STAFFORD. We still continue to have sunshine and rain, but not enough of the latter to retard work very much. We speak of the weather every week especially for the information of some of the less favored subscribers in other parts of the state, and adjoining states, where they are fast freezing up or being washed away. It rained hard on the night of Halloween, therefore but few of the gnomes and spirits risked wetting their gossamer wings, to cut up pranks.

Mrs. Bockman is not as well as she has been. She is still suffering from the influenza which she contracted last week and returned to her daughter's on Sunday.

Tuesday being election day many took occasion to vote, then go to a friends for a visit, and try to convince themselves and the other one that each had voted right. We hope they did, and a few days of suspense now will tell the story.

Mrs. George Aden was called to California by the serious illness of her father, the Rev. Mr. Waette, former pastor of the German Baptist church of this place, and with a brother and three sisters started for his bedside on last Thursday. His friends all hope to hear he is better.

No one has asked me to, but I would like to say a word in behalf of country telephone contracts. I did not know until recently and I take it others are just as ignorant, that if we do not pay up our long distance calls by the 10th of every month the operator has to take it out of her own pocket and pay it herself. The operators get small wages, ours receiving only $10 per month, until recently her salary has been raised to $15, but I happen to know that out of that pittance she has had to pay out at least one month, $13, and every month there is some to pay for those who do not pay up promptly. Some of us have ignorantly let it run on from month to month, but let's get busy now and pay our honest debts as no one likes to press a neighbor and buyoff asking them to pay about the first of every month, she lets it go, and we do not realize we are helping to cripple our telephone service.

Mrs. Brink received the sad news that her youngest brother, who had suffered a stroke of paralysis was very dangerously ill, and not much hopes entertained of his recovery as he is a man about sixty years old.

A telegram, received Wednesday morning, conveys the sad intelligence that Mr. Waelitte died on Tuesday, the 4th.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE OREGON CITY, Ore., Nov. 7.—(Editor of The Enterprise)—The petition that is reputed by the Morning Enterprise to be circulated for the closing of picture shows and pool halls on the Sabbath, is entirely without our knowledge or approval. We discountenance any such movement as we are satisfied with the result of the election on Tuesday, and are proceeding on the understanding that the city will be dry after January 1, and that the laws of the state and of the city will be enforced by the proper authorities. (Signed) T. B. FORD, President O. C. Ministers' Conference, W. T. MILLIKEN, Secretary O. C. Ministers' Conference.

OREGON CITY, Ore., Nov. 7.—(Editor of The Enterprise)—I was called out of bed Wednesday night and asked if I were not circulating a petition to the council to have the saloon license rescinded at once. Twice before the same evening the same question was asked me. Then this morning the report regarding a petition to close the pool rooms and theatres on Sunday came to my ears. Upon investigation we fall to trace these reports to any of the temperance folk, hence we leave it to the imagination of the public to figure out the source of the trouble. We have a strong and capable corps of city officials who are quite able to enforce the laws and who would be unmoved by any fool petition that lay outside the law, even could someone be found to circulate it. W. T. MILLIKEN.

OREGON CITY, Ore., Nov. 7.—(Editor of The Enterprise)—It has been called to my attention that a statement was made in the Enterprise during the late campaign that candy was circulated by the saloon keepers among the girls in the woolen mills. The statement has no basis in fact, but arose in the following manner. I brought a box of candy to the workers there, and said in a joke, "This is on the wet." One of those who listened to me, and ate part of the candy reported that I said it was from the saloon men. This is all there is to the matter. K. WETZLER.

I have heard Mr. Wetzler's statement, and am satisfied that he is telling the truth regarding the matter, and that it was only a joke that was taken by some who heard, seriously. W. T. MILLIKEN.

HERE A ONE-SIDED TUNIC MAKES FOR NOVELTY

Straight lined frocks are charmingly suited to either the decorative materials now modish or the plain fabrics. The oddly patterned crepes, silks and novelty stuffs need little trimming, none unless it be a collar and cuffs of plain material to offset the too decorative appearance or for contrast. The plain materials may be collared and cuffed most effectively with the brocade and figured silks. Although we have draperies and overdraperies, the plain, straight skirt with its accompanying plain blouse is still popular and in good style. A well-cut one-piece dress is shown in 7999. One of the clinging silks in a large Oriental pattern, richly colored, would be appropriate for this model, as well as the plaid trimmed ratine in which it is here developed. An afternoon frock after this design requires for size 36, 4 1/4 yards of 36 inch material with 3/4 of a yard of contrasting silk. A half-tunic and a clever blouse arrangement make 7656 distinctive. The smart effect of a plain duvetyne in a soft dark purple relieved by touches of vividly colored embroidery may readily be perceived. Bits of bright green, cerise and gold make the embroidery striking. A figured silk girdle showing the same coloring as the embroidery adds further chic to the frock. This dress may be copied in size 36 with 5 1/4 yards of 36 inch material and 3/4 of a yard of contrasting material. No. 7999—sizes 34 to 44. No. 7656—sizes 34 to 42. Each pattern 15 cents.
