OREGON CITY IS FAR FROM CLEAN

REPORT OF FOOD INSPECTORS SCORES MANY LOCAL SOURCES OF SUPPLY

TOWN IS INFESTED WITH RATS

Groceries and Dairies in Good Condition, But Some of the Markets, Bakeries and Restaurants Are Unsanitary

Deputies from the office of J. D. Mickie, food and dairy commissioner, have spent three days in Oregon City investigating every place where food products are manufactured or sold. They use in their inspection work a new score card system that gives credit for every detail in the construction as well as the cleanliness.

The score card is based on 100 points for a perfect plant. Some of the places where Oregon City people get their food do not score very complimentary, others are classed by the inspectors as being very good.

The following is in substance the report of Deputy Schrock and Fullenwider to their chief: "We find one of the markets, that of Farr Bros., in exceptionally good condition; with that of R. Petzold a close second. The latter has the cleanest slaughter house we have seen for some months. Mr. Streibig occupies the other extreme, being the filthiest we have ever seen. He has been given one week's time to place his market in first class shape and is now busily at work cleaning and repairing. His slaughter house is in better shape than that of Kloostra, which brings his score total several points above the latter."

P. A. Kloostra also has been given one week's time to make some needed changes to his slaughter house.

The score of the five markets, four with slaughter houses included is as follows: Farr Brothers, market and slaughter house ..... 68 points

R. Petzold, market and slaughter house ..... 66 points
Flora Cornelia market alone ..... 62.4 points
J. W. Streibig, market and slaughter house ..... 34.5 points
P. A. Kloostra, market and slaughter house ..... 30.7 points

Market, George A. ..... 64.4 points
There are four canneries in Oregon City, all small plants and not one in satisfactory condition as is seen by the score. Mrs. Newton and W. E. Troop conduct their factories in connection with their homes and are very careful about cleanliness.

Candy Factories.
The other two are in poorly lighted and poorly ventilated buildings. Utter lack of realization of the responsibility that rests upon them is the cause for the gross carelessness.

The score—
Mrs. Nettie Miller ..... 58 points
Mrs. J. Newton, The Spa Candy Factory ..... 41.8 points

PRINTERS STILL AFTER SECRETARY PLIMPTON

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 16.—If the state printing board does not give heed to an appeal from the Multnomah Typographical union to remove W. M. Plimpton as secretary of the board, on the ground that he is not legally qualified for the position, quo warranto proceedings may be instituted to oust Plimpton.

This information was given out from a reliable source, following a visit to members of the printing board yesterday by Oliver Gallup and E. E. Southard, representing the Portland union.

QUIET WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

SILVERTON MERCHANT WINS AN OREGON CITY GIRL—FRIENDS PRESENT

BITHIAHS TO ENTERTAIN MONDAY

First Social Event of Year is to be Given by Organization—Father Announces Engagement of His Daughter

A very attractive though quiet wedding was solemnized Thursday evening at the family home on Center street when Miss Bertha Mosher became the bride of Mr. Joshua Morley, of Silverton. Rev. J. R. Landisborough performed the ceremony, after which a wedding dinner was served. Only relatives and a few close friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Morley left for a short trip after which they will make their home in Silverton.

Mrs. John Humphreys was hostess of an enjoyable bridge party Tuesday afternoon. Bright autumn flowers and foliage were used effectively in decoration. Mrs. E. G. Caulfield was the fortunate winner of the first prize, and Mrs. Money won the second.

Next Monday evening, October 20, Miss Nettie Kruse will entertain the officers and members of The Bithiahs, an organization of young women affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church. This will be the first social and business meeting for the season, and as this begins their fiscal year much interest is being centered in it. At this time preparations will be commenced for this society's annual Thanksgiving offering to the needy.

The Bithiahs have brought to Oregon City excellent musical talent and it is to be hoped that recitals will be given during the coming season as in the past they have been so successful both financially and from an artistic standpoint.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Olmsted left last night for a six weeks' visit in Eastern cities. Mrs. Olmsted is remaining in Boston with relatives while Mr. Olmsted visits Montreal, New York and Washington on business for the W. P. & P. Co.

George Edwin Morse of Jennings Lodge has announced the engagement of his youngest daughter, Miss Mabel Evelyn Morse, to Mr. Harry Hayles, of Portland. The wedding will take place about the first of December at the home of Miss Morse's sister, Mrs. Harry Painton of Jennings Lodge. Miss Morse is very prominent in church and social circles in Oregon City.

The Fol de Rol club have completed arrangements for its hop of the season which will be held in Busch's hall this evening. Their decorations are beautiful and unusual and a large attendance is expected from Portland as well as from this city.

The Kings Daughters of the Episcopal church will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Arthur Warner at Mt. Pleasant. Needlework for the Christmas Bazaar will occupy the afternoon.

The Dertlich club will be entertaining this afternoon by Mrs. J. W. Moffatt at her home in West Linn.

Mrs. T. M. Morgan, of Seattle, is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Moffatt, of West Linn. Mrs. Morgan was formerly Miss Amy Gray of Portland, and has many friends in Oregon City.

JUSTINIAN DEVOTE BEGINS PRACTICE

Philip L. Hammond, son of the Rev. P. K. Hammond, formerly rector of St. Paul's Church, Oregon City, and brother of William Hammond of the law firm of Cross & Hammond of this city, has just received his sheep skin from the supreme court of this state authorizing him to practice law.

Mr. Hammond studied law in the University of Oregon law school in Portland and has been for the past year with the law firm of Shepard & Brock in Portland. He expects to open a law office somewhere in the vicinity of Oregon City.

NAVAL OFFICER IS FIRED BY GOVERNOR

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 16.—Governor West today revoked the commission of Lieutenant Commander of the Oregon Naval Militia held by Mayor E. E. Shaw of Marshfield. Last Saturday the governor removed Mayor Shaw from the naval militia board under the statute which provides that any member of a board appointed by the governor who fails to attend two consecutive meetings of the board, without showing satisfactory cause, forfeits his membership.

"Mayor Shaw's commission has been revoked because his activities in the direction of the Coos county deportation cases were hardly consistent with the duties of an officer of the naval militia," said the governor. "Such an officer is supposed to assist this office in seeing that the laws of the state are enforced."

Mayor Shaw was commissioned lieutenant commander by Governor West October 31, 1911.

First View of Gatun Locks In Panama Canal In Operation, Showing How Sections Are Filled.

This is the first picture from the Panama canal zone showing the great Gatun locks in operation. The water was let into the locks from Gatun lake, and the first boat to go through was the tug Gatun, used in hauling mud sews. The picture shows the water in one of the lock chambers being gradually let into the connecting section.

Pretty Women Baffle Clerk In Effort to Get On Next Voting List

Women were right in the swim at the court house Thursday. They lined up to register for the coming election. They marched in four deep and they came in in twos, threes, and by themselves. There seemed to be thousands of them as they poured into the office of County Clerk Will L. Mulvey Thursday to get their names on the official registration lists of the county and to get one, big, genuine, whack at some of the measures that are to be submitted to the people at the next election and every election thereafter for several months to come.

There were pretty women there. All Clackamas county women are, of course, there were women who had lived in the state since Oregon was a state. There were women who were grandmothers. There were mothers with their children—and some without them. There were mothers who brought their entire families with them and there were those who left them at home in "daddy's" care. There were old women and women were young, those in the eighties and those just past the legal age.

All of the excitement at the office of the county clerk had to do with the registration lists. The women are coming in now in force to register. There are several measures before the people of the state at the coming election that the women want to have their say-so about. There's the appropriations for the university, for instance. Many of the women are in favor of higher education and want to see those bills approved by the people. They propose to vote for those bills. Then, there is the workman's compensation act. Many of the women are wives or mothers of workmen. They want to see that bill passed at the polls.

In addition, the women seem to be strongly in favor of prohibition. They want to get a whack at the saloon. They are dry from start to finish and they don't want Oregon City to line up in the wet column again. As a result, they are determined to use the vote that has been given to them for the benefit of the city and have started to work on the prohibition question. When the votes of the city are counted in the forthcoming election, the women will be in the front rank of those who voted for prohibition, it is said.

The new found vote is to be used this year. The women of Oregon, generally, have not gone to the registration clerks and have not taken advantage of the suffrage that has been given to them. But the women of Clackamas county are now beginning to do so and before the offices are closed at 5 o'clock on next Saturday night thousands of them will be registered in this city and county and their votes will be an important factor in the coming campaign.

GRANGE CELEBRATES 40 YEARS OF LIFE

To celebrate its forty years of useful and prosperous existence, the Multino Grange will hold an elaborate and all-day program on Saturday, October 18, to which members of all the neighboring granges will send representatives.

There will be a literary program but most of the time will be spent by the members and visitors in talking over old times. There are but two of the charter members, C. T. Howard and Mrs. John Knowles, still living, and these will be the guests of honor.

This grange is one of the most prosperous in the county as it has over 80 members although they are scattered over a wide territory.

GLADIATORS TO MEET ON CANEMAH FIELD

The Oregon City high school team will play the fast Washington high school gladiators, Saturday, October 18, on Canemah field. This will be the biggest game of the season for the local school as the Washington team is considered as being one of the fastest in the state.

Elaborate plans are being made by the students, generally, who intend to turn out in a body and boost for the home school. A yell leader has been selected and active preparations have been made to bring all the students together in one big noise on the appointed day.

The team, too, is preparing for the invasion and Coach Wagner is putting on the final touches and giving the last instructions to his team. It is said that he has several new and fast plays that ought to show the Portland players a few fancy tricks in the game.

The Washington high school has always been considered one of the best teams in the state, having captured the Portland and state championship several times, besides laying a strong claim to national scholastic football championship. The local school, however, has one of the best teams that ever represented Oregon City on the gridiron, so a lively game is expected.

The average man expects a pound of gratitude in exchange for an ounce of charity. After a self-made man has been elected to office two or three times he gets the idea that his death would be a public calamity. And maybe it would. Huerta has pretty much thrown off his disguises, and appears as an absolute military dictator, insofar as his power extends, but it becomes more limited and uncertain daily.

CITY ESTOPPED FROM ITS WORK

ELEVATOR CONSTRUCTION TO BE TIED UP SEVERAL WEEKS IF COURT RULES

MRS. CHASE IS READY TO FIGHT

Has Her Dander up and Proposes to go the Limit to Keep City Out of Her Property—Makes Points

Sarah A. Chase has filed her injunction against the city and will fight her case through the courts, tying up the construction of the elevator for several weeks.

The papers have been filed in the office of County Clerk Will L. Mulvey and have been served upon the city though the agents of the construction company have been out of town and have not been officially notified of the action. They have anticipated that the property owner would bring this action against them and the city, however, for her attorney, J. E. Hedges made that threat at a recent meeting of the city council.

She Objects
Mrs. Chase has, all of the time, objected to the condemnation of her property for the purpose of building an approach to the elevator on the resident side. She has also objected to the $1500 that the board of reviewers estimated was the damage that she would suffer because of the construction of that approach. She has claimed that her property will be materially damaged and that the elevator will become a nuisance to her.

She believes that the city has no right to construct the elevator at that point as long as she objects to it and she has declared her intention to fight the case through the courts and tie the matter up as long as possible, even if she is unsuccessful in her fight. She contends, however, that the city is destroying her property without giving her a proper amount in return for the damage and proposes to take such legal action as will repay her for the damage that is done.

Condemned Property.
The home of Mrs. Chase is in lots one to four, inclusive, block 34, and other land down to the railroad right-of-way. To land the passengers on the bluff, it was necessary for the city to condemn her property and a board of reviewers was appointed. Its report has, however, been unsatisfactory to the plaintiff and she has asked for an order out of the circuit court restraining the city from constructing the work. In her complaint she sets out that two bridges could be built so as to avoid her property and alleges that the elevator is not a public necessity.

Her attorneys are Joseph E. Hedges, C. D. and D. C. Latourrette.

Pennant Dope.
Portland has won the pennant. But 10 more games are on the Portland schedule.

Venice is half a game ahead of Sacramento for second place.

San Francisco is now four games behind the first division.

How easy for a weak man to break a promise.

FARMERS LOLL IN VAST WEALTH

REPORTS SHOW PROSPERITY OF STATE AND CROPS RAISED THIS YEAR

ENOUGH FOR $200 TO EACH PERSON

If Distributed Would Give Every Man, Woman and Child a Bank Account—Increase is Far Greater Than Ever

Two hundred dollars would be the share of every man, woman and child if the cash value of Oregon's agricultural products for 1913 were divided among the people of the state. The valuation of the farm products is almost $140,000,000 according to the report of Dr. James Withycombe, director of the state experiment station and the population is slightly under 600,000.

Carrying the estimates further, there are about 50,000 farmers in the state and this sum divided among them would make their share about $2800. This year's valuation is greater than any previous year, exceeding last year by $14,000,000.

The estimate of the experiment station is as follows:

| Agricultural Crops, 1913    |            |               |
