COUNCIL RAISES ITS TAX LEVY

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE FINDS THAT IT DOES NOT GET ENOUGH MONEY

LOSS OF SALOON REVENUE CAUSE

Street Improvements Must Be Made Within Year and Some Contracts Have Been Let

Other Expenses

Oregon City will have a 10-mill tax levy. The city council at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon, raised the levy that had before been made to meet the loss of the taxes from the saloons. The finance committee found that the loss of revenue from the saloon licenses under a dry regime would cost the city the difference between a levy of eight and one-half mills and the 10-mill levy.

Of this amount, nine and one-half mills will be spent for general purposes and the other one-half will be devoted to the interests of the city library. The amount will be $27,450, on an assessed valuation of $2,745,000, practically the same as was raised last year.

Some time ago the council, at the recommendation of the finance committee, fixed the levy as before at eight and one-half mills for all purposes. The committee discovered, however, that the administration of city affairs could not be conducted on that basis and asked for a special meeting in which to reconsider the levy and raise it to meet the loss from the saloons.

The ordinance had just reached its first reading and had not passed the stage at which it could be reconsidered by the council. The city fathers will have another meeting at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon to consider routine business.

OFF TO CHICAGO WITH EXHIBIT

STATE'S DISPLAY AND ITS DELEGATES GO TO LAND SHOW THIS YEAR

CLACKAMAS COUNTY HAS MATERIAL

Takes Prominent Part in Features of Resources and is a Credit to Produce of Valley But Has No Agent

The executive committee of the Willamette Valley Exposition association met Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of the Imperial hotel in Portland for a conference. Some matters were taken up when an invitation was received from O. M. Clark, president of the Oregon State commission of the Panama Pacific exposition, to meet with him in his office. The meeting adjourned to Mr. Clark's rooms, and the conference was continued by Mr. Clark present.

The committee asked the state commission for space 20x100 feet in the Oregon building. A space 20x100 feet is to be asked for in the Agricultural hall for placing a competitive exhibit which will be entered for premium.

Arrangements have been made for a great display of processed fruits from the valley counties and with the available supply to draw from this

PRECINCT LINES ARE CHANGED

DIFFERENCES IN WARDS IN CITY AND COUNTY ELECTIONS ARE NOTED

GREAT CONFUSION IN VOTES RESULTS

City Recorder Calls Attention to Fact That Town Has But Three Polling Places in Municipal Matters

The difference in the voting places and precinct lines at the city and county elections is likely to cause confusion at the municipal balloting next month, according to the city recorder, Livy Stipp.

In all county elections, there are four precincts within the city limits while in those of the city there are but three. This is likely to confuse the voters, the recorder thinks, unless they pay close attention to the division lines and figure out for themselves the city precinct in which they live.

There will be no polling place at Greenpoint this time and all voters south of Seventh street and west of J. Q. Adams street will vote at the Cataract House. At the county election all west of J. Q. Adams street and north of Seventh street voted in number two while at this one all north of Eighth street and west of Taylor street vote at number two, the home of the hook and ladder company on Main street. The residents from Seventh street to Eighth street and west of J. Q. Adams streets vote at Number two.

"No one can vote on the old registration, so one must not be surprised if the clerks of election fail to find the name," the city recorder says.

SHOOTING IS HELD TO BE AN ACCIDENT

CANBY, Ore., Nov. 19.—(Special)—Governor Wilson arrived in this city this morning to hold an inquest over the body of Louis Myers, who was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon while hunting with four companions in the Pudding river bottom about five miles from here.

The verdict, in substance, was that the shooting was purely accidental and Chester Will, who had the gun, was free from blame.

will be an attractive feature of the exhibit. Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the county representative in the Oregon building.

Plans and profile of the Oregon building are on file in the rooms of the Oregon commission, 418 Commercial club building, Portland, and may be seen there. The commission is taking a lively interest in, and is cooperating with the counties in their work of arranging for fine exhibits.

After the meeting adjourned a number of the delegates left immediately on the North Bank road for Chicago to attend the United States Land show. There is a large personal representation of the counties, who will look after their respective interests and each boost his own county.

The exhibits which went to this show were gathered from all parts of the state, Clackamas county boasting the finest products at the show, the grains and grasses and vegetables, and the Lindsay squash exceeding in size and excellence anything else secured. With all this fine showing Clackamas county will have no representative to give it credit or to exploit its greatness and worth as a place for home seekers. Clackamas county and one other county are the only ones who will not be heard from at the great land show whose value as an advertising medium was demonstrated last year. Mr. C. C. Chapman last year found the show of such importance that he himself has gone to it this year to take the management, expecting each county to be represented.

Let's be cheerful and hope that the successor of Major McIndoe will be "just as good."

Music Lovers Get Treat At Methodist Church

Mrs. Imogen Harding-Brodie and Lucien E. Becker Charm the Large Audience

(By Meta Finley Thayer)

The organ recital at the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday evening was the most notable of the season's musical offerings and was largely attended. Mr. Lucien E. Becker, who is one of the best known organists in the West, gave a well-balanced program which showed to advantage not only the tone colors of the organ, but his own technical equipment. The numbers which seemed to most please the audience were the melodious ones, but the polyphonic compositions of Bach and Ralph Kinder received their full share of applause. For an encore Mr. Becker played Schubert's "Serenade."

Mrs. Imogen Harding-Brodie has not been heard in Oregon City recently, and her welcome was practically an ovation. Blessed with great personal charm and abounding spirits which never fail to attract, Mrs. Brodie has never been heard here to better advantage. The program showed her amazing versatility and brought out the full velvety tones of her contralto voice. For encores Mrs. Brodie sang Kate Vannah's "Lullaby" and by way of contrast, "Three Little Chestnuts."

Particularly well received was the duet, "Oh! That We Two Were Maying," by Mrs. Brodie and Mrs. Nieta Barlow-Lawrence, whose voices blend in a remarkable manner. Mrs. Lawrence is also a favorite in Oregon City where she is heard but too seldom.

The musically accompaniments of Miss Sadye Evelyn Ford were of great assistance to the singers.

The program was varied enough to please everyone, and the audience was sent away in a happy mood by Mr. Becker's "American Fantasy," in which were played some of the best known American airs.

CARVER WINS IN PORTLAND FIGHT

COMMISSION GRANTS HIM FRANCHISE THROUGH THE CITY'S HEART

OREGON CITY IS KEY TO NEW LINE

Last Point to Consider Franchise for Road and Nearly All of Right-of-Way Has Now Been Given Company

By unanimous vote the Portland commissioners yesterday granted a 25-year franchise to the new Portland & Oregon City Railroad company. This is the Carver road which has a franchise pending now before the city council of Oregon City to enter this place via Water street. The franchise as granted by the Portland commissioners, terminates in the very heart of Portland via the Hawthorne bridge, and entering the metropolis at the city limits on East Seventeenth street.

The route as granted in Portland, will be as follows: From the city limits on the south on East Seventeenth to Mall street, to East Fifteenth, to Beacon, to East Tenth, to Brooklyn, to East Ninth, to East Market, to East Third, to East Morrison, to East Third to Hawthorne avenue, across Hawthorne bridge, to Front, to Salmon, to Fourth, to Flanders, to Twelfth.

With the granting of the Portland franchise the right-of-way for practically the whole distance between Oregon City is assured, as Gladstone and Milwaukie have both previously granted franchises to Mr. Carver, and the right-of-way in the country has practically been secured for the whole

FRUIT GROWERS TO ORGANIZE

BELIEVE THEY CAN BEST GET UNIFORMITY OF PRODUCT THAT WAY

FIRST MEETING FRIDAY MORNING

Call Has Been Sent Out to All of the Producers of the County to Gather at Willamette Hall to Talk Organization of the fruit growers of the county in the effort to better systematize the grading and packing of the fruit product and gain the best market price for the producers is now under way.

The first meeting will be held at Willamette hall Friday morning, J. G. Bance, an expert fruit packer, will address the growers of the county on the entire fruit business in all of its phases and will discuss the questions of spraying, packing, grading and marketing of the product.

The following notice has been sent out by E. C. Dye, one of the workers for the central organization for the growers:

Call is issued. "The fruit growers' organizations of Hood River, Payette Valley, Idaho, Spokane and Wenatchee, and many other places in the northwest, have made their business a very profitable one. The producing class gets its fair share of its work. The result shows up in better homes, more money, automobiles, good roads, and a higher standard of living.

"It is now possible for the growers of Clackamas county to get into the swim. The head organization will take our stuff this year, even though we are not organized at all.

"But our products must be graded and packed according to the rules of the big association, a copy of which rules will be given each person on application. Also the company reinspects the packing and the fruit.

"Every fruit and potato grower is urged to come, Friday, November 21, at 10 o'clock a. m. to Willamette hall, Oregon City, Oregon, where and when the matter of sending our fruit and potatoes, the matter of an organization locally to handle this business, and the matter of grading, packing and shipping, will be taken up.

"Do not fail to come, no matter

WEST LINN IS BUSY WITH ITS ELECTIONS

West Linn is busy with elections for next month and politics is humming across the river. On December 2, the city will vote for its new officers and on the twenty-ninth it will vote for a city charter.

There are several candidates in the field for every office except mayor, no opposition appearing to J. B. Lewthwaite. The others whose names are either mentioned in petitions already filed or that will be before November 26 are, recorder, L. L. Porter and J. Nichols; treasurer, Meta Finley Thayer; Michael E. Clancey; marshal, P. J. Winkie, J. Endres, H. C. Green; alderman, select six, L. L. Pickens, L. S. Lysett, Charles Shields, N. T. Humphries, S. B. Shadle, K. McLarty, F. A. Hammerle, and A. Volpp.

Should the charter election carry, the new city would have charge of the funds for the road district and would spend $25,000 for the improvement of the roads inside of the city limits.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. J. B. LEWTHWAITE

The Wednesday Auction Bridge club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. J. B. Lewthwaite at her home in West Linn. Mrs. L. L. Porter held high score. Several additional friends came in later for tea.

The invited guests were: Mrs. C. G. Huntley, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. O. W. Eastham, Mrs. Geo. A. Harding, Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, Mrs. W. E. Pratt, Mrs. L. A. Morris, Mrs. L. L. Pickens, Mrs. Linn E. Jones, Mrs. M. D. Latourette, Mrs. Ernest Rands, Mrs. R. R. McAlpin, Mrs. H. E. Straight, Mrs. Theodore Osmund, Mrs. Hugh Mount, Mrs. Livy Stipp, Mrs. E. E. Brodie, Mrs. L. L. Porter, Mrs. W. S. U'Ren, Mrs. A. A. Price, Mrs. B. T. McElin, Mrs. Duncan M. Shanks, Mrs. Vance P. Edwards, Mrs. J. W. Moffatt, Mrs. E. A. Sommer, Mrs. H. O'Malley, Mrs. John F. Clark, Mr. W. A. Dimick, Mrs. Thompson Mel-drum and Miss Marian Lewthwaite.

what the weather may be, or how backward you may feel. This is a question of money to pay off that mortgage, and buy that automobile. Come and let us have your idea.

"The farmers' concern that we are dealing with puts more money than the bank at Spokane than Jim Hill's railroad does.

"Bring others with you, November 21, 1913, at 10 o'clock a. m. to Willamette hall, Oregon City, Oregon, located just south of the postoffice."

ASKS HIS MOTHER TO FORGIVE HIM

WRITES LETTER TELLING OF IMMEDIATE RETURN TO THE STATE

FRIENDS BELIEVED HIM TO BE DEAD

River is Dragged and Posse Sent Out to Search for Him Over Route He Was Thought to Have Taken

After disappearing from his home in this city the latter part of March, 1912, and being mourned as dead by his friends and relatives, Lloyd E. Williams, former recorder for Clackamas county, has at last been heard from in Australia.

On March 21 last year, Williams announced to his friends that he was going fishing on Clackamas river and Clear Creek. He told his wife and friends that he was going to the Golf Links and there transfer to a car which would carry him to the fishing grounds. At the time of his departure he carried a fishing outfit and was dressed in the clothes he usually wore when he went on such an expedition.

His family expected his return on the next Tuesday but he failed to appear. Wednesday a quiet search was started but without results and the sheriff was notified later on in the week. The entire county side was searched, the car conductors were questioned, the Clackamas river was dragged, and all those living of the county were examined, but no clue could be found concerning the missing man.

Victim of Accident? It was thought at the time that he was the victim either of foul play or of an accident. He was dressed in old clothes and at the time of his departure had only six dollars with him.

Search for the missing man was continued and the entire neighborhood of the mystery was scoured, time after time. The mystery of his disappearance was never thoroughly settled by the local officers. Reports came to this city of various persons who had seen the missing man in the east but these rumors were run down by the family and found to be false. Then came another report that Williams was in San Francisco but this, too, proved to be untrue.

Thought Him Dead. The family mourned him as dead as every indication appeared to point to that conclusion. His mother and friends had given up hope of ever seeing him again.

It was not until recently that the first word was received which would tend to straighten out the mystery. Some time ago the mother received a
