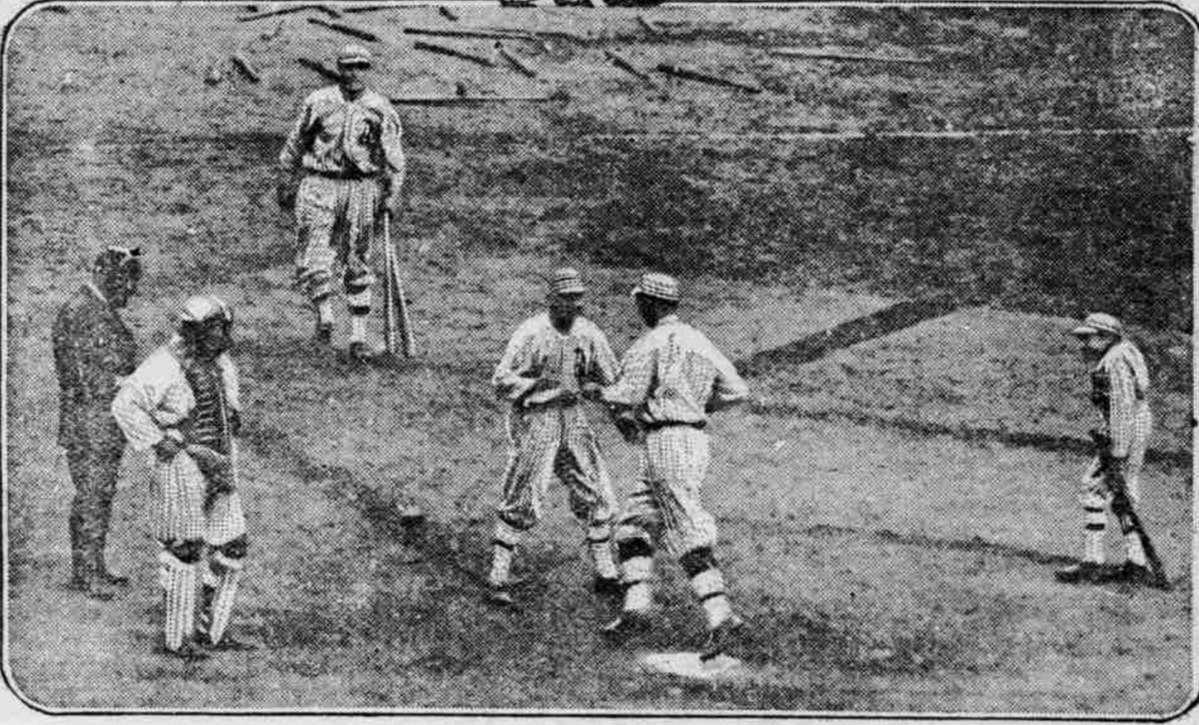

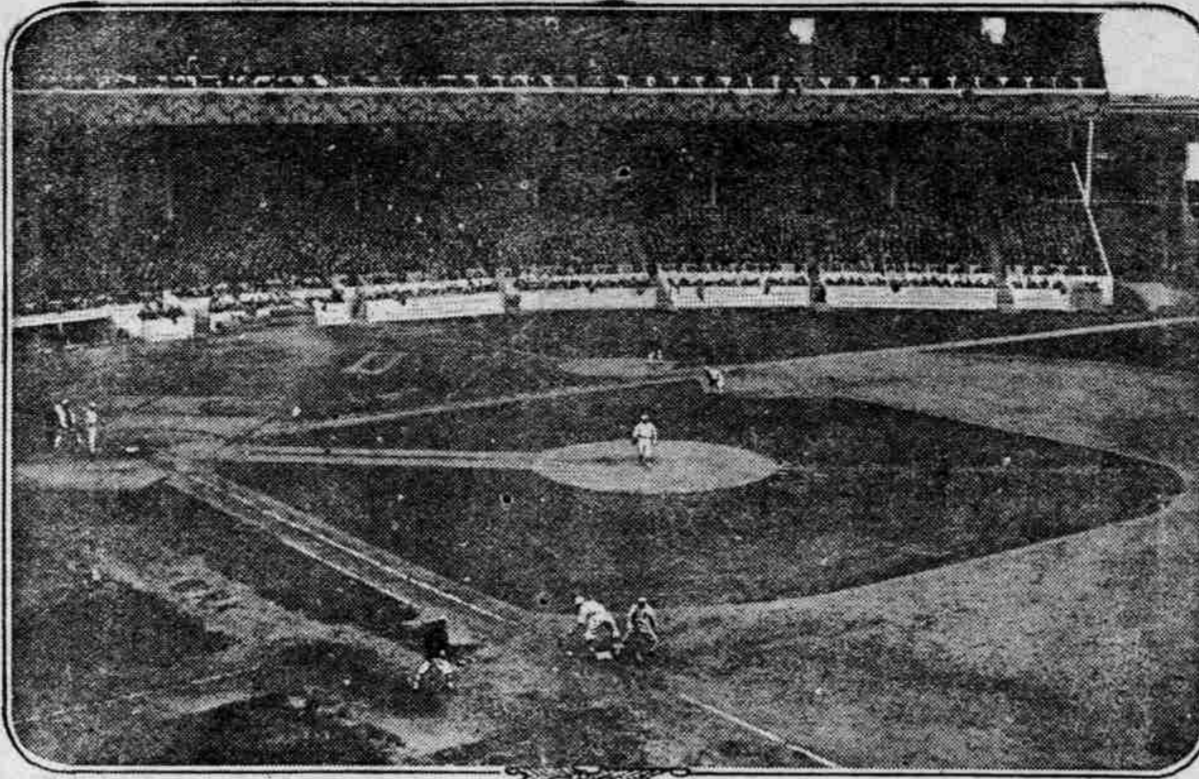

Some of the boys were out even before school while they all worked in the afternoon. They will probably visit every house in the city in the next ten days in their effort to win prizes.

The Enterprise has secured three of the best awards ever offered in this city for such a short contest. The first prize is a Marlin repeating shotgun, the second is a complete fishing outfit, while the third is the best pearl-handled knife obtainable in a local store.

PORTLAND CASE BEFORE SUPREME COURT AGAIN

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 15.—Attorneys for the city of Portland today filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court an amended writ in the mandamus proceedings instituted by the city to compel Mayor Albee and Auditor Barber to execute certain municipal bonds purchased by Henry Teal. The supreme court held yesterday that the original writ of mandamus did not state a cause of action, as it was alleged that the bonds, if executed, would not increase the debt of the city beyond the limit prescribed by the charter. The amended writ complies with the ruling of the court by containing this allegation.

Moments Big With Excitement For 37,000 Fans Who Saw First Game of the World's Series.

Photos copyright, 1913, by American Press Association. This general view of the first world's series game in progress at the Polo grounds, New York city, shows part of the immense, crowded horseshoe grand stand as nearly 37,000 fans watched Marquard try to catch an Athletic runner off first base. This play came in the first inning. Oldring of the Athletics had singled for the first hit of the series. Marquard threw a slow ball to Merkle at first, but Oldring was easily on the bag. Then as quick as a flash Rube whipped the ball over to Merkle again and caught Oldring napping because of the first slow attempt. The other picture shows the famous "Home Run" Baker of the Athletics crossing the plate after his home run clout to the right field stand. He is being greeted by Collins, who scored ahead of him on the home run.

CAMPAIGN STARTS ON REFERENDUM LAWS

Debates have started for the matters that are to be submitted to the people of the state at the general election November 4.

At Beaver Creek in the Grange Hall tonight, there will be a debate on the appropriations made by the legislature of the state for the support and maintenance of the University of Oregon. The affirmative will be taken by John C. Veatch while those opposed to the measure will send some representative from the Portland headquarters.

HOW TO MARK BALLOT AT REFERENDUM

There appearing to be some confusion in the minds of voters as to how to mark their ballots at the forthcoming referendum election, all who go to the polls should bear in mind that they are voting on the original measures. Those favoring the passage of any measure should vote "yes" and those opposing any measure should vote "no." For instance, those favoring the appropriation of additional funds for the state university should vote "yes" on numbers 300 and 302. Those opposing the appropriation of this money should vote "no" in the spaces numbered 301 and 303.

OFFICERS TO TELL OF POSTOFFICE ROBBERY

James Bliss and Frank Morgen, who are charged with robbery of the Willamette postoffice, will have a preliminary hearing Thursday morning before Commissioner Cannon in Portland. Chief Shaw will attend the hearing as witnesses. The two men were arrested three o'clock Tuesday morning by Officers Cook and Woodward on a charge of vagrancy. Coins and a watch were found on them which were recognized by Ewald Leisman, a clerk in the robbed store.

WATER JOINS ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC

Cop yright by International News Service. On October 10, the Gomaboa Dike on the Panama canal was blown up, thus removing the last barrier, with the exception of the canal locks, between the Atlantic and the Pacific. Previous to this the water from Gatun Lake was let into Culebra Cut inserted through the dike. This water in the cut acted as a cushion when Contrary to popular opinion water will not flow from one ocean to the other. The central part of the canal consisting of Gatun Lake and Culebra cut is 85 feet above sea level. The cohes from Gatun Lake, made by impounding the waters of the Charges River and its tributaries behind Gatun

CITY TO GET A NEW POSTOFFICE

LEASE HAS BEEN SIGNED AND CONTRACT WILL SOON BE LET FOR NEW HOME

WEINHARD ESTATE GETS THE PLUM

Government Takes Its Bid and Has Approved Its Plans For Fire-proof Building—Work to Start at Once

By the first of next year, Oregon City will have a new postoffice.

Within the next few days, the contract will be let for a $12,000 fire-proof structure at the Weinhard property on Main street between Eighth and Ninth streets and the work will be started at once and rushed to completion. The government has signed the lease for the property for a new postoffice and has allowed the estate $1920 annually against $900 now paid to the Odd Fellows for the space in use at the present time.

Lease Soon Expires

The present lease on the Odd Fellows building expires December 1, and the people of the city have been making an effort to gain the appropriation for a better postoffice site. They have believed that the city is entitled to a new home and have asked from time to time for appropriations for a new building. Instead, the government has taken a five year lease on the property that the Weinhard estate will erect according to plans and specifications that have already been furnished to the department at Washington.

Three bids were submitted to the government for a new site. M. D. Latourette, acting for the First National bank, the Weinhard estate and the Odd Fellows all wanted to provide a home for the postoffice of the city.

Under the provisions of the lease, the estate must provide a fire-proof building, either of brick or concrete or some other material equally as good, and must equip the place from start to finish. The boxes that are now in the postoffice, as a result, will be worthless and the Odd Fellows will probably offer them for sale. The space that the government will use in the new home will be 30 by 100 feet as against 21 by 80 feet now used.

The building will be used for post-office purposes alone and will be constructed particularly for the government.

DAYLIGHT ROBBER GETS BAG OF MONEY

During the evening rush hour while the place was full of people, a thief opened a purse hanging behind the counter in the City Chop house and took out $15 in cash Tuesday evening between 6:45 o'clock and 7 o'clock.

The purse was the property of Mrs. Anna Lentz who was managing the restaurant in the absence of Miss Price, its owner. She had hung a handbag, containing the purse, just inside the counter at about 6:30 o'clock and when she opened the purse at 7 o'clock the money was gone.

Three arrests were made but the men were freed for lack of evidence. There is no clue as to the robber and the police are at a loss to find the thief.

AND THEY'RE TRYING IT AT HOOD RIVER

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Oct. 25.—Those citizens of the county opposed to the members of the county court and who have been circulating petitions for the recall of the court, the election to be held at the time of the general referendum election, declare that they will secure sufficient signatures to place the recall on the ballot.

The contest between the petitioners and the friends of the court is expected to result in a warm political campaign. Prominent business men, bankers, professional men and the Commercial club have taken up the fight against the recall, while A. L. Mason and Frank P. Friday are among the leaders in circulating recall petitions.

COURT SHOWS ITS ANTI-SULZER PREJUDICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The high court of impeachment decided today that article four was broad enough to cover the Peck testimony in the trial of William Sulzer. The court decided that it was unnecessary to amend the article or to ask the assembly to draw a new one. No mention was made of the Morgenthau testimony in the opinion of the court, which was read by Judge Cullen.

BOURNE WANTS $1,000,000,000

OUTLINES HIS PLAN FOR THE FEDERAL AID OF BETTER COUNTY HIGHWAYS

GOVERNMENT WOULD ISSUE BONDS

Compound Interest Would Pay Off Original Debt in Short Time and Work Would be of Lasting Benefit

The federal aid plan to good roads, proposed by Jonathan Bourne, Jr., former United States senator from Oregon, was outlined in detail by that gentleman at the Oregon City Commercial club Wednesday night, following a dinner given in his honor by the Live Wires. His scheme in brief provides for the possible expenditure of a billion dollars on the highways of the country, the money to be appropriated by the government and loaned to the states at four per cent interest, according to the population and road mileage of the several states. He would have the government issue bonds drawing three per cent, and stated that the surplus of one percent in 48 years at compound interest would accumulate a sufficient amount to pay off the original debt. The borrowing capacity of states would be limited to ten per cent of their bonded indebtedness. Mr. Bourne's plan also embraces the beautiful and much needed feature of maintenance, providing the states and the government would each pay two percent of the money loaned into a maintenance fund, and that the four percent would be sufficient to fully maintain permanent concrete roads, rightfully constructed under expert government supervision.

Close and constant attention was given to Mr. Bourne and he was greeted with generous applause at the termination of his talk. He complimented the Live Wires on the work that organization is doing for this community. Preceding the talk of Mr. Bourne the Live Wire dinner was held in the Commercial club banquet hall, and a number of routine matters were discussed. Reports from various committees were received, among them being cluster lights, county library, weights and measures, elevator, Clackamas Southern railway, livestock and postoffice.

T. J. Gary, John W. Loder and E. E. Brodie were named as a committee to formulate a plan to remedy local conditions relative to the lack of homes for girls and women who can find employment in the garment factory of the Oregon City Woolen mills. It was stated by Mr. Brodie that the woolen mills had turned down orders amounting to $100,000 within the last year, due to their failure to secure sufficient help in the garment factories. At least 50 more girls and women can find situations in the factory, and the problem of housing them is one that the Live Wire committee will try to solve.

County Judge Anderson, C. D. Latourette, President of the Council F. J. Meyer, of Oregon City and Councilman J. F. Albright were among the speakers.

LA FRANCE IS HELD FOR FRAUD BY JURY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 15.—Less than three hours after the case had been given to its consideration the jury found James C. LaFrance guilty of obtaining money by false pretences by "planting" a body on the banks of the Clackamas river and later collecting $3800 from the Modern Woodmen of America. Two other policies totaling $12,000, were cashed by Mrs. La France, who was indicted jointly with her husband. Judge Kavanaugh will pass sentence Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The verdict was returned last night shortly after 8 o'clock. Arguments in the case were concluded at 5 o'clock and Judge Kavanaugh commenced immediately on his instructions, concluding at 5:25, when he ordered the bailiffs to take charge of the jury.

UNCLE SAM PEEVED AT HUERTA'S ACTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The United States government informed Provisional President Huerta yesterday that it looked with abhorrence and amazement on his assumption of both executive and legislative powers in Mexico and that in view of his course could not regard as constitutional the elections planned for October 26.

Two notes were sent, the one strongly phrased and written by Secretary Bryan, inquiring about the safety of the imprisoned members of the Mexican congress, and the other drawn in forceful language by President Wilson himself and said to constitute practically the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by diplomatic means unless there is a decided change of spirit on the part of the officials in Mexico City.
