COUNTY TURNS BILLS DOWN

FAILS TO APPROVE TWO UNIVERSITY MEASURES SUBMITTED TO PEOPLE

ALL PRECINCTS ARE NOW REPORTED

Bull Run is Last to Report, But Sends In its Returns to the County Clerk Late in the Afternoon

With all precincts in Clackamas county has given majorities in favor of the county attorney act and the workmen's compensation act, but has gone against the two university of Oregon measures and the sterilization act. The two local measures, providing for an increase in the salary of County School Superintendent Gary from $1000 to $1600, and indorsing a county library tax measure, have been defeated.

This has been an adverse election, so far as Clackamas county is concerned. Outside of Oregon City and Milwaukie, where there were prohibition elections, a light vote was cast, the electors manifesting little interest generally in the fate of the state-wide measures. The total unofficial returns, which one precinct not included, follows:

University building repair—	1920
Yes	1920
No	3310
Majority against	1390
University new building—	1817
Yes	1817
No	2393
Majority against	1476
Sterilization act—	1737
Yes	1737
No	3472
Majority against	1735
County attorney act—	2870
Yes	2870
No	2140
Majority for	730
Workmen's compensation act—	3536
Yes	3536
No	1803
Majority for	1727
School superintendent's salary—	2187
Yes	2187
No	3053
Majority against	865
County library tax—	2458
Yes	2458
No	2920
Majority against	462

While Clackamas county gave majorities against the appropriation bills for the University of Oregon, those measures carried in the state by large margins. The sterilization act, however, shared the same fate generally, as it did in this county. The county attorney act and the workmen's compensation act were indorsed by the people of the entire state.

ONLY SCHOOL FAIR HELD AT CANEMAH

The only school fair in the Oregon City district was held in the Canemah school house Wednesday afternoon. There were a large number of Canemah and Oregon City persons present and the fair was considered a success by those in charge.

Every one of the 38 students of the school made a display of something they had made or prepared. Among the boys, small articles of furniture or home grown vegetables were the most popular, while the girls displayed various articles of needlecraft.

There were 45 prizes in the fair. It is true that some of them were small, but they represented the work that was required to win them. Among the prize-winners was Harvey Ormiston, who won a gold stick pin with a necktie holder. Naomi Bowers' needle work secured an award. Leo Ormiston won a pocket book with a tooth brush rack made and Lenord Nelson displayed apples and carrots that were so large that the judges gave him a prize.

The fair was under the control of Mrs. E. W. Scott, of Oregon City. The judges were Mrs. D. M. Shanks and Mrs. M. W. Bowland.

Also, at the national livestock show Oregon showed the best yearling Jersey heifer, its owner by the way, being a Polk county 12-year-old boy. In about everything, everywhere, Oregon can take first prizes.

SALEM SALOON MEN MAY CONTEST RESULT

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 5.—For the first time in its history, the capital of Oregon has been voted "dry." The prohibition forces won in yesterday's local option election by a majority of 488. One of the largest votes in the history of the city was polled there being 2734 votes for prohibition and 2296 against.

It is reported today that the saloon men will contest the election. They appear bitterly disappointed, and while they are not talking freely, it is reported that they will take the matter into the courts and endeavor to have the election declared void on the ground that the petition calling the election was imperfect, and perhaps on the ground that it was illegal to swear in votes under blank A.

All saloon licenses in the city expire December 1, and it is understood that the city council, in face of the returns in the local option election, is not in favor of renewing any of them, even though the local option law does not go into effect until January. The saloon men declare they will contest the council's right to shut them out of the last month of the year.

COUNCIL FIXES ITS TAX LEVY

RATE FOR YEAR WILL BE EIGHT AND ONE-HALF MILLS ON DOLLAR

CHASE DAMAGES ARE PROVIDED

Garbage Ordinance Postponed to Allow Committee Another Chance to Study Its Many Provisions

Oregon City will have a levy on its taxable property of eight and one-half mills.

The decision of the city council was made at a meeting held Wednesday night when the question was submitted. The ordinance went to its first reading and provides that eight mills shall be levied for the general fund and for permanent street improvement and that one-half mill shall be raised for the library purposes.

The council did not see how it could set along with less than the appropriations that had been made for last year and felt that a tax of a smaller rate would not meet expenses. The limit is 10 mills and there was some suggestion of raising the levy to that amount.

Chase Assessments.
The assessments for the damages to the property of Mrs. S. A. Chase were approved and the ordinance went through on final passage. An alley was narrowed by an ordinance that merely reached its first reading from 26 to 16 feet. The garbage ordinance was postponed, until the next meeting, to give the committee on police and safety a chance to study it more carefully. The grade on J. Q. Adams street between Third and Twelfth streets was changed on a report of the city engineer. The application for an electric light on the corner of Molalla Avenue and Warner street, signed by 51 property owners, was referred to the street committee. Reports were received from the city recorder and the chief of police. The latter's report shows about 13 extra policemen on duty Halloween night and no property was stolen at that time. The acceptance of Sixteenth street by the city engineer was ordered filed and will be considered by the council within two weeks. Other matters of routine were transacted.

LATEST ROYAL WEDDING ATTRACTS THOUSANDS

This photograph shows the carriage bearing Prince Arthur of Connaught and Princess Alexandra Victoria, Duchess of Fife, on their way to the historic little chapel royal of the palace of St. James, London, to be married. It was a family affair, and London's mothers and daughters made up nine-tenths of the thousands of persons who assembled in every street and road along which the royal couple passed to give them a welcome. There was room for less than three hundred in the simply, though daintily decorated chapel of St. James, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalties and notable personages as on this occasion.

"It makes no difference to this council what I paid for that dirt. The city engineer can determine the cost. At any rate, I'm honest. And, I have never run for city treasurer, either. This thing is to be settled on an honest basis and none of your dishonest tricks are going to have anything to do with them."

The scenes shifted at the council meeting last night. Instead of the usual break between Councilman Albright and Tooze, the curtain raised on a battle between Tooze and Holman. Albright got into the fray and fired a few shots at Tooze over the elevator proposition but that fight was merely secondary.

ROAD SUPERVISORS ARE IN CONFERENCE

Road supervisors from all parts of the county gathered at the county court room Wednesday to make reports and exchange ideas.

On account of the rain, some of the supervisors did not appear, but those who attended the conference with the county court gained the attitude of the judge and commissioners on the question of good roads. The court believes in a better system of road construction and thinks that these conferences will result in more uniformity than has been possible where the supervisors never knew what the others are doing.

The 59 supervisors of the county have had about that many different ideas of road work. The court plans to get them together frequently and have them exchange ideas that will bring about a more uniform system throughout the county. Talks were made and experiences related on the difficulties of improvement of the highways in the several districts of the county.

F. H. Brownell, of Sellwood, was in Oregon City Wednesday, the guest of his brother, George C. Brownell.

MISSING GIRL NOW FOUND

ROSETTA ROBERTSON IS LOCATED AT GREENPOINT HOME

C. E. COLEMAN HELD ON CHARGE
Complaint Filed in Justice Court Against Him Alleging That He Violated Law and Arrest Follows At Once

Rosetta Robertson has been found and C. E. Coleman has been arrested, charged with restraining her by force and kissing her.

There is considerable mystery concerned in the affair which the police and the sheriff's office have not yet uncovered. The girl was found, according to the police, in the house of C. E. Coleman, which is situated in the northern part of the city, known as Greenpoint.

According to Coleman, the girl was to work for him at two dollars a week. At the time the officers searched his house, the girl was found washing clothes.

The girl mysteriously disappeared Sunday afternoon from the home of her parents on the Abernethy road near this city and it was not until Wednesday that any trace of her could be found. The officers had vainly searched as to her whereabouts, all of which have been proven to be false.

When a young man tells a girl that he is unworthy of her she should believe him.

ALBRIGHT CLAIMS HOLD UP PLANNED

SAYS TOOZE WANTS TO PREVENT CONSTRUCTION OF THE ELEVATOR

BID OFFERED FOR ALL OF BONDS

Morris Brothers of New York Come in With Proposition to Take Issue at Par With Commission of $600

Festivities and fireworks began in the city council Wednesday night when Council Albright charged that Tooze was trying to hold up the construction of the elevator and that his strategic moves were directed all of the time against the elevator itself.

The fun started when Morris Brown filed a bid for the $12,000 worth of elevator bonds that have been issued by the city and offered to take them at par, providing the council allowed commission and expenses of $600 on the transaction.

Tooze on His Feet. Tooze immediately declared that he could not see the sense in submitting the question to the people of selling these bonds at home and then promptly selling them to an outside concern before the voters even had a chance to determine what they wanted done with those bonds.

He contended that all cities through the country are selling their bonds to their own people rather than sending them to eastern bonding houses. He argued that the people should have the bonds in their own hands and that the money should be held at home. He believed that the bonds should be made even smaller than had been at first planned and that the denominations should be placed at $10 so even the women and children could save their money and buy city bonds.

Councilman Tooze's contention was that the people of the city would gain an interest in the city government and that they would hold stock in the enterprise just as the people working in mills and other industries save their money and purchase stock in those concerns.

Councilman Albright, on the other hand, felt that the whole deal was a conspiracy that had been hatched by Tooze to hold up the work on the elevator and that he was merely formulating plots and plans for preventing the construction of that elevator. In fact, he said so emphatically several times.

Tooze believed that the measure had been placed on the ballot and that the council would be placed in an embarrassing position if the people voted for the selling of the bonds and the city fathers had sold them before even an expression of opinion had been given at the polls.

The bid was referred to the committee on finance.

WOMAN IS INJURED AS WAGON SWINGS

Mrs. M. E. Bell, of this city, was struck by a wagon Wednesday afternoon at the corner of Fifth and Main streets, and was thrown to the paving, and is now suffering from a broken leg.

It appears that as she was coming around the corner on Main street a wagon was approaching from the opposite direction and as it swung around the corner, it knocked her to the street. She is somewhat bruised and has a severe fracture of her left leg.
