

SPORT DOPE

UNINJURED STAFF OF PITCHERS GREAT AID

Now that the Coast League has passed into history for the year 1913, the dopers are already beginning to figure out who is going to win the flag in 1914.

There is not much doubt but that the class of ball played this year in the league was better than ever before. It is also agreed that the Portland team was the strongest aggregation ever seen in the league, and will probably be considered the favorite next year.

Pitching is the important feature of the game and few teams ever gain the highest honors without a strong staff. To have the regular gunners go on the firing line in every game means a lot to a manager and in this the Portland managers have been decidedly fortunate.

West was the only Portland twirler that was bothered much on account of his injuries and as he was at his best when pitching but one game a week, his loss was not felt much. All the rest of the boys, excepting James, were able to go the firing line whenever needed and James was only out of the game for a short time with a bad finger.

BOXERS TO MEET TODAY IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 28.—Bud Anderson, of Vancouver, Wash., and Louis Rees, of Los Angeles, who will clash here tomorrow night in a ten-round contest, completed their training today and each was pronounced in perfect condition by his trainer. The articles call for the scrappers to weigh in at 133 pounds and each is within striking distance of that mark now. Anderson's backers expect to see him win by the knockout route.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME FRIDAY

The McLoughlin warriors are preparing for a championship game with Fareley school which will be played Friday of this week. These two teams have played twice and each eleven has one contest to its credit. It is hard to tell which way the game will go as the two elevens are evenly matched and of about the same weight.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

ALBANY AND EUGENE

OREGON CITY, Ore., Oct. 28.—(Editor of the Enterprise)—A letter published in Tuesday morning's Enterprise and signed by the secretary of the "committee of 100," says that abolishing the saloons has benefited Albany and Eugene, among other towns in the valley. Let us look at statistics from these towns, and note the "benefits."

Albany pays this year 13 mills in city taxes alone, which is three mills above the legal limit.

In the year ending September 24, 1913, there were 184 arrests for drunkenness and violations of the liquor law in Albany. Out of 210 criminal cases in the city courts in Albany during this year, 138 were for liquor law violations—65 percent of the total. And out of the 47 cases heard in the circuit court at Albany, 23 were liquor cases—55 percent of the total court business. Yet the committee of one hundred "points with pride" to Albany.

As to Eugene, which is a very good town to compare to Oregon City, owing to the fact that its population is practically the same, more interesting things can be seen. During the past year there were 363 arrests for drunkenness and 11 for violations of the liquor statutes in Eugene. This makes a total of 374 arrests for the year—one arrest to every 24 people in the city. The Lane county circuit court tried 68 cases in the year, and 24 of these were liquor cases. The circuit court devoted 36 percent of its effort to punishing violators of laws or statutes designed to keep people from drinking.

Eugene's tax levy for city purposes alone for the present year is 15 mills. In addition to this Eugene taxpayers have to pay 18.5 mills for county and school taxes.

Moral conditions in Eugene seem to be not exactly ideal, when the matter is investigated. During the past year there were 69 arrests for drunkenness, 33 for disorderly conduct, eight for fighting, six for assault, 9 for gambling and five for carrying concealed weapons.

Can any thinking man, after reading these transcripts from the city records of Albany and Eugene, see where these towns have been "benefitted" by confiscating their saloon license revenue? Can there be found any argument therein for asking Oregon City voters to follow suit—51 ways bearing in mind that Albany and Eugene are in the midst of "dry" territory, while Oregon City is but 47 minutes' journey from Portland? Closing Oregon City saloons will remove $10,000 of needed revenue from the city, and will not better local moral conditions in any way.

GRAY HAIR TURNS ITS NATURAL COLOR AFTER APPLYING SAGE TEA

Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Beautifully and Takes Off Dandruff.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—a little "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will save a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair. Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever. (Adv.) NAMED IT RAVENNA.

Just When the Ohio Town Was Going to Be Called Tappan.

Shortly after the Revolution Benjamin Tappan, son of a wealthy Boston merchant and the original owner of what is now Portage county, O., entered his father's tract in the west and spent the winter there. Other settlers joined him, and a settlement was begun, which had the dignity of a town at a time when a single log cabin at each place marked the present sites of the cities of Cleveland and Buffalo. The place was one of singular natural beauty, and the question of a name soon arose.

Now, it happened that at this time a younger brother of Benjamin Tappan's and his wife were in Italy and came upon the old town of Ravenna. Delighted with the place, the young bride expressed to her husband the wish that somewhere in the new world there might arise a town worthy to bear the name of the wonderful old Italian city.

The husband immediately thought of his brother in the Ohio wilds and at once dispatched a letter in which he pictured the beauties of the Italian city and expressed the wish that the town then arising in the wilderness be named in its honor.

Many months later Benjamin Tappan, despairing of finding a suitable name for the town, was about to yield to the wishes of his neighbors and bestow the name of Tappan upon it when the letter arrived. So, instead of Tappan, the town was named Ravenna, which name it still proudly bears.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Two Meal Animal.

Breakfast with bacon (or meat) is a latter day invention. It should be recalled Down to almost modern times man was a two meal a day animal—dinner and supper. A fifteenth century proverb bade him rise at 5 a. m., dine at 9 a. m., sup at 5 p. m., go to bed at 9 p. m., and thou shalt be healthy and nine." The Oxford Dictionary, indeed, gives 1463 as the date of the first mention of "breakfast." For centuries afterward it meant only the morning draft of ale, with or without a bite of bread. Everybody then set about his work fasting.—London Spectator.

An Interesting Exhibit.

If two great shops could stand side by side on the main street of the world and all the vices could be put in the show window of one of them and all the virtues in the show window of the other and all the people could go by all day, all night, and see the windowful of vices as they were all the windowful of virtues in the morning.—Gerard Stanley Lee's "Crowds."

Not in His Line.

"They tell me," said the new reporter, who was doing an interview "that you have succeeded in forging your way to the front."
 "Sir," replied the self made man coldly, "you have been misinformed I'm no forger."—London Globe.

Passive.

"So you lost your money in the stock market?"
 "No," replied Mr. Laubkin; "I didn't even have the fun of losing it myself. I took another man's tip and then allowed a broker play it for me."—Washington Star.

Apparently most of the people of New York love Sulzer yet, and more than ever.

As the size of your thumb compares with your hand, so this illustration compares with the size of the book.

Mere words cannot describe it; an illustration such as is herein presented cannot portray its beauties. The French would call it an "Edition de Luxe." We have no phrase so fitting. It is indeed a super-fine edition, a book of surpassing elegance, the grand triumph of art in magnificent tropical colorings, interwoven with word pictures none the less artistic.
