COLLEGE TEAMS BATTLE TO TIE

"AGGIES" SCORE FIRST AND SHOW GREATER SKILL THROUGHOUT GAME

VARSIITY MEN JUST MISS DEFEAT

Bleachers Blaze With Color As Students and Alumni Give Vent to Enthusiasm in Cheers and "Stunts"

(By Thomas Burke)
Oregon Agricultural college came back with a vengeance yesterday, after a long series of annual defeats by their old enemies, the University of Oregon, and held the Eugene men to a 10-10 tie in one of the most exciting and sensational games ever held in the northwest. Not only did they hold the fast Eugene men to a tie score, but for three quarters so clearly outplayed Bezedek's men that there was no comparison in the teams.

An intercepted pass was carried over in a beautiful 40-yard run by Robertson of O. A. C., shortly after the Corvallis men had made a beautiful place kick from the 25-yard line in the first quarter. This made a 10-0 score in favor of the O. A. C. men and the Eugene warriors were as good as defeated until the last quarter when they tied the score, first by a 35-yard run by Cornell of a quarter fake, which netted a touchdown and goal and later Fenton made placement from the 20-yard line. This tied the score and saved Oregon from what seemed most certain defeat.

Wallace Caulfield, of Oregon City, played an excellent game at center for the collegians making every pass perfect. Cornell and Parsons, too, starred for the university, and Blackwell, May and Abraham proved the strongest players for O. A. C. The Corvallis team fought like demons and clearly had the best machine the first three quarters. In the last quarter Oregon seemed to awake from her lethargy and played brilliant ball tying the score and making yardage constantly. The Eugene men seemed dazed the early part of the fray and were completely played off their feet. Final score—Oregon 10; O. A. C. 10.

Two hours before the time the game was to be called, the advance guard of football enthusiasts began to arrive at Albany Athletic park to join other enthusiasts in the game of all games. At 2:30 p. m. it looked like a 10,000 crowd—and then maybe some. The entire O. A. C. section on the north side of the field was filled at that hour and approximately 1000 lusty-lunged rooters from Corvallis, who had arrived a few minutes before on the Corvallis special, occupied the center of the section. Everywhere there was a riot of color. Each fan carried a megaphone of O. A. C. hues and, enhanced by their rooster caps, presented a very pretty effect. The cadet band was on hand and also hundreds of Corvallis co-eds, most of whom carried megaphones. A massive "O" about six feet in diameter, wrapped in the familiar O. A. C. colors, was a fitting background to a most impressive scene.

The Oregon excursions were a little late in arriving, but finally, amidst screaming whistles clanging bells and the noisy babble of hundreds of lemon-yellow adherents, arrived at the park. In a twinkling the Eugene section of the bleachers was converted into a solid mass of humanity, in which the famous "lemon-yellow" stuck out in brazen relief. Eugene, too, brought her own band, and most important of all, her own co-eds, and hundreds of 'em, too.

A more ideal day for a football game could not have been made to order. The afternoon was cool, not too near, and the field was comparatively free from mud, except for one corner on the east side of the field. The crowd was excellently handled by Graduate Manager Walker and his able assistants, and was entirely without friction. Even the "movies" were represented, and moving pictures were taken of the game. The teams were late in arriving, the O. A. C. eleven entering the field first.

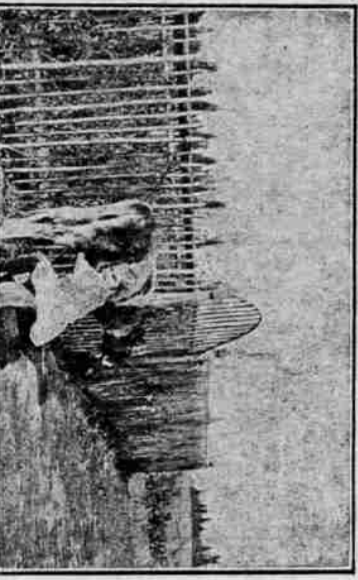

As the teams of each institution entered the field it was the signal for wild outbursts of applause from the bleachers. Both teams enjoyed brief signal practice.

Between halves the Corvallis men formed a large "O-A-C," using confetti to form the letters. Almost 700 students participated in the serpentine, marching to the stirring strains of the Corvallis song. A huge "lemonade stand" was erected in front of the Oregon section and a monster lemon was handed the university.

The Oregon men, too, were out in force and "ragged" back and forth across the field. A burlesque on the famous Oregon line, consisting of a real live red rooster, caused much amusement.

PASTOR TO DISCUSS SOCIALISTIC THEME

For three Sunday evenings, the pastor of the Congregational church, Rev. George Nelson Edwards, intends to speak on the subject of Socialism.

There is no movement before the public more discussed and misunderstood. An attempt will be made to present these phases of the subject as described by its supporters as well as viewed by its opponents. There has been considerable change in recent years on the emphasis and method upheld by the leading Socialists. The question as to its relation to character and to Christianity will be taken up in this series. Is Christianity socialistic?

These and other phases will be discussed. The first address will be given tonight at 7:30 o'clock on "What is Socialism?" November 16, "Socialism and Character," and November 23, "Socialism and Christianity."

SCENE OF GREAT DISASTER

Supplied by New Process Electro Corporation New York.

The cave in at the mouth of the mine at Dawson, New Mexico, caused by the explosion that resulted in the entombing and death of over 250 miners. This picture shows rescuers at work digging away the debris shutting off the entrance to the mine. The entombed miners were about one thousand feet down. Only fourteen were saved.

THREATENS TO KILL NURSE; IS ARRESTED

Accused of threatening to kill Mrs. Anne Burg, a nurse who was tending his invalid wife, J. W. Slaughter was arrested by Constable Jack Frost while working at Dorenbecker's saw mill near New Era.

The details of the case are not clearly known to the sheriff's office beyond the more general facts. It appears that Mrs. Slaughter has been ill for some time and the situation at last became so serious that it became necessary to secure a nurse.

For some unknown reason Slaughter made the threat to kill the nurse the middle part of the week, it is said, but it was not until Saturday that the arrest was made.

NEWS AGENTS HOLD FIRST TALK FEST

In order to build up its daily special news service system, the Morning Enterprise held its first agents' meeting Saturday evening. A progressive course is being mapped out, and each week the boys will get together and talk over some subject pertaining to the work.

At the first meeting there was no definite subject discussed but the boys became acquainted and had the plan explained to them.

After the meeting was over, the boys attended the Grand theatre as guests of Manager Schram.

FIVE MILLION FISH EGGS DUE

WASHINGTON HATCHERY WILL HELP REPLENISH COUNTY STREAMS WITH GAME

WARDENS TO WORK IN SECRECY

Salmon, Salmon Trout and Brook Trout to Be Among Those Added to Present Supply—Shipments

Five million salmon, salmon trout and brook trout eggs will be shipped into Clackamas county this month from the United States fish hatchery at White Salmon, Washington, and will be distributed in the various streams flowing down from the crest of Mt. Hood. Cases in which these eggs are to be shipped have been sent to the Washington hatchery, the last consignment being put on the Portland train at Clackamas Station Saturday evening.

The consignment of eggs coming to this county is but a small portion of the total amount that will be shipped into this state, it having been determined to thoroughly stock Oregon streams, so that both sportsmen and commercial fishermen may in the future find no shortage of fish. The hatchery maintained by the state itself at Bonneville has been unable to furnish all the eggs and fry needed, and so appeal has been made to the neighboring commonwealth for a greater supply. The five million eggs coming to Clackamas county will be planted mainly along the upper reaches of the Sandy, Clackamas and Molalla rivers, and some of their tributary creeks. Deputy fish wardens will have charge of this work, and no undue publicity will be given it. The fish wardens desire to keep sportsmen and others in ignorance of the water courses that will be most heavily stocked, so that the young fish will have a chance to develop.

Fifty Percent Loss. Of the five million eggs that will be planted, it is expected that not more than half the number will develop into mature fish. There will be probably about ten percent of the eggs that will not withstand the shaking up of shipment, and it is estimated that probably 30 percent more will be discovered and eaten by trout and other fish at present in the streams, and probably ten percent of the fish that do successfully hatch out will be devoured, either by larger fish or by "sportsmen" who make it a practice of catching "pan-fries."

Fish wardens believe that an increase of two and a half million in the piscatorial population of the county will materially improve the stock in local streams, and will restore Clackamas county to its former rank as sportsmen's paradise and as a division of the state in which commercial fishing is one of the big-paying occupations. The commercial salmon season the present year was practically a failure, from the professional fisherman's viewpoint, the catch being unusually light.

Some men are never satisfied until they have troubles that drive them to drink.

Latest Photo From Panama Canal; Boat Going Through Miraflores Locks.

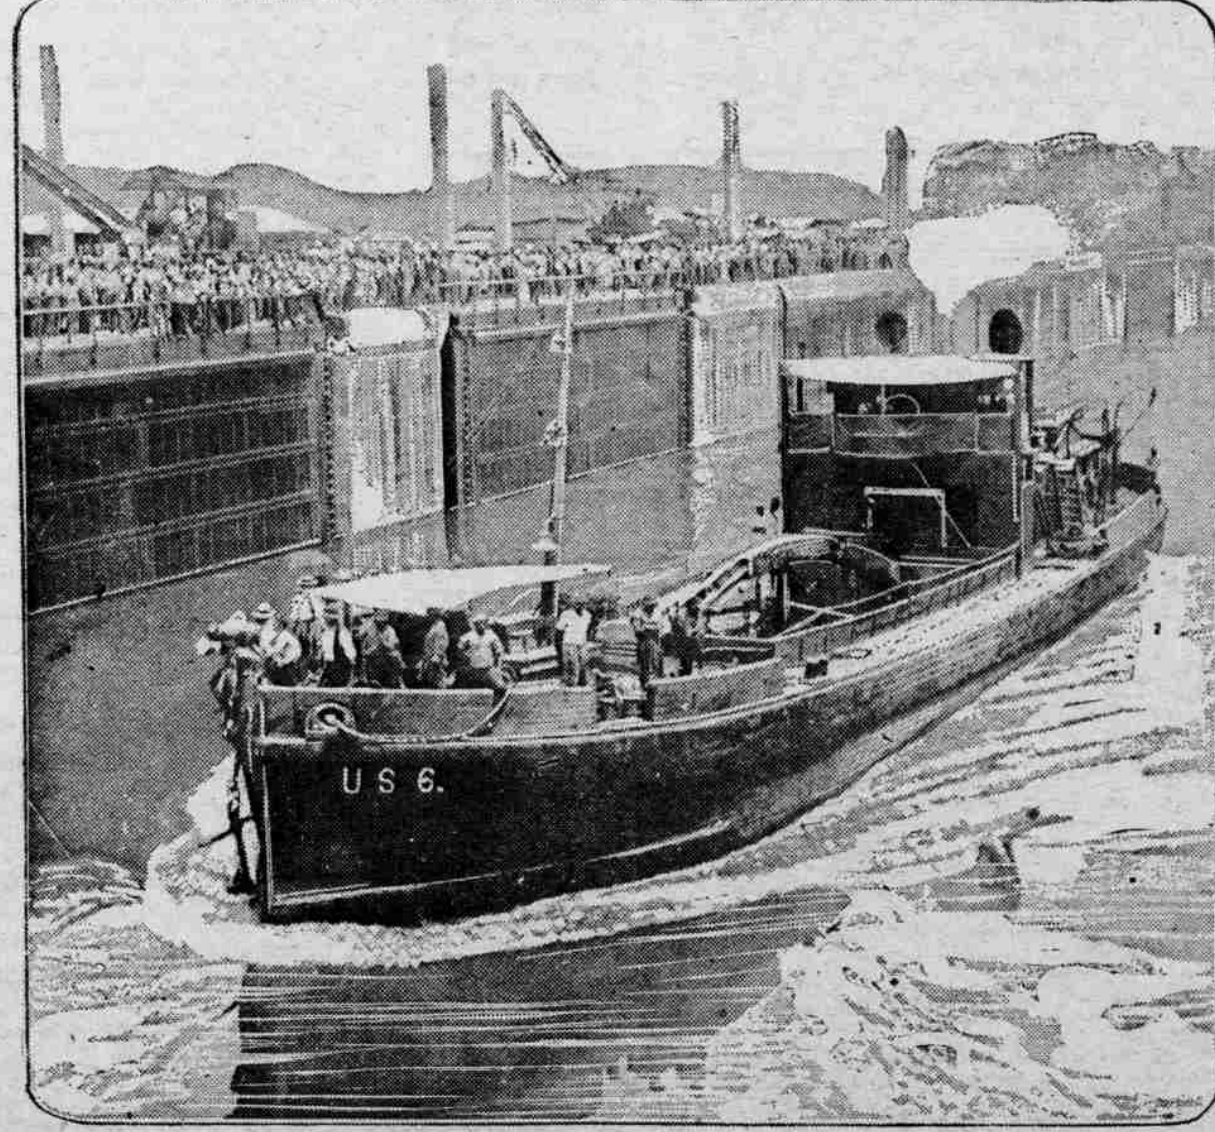

Photo copyright, 1913, by American Press Association. Navigation is now going on regularly through the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal and the Culebra cut, through the Miraflores locks. This picture shows a United States construction boat making the trip to aid in removing the obstruction created by a recent slide in the cut.

SHOW THIS BOOK TO YOUR FRIENDS

Those who have already secured their Panama books from The Enterprise should show them to their friends. Never before in the history of newspaper and book publishing has such an offer been made. The book is a work of art. It is called "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose," and is written by Willis J. Abbott, who is the author of many books of history and travel. This book is beautifully bound in tropical red vellum cloth, is twice as large as the usual size novel, and contains more than six hundred rare illustrations, many of which are reproduced from water color studies to full page size.

Your friends would indeed be proud to possess such a volume, and when it is made known to them that they can get it from The Enterprise for six certificates and the small expense of distribution they will quickly take advantage of the opportunity. At the present time it behooves all progressive people to learn all they can of this mighty achievement, for the great canal will soon become a working factor among all the nations of the earth. Not only is the great engineering feat described in this book, but the country and people are shown in every phase and from every angle, both in picture and prose.

Taken as a whole, the story is complete, nobody could get a better understanding of the subject, even though months were spent in the Zone, than could be gained by reading this interesting narrative.

In another column of this issue is printed a Panama certificate. Six of these certificates and expense amount shown therein will put you in possession of this $4 volume without further cost. Clip that certificate today.

WILLAMETTE READY FOR ITS ELECTION

Politics is buzzing at Willamette where the people are planning to hold a special election on their charter November 17. The proposed charter has been drawn and distributed through the city to every voter and the people will have the chance to express themselves at the special election.

Some opposition to its provisions has manifested itself in the past few weeks and a faction has started a campaign against the terms that it contains. On the other hand, there is a faction that is strenuously fighting the measure and that has worked for it from house to house through the town. Willamette will determine the issue after the matter has been submitted to the people at the polls.

GLADSTONE PREPARES FOR ITS ELECTION

Registration lists are being made at Gladstone for the city election that is next month. City Recorder John N. Selvers has charge of the work and is assisted by William Miller and Percy Cross.

The books will close on December 15 and the lists will be completed by that time for the election of the month. The registration will be heavy before the time limit has been reached and practically the entire strength of the city will be registered on the books for the forthcoming election.

WILL "GET" HUERTA BY HOOK OR CROOK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Administration officials said tonight Huerta's elimination would be accomplished "in one way or another."

A development of the day was a call sent by President Wilson for members of the senate foreign relations committee, republicans as well as democrats. He had Senators Stone and Swanson with him for an hour and expects to discuss the subject individually with other members within the next two or three days. He is in constant communication with Senator Bacon chairman of the committee, who early in the day had a long conference with Secretary Bryan.

It was expected that the president of the National Woolgrowers' association would like the new tariff.

Even back east elections are not what they used to be; hot so much partyism in them.

ORGAN RECITAL AT M. E. CHURCH

NEW INSTRUMENT HAS BEEN INSTALLED—SPECIAL PROGRAM PLANNED

GYPSIES ARE IN LATOURETTE CAMP

Living Rooms Beautifully Decorated—Surprise Party is Given to Miss Goble—Auxiliary Meets Saturday

(By Meta Finley Thayer)
An event of much interest in musical circles is the organ recital to be given by the Methodist Episcopal church on the 19th. A new pipe organ is being installed, and Lucien G. Decker, who is widely known throughout the West, will give the organ numbers. Mrs. E. E. Brodie, who has not been heard in Oregon City for some time, will be soloist, and her many friends are delighted that they are to have this opportunity. Mrs. Brodie is the possessor of a well-trained contralto voice of unusual beauty. Mrs. Brodie and Mrs. Lawrence will give a duet, which will be an especially pleasing feature, as a duet by two contraltos is rarely heard, and their voices blend to a remarkable degree. Another interesting number will be by the full choir of thirty voices.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Latourette gave a delightful affair Saturday evening for the pleasure of the Gypsies. Autumn leaves were used effectively in the living rooms and the dining room was decorated with chrysanthemums. Five Hundred was played, Mrs. L. A. Morris being the winner of the first prize, while the consolation prize was awarded Dr. Morris.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffith, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Keith of Portland, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Lily Stipp, Miss Zida Goldsmith, Miss Helen Daulton and Miss Bess Daulton.

The Junior Auxiliary of St. Paul's church meet with Miss Marian Lewthwaite yesterday afternoon, to sew for the Christmas bazaar. Later Misses Harriet and Janet Griffith and Miss Sallie Lang came for tea.

An enjoyable surprise party was given Miss Gertrude Goble Friday evening at the home of her parents in Gladstone. Miss Goble, who is an Oregon City high school student, is a recent arrival from Muscatine, Iowa, and has proved a welcome addition to Gladstone society.

Those present were: Misses Amy Peckover, Etta Straight, Blanch Davenport, Marie Holmes, Veneta Page, Edith Edwards, Miss Jones, Floyd Lake, Frank Peckover, Hugh Olds, Chester Prater, Percy Wilson, Leonard Williams, Edward Edwards, William Lucas and Mr. Knight.

Little "Teddy" Osmund, who has been ill of scarlet fever, is now fully recovered, and quarantine has been raised, much to the pleasure of the many friends of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Carter have returned to their home in Gladstone after a spending a week at Tillamook beaches.

PLAINTIFF SETTLES BIG DAMAGE SUIT

The $10,000 suit for damages brought by Howard Conover against the Willamette Pulp & Paper company was dismissed without prejudice and without costs in the circuit court Saturday.

The plaintiff alleged that the defendant company was responsible for injuries that he received while working at the mill. He says his arm was twisted around part of the machinery and that his ribs were broken. He also sustained other minor injuries, he says.

MAYOR HOLDS COURT AND FINES TWO MEN

Too much of the stuff that cheers caused Frank Warren and C. E. Smith to forget how to walk straight and look serious, so they were arrested Friday night by officers French and Cook and brought before Mayor Linn E. Jones Saturday morning.

They were both given the choice between tend ollars fine or a short vacation sweeping the streets of the city. Both decided that the former was the better proposition.
