WATER COMMITTEE MAKES PUB-LIC INVESTIGATIONS OF SOURCES OF SUPPLY

History of Committee's Work During Year Presented In Detail for Consideration of People of Oregon City

The Enterprise today publishes in detail the report of the special water committee of the city council. The report shows careful research and painstaking effort on the part of Councilmen Tooze, Horton and Metzner, comprising the committee. It covers a very considerable period, extending from early this year to the present date, and it offers a wide field for speculation and discussion. The full report follows:

Concurrent with an epidemic of typhoid during the fall and winter months of last year, and during the present year whenever this disease has appeared there has been vigorous condemnation of the water supply of the Willamette River and residence TILT BETWEEN LAWYERS SHOWN wells. The river water is filtered be fore entering the distributing mains. In this case it is claimed that the contamination of the raw water is not removed and disease results there-In wells it is also claimed is great danger from typhoid germs. These contentions once proven would unqualifiedly condemn both sources of the city's present water supply.

Out of the discussions concerning this question there has been indulged the city council at its meeting Wedmuch bitter denunciation of all who nesday night when the Carver and have assumed responsibility in rela- | Cilackamas Southern franchises were tion to the present supply or have endeavored to obtain another in which citizens would place greater confi-

Samples of the filtered product were taken from hydrants in various parts of the city and from the city well itself and sent for analysis to the State, the U. of O. and O. A. C. laboratories. These submitted by the health officers were reported pure: three of the samples of the committee contaminated with c. b. Samples submitted to the state bacteriologist by the summer, taken from hydrants have been reported pure.

Other causes than contamination of the city's water supply have been blamed for the production and spread of typhoid in the city, among them the gross negligence of physicians in failing to report promptly and thus circumscribe the spread of the disease; unsanitary conditions prevading portions of the city, and milk from some dairies. There were current reports to the effect that the water plant itself was in a deplorable condition in the early part of last winter, the reservoir filthy, etc., none of which charges however were proven to exist and the water of the reservoir tested pure, though engineer Dieck in report of his investigation declared surrounding conditions unsanitary. Out of the general agitation there

Each school turns out two teams, an affirmative and a negative. The affirmative remains "at home" and the negatative "travels." For instance the Oregon City negative team will go to Salem, the Salem negative to Woodburn, and the Woodburn negative to Oregon City. From this group of three the winner will be chosen and then the winner of the district The winners of the various districts will then compete until the state-wide championship is decided.

Milwaukee, Wis., Must Spell Name As Oregon Town

Because of the policy of the postoffice department to spell all towns with the same name, the same way, "Milwaukee," Wis., will hereafter be spelt "Milwaukie," so as to conform with the spelling of the Oregon town of the same name. The Clackamas county city has been spelled with the "kie" ever since it was founded in 1847 by Lot Whitcombe. It is reported that he never gave any reason for spelling the new town in the way it which he hid, but, nevertheless, it has never been changed.

It is known that the Wisconsin town was spelled "kie" 70 years ago and the change was made by the government, probably upon the authority of Lippincott's Gatetteer, in the late

SUIT BROUGHT IN THE CIRCUIT COURT BRINGS OUT LINE OF TESTIMONY

ing Lawyer Until After an Expected Indictment had Been Returned

Seneca Fouts, identified with the men who stirred up considerable excitement in Portland during the recent riots there, is involved in a suit in the circuit court in which a $500 note figures prominently. The defense claims that the note was given to Fouts as a memorandum agreement that the $500 would be paid should the grand jury of Multnomah county return an indictment against F. J. Phelps who was at that time being investigated.

It later developed that the grand jury did not return the expected indictment. The note apparently was sent to the Clackamas County Bank at Sandy, where it was endorsed over to M. M. Mackey who brings the suit against F. J. Phelps, Gertrude O. Phelps and T. D. Phelps.

Sweek, Fouts & Shelton appear for the plaintiff while Littlefield & Smith are counsel for the defense. The note was given October 4, 1912. According to testimony, the firm with which Fouts is connected was to receive the $500 as a retainer for the defense in case it was necessary in the circuit court of Multnomah county. testimony was also introduced to show that the indictment did not appear and that the note was not given as actual equivalent for money but merely as a guarantee that, should the emergency arise, the fund would be made to em ploye counsel in the case.

J. E. Calavan, now a teacher in the Wichita schools, has been appointed county superintendent to take the place of T. J. Gary, rseigned.

After considering the names of several men who were urgently suggested, the county court settled upon Mr. Calavan for the place and he will take charge of the affairs of the rural schools on November 17

For several years he has been closely identified with the affairs of the educational institutions of the county. He has been a teacher and a county supervisor and has seen the work of the rural schools from all angles. He was earnestly supported by many who believe that his experience and training is such as to peculiarly qualify him for the place and the court made its selection after going into the work that he has done while in charge of the various county schools to which he has been assigned. For some time, he was connected with the schools of the Oregon City district but has of late been in the school at Wichita.
