CANBY MAN IS KILLED ON TRIP

BIRD FLIES UP BETWEEN HUNTERS AND TWIG GETS HOLD ON GUN

MEDICAL AID ARRIVES TOO LATE

Death Follows Instantly and Body is Taken Into City to Await Coming of Coroner—Leaves Several Relatives

CANBY, Ore., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Louis Myers, of this city, was accidentally shot and killed this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock while hunting in the Pudding river bottom about five miles from here.

He was hunting with three companions, Claude Dick, Chester Willis, and a man named Kruger. The four were walking single file through the thick brush in the river bottom when a bird flew up between Willis and Myers. Both hunters raised their guns to shoot but the weapon of Willis caught on a twig and was discharged.

The load struck Myers in the back and many of the shot penetrated through to the spinal column. As soon as possible after the accident was sent to Canby and Dr. Wang hurried to the place in an automobile. But he was too late for the victim of the accident was dead before aid arrived.

Myers was about 26 years old and had lived in this part of the country most of his life. Besides his mother, he leaves two brothers, Herbert and John, and one sister, Mrs. Hattie Myers, of Portland. He was well known in Canby and the surrounding country having graduated from the Canby school and worked in and around this city ever since.

Coroner William Wilson was summoned from the county seat and arrived here between nine and ten o'clock.

COUNCIL PETITIONS ARE BEING FILED

J. O. Staats, former deputy sheriff, filed his petition with the city recorder Tuesday for councilman from ward number one. He is the last thus far to place his petition on record though other candidates may enter the field until November 25.

He announced Tuesday night that his program would be "Economy and efficiency, 100 cents for every dollar expended, the enforcement of law, and the playing of no favorites."

The other candidates now named are: Ward one, H. M. Templeton, former mill superintendent; J. O. Staats, former deputy sheriff. Ward number two, Philip Soreghan, conductor on the Portland Railway, Light & Power company; H. E. Hackett, at one time candidate for sheriff. Ward number three, O. W. Griffin, a farmer and a business man.

The holders are John F. Albright and Fred Metzger in ward one, Fred J. Toozee and W. A. Long in ward two, William Deard and Fred J. Myers in ward three.

The "Hs" all go out this time, Hall, Horton and Holman and none of them are, apparently, planning to succeed themselves.

NIGHT SCHOOL WANTS ITS CLASSES LARGER

In the manual training department of the night school, there is room for 10 or 12 new students who may take the work that the district offers upon application to Fred S. J. Toozee, city superintendent.

These sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evening at from 7:30 o'clock to 9 o'clock and the charges are made just large enough to cover the cost of the instruction.

The Express admonishes Lebanon, which it designates "the most productive vegetable and berry section of Oregon," that if it expects to unite with other sections in one grand exhibit at the Panama exposition at San Francisco, it is not too early to begin formulating plans.

COMMISSION TO LAY PIPE LINE

COMMITTEE THINKS IT BETTER PLAN THAN TO HAVE CITY DO IT

WATER REPORT SOON TO BE READY

Engineer Expected Back and All Preliminary Work to Get the Proposition Shaped is Now Being Done

Construction work on the new pipe line to the south fork of the Clackamas may be supervised and directed by an independent commission of taxpayers of the city.

The commission has considered several plans for the laying of the line and the management of the details before the new transmission line is ready to turn over to the city. It has been at work getting the plans into shape to present to the voters of the city with the least possible delay after the report of Engineer Rands is made to the association.

All of the necessary preliminary work in preparing the plans will be done before the report is made. Should the statement show that the water can be obtained at a reasonable price, the matter will be presented to the voters at the earliest moment and with the least delay.

Three plans have been suggested. It was thought that the line might best be built under the supervision of the council. The water board's direction of the matter was also considered but it was finally determined that it would be better to have all of the construction work supervised by an independent commission and that, after the line had been laid and was in operating condition, turn it over to the city and the water board for use.

The members of the committee who are handling this preliminary work are Lily Stipp, B. T. McBain, W. S. U'Ren, Don Meldrum and E. P. Rands.

EDITORS ARE TO ENLIVEN CITY

WHOLE DELEGATION FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE WILL VISIT HERE

LIVE WIRES TAKE THEM IN TOW

Program Will Make Things Hum for Two Days of Exciting Session Next Year—President Accepts Invitation

One hundred editors, representing as many newspapers of the state will meet in the 1914 session of the Oregon State Editorial Association in Oregon City next September.

This year the association met in Portland, where the local club entertained the visitors and showed them all of the industries of the metropolis. When the editors come to Oregon City next year, however, the Live Wires will take them in tow and things will be humming here for the two days of the session.

The Live Wires have officially extended the invitation to the association to spend the two days here and President Elbert Bede, editor of the Cottage Grove Sentinel, has assured the organization that the editors will accept the invitation.

At the Portland session, the convention adjourned without fixing the time and place for its next meeting, a matter that was left in the hands of the officers.

The packers shouldn't be discouraged, even if one can't make a silk purse of a sow's ear. They may eventually be used for hat trimming.

LINEN FACTORY MAY BE BUILT

PORTLAND ATTORNEY TALKS OF FLAX AND A MILL TO HANDLE PRODUCT

TO START WORK ON A BIG SCALE

An industry that will start out with a capital of $200,000 and grow to a business of $1,000,000 may be started in Oregon City by Charles R. Ritter, a Portland attorney, and his backers. At a meeting of the Live Wires Tuesday, Mr. Ritter spoke of the advantages that this climate offers for the production of flax and said that the country is the native home of the product. The mill would be the only one in the state as the one that formerly run at Salem was burned and has never been rebuilt. The plan now includes a capitalization of $200,000 as a starter and means that the greater proportion of this money would be raised in Portland and the remainder, possibly 25 per cent, would be taken from the town in which the mill is located.

Eugene Bosse, one of the foremost flax authorities of the country and owner of the Salem mill, is interested in this proposition and is supporting the men who are promoting it. They believe that the Willamette valley is the ideal spot for the production of flax and that a linen mill of this kind, located in the heart of such a valley where the crop can be so easily produced, would be a paying investment for the stockholders.

The plan now included the employment of 100 men to begin the operation of the plant and an increase in the force and payroll as soon as the business conditions justify such an enlargement. If the plant is located at Oregon City, it means the marketing of all of the flax production of the valley at this point, it is claimed, and the bringing into the town a large volume of business here every year.

The Salem plant did considerable business with the farmers immediately around that city during the time that it was in operation and a market was built up, which was lost with the burning of the factory.

ORGAN RECITAL AT M.E. CHURCH TONIGHT

One of the finest musical programs ever put on in Oregon City will be given this evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church. The people of the city are to be congratulated upon the opportunity to hear the distinguished artists who are to appear in this recital. The committee in charge of the arrangements deserve the thanks of citizens generally for bringing to us the talent offered in this evening's program.

Prof. Lucien E. Becker is the well known organist of Trinity Episcopal church of Portland, and has given recitals in the chief cities of the northwest, and in many places in the east, and won distinction as the famous pipe organist at the World's Fair. He will make the newly installed pipe organ speak in tones of wonderful beauty and power. Mrs. Imogene Harding-Brodie received her musical education at the hand of the great vocal masters, and has added by hard work and training many charms to her voice, and she will delight her audience.

Mrs. Nieta Barlow-Lawrence is well known in Oregon City and her many friends are pleased that she is to appear in this recital, and will be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear her. She has a fine and highly cultivated voice. She will appear with Mrs. Brodie in a duet.

Miss Sadye Evelyn Ford has played for some of the most noted soloists in Portland and in the northwest, and is regarded as one of the finest accompanists in the country. She appears this evening as the accompanist.

The programme is very fine and will be rendered by real artists, each excelling in his or her line. Tickets are one sale at the drug stores, and may be had at the door of the church this evening. The price of admission has been put at fifty cents so that all may have a chance to hear this treat.

CHICAGO WINS ON PORTLAND DIAMOND

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 18.—"Fifteen all" is now the count in the barnstorming series between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox.

Sam Crawford, the veteran Detroit singer, occupied the Eddie Collins role in the miniature world's series yesterday. Sam came up in the fifth inning with the bases full, and when James Thorpe, Indian athletic prodigy failed to scoop his line drive into right field, Egan and Rath pattered across the mid-caked plate and scored the only two runs of the game.

Chicago 2, New York 0.
Close to 5000 interested Portland fans and not a few from the outlying cities were on hand for the strife. Rain threatened to mar the big leaguers' visit Monday, but Old Sol was out early Tuesday morning, and while the air was crisp and chilly, the major stars gave an interesting and altogether satisfying exhibition of the American pastime.

Arthur Fromme was in the box for the Giants and Jim Scott for the Sox. Both are veteran hurlers.

OWNERS BRING SUIT ON AWARD

ASK COURT TO GRANT AN INJUNCTION ORDER TO RESTRAIN CITY

OBJECT TO PRICE OF BID MADE

Claim it Casts Cloud Upon Title to Lots and Blocks on High Street and Mentions the Lowest Bidder.

Property owners on High street have brought an injunction suit in the circuit court of the county against the city and J. W. Shea, the contractor, preventing them from constructing the improvement on that street that had been ordered by the city council.

The service for the city was made on Mayor Jones and William Stone, city attorney Tuesday. The owners ask the circuit court to review the proceedings of the council and to restrain that body from awarding the contract to Shea whom they claim was not the lowest bidder for the work by $700.

They allege that the assessment of the cost against the property will cast a cloud upon the title and that they will be materially damaged if the court allows the council to go ahead with its plans.

The suit is brought as the result of the unavailing protest of the property owners against the awarding of the contract and the petition that the former action be rescinded. The council, at that time, refused to reconsider its decision and the property owners have taken the case into the courts.

Baker's Y. M. C. A. is rapidly forging to the front. Although the youngest of the associations of the northwest, it is Baker's boast that it is already ahead of five of these associations in point of membership. It now number 232, and and 325 is the mark set for November 30.

FREYTAG WORKS FOR ONE LARGE EXHIBIT

O. E. Freytag represented Clackamas county at a meeting of the valley counties for the purpose of planning a joint exhibit at the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. The counties organized under the name "The Willamette Valley Exposition Association," and there was an enthusiastic attendance from all eight counties, and a lively interest was manifested.

Mr. Freytag was appointed one of the executive committee, the first meeting of which was held at Imperial Hotel in Portland Tuesday at 2:00 p. m.

At the Salem meeting a movement was started for the organizing of the people of each county, into a working body for the purpose of collecting and assembling of a representative exhibit from the counties. Clackamas county people will want to have their share of the exhibit, as is always the case when Clackamas exhibits the best. In order to have Clackamas take its place, the people should take personal interest in the work and cooperate with the committee. This committee will consist of Mr. Freytag who represents the commercial side, and a representative of county court.

JUDGE WILL SELECT A COUNTY SEALER

Clackamas county is to have a deputy sealer of weights and measures as soon as the required apparatus arrives from the east, according to the plan of Judge H. S. Anderson.

Under the state law, the county court may fill that position but he will be under the control of the state treasurer, who has charge of that department.

This decision on the part of Judge Anderson is due to the many complaints made recently in regards to short weights and measures used by a few county dealers and in response to the requests of many of the business men of the city.

CHURCHES OUGHT TO TAKE STAND

LABOR SECRETARY COMPLAINS OF SILENCE ON ALL VITAL QUESTIONS

GOOD INFLUENCE SHOULD BE USED

Thinks Power of Organization is to Be Important Factor in Settlement of Disputes With Capital

The silence of the church in matters that effect capital and labor was the theme of an address before the Congregational Brotherhood Tuesday night, by William McKenzie, of Portland, secretary of the stationary engineers' union.

He declared that the alienation of labor from the church is due to the fact that the representatives of capital are leaders of the church work and have an influence in the position that it takes. He read the principles of the American Federation of Labor and pointed out that they were for a higher moral position. Labor is not opposed to the teaching of Christ, he said. He believed that the country needs a physical revival more than a spiritual one.

He declared that the church should take a stand in labor questions and use its influence for the right side. He did not believe that the churches and Y. M. C. A. in Portland for instance, were fair to labor because they did not employ union men.

Former Councilman McGuire, of Portland believed that the stand of labor in the state will hereafter be against the saloon and he thinks that workers generally would support a state-wide prohibition movement. He went into the situation in dry towns and spoke of the many commercialized places of amusement in Portland, giving figures and facts with which he was acquainted.

Gilbert Hedges, J. O. Staats, Robert Warner, Max Telford and George N. Edwards and other spoke.
